LIII. The said Commissioners shall, from time to time, subject to the approval of the Governor of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, make Rules for regulating their proceedings under this Act, and for the regulation of the time and manner of demanding and collecting the taxes specified in this Act, and for altering any of the forms set forth in the Schedules hereunto annexed, and the said Justices shall, from time to time, subject to the like approval, make Rules for regulating their proceedings under this Act, and for the regulation of the time and manner of assessing the rates specified in this Act.

LIV. The goods and chattels of the owner of any house, building, or ground rated under the said Statute 33 George III., Chapter LII. Section CLVIII., Act XVI. of 1847, or this Act, shall be liable to be distrained anywhere (except goods and chattels concealed as hereinafter mentioned), for deficiency in the payment of rates; and it shall not be necessary in any assessment, rate or tax, or Warrant of Distress under the said Statute, Act XVI. of 1847, or this Act, to specify the names of the owners of houses, buildings, or grounds; but it shall be sufficient if the house, building, or ground, in respect of which the tax is assessed, be indentified, and in the case of houses numbered in any street, that the name of the street and the number of the house be specified.

LV. All goods and chattels, which shall be found upon any premises rated, shall be liable to be distrained for any arrears of rates or taxes assessed in respect thereof; and if the said goods and chattels belong to the occupier of such premises, such occupier may deduct the amount of the levy made upon his goods and chattels, or of any payment made by him in order to prevent such levy, from the following payments of his rent. If they belong to any person other than the occupier of the premises, or if no further rent is payable by such occupier, he may in such case recover the amount so paid or levied, by suit in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, from the owner of the premises, as for money paid on his behalf.

LVI. Every person shall be entitled to have from the Secretary to the Commissioners, on application at their Office, and on payment of a fee of four annas, a certificate, specifying the last quarter in respect of which the taxes on account of any house, building, or ground are paid.

LVII. When there is reason to believe that goods and chattels, liable to distress under the said Statute, Act XVI. of 1847, or this Act, are concealed in any zenana, the Officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall make a special report to the Commissioner granting the same, who shall thereupon follow, as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of goods and chattels in like cases adopted by Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature.

LVIII. Every person who wilfully obstructs or molests the said Commissioners, or any one of them, or their Secretary, or any of their Officers or Servants in the performance of their respective duties under the said Act of Parliament, Act XVI. of 1847, or this Act, shall be liable, on summary conviction before a Justice of the Peace, on his own confession, or the oath of one or more witnesses, to forfeit and pay a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

LIX. The Commissioners or any one of them may sue and be sued at Law and Equity in the name of their Secretary for the time being, and no action or suit to be brought or commenced by or against such Secretary, in manner aforesaid, shall abate or be discontinued by the death, resignation or removal of such Secretary; and no execution shall issue or be had in any such action or suit against such Secretary until six months' notice shall have elapsed after final judgment in such action or suit shall have been obtained, and every such Secretary, in whose name or by or against whom any such action or suit shall be brought, commenced, or sued, shall be fully reimbursed and paid all such costs, charges, damages and expenses as by the event or in consequence of any action, suit, or proceeding he shall pay, sustain, or be put unto or become chargeable with or liable to by reason of his being plaintiff or defendant as aforesaid, or of his name being used as aforesaid, by and out of the funds under the control of the Commissioners: and if any person against whom the Commissioners shall have any claim or demand, take the benefit of, or become subject as an insolvent to the operation of any Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, the Secretary of the Commissioners in all proceedings in the insolvency may represent the Commissioners, and act in their behalf in all respects as if such claim or demand had been the claim or demand of such Secretary, and not of the Commissioners.

LX. The Secretary of the Commissioners being the plaintiff, prosecutor, or defendant, or otherwise acting in any action, suit, or proceeding as aforesaid, shall be competent to be a witness therein, in the same manner as he might have been if his name had not been made use of as the plaintiff, defendant, or otherwise in any such action, suit, or proceeding.

LXI. No writ or process shall be issued out against or served upon any Commissioner, or any Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer, or person whomsoever acting under the direction of the Commissioners, for anything done or intended to be done under the powers of this Act, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered to him or left at his Office or place of abode, explicitly stating the cause of action, and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff, and of his attorney or agent in the cause; and upon the trial of any such action, the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action except such as is stated in the notice so delivered, and unless such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant; and every such action shall be brought or commenced within three calendar months next after the accrual of the cause of action, and not afterwards; and if any party shall have committed any irregularity, trespass, or other wrongful proceedings in the execution of this Act, or by virtue of any power or authority hereby given, and if before action brought in respect thereof, such party shall make tender of sufficient amends to the party injured, such last-mentioned party shall not recover in any such action when brought, and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issue joined, to pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

LXII. No matter or thing done, or contract entered into by the Commissioners, or any one of them, or by any Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or person whomsoever, acting under the direction of the Commissioners, shall, if the matter or thing were done, or the contract were entered into bonâ fide, for the purpose of executing this Act, subject them or any of them personally to any action, liability, claim, or demand whatsoever; and any expense incurred by any such Commissioner, Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or person acting as last aforesaid, shall be borne and repaid out of the funds under the control of the Commissioners.

LXIII. In any such action as aforesaid the defendant may plead the general issue, and give this Act, and any special matter in evidence on the trial.

LXIV. If in any such action judgment be given for the defendant, or if the plaintiff be nonsuited or discontinue the said action, the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between attorney and client, and shall have such remedy for recovery thereof as any defendant has for his costs in any other case by law.

LXV. The whole proceeds of the said taxes, after paying all salaries, establishments, and incidental expenses of the said Commissioners, shall, with such moneys as the Governor of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, with the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, may direct to be paid to the said Commissioners, be applied by them to the following purposes, that is to say,— 1stly,—Cleansing, repairing, lighting and watering the roads and streets.

2ndly,—Constructing new drains and sewers, and cleansing and repairing or filling up and abolishing old drains and sewers.

3rdly,—Filling up stagnant pools of water, holes in the earth, and all receptacles for filth and rubbish, and removing obstructions in or on the roads and to the free circulation of air.

4thly,—Formation of tanks and aqueducts for the conveyance of water to all parts of the Town.

5thly,—Opening of streets and squares in crowded parts of the Town.

6thly,—Improving and embellishing the said Town generally.

LXVI. In construing this Act all words used in the singular number shall be held to include several persons and things, and words in the plural shall be held to include the singular number, and all words importing the masculine gender shall extend and be applied to females as well as males, unless there is something in the context inconsistent with such construction.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, The 20th February, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 20th February 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XII. OF 1852.

An Act to repeal Act No. II. of 1848, and to confer certain powers on the Commissioners for the Improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Whereas by Section LXV. of Act No. X. of 1852, it is, among other things, enacted that certain funds therein mentioned should be applied by the Commissioners for the Improvement of the Town of Calcutta in cleansing, improving and embellishing the said Town: And whereas it is expedient that the said Commissioners should be invested with further powers for the effectual accomplishment of the purposes aforesaid, It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. Act II. of 1848, and the Bye-Laws made in pursuance thereof, and the Regulation for the Good Order and Civil Government of the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, passed in Council, on the 28th day of October 1814, are hereby repealed. Act X. of 1852, repealing Act XVI. of 1847, shall not be construed so as to revive Act XXIV. of 1840.

Commissioners to appoint Surveyors and other Officers.

II. The said Commissioners may, subject to confirmation or disallowance by the Governor of Bengal, nominate, appoint and employ, respectively, such Surveyors, Inspectors and other necessary Officers and Servants as may be necessary or proper for the execution of the powers hereby vested in them; and such Surveyors, Inspectors, Officers and Servants shall receive such salaries as to the Governor of Bengal shall seem meet.

Commissioners to have management and control over streets, drains, &c.

III. The management and control over all the streets within the said Town of Calcutta, existing at the time of the passing of this Act, and of all parts of the said Town which shall hereafter become streets, and the pavements and other materials therein, and all erections and buildings, materials, implements or other things provided for the said streets by or under the authority of the Governor of Bengal, or by the Magistrates of Calcutta, or by the said Commissioners, and also the management and control of all public tanks, aqueducts and canals, and of all sewers and drains, whether public or private, now made or hereafter to be made within the said Town, are hereby vested in the said Commissioners for the purposes of this Act.

Commissioners empowered to make or widen or stop up streets.

IV. The said Commissioners, by and with the consent of the Governor of Bengal, may lay out, make, build and construct streets, and may alter and widen narrow streets, and may turn, divert, discontinue or stop up streets, within the said Town, regard being had to the compensation of owners of lands which may be required to be vested in the said Commissioners for any such purposes, and of owners of lands which may be damaged or deteriorated in value by the turning, diverting, discontinuing, or stopping up of any such streets,—and, in case of dispute, the amount of such compensation shall be ascertained and paid in the manner and according to the provisions contained in Act XXII. of 1847, which is hereby declared to be applicable to all claims for compensation made in respect of any acts done by the said Commissioners under the authority of this Act. Provided always, that it shall not be lawful for the said Commissioners, or any other person, to make or lay out any new street, unless the same, being a carriage road, be at least 50 feet wide, exclusive of the drains at the sides thereof, or not being a carriage road, be at least 20 feet wide, exclusive of the drains at the sides thereof.

Power to Commissioners to pave and water streets, &c., erect pumps, &c., and make convenient tanks, &c.

V. The said Commissioners, with the consent and approbation of the Governor of Bengal, shall pave, metal and water such of the public streets existing in the said Town at the time of the passing of this Act, or at any future time, as they shall think fit; and it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to excavate and provide convenient tanks or runs of water through the said Town, and to sink wells, and lay, erect, and place pipes, gutters, conduits and pumps in any of the said streets, and may remove and alter the same when and in such manner the said Commissioners shall think proper.

Power to Commissioners to purchase lands, &c., for the purposes of this Act.

VI. The said Commissioners, by and with the consent of the said Governor of Bengal, may, by agreement or in conformity with the provisions of Act XXII. of 1847, purchase or take absolutely or on lease, for such terms as they may think fit, any water-works, streams of water, lands, fixtures or other property which the said Commissioners may deem it necessary to purchase, or take for any work or purpose which they are required or authorized to do and execute under this Act, or the said Act No. X. of 1852, and when the said Commissioners take and purchase any lands for the purposes of this Act otherwise than with the consent of the owners and occupiers thereof, they shall, in exercising the powers so given, be subject to the provisions and restrictions contained in the said Act No. XXII. of 1847; and the said Commissioners shall make to the owners and occupiers of and all other parties interested in any such lands taken for the purposes of this Act, full compensation for the value of the lands so taken, and for all damages sustained by such owners, occupiers and other parties by reason of the exercise, as regards such lands, of the powers vested in the Commissioners by this Act; and the amount of such compensation shall be determined in the manner provided by the said Act No. XXII. of 1847, for determining questions of compensation with regard to lands purchased or taken under the provisions thereof; and all the provisions of the said Act No. XXII. of 1847, shall be applicable to determine the amount of any such compensation, and to enforce the payment or other satisfaction thereof.

Power to Commissioners to sell lands, &c.

VII. The Commissioners, by and with the consent of the Governor of Bengal, may sell or dispose of any lands or other property vested in or acquired by them under the powers herein, or in the said Act No. XXII. of 1847, contained, which it may appear to the Commissioners may be properly sold or disposed of; and for completing and carrying any such sale of lands into effect, the Commissioners may make and execute a conveyance of the lands sold and disposed of as aforesaid unto the purchaser or as he shall direct, and such conveyance shall be under the hands of three of the Commissioners, and under the seal of the Commissioners, and a receipt, under the hands of three of the Commissioners, shall be a sufficient discharge to the purchaser of any such lands for the purchase money in such receipt expressed to be received, and the money to arise from such sale shall be applied to such of the purposes of this Act as the Commissioners shall think fit.

Power to Commissioners to improve and cleanse or to discontinue drains, &c.

VIII. The said Commissioners may, from time to time as they shall see fit, widen, deepen, embank, alter, arch over, amend, clean and scour out all or any of the sewers or drains within the said Town as may be necessary, and also cleanse and drain off into any sewers or drains, and fill up and level or otherwise abate all stagnant pools, ditches, tanks and other receptacles of foul water and filth existing within the said Town, whether the same be the private property of any person or persons or otherwise, and the said Commissioners, if they shall think fit, may take up, stop, fill in, and discontinue any sewers or drains which they shall deem useless or unnecessary; Provided always that the expenses incurred in respect of any such works done or executed on the private property of any person, if not defrayed by such person on demand thereof, may be recovered by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such person, and any two of the said Commissioners may issue their warrant of distress accordingly.

Power to Commissioners to enter, examine, and lay open houses, lands, &c., for that purpose. Compensation in certain cases.

IX. Every Commissioner and the Surveyor to the Commissioners, with such subordinate officers or persons as they may require shall, when it shall be necessary or convenient for the purpose of making any survey or examination of any sewers or drains, or of making or repairing or cleansing any sewers, drains, or works within the said Town, or of carrying into execution any of the powers entrusted to the Commissioners by this Act, or Act No X. of 1852, have full power and authority, at all reasonable hours in the day-time, to enter, examine, and lay open, or to direct their subordinate officers to enter, examine and lay open, any house, building or other erection, or any lands, without being liable to any action at Law or Suit in Equity, or any other legal proceedings or molestation whatsoever, for or on account of such entry, examination, or works, or of any thing done, or to be done in any part of such house, building, erection or land in pursuance of this Act; Provided always, that except in cases of emergency, none of the persons above mentioned shall enter, examine or lay open any house, building or other erection, or lands which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof, without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of their intended entry and of the object thereof; Provided also, that compensation shall be made for any damage occasioned by such entry and works to all persons other than the owners and occupiers of any land or building in respect of which any private drain or sewer, or the state of drainage shall be inspected, cleansed, or repaired, and other than the owners or occupiers of any premises where any nuisance may exist, and other than the person who may have caused such nuisance; and provided also, that in case no nuisance shall be found to exist in or on the house, building or other erection, or lands so entered, examined and laid open as aforesaid, the said Commissioners shall, out of the rates and taxes aforesaid, cause the said house, building, or other erection, or lands, to be restored to the same state and condition in all respects as the same were in before they were so entered, examined or laid open.

Power to commissioners in case of ruinous or dangerous buildings.

X. If any house, building, or wall, or anything affixed thereon within the limits of the said Town, be deemed by the Commissioners or their Surveyor to be in a ruinous state, or likely to fall, and also dangerous to passengers or the occupiers of neighbouring buildings, such Surveyor shall immediately cause a proper board or fence to be put up for the protection of passengers, and shall cause notice in writing to be given to the owner of such house, building, or wall, or other thing, if he be known and resident within the said limits, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door or other conspicuous part of the said premises, or otherwise to be given to the occupier thereof (if any), requiring such owner or occupier forthwith to take down, secure, or repair such house, building, wall, or other thing, as the case shall require; and if such owner or occupier do not begin to repair, take down, or secure such house, building, wall, or other thing, within the space of three days after such notice has been given or put up as aforesaid, and complete the same as speedily as the nature of the case will admit, the said Commissioners shall, with all convenient speed, cause all or so much of such house, building, wall, or other thing, as shall be in a ruinous condition, or likely to fall, and also dangerous as aforesaid, to be taken down, repaired, rebuilt or otherwise secured in such manner as shall be requisite; and all the expenses of putting up every such fence, and of taking down, repairing, rebuilding or securing such building, wall, or other thing, shall be paid by the owner thereof, if such owner can be found within the said limits; and if, on demand of the expenses aforesaid, he neglect or refuse to pay the same, then such expenses may be levied by distress on the goods and chattels of the owner of the said house, building, wall, or other thing, and any two Commissioners may issue their warrant of distress accordingly.

XI. If any such house, building, wall, or other thing, or any part of the same, be pulled down by virtue of the powers aforesaid, the Commissioners may sell the materials thereof, or so much of the same as shall be pulled down, and apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the expenses incurred in respect of such house, building, wall, or other thing, and the Commissioners shall restore any overplus arising from such sale to the owner of such house, building, wall, or other thing on demand; nevertheless the Commissioners, although they sell such materials for the purposes aforesaid, shall have the same remedies for compelling the payment of so much of the said expenses as may remain due after the application of the proceeds of such sale, as are hereinbefore given to them for compelling the payment of the whole of the said expenses.

Power to Commissioners to make canals, aqueducts, sewers, drains, &c.

XII. The said Commissioners, by and with the consent of the Governor of Bengal, may construct, make, and lay, or cause to be constructed, made, and laid, such reservoirs, canals, aqueducts, channels, tanks, sewers, drains, bridges, banks, conduits, machinery, engines, waste-gates, stop-gates, stop-cocks, sluices, tunnels, water-pipes, and other works, as shall, in their opinion, be necessary and proper for obtaining water and supplying the same to the said Town, and for the effectual draining and cleansing of the said Town, and for the properly flushing and cleansing out such sewers in, under, or across all or any of the streets therein, whether dedicated to the public use or not, and if needful through and across all under-ground cellars, and vaults, which they may find under any of the said streets, doing as little damage as may be; and also to cause such and so many rings and openings to be made or left in the sides of the said sewers, as will be sufficient for the making or branching any drain or drains from any or all of the houses built, and which may probably be built, adjoining or near thereto, into any of the said sewers, as the said Commissioners shall think necessary for that purpose; and in case it shall be found necessary for completing any of the aforesaid works to build, carry, or continue the same in, into, through, or over any enclosed lands, or other place not being a public way, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to build, carry, or continue the same in, into, through, or over the said lands or other places accordingly, and the said Commissioners shall cause such sewers to communicate with and empty themselves into any public river, stream, canal, or watercourse, whether within or without the said Town, or shall cause the refuse from such sewers to be conveyed by an appropriate channel to the most convenient site for its deposit, collection, and sale, and its application as manure for agricultural purposes or otherwise, as they shall deem most expedient, but so that the same shall in no case become a public nuisance or annoyance to the neighbourhood.

Power to Commissioners when constructing drains and aqueducts without the jurisdiction of Supreme Court.

XIII. For the purpose of constructing any aqueducts for bringing water to the Town of Calcutta from any place without the local limits of the jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature, or for the purpose of making sewers or drains to communicate with or empty themselves into any public sewer, lake, stream, canal, or water-course without the said limits, it shall be lawful, whenever a plan for any such aqueduct, sewer, or drain shall have been approved by the Governor of Bengal, for every Commissioner, and for the Surveyor and Secretary to the Commissioners, with such Assistants as they may require, to exercise, in the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain throughout the line of country through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, all the powers which by this Act it is lawful for them to exercise within the said local limits, and which may be necessary for the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain, without being subject to any action or molestation whatever for so doing; and it shall also be lawful for any Magistrate of any district through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, in furtherance of the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain, to do such acts within the limits of his own district as it is by this Act lawful for a Magistrate of the Town of Calcutta to do, in furtherance of any work to be executed by the said Commissioners within the said local limits.

Power to Commissioners to execute works by contract.

XIV. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, instead of executing any of the works which by this Act they are authorized to execute by themselves, their servants, and assistants, to execute the same by contract with any individual or company who may be willing to undertake the same, and in that case it shall be lawful for such individual or company to exercise and enjoy all the powers and privileges which by this Act it is lawful for the said Commissioners to exercise and enjoy in the execution of any such works. Provided always, that no Commissioner or Officer, or servant of the Commissioners, shall be in any wise concerned or interested in any contract or work made with or executed for the Commissioners, and if any such Commissioner, or Officer, or Servant, be so concerned or interested, or shall, under colour of his office or employment, exact, take, or accept any fee or reward whatsoever, other than his proper salary, wages, fees, and allowances, he shall be incapable of afterwards holding or continuing in the office of Commissioner, or any office or employment under the Commissioners, and shall forfeit and pay the sum of Company's Rupees five hundred, which may be recovered by any person, with full costs of suit, by action of debt.

Power to Commissioners to contract for supply of water, and to grant leases for that purpose.

XV. The said Commissioners may, with the consent and approbation of the said Governor, contract and agree with any person for supplying the said Town, or any part thereof, with water, and may also, with the like consent and approbation, grant to any person contracting to supply the said Town, or any part thereof, with water, a lease, for any term not exceeding twenty-one years, of any water-works, machinery, streams, waters, lands, tenements, easements, rights, privileges, and advantages, belonging to or acquired by, or which may belong to or be acquired by or be vested in the said Commissioners, under any of the powers or authorities in this or any other Act contained, so as to enable such person or persons so contracting the more effectually and efficiently to procure and supply water in pursuance of any such contract or agreement; and every such lease so to be granted by the said Commissioners may be made subject to such conditions and stipulations as to the supplying water, for the purposes of this Act, or any of them, as may be agreed upon between the respective parties thereto. Provided always, that no lease or contract made in pursuance of the powers hereinbefore contained shall be valid or effectual, for any purpose whatsoever, unless the said Governor's approval of the same shall be testified by writing, endorsed on such lease or contract, under the hand of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Power to Commissioners to enter on lands adjacent to works, &c.

XVI. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, their Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer, subject to the restrictions in this Act contained to enter upon the lands of any corporation or person adjoining to, or being within the distance of one hundred yards of the works by this Act authorized to be made, or any part thereof, for the purpose of depositing upon such lands, or any part thereof, any soil, gravel, sand, lime, brick, stone, or other materials, or for any other purposes connected with the formation of the said works, without making any previous payment tender, or deposit, the said Commissioners, their Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer, doing as little damage as may be in the exercise of the several powers hereby granted to them, and making compensation for such temporary occupation or temporary damage of the said lands to the owners and occupiers thereof, from time to time, and as often as any such temporary occupation shall be taken or any such temporary damage done, and making compensation to the owners also for the permanent injury (if any) to such lands; and in case the parties differ respecting the amount of the compensation, or the respective shares of several claimants of compensation, then and in every such case the said disputes respectively shall be settled and adjusted by arbitration, or by the verdict of a Jury, summoned and assembled in manner provided in Act No. XXII. of 1847. Provided always that before the said Commissioners make any such temporary use as aforesaid of the lands adjoining or lying near to the said works, they shall give fourteen days' notice of such their intention to the owners and occupiers of such lands, and shall separate and set apart by sufficient fences so much of the lands as shall be required to be used as aforesaid from the other lands adjoining thereto.

Commissioners when executing works to provide convenient roads, drains, &c., for use of adjoining lands when present roads &c., are stopped, &c.

XVII. The said Commissioners, when executing any works hereby authorized to be made, shall, at their own expense, make and provide a sufficient number of convenient roads, ways, watering places, wells, water-courses, drains and channels for the irrigation and for the use of the adjoining lands, and for irrigating the same in those parts where the present roads, ways, watering places, wells, water-courses, drains, and channels shall and may be taken away or interrupted, injured, or rendered inconvenient or useless by reason of the execution of the said works, and in case of any difference arising between the said Commissioners and the owners of such adjoining lands, such difference shall be settled by arbitration, or by the verdict of a Jury summoned and assembled in manner provided in Act No. XXII. of 1847.

Power to Commissioners to make compensation out of rates, &c.

XVIII. The said Commissioners shall make full compensation out of the rates and taxes to be levied by them to all persons sustaining any damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested in the Commissioners, or their Officers or servants, under and by virtue of this Act.

Power to Commissioners to prosecute in certain cases.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to direct any prosecution before any Court or Justice of the Peace for any public nuisance whatsoever which shall be permitted, suffered or committed within the said Town, and to order proceedings to be taken for the recovery of any penalties, and for the punishment of any persons offending against the provisions of this Act, and to direct and order the expenses of such prosecutions and other proceedings to be paid and borne by and out of the funds placed at their disposal under the provisions of this or any other Act.

Power to Commissioners to prefer bill of indictment in certain cases.

XX. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, if they shall not think fit to take any other proceedings prescribed by this Act, to prefer any bill of indictment or information, or to take any other proceedings against any person who shall obstruct or molest the said Commissioners, or their Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or servant, or any workman or other person employed by them in the performance and execution of their or his duty, under or by virtue or in consequence of this Act, or who shall steal, take, or carry away, or wilfully deface or injure any property, article, or thing belonging to the said Commissioners, and in every such case it shall be sufficient to state generally the property, article, or thing, in respect of which such proceeding shall have been taken, to be the property of the said Commissioners.

Power to Commissioners to arrest unknown offenders without warrant.

XXI. It shall be lawful for any of the Commissioners, their Secretary, Surveyor, Inspectors, Overseers, or any servants or persons employed by them, and for any Inspector of Police or policeman employed in the said Town, and such other person or persons whom he or they shall call to his or their assistance, without any summons, or warrant, or other authority than this Act, to seize and detain any unknown person who shall commit any offence against the provisions of this Act, and to take him immediately to a Police Station, where he shall be detained in default of Bail until he can be taken before any Justice of the Peace, who is hereby required to proceed and act with respect to such offender according to the provisions of this Act.

Power to Commissioners to enter and inspect bazars, slaughter-houses, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

XXII. The Commissioners, or any one of them, or any person appointed by them for that purpose, may at all reasonable times, with or without assistants, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall, or place, kept or used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables which may be therein, and in case any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables appear to be intended for the food of man, and to be unfit for such food, may seize, remove, and destroy the same, at the expense of the owner thereof, or the owner, occupier, or farmer of any such public market, bazar, or slaughter-house, or private shop or stall within the Town, wherein the same shall be exposed or allowed to be exposed for sale.

Power to Commissioners to remove obstructions in streets.

XXIII. The Commissioners or their Surveyor shall have full power and authority to remove or order the removal of any wall, fence, rail, post, or other obstruction or encroachment in any street or in or over any drain, sewer, or aqueduct, within the said Town, whether the proprietary right to such street drain, sewer, or aqueduct shall be in dispute or not; provided always that nothing in this Act shall be construed to give the said Commissioners or their Surveyor power to remove such wall, fence, or other obstruction after the decree or order of any competent Court has declared the land, walled, fenced, or railed in, to be private property.

Power to Commissioners to fill up unwholesome tanks.

XXIV. When any private tank, or low marshy ground, shall appear to the Commissioners to be offensive to the neighbourhood or unwholesome, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to require, by notice in writing, the owner thereof to cleanse or fill up the same, and if the said tank shall remain uncleansed or not filled up for seven days after such notice, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to enter into and upon the adjoining lands, and to cleanse or fill up the said tank as they shall think fit, and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such tank, to be recovered in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Power to Commissioners to affix boards or plates to houses.

XXV. The Commissioners may affix on or to the wall of any house or compound, or in or to any wall within the said Town, as they shall think fit, any board or metal plate to indicate the name of the street in which such house, compound, or wall is situate, or any lamp for the purpose of lighting the street.

Power to Commissioners to kill dogs.

XXVI. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners or their subordinate Officers, as they shall think fit, to kill and destroy, or to order to be killed and destroyed, all dogs that may be found loose in the said streets, and not accompanying their owners or some person in charge of them.

Commissioners to repair streets, &c.

XXVII. The said Commissioners shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, keep in good and sufficient repair every street now or at any future time existing in the said Town.

Commissioners to take precautions when streets and drains under repair.

XXVIII. When any of the streets, sewers, or drains in the said Town are being made, or shall be under repair, the Commissioners or their Surveyor, or other subordinate Officer, shall take proper precautions against danger by shoreing up and protecting the adjoining houses, and shall fix and place, or cause to be fixed and placed such and so many bars, chains, or posts across or in any of the said streets to prevent the passing and repassing of carriages, carts, or other vehicles, cattle or horses, during the time of such works and repairs being carried on as shall be necessary, and the said Commissioners and their said Surveyor shall cause any sewer or drain or other works, during the construction or repair thereof by them, to be well and sufficiently lighted during the night to prevent accidents.

Commissioners to light the Town.

XXIX. The said Commissioners, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall provide lamps for lighting such parts of the said Town as the said Commissioners shall consider to require the same, and shall keep the said lamps in fit order for public use, and shall keep and employ a sufficient number of persons to cleanse, prepare, repair, and light the same, and shall also from time to time, as shall be required, increase or otherwise alter the number and situation of the said lamps, as to them shall appear necessary for the lighting of the said town.

Commissioners to keep town clean, remove dirt, &c.

XXX. The said Commissioners and their said Surveyor and other Officers shall cause all the public streets of the said Town, together with the foot-pavements or foot-paths therein, from time to time to be properly swept and cleansed, and all dust, dirt, soil, ashes, rubbish and filth of every sort which may be found thereon to be collected and removed therefrom at convenient hours and times, and shall cause all or any of the privies, cesspools, and drains within the said Town to be cleansed and emptied in a sufficient and proper manner by the owners or occupiers of the premises; and the said Surveyor or other subordinate Officer of the Commissioners shall give such orders and directions to the owners and occupiers aforesaid as to the said Surveyor or other Officer as aforesaid, acting under the orders and control of the said Commissioners, shall appear proper and necessary, and the said Commissioners may, in their discretion, order and direct where, and in what places, and how, and in what manner, the dust, dirt, soil, night soil, ashes, rubbish and filth collected in the said Town shall be deposited and disposed of.

Owners to prevent effluvia from drains, &c.

XXXI. The owners of any private drains in the said town shall by providing proper traps or other coverings, or by ventilation, or by such other ways and means as shall be practicable for that purpose, prevent as far as possible the effluvia of sewers and drains from exhaling from gully-holes, gratings, or any other openings whatsoever of drains or sewers in streets or other places, and in case the owner of any private sewer or drain shall neglect or delay so to do, the Surveyor of the said Commissioners shall give him notice to prevent as far as possible the effluvia of such sewer or drain from so exhaling, and if the same shall not be done by such owner within ten days after such notice shall have been given to him, the said Surveyor shall forthwith provide and apply proper traps or other coverings, or such other means as aforesaid, so as effectually to prevent such effluvia from exhaling, and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such sewer or drain, to be recovered in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Commissioners to issue certificates prohibiting improper burial-places.

XXXII. If upon the representation of the Surveyor of the Commissioners, and after inquiry by such other ways and means as the Commissioners may think fit to direct, the said Commissioners shall certify, (such certificate to be published in the Calcutta Gazette and in one of the English and Bengallee newspapers respectively usually circulated within the town,) that any burial-ground situated within the said town is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof, or that any church or other place of public worship within the town is dangerous to the health of persons frequenting the same by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of or underneath the same, and that sufficient means of interment exist within a convenient distance from such burial-ground, church, or place of public worship, it shall not be lawful, after a time to be named in such certificate, to bury or permit or suffer to be buried any further corpses or coffins in, within, or under the ground, church, or place of worship to which the certificate relates, except in so far as may be allowed by such certificate, and whosoever after notice of such certificate buries or causes, permits, or suffers to be buried any corpse or coffin contrary to this enactment, shall for every such offence be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding Company's rupees five hundred.

No vault or burial-place henceforth to be constructed without leave of Commissioners.

XXXIII. No vault or grave shall be constructed or made within the walls of or underneath any church or other place of public worship built in the said Town after the passing of this Act, and no burial-ground shall be made or formed within the said Town after the passing of this Act without the consent of the Commissioners first had and obtained, and whosoever shall bury or cause, permit, or suffer to be buried any corpse or coffin in any vault, grave, or burial-ground constructed, made, or formed contrary to this enactment, shall for every such offence be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding Company's rupees five hundred.

No writ to be sued out against them till after one month's notice, &c.; action to be brought in three months; Commissioners may tender amends.

XXXIV. No writ or process shall be issued out against or served upon any Commissioners or any Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or person whomsoever, acting under the direction of the Commissioners for anything done or intended to be done under the powers of this Act, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered to him or left at his office or place of abode, explicitly stating the cause of action, and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff, and of his attorney or agent in the cause, and upon the trial of any such action the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action except such as is stated in the notice so delivered, and unless such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant, and every such action shall be brought or commenced within three calendar months next after the accrual of the cause of action, and not afterwards, and if any party shall have committed any irregularity, trespass, or other wrongful proceedings in the execution of this Act or by virtue of any power or authority hereby given, and if before action brought in respect thereof such party shall make tender of sufficient amends to the party injured, such last-mentioned party shall not recover in any such action when brought, and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issue joined, to pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

Commissioners and their servants not to be personally liable when act done bonâ fide.

XXXV. No matter or thing done, or contract entered into by the Commissioners, or any one of them, or by any Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or person whomsoever, acting under the direction of the Commissioners, shall, if the matter or thing were done, or the contract were entered into bonâ fide for the purpose of executing this Act, subject them or any of them personally to any action, liability, claim, or demand whatsoever, and any expense incurred by any such Commissioners, Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or person acting as last aforesaid, shall be borne and repaid out of the funds under the control of the Commissioners.

Streets, drains, filth, &c., the property of Commissioners as Trustees.

XXXVI. All the streets existing within the said Town at the time of the passing of this Act, and all parts of the said Town which shall hereafter become streets, and also the pavements, stones and other materials therein, and all erections and building materials, implements or other things provided for the said streets, by or under the authority of the Government of Bengal, or by the Magistrates of Calcutta, or by the said Commissioners, and also all public sewers and drains within the said Town, together with all works, materials and things therewith connected and belonging, existing in the said Town at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall hereafter be constructed and made therein by the said Commissioners or otherwise, and also all canals, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, water works-cisterns, pumps, pipes, tanks, reservoirs and wells which now are or shall hereafter be provided or lawfully applied to public use, and which are not the property of any private person, together with all buildings, engines, works, materials and things therewith connected, existing in the said Town at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall hereafter be constructed and made therein at the costs of the said Commissioners or otherwise, and also all lands surrounding and belonging to public tanks and slips of ground alongside of any street, drain or aqueduct not the property of any private person, and also all lands belonging to the late Lottery Committee and not legally appropriated, and also all dirt, dust, dry and liquid filth, ashes and rubbish to be collected from the streets, houses, privies, sewers and cess-pools and elsewhere within the said Town, shall be the property of and are hereby vested in the said Commissioners as Trustees for the purposes of this Act.

Act not to exempt parties guilty of nuisance from prosecution or action.

XXXVII. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to render lawful any act or omission on the part of any person which is, or but for this Act would be deemed and adjudged to be a nuisance at common Law, nor to exempt any person guilty of a nuisance at common Law, from prosecution or action in respect thereof. Provided always, that if any person convicted of an offence under this Act, shall have paid the whole amount adjudged to be paid under such conviction, and the costs thereof, or shall have suffered imprisonment in respect of such offence, in every such case he shall be released from all further or other criminal proceedings for the same offence.

Parties may make branch drains into public sewers, as Surveyor of Commissioners shall order. Penalty for offences against this Section.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for any person, at his own expense, to make or branch any drain into any of the sewers vested in the said Commissioners, or authorized to be made by virtue of this Act, or otherwise acquired by the said Commissioners, such drain being made of such a size and in such a manner of communication in all respects as the said Surveyor of the said Commissioners shall direct, and for that purpose to take up and remove with the permission of the Commissioners so much of the pavement and other materials of any street as may be required, unless the said Commissioners shall consent and agree, which they are hereby authorized to do, to form so much and such portion of such drain as shall lead from the point of communication in such sewer to the extremity of such street, and in case any person shall make or branch any drain into any of the said sewers so vested in the said Commissioners, or authorized to be made, under and by virtue of this Act, of a different size or in a different manner and form of communication than shall be directed or appointed by the said Surveyor, every person so offending shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, a sum not exceeding fifty rupees, and in default of payment shall be imprisoned for any period not exceeding one month, and the said Justice shall order the said person so offending to alter such drain as required by the said Commissioners within ten days, and in default the said Commissioners shall, at the expense of the maker of such drain, alter or destroy the same as they shall think fit, and in case the expense of making such alteration or destruction shall not be paid by the owner or maker of such drain, the expense incurred thereby shall be recovered in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Commissioners may contract with owners to make such drains at their expense.

XXXIX. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to contract and agree with the owners of any houses or other tenements within the said Town, that any drains required to be constructed and made by such owners shall be constructed and made by the Surveyor of the said Commissioners, and the cost price of making such drains, (as certified by the said Surveyor of the said Commissioners,) shall be repaid by such owners to the said Commissioners, and in default of such payment the same may be recovered in the manner hereinafter provided.

Notice to be given to Commissioners before any new sewer or building is commenced to be built, as Surveyor shall direct.

XL. Before beginning to dig or lay the foundations of any new house, building or wall within the said Town, or to rebuild any house, building, or wall therein, contiguous or near to any street and not being within the compound wall of any premises, and also before making any sewer or drain for the purpose of draining water directly or indirectly from any land or tenement into any sewer under the jurisdiction of the said Commissioners, fourteen clear days' notice in writing shall be given to the Secretary to the said Commissioners by delivering the same to him or leaving it at his office by the person intending to build or re-build such house, building or wall, or to make such sewer or drain, and every foundation of any such house, building, or wall, and the drains within the same, shall be laid at such level as the Surveyor of the said Commissioners shall direct, and so as that no part of the said house, building, or wall shall project or encroach into or over the adjoining street, drain, or aqueduct, and so as that the said drains may be properly built with reference to the adjoining public drains, and every such branch drain shall be made in such direction, manner, and form, and of such materials and workmanship as the said Surveyor shall order, and the building or re-building of any such house, building, or wall shall be under the survey and control of the said Commissioners and their Surveyor so far as may be necessary to prevent any projection or encroachment in or over any street, drain, or aqueduct, and to insure that the level of the drains within such house, building, or wall shall be properly built with reference to the public drains; and in default of such notice as aforesaid, or if such building or drain shall be begun, or made without, or in any respect contrary to, any order of the said Surveyor, or of the provisions of this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to cause such building to be demolished, and to cause such drain to be re-laid, amended, destroyed, or re-made as the case may require, and to cause the expenses thereof to be levied and re-paid to them from and by the owner thereof in manner hereinafter provided.

Penalties for certain offences in the streets.

XLI. 24. Every person who shall sift or clean, or cause to be sifted or cleansed, or exposed for any other purpose any cotton, grain, seeds, rice, coffee, onions, or any other vegetable matter whatsoever, or who shall sift brick-dust or lime on any public street, or on or over any public drain, sewer, reservoir, or aqueduct.

For leaving vehicles in public streets, &c.

25. Every person who shall keep or leave any carriage, cart, hackery, or other conveyance, or any horse, ox or other animal, on any public street or on or over any public drain, sewer, or aqueduct, so as to cause an obstruction in the streets or public thoroughfare.

For making fires and discharging fire-arms and fire-works in streets.

26. Every person who shall set fire to or burn any straw, hay, seeds, timber, or any other matter, or light any bonfire or fire in any public street, or discharge any kind of fire-arms or any air-gun, or let off or throw any kind of fireworks or send up any fire-balloon any where in the said Town.

For sounding musical instruments or metals in streets.

27. Every person who shall beat or sound any musical or sounding instrument, or any brass or metal utensil in the public streets, except at such times and places as shall be from time to time appointed by the Chief Magistrate upon application made to him for that purpose.

For affixing bills, or otherwise defacing houses, &c.

28. Every person, other than the said Commissioners or their servants, who shall affix any bill, notice, or any paper against or upon any building, wall, fence, or board, or who shall write upon, deface, or mark with chalk, or paint, or in any way whatsoever, any building, wall, fence, or board without the consent of the owner or occupier thereof.

For exposing unwholesome food, &c.

29. Every person who shall expose or allow to be exposed within the limits of the said Town any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables in a decayed and unwholesome state and unfit for the food of man.

For slaughtering in streets.

30. Every person who shall slaughter or cut up any beast, sheep, swine, or other animal in any public street or so near thereunto that any blood or filth or other matter from the same shall flow or be carried into such street.

For keeping a market unclean, &c.

31. Every person being the owner, occupier or farmer of any public market, bazar, or slaughter-house, who shall keep or allow the same to be kept in a filthy and unclean state, and shall refuse or neglect, after the expiration of two days' notice to be given by the said Commissioners or their Surveyor, Overseer, or Bazar Inspector, to cause such market, bazar, or slaughter-house to be properly cleansed and the filth thereof removed.

For keeping swine, &c., in the Town.

32. Every person who shall keep in any street, house, out-house, yard, or ground within the Town any swine or a flock of more than twenty sheep, goats or horned cattle.

Bathing places at the river to be set apart.

XLII. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the concurrence of the Chief Magistrate, to set apart, at their discretion, certain of the public ghauts on the Calcutta bank of the river Hooghly for the purpose of being used as bathing places, and every person who shall by landing goods or merchandize at the said ghauts, or who shall by anchoring or otherwise fastening or keeping boats or vessels of any description in any manner obstruct or incommode the bathers at any such ghaut, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of such Justice, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month.

Commissioners, and Chief Magistrate, may allow illuminations on street.

XLIII. It shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the concurrence of the Chief Magistrate, at their discretion, to grant a licence to any person permitting him to put up posts on the side of any public street for the purpose of affixing thereon lamps to illuminate the said street on occasions of festivals or ceremonies; and any person who shall put up any such post, or affix any such lamp for any purpose, without licence first had and obtained from the Commissioners under the hand of the Secretary or Surveyor, shall, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and in default of payment, shall be imprisoned for any period not exceeding one month.

Slaughter-houses to be registered; penalty for not registering.

XLIV. Every person being the owner, occupier, or farmer of any public market, bazar, or slaughter-house within the Town, shall cause such market, bazar, or slaughter-house to be registered at the Office of the Commissioners, with a general description of the place, size, number of shops and stalls, and kinds of goods therein exposed for sale; and if he shall refuse or neglect so to register the same he shall forfeit and pay, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, a sum not exceeding one hundred rupees, and in default of payment thereof, shall be liable to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding one month.

Penalty for making and using any new slaughter-house within the Town without the consent of Commissioners, &c.

XLV. No place shall be used or occupied as a slaughter-house, within the said Town, which was not in such use and occupation at the time of the passing of this Act, and has not so continued ever since, unless and until a licence for the erection thereof, or for the use and occupation thereof, as a slaughter-house has been obtained from the Commissioners, and every person who, without having first obtained such licence as aforesaid, shall use as a slaughter-house any place within the said limits not used as such at the time of the passing of this Act, and so continued to be used ever since, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, a sum not exceeding one hundred rupees, and in default of payment shall be liable to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding one month.

Owners of bazars tanneries, &c., shall have sufficient drains.

XLVI. Every person being the owner, occupier, or farmer of any market, bazar, tannery, or slaughter-house within the said Town is required to have such a number of drains therein as shall be considered sufficient by the Commissioners, and shall have all the floors and drains paved with stone or burnt brick, and he shall have also therein a supply of water sufficient in the judgment of the Commissioners to keep the whole place in a clean and wholesome state at all times, and in default thereof for four weeks after notice given to him by the Surveyor, Overseer, or Inspector of Markets that such market, bazar, tannery, or slaughter-house is defective in any of the said particulars, shall forfeit and pay, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, a sum not exceeding one hundred rupees, and in default of payment shall be liable to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding two months.

Penalty for establishing any new tannery, &c., in Town.

XLVII. Any person who, after the passing of this Act, shall establish any new tannery or other manufactory within the said Town, from which an offensive or unwholesome smell may arise, shall forfeit and pay, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, a sum not exceeding two hundred rupees, and in default of payment shall be liable to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding two months.

Windows in rooms to be made to open inward, and doors opening outwards may be altered by the Commissioners.

XLVIII. All doors and gates put up after the passing of this Act within the limits of the said Town, and which open upon any street, shall be hung or placed so as not to open ontwards; and if any such door or gate be hung or placed so as to open outwards on any street, the occupier of such house, building, yard, or land shall, within eight days after notice from the Commissioners to that effect, cause the same to be altered so as not to open outwards, and in case he neglects so to do the Commissioners may make such alteration, and the expenses of such alteration shall be paid to the Commissioners by such occupier, and shall be recoverable from him in manner hereafter mentioned. And if any such door or gate was before the passing of this Act hung so as to open outwards upon any street, the Commissioners may alter the same, or cause the same to be altered, so that no part thereof when open shall project over any public way.

Number of house to be affixed to it.

XLIX. Every person being the owner or occupier of a house in the Town shall fix at his own expense, in a conspicuous place outside of the house or of his gate, in the street, the number of the same as recorded in the assessment books, and no other number, and the said number shall be in legible figures at least three inches in length, and any person who, after the expiration of three months after the publication of this Act, shall neglect or refuse to have such number affixed, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding fifty rupees.

Occupiers to keep lamp lighted outside their gates in the streets.

L. Every person being the occupier of a house in the said Town, and rated at a gross monthly rental of rupees seventy and upwards for the same, shall fix, at his own expense, in a conspicuous place outside of his house, or if the said house be in a compound, outside of his gate, in the street, a lamp, of a pattern to be approved or allowed by the Commissioners, and the said occupier shall keep and maintain a good and sufficient light burning in the said lamp throughout the night, and any person who, after the expiration of three months next after the passing of this Act, shall neglect or refuse to have such lamp affixed as aforesaid, or who shall on any night after the expiration of the said three months, neglect or refuse to keep a good and sufficient light burning therein as aforesaid, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Provision for repetition of offences.

LI. When any person shall have been convicted under the provisions of this Act, and shall not, within seven days after such conviction, discontinue the nuisance or cease to commit the offence for which he was so convicted, such person shall be again liable to the penalties and punishments provided by this Act for such nuisance or offence, and may be again convicted or sentenced under this Act accordingly, and in cases where by the provisions of this Act offenders are required to have notice given them to remove the obstruction or nuisance previous to being liable to the penalties imposed by this Act, if such parties being once warned shall be convicted, and shall again offend against the provisions of this Act, it shall not be necessary to repeat the notice aforesaid, but the parties may be summoned at once.

Obstruction of Commissioners or their Officers.

LII. Any person who shall wilfully obstruct or molest the said Commissioners or any of them, or their Secretary, Surveyor, or other Officer or Workman employed by them under the provisions of this Act, or any person or company with whom they may have contracted under the provisions of this Act, or any person employed by them in the performance or execution of any duty or thing which they are respectively required or authorized to do under this Act, shall for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, forfeit and pay any sum not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice before whom he is convicted, to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding three months.

No person liable for penalty unless complaint made within three months.

LIII. No person shall be liable to the payment of any penalty or forfeiture imposed by virtue of this Act for any offence complained of before a Justice of the Peace, unless the complaint respecting such offence shall have been made before such Justice within three months next after the commission of such offence. Provided always that nothing in this Section contained shall be construed so as to prevent the removal at any time of any obstruction or encroachment in or upon any of the streets or lands or the imposing or levying at any time of any penalty or forfeiture in respect thereof.

Manner in which damages, costs, and expenses are to be ascertained.

LIV. In all cases where any damages, costs, or expenses are by this Act directed to be paid, and the method of ascertaining the amount or of enforcing the paying thereof is not provided for, such amount in case of dispute shall be ascertained and determined by arbitration, in like manner as is provided for proceeding by arbitration under Act No. XXII. of 1847, and if the parties cannot agree upon two persons or arbitrators, or the arbitrators fail to pronounce their award as aforesaid, then by any two Justices of Calcutta, and if the amount so ascertained be not paid by the said Commissioners or by the other party liable to pay the same, as the case may be, within seven days after demand thereof, the amount may be recovered by action of debt or on the case in Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature or the Calcutta Court of Small Causes.

Commissioners to publish short particulars of offences.

LV. The said Commissioners shall publish short particulars of the several offences for which any penalty or punishment is imposed by this Act, affecting other persons than officers or servants of the said Commissioners, and of the amount of every such penalty and punishment, and shall cause such particulars to be painted on a board, or to be printed upon paper and posted on a board in English and Bengallee, and shall cause such board to be hung up or affixed in some conspicuous place in the Office of the Secretary of the said Commissioners, and when any such penalties are of local application shall cause such boards to be affixed in some conspicuous place of the immediate neighbourhood to which such penalties are applicable or have reference.

All penalties not otherwise provided may be recovered before Magistrate; form of procedure.

LVI. Every penalty or forfeiture imposed by this Act, or any expense incurred by the said Commissioners in respect of any private drains, sewers, doors, or other things as aforesaid, the recovery of which is not otherwise provided for, may be recovered by summary proceeding before any Justice of the Peace of Calcutta, and on complaint being made to any such Justice, he shall issue his summons requiring the party complained against to appear before him at a time and place to be named in such summons, and every such summons shall be served on the party offending, either in person or by leaving the same at his usual or last known place of abode, and upon the appearance of the party complained against, or in his absence, after proof of the due service of such summons, it shall be lawful for such Justice to proceed to the hearing of the complaint, which complaint shall be reduced to writing, and upon proof of the offence, or of the expense having been incurred, either by the confession of the party complained against or upon the oath or solemn affirmation of one credible witness or more, it shall be lawful for such Justice to convict the offender or party summoned as aforesaid, and upon such conviction to adjudge the offender to pay the penalty, or forfeiture, or suffer the punishment, or to pay the expense incurred under the provisions of this Act, as well as such costs attending the conviction as such Justice shall think fit, which penalty or forfeiture and costs so adjudged may be levied by distress.

Manner of executing distress.

LVII. Where in this Act any sum of money, whether in the nature of penalty or otherwise, is directed to be levied by distress, such sum of money shall be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the party liable to pay the same, and the overplus arising from such goods and chattels, after satisfying such sum of money and the expenses of the distress and sale, shall be returned on demand to the party whose goods shall have been distrained, or instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of any penalties, forfeitures or expenses imposed or incurred under the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners or any one or more of them, if they think fit, may authorize their Secretary or other person to sue the person liable to pay such penalty, forfeiture, or expenses or any part thereof in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes; and the costs, if any, incurred in any such suit which are not recovered in the suit, may be defrayed out of the taxes levied under the provisions of Act X. of 1852.

No distress unlawful for want of form, &c.

LVIII. No distress levied by virtue of this Act shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall any such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio on account of any irregularity afterwards committed by him, but all persons aggrieved by such defect or irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in an action on the case in Her Majesty's said Supreme Court, or in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes.

How penalties are to be applied.

LIX. The Justice of the Peace by whom any such penalty or forfeiture shall be imposed may, when the application thereof is not otherwise provided for, award not more than one-half thereof or any less sum to the informer, if he shall think fit so to do, and shall award the remainder or the whole thereof to the said Commissioners, to be by them applied to the purposes of this Act as to them shall appear fit, and shall order the same to be paid over to the Secretary of the said Commissioners for that purpose, whose receipt shall be a good and sufficient discharge to the person so paying the same.

Parties liable to penalty shall pay damage done to Commissioners also.

LX. If through any act, neglect, or default, on account whereof any person shall have incurred any penalty imposed by this Act, any damage to the property of the said Commissioners shall have been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage, as well as to pay such penalty, and if the amount of such damage shall not be paid on demand, the same may be recovered by action of debt, or on the case, in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, or in Her Majesty's said Supreme Court of Judicature.

Power to Justice to summon witnesses; penalty for not appearing.

LXI. It shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace to summon any person to appear before him as a witness in any matter in which such Justice shall have jurisdiction under the provisions of this Act, at a time and place to be mentioned in such summons, and require from him on oath or solemn affirmation that he will testify the truth in such matter; and if any person so summoned shall without reasonable cause refuse or neglect to appear at the time and place appointed for that purpose, having been paid or tendered a reasonable sum for his expenses, if from distance or any other cause he shall be lawfully entitled to claim such expenses, or if any person appearing shall refuse to be examined on his oath or solemn affirmation according to law, or to give evidence before such Justice, every such person shall for every such offence forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding two hundred rupees, or at the discretion of such Justice shall be imprisoned for any term not exceeding one month.

Meaning of words in this Act.

LXII. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction; (that is to say,) words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number; words importing the masculine gender only shall include females; the word "person" shall include corporations whether aggregate or sole; the words "oath," "affirmation," and "solemn affirmation," when used alone, shall include oath or affirmation or other declaration lawfully substituted for an oath in such case by any legislative Act of the Governor General of India in Council, or by any Act of the Parliament of Great Britain extended to India; the word "street" shall include any public square, circus, street, court, alley, foot-path, highway, lane, road, thoroughfare, public passage, or other public place within the said Town; the word "lands" shall include messuages, buildings, walls, tenements, and hereditaments of any tenure as well as lands; the words "the said Commissioners" shall mean the Commissioners for the time being appointed or acting under the provisions of Act No. X. of 1852, and the word "month" shall mean calendar month.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 20th February 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council, in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 20th February 1852, is published for general information:

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 28th November 1851, and published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 3rd December 1851, to amend the mode of procedure in the Courts of the Sudder Ameens and Moonsiffs.

Resolution.—The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following amended Draft on the subject be published for general information:

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to amend the mode of procedure in the Courts of the Sudder Ameens and Moonsiffs in the Bengal Presidency.

Whereas it is desirable that the mode of procedure in original suits in the Courts of the Sudder Ameens and Moonsiffs should be assimilated to the mode of procedure in such suits in the Courts of the Judges and Principal Sudder Ameens, It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. Sections XIX., XXI., XXII., XXIV., XXVII., XXIX., XXXV., XXXVII., and Clauses 1, 2, 3 and 5 of Section XXV., and Section LXXIII., so far as it extends Clauses 1, 2, 3 and 5 of Section XXV. and Section XXXV. to Sudder Ameens, of Regulation XXIII. of 1814, and Clause 5, Section V., Clause 3, Section XV., of Regulation V. of 1831, and so much of Clause 3, Section VIII. of the said Regulation V. of 1831, as relates to the Clauses and Sections of Regulation XXIII. of 1814, hereinbefore mentioned, and Section VI. of the said Regulation V. of 1831, except in so far as it rescinds Sections LVII., LVIII., and LIX., of Regulation XXIII. of 1814, all of the Bengal Code, are hereby repealed.

II. All laws and rules now in force relating to the mode of procedure in the trial and decision of original Civil Suits in the Courts of the Judges and Principal Sudder Ameens, shall also apply to and regulate the mode of procedure in the trial and decision of original Civil Suits in the Courts of the Sudder Ameens and Moonsiffs.

III. Sections XIII. and XXI. of Regulation III. of 1793, Sections VII. and XI., Regulation VII. of 1795, Sections XVII. and XIX., Regulation II. of 1803, Sections VIII. and IX. of Regulation VII. of 1832 of the Bengal Code, as extended by Act XXI. of 1850 shall be applicable to suits and cases in the Courts of the Moonsiffs. Clause 2, Section IV., Regulation XXVI. of 1814 of the said Code, relating to reviews of judgment shall also be applicable to the Courts of Sudder Ameens and Moonsiffs. Provided always that if a Sudder Ameen or Moonsiff shall be of opinion that a review of his judgment ought to be granted, he shall report the case to the Judge, who is hereby authorized to permit such review under the same rules as are prescribed by the existing Regulations with respect to similar applications to the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

IV. Every Sudder Ameen and Moonsiff shall have power and authority to try suits in which any Vakeel or Officer of his Court is a party, anything in Section VIII., Act VI. of 1843, and in Clause 2, Section XV., Regulation V. of 1831 to the contrary notwithstanding; and suits under Clause 1, Section XXX., Regulation II. of 1819 of the Bengal Code, may be referred to them by the Zillah Judge for trial and decision under the restrictions as to local jurisdiction and value of property mentioned in Clauses 1, 2 and 3, Section V., and Clause 2, Section XV., Regulation V. of 1831.

V. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed so as to repeal or otherwise affect the rules regarding the dispensing with the use of stamp paper on certain documents in the Courts of the Moonsiffs contained in Clause 2, Section IX., Regulation V. of 1831, or the rules for procuring the attendance of witnesses in the Courts of the Moonsiffs contained in Section II., Act XVII. of 1845.

VI. Applicants for execution of decrees may file with their petitions an authenticated copy of the decree of which execution is sought to be taken out, and in such case it shall not be necessary to compare the petition with the decree contained in the original record of the suit, anything in Clause 7, Section XV. Regulation XXVI. of 1814 to the contrary notwithstanding.

VII. Original suits referred to a Sudder Ameen under Clause 2, Section XV., Regulation V. of 1831, shall be tried and determined in conformity with the Provisions of Regulation XXIII. of 1814, and of this Act, anything in Clause 3, Section XV., Regulation V. of 1831, to the contrary notwithstanding.

VIII. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to affect the mode of procedure in any case pending in the Courts of the Sudder Ameens and Moonsiffs at the time of the passing of this Act, but the mode of procedure in all such cases shall be governed by the law in force previous to the passing of this Act.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 20th day of April 1852.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 20th February 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time, on the 20th February 1852.

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act for the Registration of Assurances in the Territories under the Government of the East India Company.

Whereas the laws now in force in the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, relating to the Registration of Assurances, require amendment, It is hereby enacted as follows:

Regulations repealed by this Act.

I. Regulations XXXVI. of 1793, XXVIII. of 1795, XVII. of 1803, Section XVII. Regulation VIII. of 1805, so far as it relates to Regulation XVII. of 1803, Section XXXII., Regulation XII. of 1805 and Regulations XX. of 1812 and IV. of 1824 of the Bengal Code; Regulations XVII. of 1802 and XI. of 1831 of the Madras Code, and Regulation IX. of 1827 of the Bombay Code; and Acts XXX. of 1838, I. of 1843, XIX. of 1843, IV. of 1845 and XVIII. of 1847 are hereby repealed with respect to each of the Presidencies aforesaid from and after the commencement of Registration under this Act in such Presidencies respectively, but not so as to revive any other Regulation or Act thereby repealed.

Public Register Offices to be established.

II. One public office shall be established in each of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Agra and Singapore, for the purposes of this Act, to be called "The Chief Register Office"; and one public office shall be established in each of the Districts to be formed and assigned as hereinafter mentioned, for the purposes of this Act, to be called "The District Register Office."

Proper buildings to be provided by Government.

III. The Government of each Presidency or place within the said Territories shall provide and appoint, from time to time, proper buildings for such offices, in convenient places in such Towns and Districts.

Certain Registrars to be appointed by each Government.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Government of each Presidency or place, from time to time, to appoint for the said Chief Register Office, a Registrar, to be called the Chief Registrar, and an Assistant to such Chief Registrar, to be called "The Assistant Registrar," and it shall also be lawful for the said Government respectively, from time to time, to appoint, for each of the said District Offices, a Registrar, to be called "The District Registrar."

Registrars to appoint their Clerks.

V. It shall be lawful for each of the said Chief Registrars and District Registrars to appoint for their respective offices such Clerks and subordinate Officers as may be allowed by the Government of each Presidency or place, and may be necessary for the execution of the duties to be performed in such offices, and at pleasure to remove them or any of them.

Qualification of Registrars.

VI. Every Chief Registrar to be appointed as aforesaid shall be a Barrister at Law, or an Advocate of the Court of Sessions in Scotland, or a Solicitor of one of Her Majesty's Courts in India, or shall have acted as an Assistant or District Registrar for a period of seven years at least.

Provision in case of temporary vacancy in the Office of District Registrar.

VII. In case of the illness, death, or temporary absence of a District Registrar, or during any temporary vacancy in the Office of such District Registrar, it shall be lawful for the Civil Judge of the said District to appoint such person as he shall think fit to act as District Registrar during such illness, absence, or temporary vacancy as aforesaid.

Registrars and Clerks to give Security.

VIII. Every Chief Registrar, Assistant Registrar and District Registrar, and such of the Clerks and subordinate Officers, to be appointed as aforesaid as the Government of each Presidency or place shall see fit, shall give Security for the due performance of the duties of his or their respective Office or Offices, in such manner and to such amount as the said Governments shall respectively deem fit.

Seal to be kept and the Impressions to be taken judicial notice of.

IX. Each of the said Registrars and District Registrars shall have and keep a Seal, and such Seal shall be supplied to each of the said Offices by the Government of the Presidency or place in which such Offices are respectively situate, and judicial notice shall be taken in all Courts of the impressions thereof, without any evidence of such Seal having been impressed, or any other evidence in relation thereto.

Each Presidency to be divided into Districts.

X. After the first appointment of the Chief Registrars aforesaid, the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place in the said Territories shall, with all convenient speed, (with the consent of the Government thereof) divide such Presidency or place into Districts for the purposes of this Act, and the said Districts shall be of such extent as may, in his opinion, be convenient for facilitating searches in the separate Registers and Indexes to be kept as hereinafter mentioned for such Districts respectively.

The different Register Offices to be provided with proper books.

XI. The Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place shall, at the expense of the Government of such Presidency or place, provide the Chief Register Office and each District Register Office therein with proper books for the Registers, Indexes and Receipts hereinafter mentioned.

Commencement of the Registration.

XII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, by notice published in the Government Gazette, to appoint a time not earlier than three calendar months from the time of the publication of such notice, when Registration under this Act shall commence; and the time so appointed shall be the time of the commencement of Registration under this Act.

Assurances affecting lands to be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District where lands are situate.

XIII. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by which any lands in the said Territories may be affected at Law or in Equity (except such Assurances as in Section XIV. mentioned) may be registered under this Act by the deposit of the original document, or, where there are duplicate original documents, of one of the duplicate original documents, in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, and by the entry or entries hereinafter required being made in the proper Index or Indexes to be kept under this Act in such Office, and the several documents to be deposited in such Office shall, from time to time, be made up into books or parcels, and numbered and arranged, with references to the said Indexes, in such manner as the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place may direct, and the said books or parcels shall be called "The Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands."

Leases for seven years and less to be registered in "the Register of Leases" of the District in which lands are situate.

XIV. After the commencement of Registration under this Act, all leases or agreements for leases of any lands of any tenure, for any time not exceeding seven years, to commence from the date of such lease or agreement, or from any time not exceeding twelve calendar months from the date of such lease or agreement, in which a Rent shall be reserved or agreed to be reserved, or any Assurance, by which any such lease or agreement shall be assigned or otherwise affected, may be registered under this Act by the deposit of the original document, or when there are duplicate original documents, of one of the original documents, in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, and by the entry or entries hereinafter required being made in the proper Index or Indexes to be kept under this Act in such Offices, and the several documents to be deposited in such Office under this Section shall, from time to time, be made up in parcels or books and numbered and arranged, with references to the said Indexes, in such manner as the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place may direct, and the said books or parcels shall be called "The Register of Leases."

Assurances affecting money or moveable property to be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which Assurance is made.

XV. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by which any money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity, shall be registered under this Act by the deposit of the original document, or, where there are duplicate original documents, of one of the duplicate original documents in the Register Office of the District in which such Assurance is made, and by the entry or entries hereinafter required being made in the proper Index or Indexes to be kept under this Act in such Office; and the several documents to be deposited in such Office shall, from time to time, be made up into books or parcels, and numbered and arranged, with references to the said Indexes, in such manner as the Chief Registrar of such Presidency or place may direct, and the said books or parcels shall be called "The General Register." Any such Assurance may also be registered in manner aforesaid in the Register Office of any other District where any other Assurance affecting the same money or moveable property is registered.

When Assurances affect both lands and money.

XVI. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by which any lands in the said Territories and also money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity, shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands," unless such lands are so affected by way of lease or agreement for lease only, in which case such Assurances shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the General Register," and all such Assurances registered in "the General Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" shall be indexed as hereinafter provided by Section L. of this Act.

Assurances to be marked by Registrar with date of deposit.

XVII. Every Assurance registered as hereinmentioned shall be marked by the District Registrar of the Office in which the same is registered, with the day and time of the day when the same was deposited as aforesaid.

One of duplicate Assurances need not be stamped if registered, and certain other documents need not be stamped.

XVIII. Where there are duplicate original Assurances and one duplicate thereof is duly stamped, the other duplicate shall be exempted from stamp duty if registered under this Act; but the Registrar, before he registers any unstamped Assurance, shall satisfy himself that the duplicate thereof is duly stamped, and all memorials and copies to be registered pursuant to this Act, and all copies and extracts of or from any of the documents to be deposited in the Register Office, and all extracts from any of the Indexes to be kept at the Register Office, and all certificates of the result of searches in the said Indexes, and all requisitions for such copies, extracts and searches respectively, shall be exempt from stamp duty.

Receipts to be given for Assurances deposited.

XIX. Every person who deposits an Assurance for Registration as aforesaid shall be entitled to receive from the Registrar of the Office in which the same is deposited, a receipt acknowledging such deposit and the day and time of the day when it was made, the date of the Assurance, the names of the parties thereto, and the entries in the proper Index or Indexes in which the same has been indexed. The Government of each Presidency or place shall furnish each District Registrar therein with receipt books for this purpose, and the receipts therein shall be according to the forms in Schedule (A.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, as the case may be, and every such receipt and the counterfoil thereof shall be numbered in order from the beginning to the end of the book, each receipt and the counterfoil thereof bearing the same number, and the Registrar shall sign both the receipt and the counterfoil thereof, and shall cut off and deliver to the depositer the counterfoil receipt on the right hand of the said receipt book, retaining the other receipt in the book for reference in the Office.

XX. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, and mentioned and described in Sections XIII. and XIV. shall be registered in the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands, or in "the Register of Leases," as the case may be, of the District in which the lands are situate, and in the Registers of no other Districts, and every Assurance not affecting lands but only money or moveable property shall be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which such Assurance is made, and also, if the parties think fit, in "the General Register" of any other District where any other Assurance affecting the same money or moveable property is registered.

Deeds to be registered only in the District where lands affected thereby are situate. In the case of moveable property in the District where Assurance is made.

XXI. Every decree or order of any Court made after the commencement of Registration under this Act, whereby any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories is created, declared, transferred, or otherwise affected, and also every decree or order of any Court, made after such commencement, by which any suit, decree, or order as aforesaid is varied or reversed, shall for the purposes of this Act be considered an Assurance affecting such lands, and may be registered as aforesaid in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" or in "the Register of Leases," as the case may be, of the District in which such lands are situate, and in every such case the document to be deposited shall be a memorial of the decree or order, which memorial shall express the date of the decree or order, and the title of the cause wherein the same purports to be made, and shall also set forth the decree, or order, or so much thereof as relates to the estate or interest created, declared, transferred, or affected by the decree or order to be registered, or by the decree or order which is varied or reversed by the decree or order to be registered (as the case may be), and every such memorial as aforesaid shall, previously to the same being deposited in the Register Office, be examined with the decree or order by the Registrar or by some Clerk authorized to give out an office copy of such decree or order, and shall be certified by the signature of such Registrar or Clerk, and every such Registrar or Clerk is hereby required to examine any such memorial and to certify the same by his signature, at the request of any person upon being paid the sum of one rupee and eight annas.

Decrees affecting lands may be registered.

XXII. Every decree or order of any Court, made after the commencement of Registration under this Act, whereby any right or interest in money or moveable property only is created, declared, transferred, or otherwise affected, and also every decree or order of any Court, made after such commencement, by which any such decree or order as aforesaid is varied or reversed, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered an Assurance, and may be registered as aforesaid in "the General Register" of the District in which such Court is situate, and, if the party registering such decree shall think fit, in "the General Register" of any other District where any other Assurance affecting the same money or moveable property is registered, and in every such case the document deposited shall be a memorial of the decree or order, which shall be in such form, and shall contain the same particulars as are required by the last Section with respect to memorials of decrees affecting lands, and every such memorial as aforesaid shall be examined by such persons, and in such manner, and upon payment of such charge, as is provided by the last Section.

Decrees affecting moveable property may be registered.

XXIII. Any person claiming any interest under any equitable mortgage affecting any lands in the said Territories, made by deposit of Title Deeds, after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may register in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, a memorandum containing a description of the lands and the names of persons by and with whom respectively the Title Deeds are deposited, and expressing the principal sum of money secured by such equitable mortgage, or, in case the total amount of the principal money secured or to be ultimately recoverable upon such equitable mortgage be limited not to exceed a given sum, the total amount of such money, or, in case the money secured by such equitable mortgage be without any limit, that the money secured by such equitable mortgage is unlimited, and, in every such case, the memorandum to be so registered shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered an Assurance affecting such lands, and shall be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands."

Equitable mortgage by deposit of deeds may be registered.

XXIV. Where by reason of the non-payment of purchase-money a vendor has, after the commencement of Registration under this Act, acquired a lien for such purchase-money on any lands in the said Territories, any person claiming an interest in such lien may register a memorandum containing such particulars of the conveyance by the vendor as are sufficient to identify the same, and also containing a description of the lands, and expressing the amount of the money for which a lien is claimed, and in every such case the memorandum to be so registered shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered an Assurance affecting such lands, and shall be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate.

Liens by reason of non-payment of purchase-money may be registered by depositing a memorandum.

XXV. In the several cases provided for by the four immediately preceding Sections, the Assurance to be registered shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered to have been made by the person whose right or interest in the lands or property shall be bound or affected by the decree or order, the equitable mortgage, or the lien (as the case may be) and subject to the Regulations to be made under this Act, the same entry or entries shall be made on registering such Assurances as would have been required if the lands or property affected by the decree or order, the equitable mortgage, or the lien (as the case may be) had been so affected by the grant, conveyance, or assignment of such person.

The Assurance to be considered to have been made by the person whose right, &c., in the lands, &c., shall be bound by the decree, &c.

XXVI. Any Will by which lands in the said Territories may be affected at Law or in Equity, where the testator dies after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may be registered by the deposit of the original Will, or (where there are duplicate original Wills) of one of the duplicate original Wills in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, and any Will by which only money or moveable property is affected, where the testator dies as aforesaid, may be registered by the deposit of the original Will, or (where there are duplicate original Wills) of one of the duplicate original Wills, in the Register Office of the District in which the testator died; or if any such Will as aforesaid be proved, or Letters of Administration with such Will annexed be granted in any Court in the said Territories having jurisdiction for the Probate of Wills, and such Will be deposited in such Court, the same may be registered under this Act, by the deposit in the proper Register Office as aforesaid of a memorial of such Will, mentioning the name of the testator with his addition (if any) as set forth in the Will, and the Court in which, and the time when, such Will was proved or such Letters of Administration granted, or by the deposit in such Office of an office or authenticated copy of the Will duly certified by the Registrar or other Chief Officer of the Court in which such Will was proved or Letters of Administration granted; or if such Will be proved, or Letters of Administration with such Will annexed be granted in any Court having jurisdiction for the Probate of Wills in the United Kingdom, or elsewhere out of the said Territories, such Will may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the proper Register Office as aforesaid of a copy of the same; and the copy to be so deposited shall, where there is any Officer authorized to give out an office or authenticated copy from the office or place of deposit of such Will, be an office or authenticated copy duly certified by such Officer, and all such Wills or Memorials by which lands in the said Territories are affected at Law or in Equity shall be considered as Assurances affecting such lands within the meaning of this Act, and may be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" and all such Wills or Memorials by which only money or moveable property is affected at Law or in Equity, shall also be deemed Assurances, and shall be registered in "the General Register."

Letters of Administration or Affidavit of Intestacy may be registered.

XXVII. Where any person, having power to affect by Will lands money, or moveable property in the said Territories, dies after the commencement of Registration under this Act, intestate, Letters of Administration or Certificates granted under Act XX. of 1841, in respect of the estate and effects of such person, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of an office extract of such Letters or Certificates, and any person who claims as heir, representative, or otherwise any estate, property, or interest in such lands, money, or moveable property which might have been defeated or affected by the Will of any person dying after the commencement of Registration under this Act, and believes such person to have died intestate, or intestate as to such lands, money, or moveable property, may make and register an Affidavit, hereinafter referred to as an Affidavit of intestacy, stating that the deponent claims such estate or interest, and stating the time of the death of such deceased person, and that the deponent believes that such deceased person died without a Will, or without any Will other than any Will in such affidavit mentioned; and all such Letters of Administration, Certificates, Extracts, and Affidavits relating to or in any way affecting any lands shall be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act, and shall be deposited and registered as hereinbefore directed in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate, and all such Letters of Administration, Certificates, Extracts and Affidavits, relating to or affecting only money or moveable property, shall also be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act, and shall be registered as hereinbefore directed in "the General Register" of the District where such deceased person as aforesaid died.

Authority to adopt a son may be registered.

XXVIII. Every written authority given by any husband to a wife to adopt after his decease any son, such authority being so given after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may be registered by the deposit of the original authority, or (where there are duplicate original authorities) of one of the duplicate original authorities, and every such written authority shall be deemed an Assurance. Where any estate or interest in land may be affected by virtue of such adoption, the written authority shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which the lands are situate, and where only interests in money or moveable property may be affected by such adoption, such written authority shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the General Register" of the District in which such husband died.

Where the original is lost, a copy or extract may be deposited.

XXIX. Where the original document or (if there be duplicates) the several original documents is or are destroyed or lost, a copy of or (in cases where no copy is known to exist) an extract from the original document, or of or from any one of the duplicate original documents, may, on registering the Assurance, be deposited in the Register Office in lieu of an original document, and thereupon the Registration of the Assurance shall (so far as respects depositing a document) be as valid and effectual as if an original document had been deposited in the Register Office; provided always, that in every such case an Affidavit of the destruction or loss of the original document, or (if there have been duplicate originals) of the destruction or loss of the several original documents, and (where an extract only is deposited) of the non-existence, to the best of the deponent's belief, of any copy of the original document or of any one of the original documents (as the case may be) shall be brought to the Register Office with the said copy or extract to be deposited as aforesaid, and shall be deposited together with the same in the Register Office. Provided always, that in the case of a copy or extract, the Registration of an Assurance shall be effectual only so far as such copy or extract extends, and so far as the same substantially and in material respects agrees with the original document.

In case of an extract the Registration to be effectual only as far as the extract agrees with the original.

Where order or rule for delivery of any document to be registered is not complied with, the order or rule may be registered in lieu thereof.

XXX. Where any order or rule is made by any Judge or Court as hereinafter mentioned respecting the delivery or sending of any document, or copy, or extract, at or to a Register Office for the purpose of being registered, and the same is not delivered or sent within such time as by such order or rule may be limited in that behalf, such order or rule may be registered in the Register Office, and the registration thereof shall be of the like force and effect as the registration of such document, copy, or extract.

Petitions for adjudication of Insolvency and appointment of Assignees may be registered.

XXXI. Every petition for adjudication of Insolvency in the said Territories filed of record after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of a memorandum, mentioning the Court in which, and the time when, such petition was filed, and the name and place of residence or business of the person against whom such petition is presented, as the same are set forth in the petition, and by the entry hereinafter required being made in the proper Index to be kept in the Register Office; and every appointment or choice of Assignees of any Insolvent in the said Territories made after such commencement, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of the District in which such Assignees are appointed of an office copy of the Certificate of such appointment or choice, and by the entry hereinafter required being made in the said Index; and all such memoranda and copies as aforesaid shall be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act. Where any lands may be affected at Law or in Equity by such adjudication or appointment as aforesaid, the same shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate; and where only money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity by such adjudication or appointment, the same shall be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which such petition is to be adjudicated.

Any order or appointment, &c., of Assignees in Insolvency may be registered by deposit of a copy or certificate, and making the proper entry.

XXXII. Where by virtue of any vesting or other order made after the commencement of Registration under this Act by any Court, Commissioner, or Judge in the said Territories having jurisdiction in that behalf,—or of any nomination, appointment, or choice of any Official or other Assignee made after such commencement by such Court, Commissioner, or Judge, or by the Creditors of any Insolvent Debtor,—the Estate and Effects of any Insolvent Debtor become vested in any such Assignee, every such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of an office or authenticated copy or certificate of such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, and by the entry hereinafter required being made in the proper Index in the Register Office; andall such copies and certificates shall be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act; and where any lands may be affected at Law or in Equity by such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, the same shall be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District where such lands are situate; and where only money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity by such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, the same shall be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which such order, nomination, appointment, or choice is made.

Inhibitions and Caveats may be Registered.

XXXIII. All requisitions for Inhibitions against alienation hereinafter mentioned, and the respective Affidavits delivered therewith, and all Caveats hereinafter mentioned, affecting any lands at Law or in Equity, shall be considered Assurances within the meaning of this Act, and may be registered by the deposit thereof in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate; and all requisitions for Inhibitions against alienation and the respective Affidavits delivered therewith, and all Caveats, affecting only money or moveable property, shall also be deemed Assurances, and may be registered by the deposit thereof in "the General Register" of the district in which the Assurance sought to be affected by any use, trust, or confidence mentioned in such requisition, or by any such Caveat, is or is about to be registered; and all such Affidavits delivered with such requisitions for Inhibitions shall be numbered in the respective Registers with the same number as the requisitions.

Shares in companies not to be affected.

XXXIV. None of the provisions of this Act shall extend to such Assurances relating to shares in any public or private works or undertaking of any Corporation, Company, or Society, as by virtue of any local or other Act, are required to be registered, or otherwise entered or minuted in the books of the Corporation, Company, or Society.

Bills of exchange and promissory notes not to be affected by this Act.

XXXV. None of the provisions of this Act shall be construed to extend to bills of Exchange or Promissory Notes.

Four Indexes shall be kept of "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands."

XXXVI. There shall be provided and kept in each District Register Office in the said Territories, four Indexes of "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands," to be respectively intituled, the Index of Titles, the Index of the Names of Grantors, the Index of Testators and Intestates, and the Index to Insolvents; and the said four Indexes shall respectively be made and kept as next hereinafter mentioned.

"Index of titles" of "the Register of "title deeds re- "lating to lands."

XXXVII. All Assurances to be registered under this Act, by which any lands may be affected as aforesaid, shall be indexed in "the Index of Titles" to the "Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," under heads to be respectively designated by numbers or names of Villages or Mehals or otherwise, as the Registrar may think fit; and every entry in the said Index shall express the year and the day of the month when the same is made, and the book or parcel in which the document deposited in the Register Office is made up, and the number of such document in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

The "index of "the name of gran- "tors" to "the regis- "ter of title deeds "relating to lands."

XXXVIII. "The Index of the names of Grantors" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands", shall be an alphabetical index of the names of such Grantors, and, save where otherwise provided by the regulations to be made under this Act, the name of the Grantor in the Assurance, with his addition (if any) as set forth therein, shall be entered in the Index of the names of Grantors for the district, and an entry shall be made opposite to the name so entered, which entry shall contain a reference to the head under which such Assurance is indexed in the Index of Titles, and where the lands affected by the Assurance are situate in more than one district, like entries shall be made in the Index of the names of Grantors for each such district.

XXXIX. "The Index of Testators and Intestates" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands" shall be an alphabetical index of such testators and intestates, and where any will, letters of administration, certificate, or affidavit of intestacy is or are registered under this Act, an entry of the name of the testator or intestate, with his addition, if any, as set forth in the will, letters of administration, certificate or affidavit, shall be made in such index, and opposite to the name of every testator or intestate, whose name is so entered, an entry shall be made, expressing the year and day of the month when such entry is made, and the nature of the document deposited, and the book or parcel in which the will, memorial, copy, office extract of letters of administration, or certificate, or affidavit, is made up, and the number thereof in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

The "index of "testators and intestates" to "the "register of title "deeds relating "to lands."

XL. "The Index to Insolvents" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands" shall be an alphabetical index of such Insolvents, and where any petition for adjudication of Insolvency, appointment, or choice of Assignees, or any vesting or other order or nomination in any Insolvency, is registered under this Act, an entry of the name of the person against whom the petition is presented, or of the Insolvent, with the addition (if any) of such person or insolvent as set forth in the memorandum, copy, or certificate deposited as aforesaid, shall be made in the said Index to Insolvents; and opposite to the name of every Insolvent whose name is so entered an entry shall be made, expressing the year and day of the month when the same entry is made, and the book or parcel in which the said memorandum, copy, or certificate has been made up, and the number of the same in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

"The index of "insolvents" to "the "register of title "deeds relating to "lands."

XLI. The Government of each Presidency or place may cause to be provided for the several districts therein, such Maps as they may approve and deem sufficient for the purposes of registration under this Act, and for providing such Maps may cause to be made or adopted copies, with such additions, omissions, or variations, as they may think fit, of such of the Maps made for the Revenue Survey, or by the Trigonometrical Survey, or of such other existing Maps as they may think sufficient, or may cause, in any case, new Maps to be made for the whole or part of any district; and the Maps to be provided or adopted as aforesaid shall be deposited and kept in the respective District Register Offices, and shall be used for the purposes of this Act; and the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place respectively, with the consent of the Government thereof, shall cause to be made for each district an Index or Indexes, in such form as he may approve, of the several lands in the district, having reference to the Map or Maps thereof to be used for the purposes of this Act, and shall make provisions and Regulations for insertion from time to time, in the Indexes for the several districts, of the names or short descriptions of the Villages or other estates of whatever tenure therein respectively as cannot be conveniently indicated by reference to such Maps; and the Index or Indexes so to be made for each district shall be deposited and kept in the district Register Office, and shall be "the Land Index" of such District for the purposes of this Act; and from and after the period when such Maps are provided, and such Index or Indexes having references thereto are made as aforesaid in any district, it shall and may be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place (with the consent of the Government thereof), in his discretion, to make regulations for the discontinuance in such district of "the Index of Titles" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands."

Maps may be made or adopted by Government &c., "land index" formed with reference to such maps.

XLII. In districts where a Land Index is made and an Index of Titles is also continued, if an entry of an Assurance is made in the Index of Titles, an entry shall be made in "the Land Index" for the same district, opposite to the name or number of such land, which entry in the Land Index shall contain a reference to the entry in the Index of Titles, and the said Land Index shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

Entries made in "the land index" to contain references to "the index of titles," if the latter Index is continued.

XLIII. There shall be provided and kept in each District Register Office in the said Territories, two Indexes of "the Register of Leases," to be respectively intituled "the Index of Titles" and "the Index of Lessors," and the said two Indexes shall respectively be made and kept as next hereinafter mentioned.

Two Indexes to be kept of "the Register of Leases."

XLIV. All Leases or agreements for Leases, or other Assurances by which such Leases or Agreements shall be assigned or affected, shall be Indexed in "the Index of Titles" to "the Register of Leases," under heads, to be respectively designated by numbers, or names of Villages, or Estates, or otherwise as the District Registrar may think fit, or as may be directed by the Regulations hereinafter mentioned; and every entry in such Index shall express the year and day of the month when the same is made, and the book or parcel in which the document deposited in the Register Office is made up, and the number of such document in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

"Index of Titles" to "the Register of "Leases."

XLV. "The Index of the names of Lessors" to "the Register of Leases" shall be an alphabetical Index of the names of such Lessors, and the name of the Lessor in the Lease or assignment, with his addition, if any, as set forth therein, shall be entered in such Index, and an entry shall be made, opposite to the name to be so entered, which entry shall contain a reference to the head under which such Lease is indexed in the Index of Titles, and such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed; and when the lands affected by such Lease are situate in more than one district, like entries shall be made in the Index of each such district.

"Index of the "names of Lessors" to "the Register of Leases."

XLVI. There shall be provided and kept in each District Register Office in the said Territories, three Indexes of "the General Register," to be respectively intituled, the Index of the names of Grantors, the Index to Testators and Intestates, and the Index to Insolvents, and the said three Indexes shall respectively be made and kept as next hereinafter mentioned.

The "Index of the names of Grantors" to "the General Register."

XLVII. The "Index of the names of Grantors" to "the General Register," shall be an alphabetical Index of such Grantors, and, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made under this Act, shall be made and kept in the manner and form hereinbefore provided for the making and keeping of the "Index of the names of Grantors," to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands" or as near thereto as circumstances will permit, and shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned shall be directed.

The "Index of "Testators and Intestates" to "the General Register."

XLVIII. "The Index of Testators and Intestates" to "the General Register" shall be an alphabetical Index of such Testators and Intestates, and, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made under this Act, shall be made and kept in the manner and form hereinbefore provided for the making and keeping of "the Index of Testators and Intestates" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," or as near thereto as circumstances will admit, and shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned shall be directed.

The "Index of "Insolvents" to "the General Register."

XLIX. "The Index of Insolvents" to "the General Register," shall be an alphabetical Index of such Insolvents, and, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made under this Act, shall be made and kept in the manner and form hereinbefore provided for the making and keeping of "the Index of Insolvents" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," or as near thereto as circumstances will admit, and shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned shall be directed.

Assurances affecting both lands and moveable property to be indexed in the proper Indexes of both Registers.

L. All Assurances by which any lands and also money or moveable property are affected, and registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," according to Section XVI. of this Act, shall be indexed in the proper Indexes to "the General Register," as well as in the proper Indexes of the "Register of Title Deeds relating to lands."

Appointments of new Trustees and other like Assurances may be indexed in the "Index of Testators and Intestates."

LI. On the registration of any Assurance made by an heir at law or other person, by way of confirmation of a Will which has been registered under this Act, or of any appointment of new Trustees under any such Will, or of any release or assurance of any lands or charges on lands comprised in or affected by any such will, which, in the opinion of the Registrar, may be conveniently indexed with reference to such Will, the Registrar may cause to be entered in "the Index to Testators and Intestates," opposite to or in connexion with the entry in relation to such Will, a reference to the head or entry under which such Assurance, appointment, or release is entered in the Index of Titles.

Entries to be made immediately on receipt of document, and no Assurance registered until entries made.

LII. Each District Registrar shall cause the entries required to be made on registering or indexing any Assurance under this Act to be made immediately after the Assurance is received at the Register Office, and no Assurance shall be deemed registered under this Act unless and until all the entries required under this Act in respect of such Assurance have been duly made; provided that when, upon the registration under this Act of an Assurance affecting lands, all the entries which would be required for such registration have been duly made with respect to part only of the lands affected thereby, such Assurance shall, as to the lands with respect to which such entries have been so made, but not as to the residue of the lands affected by such Assurance, be deemed duly registered under this Act.

Assurance duly entered as to part only of the lands to be deemed duly registered as to such part.

Any person claiming under an Assurance may compel the registration thereof by application to a Judge.

LIII. Any person having an interest in any lands, money, or moveable property in the said Territories, under any Assurance by this Act authorized to be registered, which has not been registered, may require any person in possession of the original document, or, (where the original document or the several original documents is or are lost) a copy of, or (in cases where no copy is known to exist) an extract from the original document, or of or from any of the original documents, to deliver or send the same at or to the proper Register Office, for the purpose of its being registered; and in case the person in whose possession the same shall be refuse so to do, it shall be lawful for any Judge of any Court of Civil Judicature, upon a summary application, to make such order respecting the delivery or sending of such document, or copy, or extract as aforesaid at or to the proper Register Office for the purpose aforesaid as to such Judge, in the exercise of his discretion, shall, under the circumstances of the case, appear proper: and on non-compliance with any such order or rule the same may be registered as in Section XXX. hereinbefore mention. Provided always, that this enactment shall not authorize any person to require or enforce the registration of any Assurance, or copy, or extract of an Assurance, affecting lands at Law or in Equity, in case any Agreement or Provision has been made for the non-registration of such Assurance by him, or by any person from or through whom he derives an interest under such Assurance.

Judge may make order as to costs, and may order office copy to be furnished at the expense of the applicant.

LIV. It shall be lawful for the Judge, to whom any such application is made, to make such order respecting the costs of such application, and the costs incidental thereto, and the costs of registration, as to such Judge shall seem proper; and it shall also be lawful for such Judge, if he think fit, to order that an office copy of the original document, copy, or extract to be delivered or sent as aforesaid, shall be furnished to the party by whom the same shall be so delivered or sent, at the expense of the party by whom the application is made.

Appeals from such orders.

LV. Provided always, that where any Judge of Her Majesty's Courts or of the Courts of Sudder Adawlut makes or refuses to make any such order as aforesaid, application may be made to the whole Court of which he is a Judge to rescind or vary such order, or to make such order as the case may require, and such Court shall hear and determine the matter of such application; and where any Judge of a Small Cause Court makes or refuses to make any such order, application may be made to Her Majesty's Court having jurisdiction in the Town where such Small Cause Court is situate; and where any other Judge makes or refuses to make any such order, application may be made to the Sudder Adawlut of the Presidency in which such Judge has jurisdiction, to rescind or vary such order, or to make such order as the case may require, and the said Courts of Her Majesty and Sudder Adawlut, as the case may be, shall respectively hear and determine the matter of such application.

Assurances affecting lands authorized to be registered to be void as against purchasers unless registered.

LVI. Every Assurance by this Act authorized to be registered, other than a Will, decree, or order, shall (so far as regards any lands in the said Territories to be affected thereby) be void as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any subsequent Assurance duly registered, unless the prior Assurance have been registered in the manner directed by this Act before the registration of the subsequent Assurance.

Equitable mortgage by deposit of Deeds, and lien for purchase-money, to be void as against purchasers, unless Memorandum registered.

LVII. Where any equitable mortgage affecting lands in the said Territories is made by the deposit of Title Deeds after such commencement of Registration, and where, by reason of the non-payment of purchase-money, a vendor has, at any time after such commencement of Registration, acquired a lien for such purchase-money on any lands in the said Territories, such equitable mortgage and lien respectively shall be void as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any subsequent Assurance duly registered, unless, in the respective case of such equitable mortgage and lien, such Memorandum, as is hereinbefore in such respective cases authorized to be registered, be registered in the manner required by this Act before the registration of the subsequent Assurance.

Un-registered Will to be void against purchaser from persons entitled under a registered Will, or, in default of a Will, where Letters of Administration or Affidavit of Intestacy registered.

LVIII. Where any Will, Letters of Administration, Certificate, or Affidavit of Intestacy, authorized to be registered under this Act, has or have been duly registered, every other Will authorized to be registered under this Act, made by the person by whom such first-mentioned Will was made, or in respect of whose Estate and Effects such Letters of Administration or Certificate were granted, or with respect to whose Intestacy or alleged Intestacy such Affidavit was made, shall, so far as regards any lands in the said Territories, be void as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any Assurance duly registered under this Act, made after the death of the Testator by any person claiming immediately or derivatively under such first-mentioned Will, or such Letters of Administration or Certificate, or by any other person by whom such Assurance might have been made if such other Will as aforesaid had not been executed, unless such other Will be registered before the registration of such Assurance or such first mentioned Will, Letters of Administration, Certificate or Affidavit. Provided always, that every Will registered within two years after the death of the testator, shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after the death of the testator: Provided also, that if, by reason of the concealment, suppression, or contesting of any Will, or other inevitable difficulty, any person interested thereunder be disabled from registering the same within such two years, and such person, or any person on his behalf, within such last-mentioned period, make and register, in manner herein directed, an Affidavit, stating the name and addition of the testator, the date of his death, and the impediment to the registration of such Will which may be existing at the time of making such Affidavit, then and in such case the registration of such Will in manner directed by this Act, within six calendar months next after all impediments to the Registration thereof are removed, shall, unless before such registration the registration of such Affidavit be cancelled under the provision hereinafter contained, be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after the death of the testator; and such Affidavit as aforesaid shall be deposited in the Register Office, and shall be made up and numbered in like manner as hereinbefore directed concerning registered Wills, and the like entries shall be made in relation to such Affidavit in the "Index to Testators and Intestates" as in the case of a registered Will, save that in describing the document deposited, the same shall be called an Affidavit of a Will: Provided always, that where an Affidavit of a Will is registered under the provision lastly hereinbefore contained, it shall be lawful for the Court of Civil Judicature of the district in the Register Office of which the same is registered, upon the application, by motion or petition in a summary way, without bill or plaint filed, of any person claiming as Heir, Executor, Administrator, Representative, or otherwise any estate or interest in lands, money, or moveable property in the said Territories which might have been defeated or affected by the Will of the person in respect of whose Will or alleged Will such affidavit is made, in case it appear to the said Court that such affidavit was made and registered without due cause, or that the cause for making and registering the same has ceased, or otherwise that the registration of such affidavit should be cancelled, to order such cancellation accordingly; and it shall be lawful for such Court on any such application to award such costs, and generally to make such order in relation to the premises, as to such Court may seem fit, and the Registrar shall, where such Court orders such registration to be cancelled, cancel the entries in the Index in relation to such affidavit.

Registration of Will within two years after Testator's death effectual.

If concealment of Will contested, party interested may register an affidavit as to Will.

Court may order Registration of Affidavit of a Will to be cancelled.

Purchasers protected against Insolvency, unless appointment of Assignees, &c., be registered.

LIX. Where the first vesting or other order, or nomination, appointment, or choice of any Assignees in any Insolvency, under which the estate and effects of the Insolvent becomes vested in any Assignees or Trustee under the Insolvency, is made after the commencement of registration under this Act, such Insolvency, or any vesting or other order, nomination, appointment, or choice of Assignees thereunder, shall not, as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any Assurance duly registered under this Act, made by the Insolvent or any other person by whom the same might have been made if such Insolvency had not happened, invalidate or affect such Assurance, so far as regards any lands in the said Territories, unless some such vesting or other order, or nomination, appointment, or choice of Assignees, as is authorized to be registered under this Act, be duly registered before the registration of such Assurance as aforesaid, or within one calendar month after the date of the order, nomination, appointment, or choice under which the estate and effects of the Insolvent have become vested in any Assignee or Trustee under the Insolvency.

Protection of purchasers against subsequent adjudication in Insolvency where the petition is not registered.

LX. No Assurance by an Insolvent affecting lands in the said Territories executed after the commencement of registration as aforesaid, and duly registered under this Act before the advertizement in the Government Gazette of an adjudication of Insolvency, shall, as against any person claiming under such Assurance for valuable consideration and without fraud, be invalidated, so far as regards any lands in the said Territories, by reason of such adjudication, or of the Act of Insolvency on which such adjudication is founded, or of any other act of insolvency, unless the petition for adjudication have been filed of record or presented after the commencement of Registration under this Act, or have been duly registered under this Act before the registration of such Assurance.

The priority given by the preceding clauses to be enforced in equity notwithstanding Notice.

LXI. The priority given by the provisions hereinbefore contained to any person claiming for valuable consideration under a registered Assurance shall not, as respects any person so claiming without fraud, be taken away by any Court in consequence of such person having been affected with notice; and where, under the provisions hereinbefore contained, priority is given to any person claiming for valuable consideration under a registered Assurance an equitable estate or interest, such priority shall, in favor of any person so claiming without fraud, be enforced in Equity, although the person so claiming under such registered Assurance has been affected with notice.

Purchaser for valuable consideration not to be affected by notice of uses or trusts not manifested by a registered Assurance, nor by uses or trusts declared by reference to an unregistered Assurance.

LXII. Where any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories is vested in any person under any Assurance registered under this Act, no purchaser for valuable consideration, without fraud, claiming under any Assurance made by the person in whom such estate or interest is so vested, shall be affected or bound by reason of notice of any use, trust, or confidence declared or created after the commencement of Registration under this Act, and affecting such estate or interest, unless such use, trust or confidence be manifested or proved by such first-mentioned Assurance, or some other Assurance duly registered under this Act, before the registration of the Assurance under which such purchaser so claims; and where, in any Assurance registered under this Act, any use, trust, or confidence affecting any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories vested in any person under any Assurance registered under this Act, is declared or created by reference to and depends for its validity or for the terms thereof upon some other Assurance executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, no purchaser for valuable consideration, without fraud, claiming under any Assurance made by the person in whom such estate or interest is so vested, shall be affected by such use, trust, or confidence, unless the Assurance, by reference to which such use, trust, or confidence is so declared or created, be registered under this Act before the registration of the Assurance under which such purchaser so claims.

Assurances registered at the same time to have priority according to the time of execution.

LXIII. Where any two or more Assurances to be registered under this Act are registered at the same time, such Assurances shall have priority according to the order of time in which the same shall have been executed.

The protection of the Act to extend to persons who claim under purchasers for value.

LXIV. Every person who shall claim without valuable consideration, under any person who shall have claimed for valuable consideration, shall be entitled to the same preference, protection, and advantage under the provisions of this Act as the person who shall have so claimed for valuable consideration.

Protection by legal estate and tacking not to be allowed.

LXV. In any case in which priority or protection might but for this Act have been given or allowed in Equity to any estate or interest in lands, by reason or on the ground of such estate or interest being protected by or tacked to any legal or other estate or interest in such lands, no such priority or protection shall, after the commencement of Registration under this Act, be so given or allowed to any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories, except as against any estate or interest which shall have existed prior to such commencement; and full effect shall be given in every Court of Equity to this present provision, although the party claiming such priority or protection as aforesaid shall claim as a purchaser for valuable consideration and without notice.

An Assurance which would have the effect of merging any interest not to have such effect as against a subsequent purchaser of such interest, unless an entry be made to lead such purchaser to the Assurance.

LXVI. No Assurance affecting lands which would (so far as this present enactment does not operate) have the effect at any time of merging or extinguishing any term of years or other particular estate, or of releasing or extinguishing any charge or any part thereof, or any interest therein, shall have such effect as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any subsequent Assurance duly registered, whereby such term of years or other particular estate or such charge or interest is assigned or otherwise affected unless before the registration of such subsequent Assurance an entry of the Assurance which would have the effect of merging, releasing or extinguishing such term of years or other particular estate, or charge or interest or part respectively, be made in the Index of Titles in which an Assurance of such term of years or other particular estate, or charge or interest, if the same were subsisting, ought, under the provisions of this Act, to be indexed or entered.

LXVII. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed so as to render the registration of such leases or agreements for leases as in Section XIV. mentioned, or any Assurance by which any such lease or agreement shall be assigned or otherwise affected, compulsory or necessary; or to give any such leases, agreements, or assignments as aforesaid, when registered, any priority over other leases or Assurances.

Registration of leases not compulsory.

LXVIII. All Assurances affecting only money or moveable property (except Wills, Decrees and Orders) shall be utterly void and of none effect unless registered within six months after the execution thereof by the party who conveys, assures, transfers, assigns or appoints thereby, or unless a caveat respecting such Assurance be registered within six months after such execution, and such caveat continue in force, or unless a caveat respecting such Assurance be registered as aforesaid, and after such caveat ceases to be in force, such Assurance be registered within six months after such execution, the time during which such caveat is registered and in force being deducted in the calculation of such six months. Provided always, that every such Assurance as aforesaid affecting money or moveable property registered within six months after the execution thereof as aforesaid, or registered after a caveat has been duly registered as aforesaid, and before such caveat ceases to be in force, or registered after such caveat ceases to be in force, but within six months after such execution as aforesaid (the time during which such caveat was registered and in force being deducted in the calculation of such six months,) shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after such execution. All Wills, affecting only money or moveable property either at Law or in Equity, shall be wholly void and of none effect unless registered within two years after the death of the Testator, but if registered within that time, shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after the death of the Testator, and if by reason of the concealment, suppression, or contesting of any Will, or other inevitable difficulty, any person interested thereunder be disabled from registering the same within such two years, then such Affidavit of a Will as hereinbefore in Section LVIII. mentioned, or to the like effect, so far as circumstances will admit shall be made and registered by such person, and the said Courts shall have the like power and authority to order the registration or cancellation of such Affidavits of Wills as are hereinbefore given and conferred by the said Section LVIII. with respect to the Affidavits of Wills affecting lands.

Assurances affecting money or moveable property invalid, unless registered within six months or caveat entered.

LXIX. Where any person is interested under any use, trust, or confidence, declared or created after the commencement of registration under this Act, and affecting any estate or interest in lands, money or moveable property in the said Territories, which is vested in any person under any Assurance registered under this Act, and such use, trust or confidence is not manifested or proved by any Assurance, registered under this Act, or is, in any Assurance registered under this Act, declared and created by reference to and depends for its validity or for the terms thereof upon some other Assurance not registered under this Act, any person so interested as aforesaid may, by a requisition in writing under his hand, delivered at the Register Office in which such Assurance is registered as aforesaid, together with such Affidavit as hereinafter mentioned, require an Inhibition in respect of any such lands, money, or moveable property, to be mentioned in such requisition, to be entered against any person mentioned in such requisition in whom such estate or interest is vested as aforesaid, inhibiting him from alienating, transferring, charging, or affecting such lands, money or moveable property by virtue of such estate or interest, without notice being first given by the Registrar to the person signing such requisition, or some person on his behalf, at some office or place mentioned in such requisition, and situate within ten miles of the Register Office, and such requisition shall specify the date of and parties to the Assurance under which such estate or interest is vested, and the entries with respect to the same in the Index or Indexes of the Register in which the same is registered, and the affidavit to be delivered with such requisition shall be made by the person signing such requisition, and such person shall therein swear that he believes that he is interested under such use, trust, or confidence as aforesaid.

Persons interested under uses or trusts affecting estates or property vested under a registered Assurance may enter an inhibition against alienation.

LXX. Where an Inhibition is so required to be entered, an entry shall be made in the Index or Indexes of the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands or "the General Register," as the case may be, under the same heads and expressing the like particulars as are by this Act required in the case of Assurances to be registered in such registers respectively.

Inhibition to be entered in Index of Titles.

LXXI. Any person against whom an Inhibition is entered as aforesaid, or any person interested in the lands, money or moveable property to which the same relates, may, by writing, signed by such person and lodged at the Register Office, require the Registrar to cancel the entries in the Indexes of such Inhibition, and the Registrar shall, within two days after the receipt of such writing, give notice thereof to the person on whose requisition the Inhibition was entered, and shall state in such notice that on the expiration of fourteen days after the service thereof, the Inhibition will be cancelled, and the service of such notice at the office or place mentioned in the requisition for the Inhibition shall be deemed good service thereof, and at the expiration of the said period of fourteen days after such service, the Registrar, unless sooner restrained by the order of a competent Court as hereinafter mentioned, shall cancel the entries in the Indexes of the said Inhibition.

Provision for cancelling Inhibition.

LXXII. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Courts of Judicature of the said Towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay or Singapore, in which any such Inhibition is registered, or for the Court of Civil Judicature of any District in which any such Inhibition is registered, upon the application of any party interested, by motion or petition in a summary way, without bill or plaint filed, to restrain the Registrar from cancelling the entry of any Inhibition entered under this Act; provided always, that the said Courts respectively shall have full power, upon the application of any party, to discharge or vary such order, and to award such costs on such application as such Courts respectively may see fit, and generally to make such order in relation to the premises as to the said Courts respectively may seem just.

Power to enter a Caveat.

LXXIII. "And whereas it may often happen "that some time will elapse pend- "ing the negociation for a sale "or other contract, and that "often, by reason of the illness or absence of "parties or from other causes, the written transfer "of property will be delayed for want of due "execution by all the requisite parties, and "whereas when Assurances affecting lands are "executed for a temporary purpose merely, it "may often be inconvenient, and occasion unne- "cessary expense to register an Assurance affect- "ing such lands, containing all the particu- "lars of the transaction," it is further enacted, that any person may, after the commencement of registration under this Act, by a requisition in writing under his hand, delivered at the proper Register Office, require a Caveat against his own acts to be entered in respect of any lands or money or moveable property in the said Territories to be mentioned in such requisition in favour of any person described therein, for the protection of any Assurance affecting such lands, money or moveable property which shall have been made and executed, or shall be in progress, or shall have been in contemplation at the time of entering such Caveat.

Mode of entering caveats.

LXXIV. Where a Caveat is so required to be entered, an entry shall be made in all the Indexes under the same head, and expressing the like particulars, as are under this Act required in the case of an Assurance affecting the lands, money or moveable property mentioned in the requisition for such Caveat, and made by the person requiring such Caveat to be entered.

Extent of protection to be afforded by Caveats.

LXXV. Where a Caveat is duly entered under this Act as to any lands in the said Territories, every person claiming for valuable consideration under any Assurance affecting the same lands to be made by the person by whom the entry of the Caveat has been required, or any person claiming under him, to or with the concurrence of the person in whose favour the Caveat was so entered, or his Heirs, Executors Administrators, Representatives or Assigns, and registered in the manner directed by this Act within six calendar months after the Caveat has been so entered as to such lands, shall be entitled to the same preference, protection, and advantage under the provisions of this Act as if such Assurance had been executed and so registered as aforesaid at the time of entering the Caveat: Provided always, that no such Caveat shall have any force or effect as against the operation of the Insolvency of the person requiring the same to be entered, or any Act under such Insolvency.

Not to protect against Insolvency.

Certificates of Registration may be delivered out and may be deposited by way of Equitable mortgage.

LXXVI. Subject to such Regulations as may be from time to time made under this Act, the District Registrar shall, upon the application of any person interested under any Assurance and registering the same under this Act, issue to such person a Certificate of such Registration, and shall thereupon enter in the Index of Titles in which such Assurance is entered, a memorandum of such Certificate; and the Registrar shall, upon such Certificate being delivered at the Register Office for that purpose, cancel the same, and enter in the Index of Titles a note of such cancellation; and no Assurance by the person to whom such Certificate is issued affecting the lands to which such Certificate relates shall be registered until such Certificate has been cancelled; and such Certificate may be deposited by way of equitable mortgage by the person to whom the same has been issued, and any deposit thereof so made shall have the like effect as the like deposit of the Assurance to which the same relates would have had, but it shall not be necessary to register any equitable mortgage made by deposit of such Certificate.

The duties of Attorneys, &c., to be fulfilled by causing an Office search to be made.

LXXVII. In every case in which, but for this enactment, it would be the duty of any Attorney, Solicitor, or Agent to make any search in any of the Indexes to be kept at the Register Office, such Attorney, Solicitor or Agent shall, as to any search of the result of which the Registrar may be required by the Regulations for the time being in force under this Act to give a Certificate, be held to have fulfilled his duty in that behalf by delivering at the Register Office a proper requisition for such search, stating therein particularly the object of such search, and by obtaining a Certificate from the Registrar of the Office of the result of the same, and shall not be responsible for any error or mistake in the result of such search as stated in such Certificate, and in all other cases every Attorney, Solicitor, or Agent shall stand indemnified in relying on the accuracy of any Certificate to be made or given in pursuance of this Act.

Attorneys, &c., indemnified in relying on the accuracy of Certificates.

LXXVIII. Each District Registrar, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned, shall transmit at the end of every month to the Chief Registrar of the Presidency in which his District is situate, copies of every Assurance and of the entries and references thereon, and of the entries in the several Indexes to such Assurances, deposited, registered or made in the said District Registers or Indexes during such month, and the said copies shall be written bookwise or otherwise as the Chief Registrar of each such Presidency shall appoint, and the said Chief Registrar shall cause the said copies of the several Registers and Indexes of each District to be made up into separate books and parcels and shall number and arrange the same in such manner as shall be directed by the Regulations to be made under this Act as hereinafter mentioned.

Duplicates of deposited documents may be compared at the Office and certified.

LXXIX. Where there are duplicate originals of any Assurance which is registered under this Act, it shall be lawful for any person to bring or send to the Chief or District Register Office any duplicate original which has not been deposited in the District Register Office, in order that the same may be compared with the deposited original, or with the copy thereof in the Chief Register Office, and thereupon the document so brought or sent shall be compared accordingly, and any variances which may be found shall be noted in the margin of such document; and in every such case the seal of the Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be impressed on each skin or sheet of the document brought or sent to be compared as aforesaid; and a Certificate, signed by the proper Officer of the Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be written at the head or in the margin of such document, or endorsed on the same, which Certificate shall contain a statement that a duplicate of the document in or upon which the same is written has been deposited in the District Register Office, and shall state the parties by whom the deposited original appears to have been executed, and shall specify the book or parcel in which the same is made up, and the number of the document in such book or parcel; and every document so sealed, with such Certificate thereon, containing such statement, and purporting to be so signed as aforesaid, and whether furnished from the Chief or District Register Office, shall in all cases be evidence that another part of the same Assurance has been deposited in the District Register Office, and is made up in the book or parcel mentioned in such Certificate, and is numbered in such book or parcel as in the said Certificate is specified.

Every document so certified to be received as evidence that another part of the same Assurance has been deposited.

LXXX. Subject to the Regulations to be made under this Act, the Chief or District Registrar, as the case may be, shall cause to be provided, for any person applying for the same, copies or extracts from any document which has been deposited in the District Register Office, or from the copy thereof transmitted to the Chief Register Office under this Act, and in every case where a copy or extract is so provided, the seal of the Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be impressed on each sheet of such copy or extract; and a Certificate, signed by the proper Officer of the said Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be written at the head or margin of such copy or extract, or endorsed on the same, which Certificate shall contain a statement that the copy or extract on which the same is written is an examined copy of or extract from a document deposited in the District Register Office, or from a copy of such document in the Chief Register Office, as the case may be, and shall specify the book or parcel in which such document is made up, and the number of such document in such book or parcel; and every document so sealed, with such Certificate thereon, containing such statement and purporting to be so signed as aforesaid, and whether furnished from the District or Chief Register Office, shall be evidence that such document is a copy of or extract from a document deposited in the District Register Office, and made up in the book or parcel specified in such Certificate, and numbered in such book or parcel as in the said Certificate is expressed, and of the contents of the document deposited in the District Register Office, or of such part thereof as is purported to be extracted.

Copies of and extracts from deposited instruments to be provided on application, and to be certified.

The seal of the Office, with a Certificate, to be evidence of such copies and extracts.

LXXXI. Subject to such Regulations as may be from time to time made under this Act, any person interested under any Assurance, or in the matter of any search, on application at the Chief or District Register Office, shall, at such times as may be limited by the Chief Registrar in this behalf, be allowed to inspect and search any of the Indexes, and to examine and inspect any of the documents, deposited in the Chief or District Register Offices under this Act, and to take extracts from any such Indexes or documents as aforesaid, and the Chief or District Registrar, as the case may be, shall, upon the delivery of such requisitions as under the Regulations hereinafter mentioned, may be required, and in accordance with such Regulations, make or cause to be made such searches in any of such Indexes, and give such Negative or other Certificates of the results of such searches, as by such Regulations may be directed in this behalf; and every such Certificate shall be sealed with the seal of the Register Office from which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Chief Registrar or Assistant, or District Registrar of such Office, as the case may be.

Searches of the Indexes to be permitted, and inspections of deposited instruments allowed.

Searches of the Indexes to be made on requisition, and Certificates given.

LXXXII. No document deposited in the District Register Office under this Act, and no copy of a document in the Chief Register Office, shall be removed from the same respectively, except in obedience to legal process for the production thereof, and none of the Indexes to be kept at the said Register Offices, respectively, shall be removed from the same on any account whatsoever.

Documents deposited at the Register Office not to be removed, except on legal process.

LXXXIII. Provided always, that where any Will has been registered under this Act by the deposit of the original Will, the District Registrar shall, upon the request of any person entitled to prove such Will, or to take out Letters of Administration to the testator with such Will annexed, or to take out a Certificate under Act XX. of 1841, such request to be testified by some writing signed by and containing the address of the person making such request, and specifying the Court in which the Will is desired to be proved, or in which administration to the testator with the Will annexed, or a Certificate under Act XX. of 1841 is desired to be taken out, cause such Will, together with a Certificate of the same having been deposited in the District Register Office, which Certificate shall be sealed with the seal of the District Register Office, and signed by the District Registrar, to be transmitted to the Court so specified, in order that the same may be proved in such Court, or that Administration to the Testator with such will annexed, or that such Certificate as aforesaid, may be granted by such Court; and the Registrar or other the Chief Officer of the Court to which such will is so transmitted, or his deputy, shall, immediately after such will has been proved, or Letters of Administration of the effects of the Testator with such will annexed, or Certificate, have been granted in or by such Court, or immediately after the termination of the proceedings in such Court, cause the same will to be returned to the District Register Office.

Wills deposited at the Register Office may be removed for the purpose of being proved, &c.

After being proved, &c the will is to be returned.

LXXXIV. For facilitating the making up into books or parcels of the several documents to be deposited at the respective Register Offices under this Act, and for the convenience of reference thereto, it shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place,

Power to the Registrar to order that documents to be deposited shall be written bookwise or otherwise, &c.

with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time (either before or after the commencement of registration under this Act) by a notice to be published at least four times in the "Government Gazette," of each Presidency or Place, of which the last time shall be not less than three Calendar months before the time when the same is intended to take effect, to order and direct that all documents of any description, to be specified in such notice, which shall be brought or sent to the Register Office in order to be deposited in the same under this Act (with any exceptions which shall be specified in such notice) shall be written or engrossed bookwise, or in such manner as shall be specified in such notice, and shall be written or engrossed either on paper, vellum, or parchment, as shall in that behalf be in such notice directed, and to order and direct that such paper, vellum or parchment shall be of such description and of such shape and dimensions as in such notice shall be specified, and if, after the time when any notice to be given in pursuance of this power has taken effect, any document within the meaning of such notice be brought or sent to the Register Office to be deposited as aforesaid which is not conformable with the directions in respect of the same contained in such notice, the person depositing the same shall pay, in addition to the ordinary fee made payable on such deposit, such extra fee as the Registrar may in each case think fit, not exceeding the amount of the said ordinary fee.

Additional payment on persons sending documents to be deposited, which shall not be conformable with such order.

LXXXV. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time, either before or after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by a notice to be published not less than four times in the "Government Gazette" of such Presidency or Place (of which the last time shall be at least one Calendar month before the time when the same shall be intended to take effect) to require that any statements which may appear to the Chief Registrar necessary or proper for directing or regulating the entries to be made on Registration, and for affording information for the making of such entries, shall be made and brought to the Register Office; and it shall also be lawful for the Chief Registrar, with such consent as aforesaid, by any such notice to specify the form of such statements as aforesaid, and to require that the same shall be signed by the persons respectively requiring the registration, and shall contain the addresses of such persons respectively, and also to require that the same shall be either written or endorsed on the documents to be deposited as aforesaid, or written on separate papers, as the Chief Registrar shall think fit: Provided always that nothing in this Act shall render the Registrar or any other Officer of the Register Office in any way responsible or liable in respect of any loss or damage which may be sustained or incurred by any person in consequence of the omission of any entry or reference required by this Act to be made in the Register Office, or in consequence of any error in any such entry or reference, in any case where no statement has been sent to the Register Office conformably with any such notice as aforesaid, or in any case where such statement has been so sent as aforesaid, and entries or references in conformity therewith have been made.

Power to the Registrar to require statements for regulating the entries to be sent with Assurances.

No Officer of the Register Office to be responsible for omissions or mistakes occasioned by defects in the statements.

LXXXVI. It shall be lawful for each District Registrar (subject to any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned under this Act) upon such evidence as may appear to him sufficient in this behalf, to correct errors in entries made, and supply entries omitted to be made, under this Act. Provided always, that in the correction of any such entry he shall not erase or render illegible the original entry, and shall, on correcting or supplying any entry, cause an entry to be made, in connexion with the entry so corrected or supplied, of the time when the same was so corrected or supplied; and every correction made, and omission supplied, under this provision shall be as effectual as if made at the time when the same ought to have been made, but not so as to affect any Assurance registered, or act done, previously to the actual time of the correction of the entry, or supplying the omitted entry.

Registrar may correct errors in entries.

LXXXVII. If any person, making any Affidavit under this Act, shall therein wilfully swear falsely, such person shall be deemed guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury; and all Affidavits to be registered, or deposited in the Register Office under this Act, shall be sworn before a Chief Registrar, Assistant Registrar, District Registrar, Justice of the Peace, or Magistrate of the District, Town, or place where such Affidavit is sworn, or elsewhere, before a Magistrate and attested by a Notary, or before a British Minister, Resident, Consul or Vice Consul.

Falsely swearing under this Act to be punished as perjury.

LXXXVIII. If any person shall forge, counterfeit, or imitate, or cause or procure to be forged, counterfeited or imitated, or knowingly act or assist in forging, counterfeiting or imitating, upon any document upon which the seal of the Register Office is authorized to be impressed, the impression or any part of the impression of the Seal of the Register Office, or shall knowingly stamp or mark, or cause or procure to be stamped or marked, or knowingly act or assist in stamping or marking, any such document with any forged or counterfeited Seal of the Register Office, with the intent to defraud any person whomsoever; or shall forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be forged or counterfeited, or knowingly act or assist in forging or counterfeiting the name, signature or handwriting of any Officer, in any case in which the signature of such Officer is authorized to be made; or shall forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be forged or counterfeited, or knowingly act or assist in forging or counterfeiting the name, signature or handwriting of any person whomsoever, to any instrument or document which is in and by this Act, or shall by the exercise of any power contained in this Act, be required or directed to be signed by such person; or shall, with an intention to defraud any person whomsoever, use any document upon which any impression or part of the impression of any Seal of the Register Office shall have been forged, counterfeited, or imitated, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeited or imitated, or any document the signature of which shall be so forged or counterfeited as aforesaid, knowing the same to be forged or counterfeited, every such person so offending, being thereof lawfully convicted, shall be and is hereby declared and adjudged to be guilty of felony, and, being convicted thereof, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to be transported beyond the Seas for life, or for any term not less than seven years, or to be imprisoned (with or without hard labour) for any term not exceeding four years nor less than one year.

Chief Registrar, with consent of Government, to fix fees to be taken under this Act.

LXXXIX. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place (with the consent of the Government thereof) to fix the fees to be taken in the several Register Offices in such Presidency or place in respect of documents to be registered, entries to be made, Searches, Certificates, Office Copies, and other matters to be done in such Office under this Act, and from time to time to vary or wholly abolish any such fees, and fix new fees.

Power to apply monies received by the Office in payment of the expenses of the same.

XC. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time, to direct that the fees or other payments which shall be received under the authority of this Act, shall be applied, under such Regulations as they shall appoint, in payment of the current or incidental expenses of the said Offices or any of them.

Subject to the last power, all monies received by the Office to be paid to the Government Treasury.

XCI. Such fees and payments as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may not be applied as lastly hereinbefore mentioned in payment of any of the current or incidental expenses of the Register Offices, shall from time to time be paid into the Government Treasury of the Presidency or Place in which such Register Offices are situate.

Accounts of the Office to be audited

XCII. An Account shall be kept in each District Register Office of the fees and other payments received under the authority of this Act, and of the expenses paid thereout as aforesaid; and such account shall, from time to time, be forwarded to and examined, tried, and audited by the Chief Registrars respectively, as well as the Civil Auditor of each Presidency or Place respectively.

Power to assign Salaries to the Registrar and other Officers of the Registry Office.

XCIII. It shall be lawful for the Governor or Governor in Council of each of the said Presidencies or Places to assign to the Chief Registrar thereof respectively a Salary not exceeding the monthly sum of , and to every Assistant Registrar a Salary not exceeding the monthly sum of , and to each District Registrar a Salary not exceeding the monthly sum of and to assign o the Clerks and other subordinate Officers of the Register Office such Salaries or other remuneration, as to the said Governments respectively shall seem proper.

Actions for damages occasioned by the omission or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office to be brought against the Chief Registrar. If final judgment be recovered, the damages to be paid by Government.

XCIV. Every action or suit which shall be brought by any person to recover damages for or by reason of any loss or damage occasioned by any omission or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office shall be brought against the Chief Registrar as the nominal defendant, and in case in any such action the plaintiff recover final judgment against such nominal defendant, then, upon the prayer of such plaintiff, the Court or Judge, as the case may be, of the Court where such action or suit shall have been brought, shall and he is hereby directed to certify to the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or Place in which such action or suit is brought, the fact of such judgment having been so recovered, and the amount of damages and costs recovered; and thereupon, or before the expiration of two Calendar months after such judgment is so certified, the amount of such damages and costs shall be paid by the said Government to the person recovering the same, his Executors, Administrators or representatives. Provided always, that notice in writing of every such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be served upon the Secretaries to Government for the time being, and also upon the Registrar for the time being, one Calendar month at least before the commencement of such action:

Notice to be given to the Secretaries to Government.

The Chief Registrar not to be personally liable.

Provided also, that no Chief Registrar, nor the real or personal Estate of any Chief Registrar, shall be in any way chargeable with or upon any judgment recovered as aforesaid; nor shall any process or notice in or relating to any such action, (except as aforesaid) be served upon the Chief Registrar, but all such processes and notices shall be served upon the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or Place in which such action or suit is brought.

Provisions as to costs if judgment be given for the defendant or the plaintiff discontinue or become non-suit.

XCV. If in any such action or suit judgment be given in favour of the nominal defendant, or the plaintiff withdraw his action or suit, or discontinue, or become non-suit, the plaintiff shall be liable to pay the full costs of defending such action, and the same (when taxed) shall be levied in the name of the nominal defendant by the like process of execution as in other actions or suits of the like nature.

Provision for case of an appeal.

XCVI. If at any time before payment to the plaintiff of any damages recovered by any such judgment as aforesaid, an appeal be made from such judgment, such damages shall not be paid until the judgment is affirmed; and if, after payment to the plaintiff of any damages recovered by any such judgment as aforesaid, such judgment be reversed, the Court, by which such judgment is reversed, shall award a writ of restitution against the plaintiff in the name of the nominal defendant, or order the plaintiff to pay the same to the nominal defendant; and when the monies thereby directed to be levied, or any part thereof, are brought into Court, the said Court shall order the same to be paid into the Government Treasury to the account of Government.

Power to the Chief Registrar to compromise any such action.

XCVII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, to enter into and conclude a compromise with any person claiming a right of action or damages by reason of any loss or damage occasioned by any omission, mistake or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office; and, upon payment thereof, the person receiving the same shall execute to the Registrar a release of the cause of action in respect of which such payment is made, and such release may be pleaded in bar to any action which the person executing the same, or any person claiming under him, shall bring to recover damages for or by reason of any loss or damage occasioned by the same omission, mistake, or misfeasance.

Limitations of actions brought under this Act against the Chief Registrar.

XCVIII. Provided also, that the time which by the Act and Regulations now in force is limited for commencing or suing actions, shall, so far as respects any action brought in the manner directed by this Act to recover damages for any loss or damage arising from any omission, mistake or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office, be computed and run from the time when actual loss or damage has arisen from such omission, mistake, or misfeasance as aforesaid.

Actions by and against the Registrar not to abate by his death, &c.

XCIX. Every action which, under the Provisions of this Act, shall be brought by or against any Chief Registrar shall be so brought by or against him by his name of Office; and no such action shall abate by reason of the death or removal from Office of any such Chief Registrar.

C. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time, to make such Regulations, as to him may seem proper, for and in relation to all or any of the matters hereinafter mentioned; viz: for determining the cases in which Assurances are to be indexed in the Index of Titles under new heads and existing heads respectively, and the heads under which Assurances are to be indexed in such Index, and in what cases of Assurances indexed in the Index of Titles, references shall be made under any head in such Index to any other head in such Index, and in what cases of Assurances so indexed, entries in respect thereof shall be made in the Indexes of the names of Grantors, or in the Index to Testators and Intestates, or in the Index of Insolvents, (as the case may require,) and providing generally for the convenient classification and arrangement under heads in the Index of Titles of the Assurances to be indexed therein, and the making of such references between any heads of such Index in respect of Assurances connected in Title, and of such entries in the Indexes of the names of the Grantors, the Indexes to Testators and Intestates, and the Index to Insolvents, and any other Index kept in the Register Office, as may, in the opinion of the Chief Registrar, tend to render searches easy and safe.

The particulars to be entered in the Indexes to be kept in the Register Office where entries are required under this Act, and the form and manner of such entries.

The correction of errors and supplying of omissions in entries made under this Act.

The issue of Certificates of Registration in substitution for like Certificates which may have been lost or destroyed.

The making of Copies of, and Extracts from, deposited documents, and the granting of Certificates with reference thereto, and the restrictions and conditions under which such copies, extracts, or Certificates shall be given.

The making of searches of, and providing and issuing extracts from, any of the Indexes to be kept at the Register Office, and granting negative or other certificates with reference thereto, the forms of requisition for such copies, extracts or searches as aforesaid, and the giving of receipts for documents received at the Register Office, the mode in which, and the restrictions and conditions under which searches of the Indexes kept at the said Office, and inspection of documents deposited there, shall be permitted.

And for regulating all other matters and things whatsoever connected with the regulation and management of the said Register Offices, and the execution of this Act not specially hereby provided for, and generally for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and from time to time to alter, vary or revoke any such regulations, and make any new regulation in relation to the matters aforesaid; and all regulations to be made under this Act by the Chief Registrar, with such consent as aforesaid, shall be published in the "Government Gazette," and a copy thereof shall be sent to each District Registrar in the said Presidency or place, and such District Registrar shall retain such copy, and permit persons to inspect the same, and to make copies and extracts of and from the same.

Chief Registrar to report to Government. Reports to be laid before Governor General in Council.

CI. The Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place shall, within one month after the commencement of registration under this Act, send to the Secretary to the Government of such Presidency or place a report of the Districts formed under this Act and of all other Acts and matters done by the Registrar preparatory to such commencement of registration, and shall also, in the month of January in every year, send to such Secretary a general report of his proceedings under this Act, and of the business of the chief Register Office, and of the other District Register offices subordinate to him, and shall specify in such report whether any and what difficulties have arisen in or in relation to registration under this Act, or the searches required to be made, or otherwise in the operation of this Act, or any regulations made thereunder, and whether any and what alterations have been suggested which appear to him expedient, or have occurred to him, and whether the same can or cannot be effected without the aid of the Legislature, and may in such report make such observations or suggestions in relation to the matters aforesaid as the Chief Registrar may think fit; and every such report shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council, within two months after the receipt thereof, by the said Governments respectively.

CII. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless such meanings be repugnant or inconsistent with the context, (that is to say)

General Orders by the Most Noble the Governor General of India in Council.

Fort William, the 27th February 1852.

No. 150 of 1852.—Without desiring to interfere with the spirit of accommodation arising from the Pay Master's own kindness in undertaking the charge of Assets belonging to Regimental Funds, the Most Noble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct that Regimental Pay Masters attached to Queen's Regiments on the Indian Establishment shall not mix up monies belonging to Regimental Funds with the public monies received by them for the use of the Public Service, either as advances from Public Treasuries, or by deductions from Pay on account of Savings' Bank or other authorized deductions, nor insert entries in their Public Cash Book other than those arising from their functions as Regimental Pay Masters, carefully excluding therefrom all private transactions, or those connected with any Regimental Funds.

The Cash Balance exhibited by the Regimental Cash Book must be first made up in the event of the removal of a Pay Master from office by death, or from any other cause, before any balance can be claimed on account of Assets in his hands belonging to Regimental or private Funds.

The Cash Book shewing the receipts and payments of public money, as also the Ledgers of Officers' accounts for Pay and Allowances, and Company Abstracts, shall be considered as public property, open to the inspection of the Regimental authorities, and are to be handed over to his successor as Regimental records by a Pay Master quitting his Regiment.

Officers Commanding Her Majesty's Regiments at the three Indian Presidencies will be held responsible that this order is strictly carried out, and the Cash Book and Ledgers are to be produced at each half-yearly inspection, together with the last Monthly Regimental Account Current furnished by the Pay Masters to the Queen's Troops at the respective Presidencies, and an explanatory Statement of any difference of balance that may appear between that closing the Regimental Pay Master's Cash Account and that of the Pay Master to the Queen's Troops at the Presidency.

Fort William, 2nd March 1852.

Justices of the Peace may make order of maintenance for wives and children.

II. If any person within the said Town, having sufficient means or employment, shall not duly maintain his wife or his legitimate or illegitimate children, and shall be thereof convicted before a Justice of the Peace, upon his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, the said Justice may make an order upon such person for the maintenance of such wife and children, or any of them, at such monthly rate as to the Justice seems reasonable, and upon non-compliance with the said order for any one month, or longer period, any Justice, by warrant under his hand and seal, may commit the person so convicted to the Common Gaol of Calcutta without labour, or to the House of Correction to hard labour, for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Persons convicted of having or conveying stolen goods liable to penalty.

III. Every person who shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying in any manner anything which may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained, and who shall not give an account to the satisfaction of such Justice how he came by the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before such Justice, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months.

Persons in whose possession stolen goods are found to be examined, &c.

IV. When any person shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying, anything stolen or unlawfully obtained, and shall declare that he received the same from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent, or servant to convey the same for some other person, such Justice shall cause every such person, and also if necessary every former or pretended purchaser, or other person through whose possession the same shall have passed, to be brought before him and examined, and shall examine witnesses upon oath touching the same, and if it shall appear to such Justice that any person shall have had possession of such thing, and had reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice, may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months. Every such person shall be deemed to have had possession of such thing at the time and place when and where the same shall have been found or seized, and the possession of a carrier, agent, or servant shall be deemed to be the possession of the person who shall have employed such carrier, agent, or servant to keep or convey the same.

On suspicion of goods being stolen or unlawfully obtained, Justice may grant search-warrant.

V. If information shall be given on oath to a Justice of the Peace that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that anything stolen or unlawfully obtained is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house, building, or other place, such Justice, by special warrant under his hand, directed to any police officer or constable, may cause such dwelling-house, building, or other place to be entered and searched at any time of the day, or by night, if power for that purpose be given by such warrant, and the said Justice, if it shall appear to him necessary, may empower such police officer or constable, with such assistance as may be found necessary, (such constable having previously made known his authority,) to use force for the effecting of such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and if upon search thereupon made any such thing shall be found, then to convey the same before a Justice, or to guard the same on the spot, until the offenders are taken before a Justice, or otherwise dispose thereof in some place of safety, and moreover to take into custody, and carry before the said Justice every person found in such house or place, who shall appear to have been privy to the deposit of any such thing, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the same to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

Power to search houses for stolen property without a warrant in certain cases.

VI. If information shall be given to any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector belonging to the Calcutta Police, that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that any stolen property is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house or other place, and the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector shall have good grounds for believing that, by reason of the delay in obtaining a search-warrant, the property is likely to be removed, the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector, in virtue of his office, may search for specific articles alleged to have been stolen in the houses and places specified; provided always that a list of the articles stolen or missing be delivered and taken down in writing, with a declaration stating that the robbery has been committed, and that the informant has good ground to believe that the property is deposited in such house or place; and provided further that the person who lost the goods, or his representative, accompany the officer in the search.

Extension of Act XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to cases in which property stolen does not exceed 50 rupees in value.

VII. All persons charged with the commission of any of the offences specified in Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace for the said Town, provided the value of the property which the prisoner is charged with having stolen does not, according to the belief of such Justice, exceed fifty rupees, anything in the said Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all the powers by Act XXI. of 1839 (except Section VIII. aforesaid) and Act III. of 1842, given or reserved to any such Justice for the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property not exceeding twenty rupees in value, and all the provisions of the said Acts (except as aforesaid) shall extend and be applicable to the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property, not exceeding, according to the belief of the Justice, fifty rupees in value.

Extension of Act XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to the offence of receiving stolen property when the value of the property does not exceed fifty rupees.

VIII. Every person charged with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money, knowing the same to be stolen, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace, provided that the value of the property stolen or received does not, according to the belief of the Justice, exceed fifty rupees, and every such person, on conviction of any such offence, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six Calendar months; and all the powers and provisions of Act III. of 1842 and Act XXI. of 1839, except Section VIII. aforesaid, shall apply, so far as they may be applicable, to the trial, conviction, and sentence of any person charged under this Section with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen; provided always, that if it shall appear to the said Justice that such person has been previously convicted of, or is in the habit of receiving, stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen, the said Justice shall commit such person for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Summary conviction of persons accessory to the commission of certain felonies.

IX. Every person who is accessory, before or after the fact, to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice is liable to be tried and convicted summarily before such Justice on his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, and the convicting Justice shall have power to sentence any such accessory to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding six Calendar months, or in his or their discretion, instead of trying him, to commit him for trial to the Supreme Court of Judicature, or other court having authority to try him.

Punishment for boys.

X. Whenever any boy, under the age of sixteen years, is convicted before a Justice of the Peace, either of simple larceny under the said Act XXI. of 1839, or, under this Act, of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen, or of being an accessory to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, the said Justice, if he thinks fit, may sentence him to receive corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes of a light ratan, instead of sentencing him to imprisonment.

Cases of assault, forcible entry, or other injury not being felony.

XI. Any person who shall commit any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, within the said Town, against the person or property of any person whatsoever, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and the said Justice may award the whole or any part of such fine to the party or parties aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury, or, in the discretion of such Justice, such person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding four Calendar months.

Persons charged with recent assault may be apprehended by Police without warrant, though assault not committed in view of Police.

XII. Any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police may take into custody, or authorize a Constable to take into custody, without warrant, any person who within the said Town shall be charged by any other person with committing an aggravated assault, in every case in which such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police shall have good reason to believe that such assault has been committed, although not within view of such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector, and that by reason of the recent commission of the offence, a warrant could not have been obtained for the appearance of the offender.

Unlawfully taking or enticing away married women or female children under the age of sixteen.

XIII. If complaint shall be made before any Justice that any person within the said Town has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken away, against her will, any woman, or has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken or enticed away any female child under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession or protection and against the will of the husband, father, mother, guardian or other person who has the lawful order, keeping, education, or government of such child, for the purpose of living in adultery with such woman or child, or for purposes of prostitution, or of deflowering or disposing of her in marriage, it shall be lawful for the said Justice to make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, father, mother, guardian, or such other person as aforesaid, as the case may be, and to compel compliance with such order, and, if it be necessary to use force for that purpose, any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police, duly authorized by the Justice in that behalf, with such assistants as he may deem necessary, may break open doors or otherwise compel compliance with the same, and the said Justice may commit any person charged with taking, or causing to be taken, or enticing any woman or female child as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Keeping open houses of public entertainment without licence.

XIV. Any person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort and entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) without a licence for the same being first had and obtained from and under the hand of two Justices of the Peace, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before any of the said Justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place of public resort or entertainment is kept open.

Two Justices to grant licences.

XV. Two or more of the said Justices shall from time to time hold licensing Sessions, for the purpose of granting licences to the keepers of such houses or places of public resort and entertainment as aforesaid, and the said licences may be granted by the said Justices for any term not exceeding one year, subject to the restriction contained in Section XII. Act. XI. of 1849, and upon such conditions to be inserted in every such licence as the Justices from time to time shall order, for securing the good behaviour of the keepers of the said houses or places of public resort or entertainment, and the prevention of drunkenness and disorder among the persons frequenting or using the same.

Penalty for parties not conforming to the tenor of their licence.

XVI. The keeper of every such house or place of public resort and entertainment, who shall wilfully offend against any condition of his licence, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and in the discretion of the convicting Justice, to forfeit his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Disorderly conduct and illegal harbouring of deserters in houses of public entertainment.

XVII. Every person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort or entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) and who shall knowingly or wilfully permit drunkenness or other disorderly behaviour in such house, shop, room, or place, or who shall knowingly suffer any unlawful games or any gaming whatsoever therein, or who shall knowingly permit prostitutes or persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or who shall wilfully harbour or conceal any Seaman or Apprentice who shall have deserted, knowing or having reason to believe such Seaman or Apprentice so harboured or concealed to be a deserter, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and shall be liable to forfeiture of his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Hours for sale of Spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs.

XVIII. Every person who shall keep open his house, shop, room, or place, for the purpose of selling or retailing spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, under a licence from the Collector of Calcutta, after the hour of nine at night and before the hour of six in the morning, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees, and shall also be liable, in the discretion of the said Justice, to the forfeiture of his licence.

Introduction of Spirituous Liquors without licence into Fort William.

XIX. If any person, not being amenable to the Articles of War, shall take or attempt to take into Fort William any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs of any description, without a licence from the Commanding Officer of the said Fort, or from some other person thereunto authorized, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint to him thereof made, may issue his summons or warrant for bringing the party complained of, and also the liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, before him, and in case of conviction may adjudge the said liquors, wine, or drugs and the vessels containing the same, to be forfeited, and every such person so convicted shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two Calendar months.

Taking Spirits, &c., into the Gaol.

XX. Every person who shall take or throw, or attempt to take or throw, into the Great Gaol or House of Correction of Calcutta, any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs, without the licence or consent of the Jailor or Keeper of such Gaol or House of Correction respectively, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two months.

Breaking Gaol.

XXI. Every person who shall have been committed to the Great Gaol or House of Correction, or who shall be in custody at any Police Office or Station, and who shall unlawfully break or escape from such Gaol, House of Correction, Police Office or Station, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any other sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be imprisoned at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

Riotous or indecent behaviour.

XXII. Every person who shall be found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself in any street or public thoroughfare, or who shall be guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street, public thoroughfare, Police Office, Station, or Section House, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding fourteen days.

Rogues and vagabonds.

XXIII. Any Constable or Peace Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police may take into custody, without a warrant, any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise armed with any dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoever with intent to break or enter into any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, or any loose, idle, or disorderly persons whom he shall find disturbing the public peace, or whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit any felony, misdemeanor, or breach of the peace, or any reputed thief whom he shall find between sunset and sunrise on board any boat in the river, or lying or loitering in any bazar, street, road, yard, thoroughfare or other place, and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, or any person having in his possession without lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall lie on such person), any picklock key, crow, jack, bit, or other implement of house-breaking, or any person found between sunset and sunrise having his face blackened or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any felony, or any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise in any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, with intent to commit any felony therein; and every such offender, on conviction before a Justice, either on his own confession or on the evidence of one or more credible witnesses, shall be liable, at the discretion of the said Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding four Calendar months.

Beggars.

XXIV. Every person who shall beg or apply for alms or relief in any public road, street, or thoroughfare, or who shall expose or exhibit any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity in such roads, streets, or public thoroughfares, with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms or relief, or who shall, anywhere within the Town, seek for or obtain alms or relief by means of any false statements or pretences. or who shall cause, aid, or abet any such person as aforesaid in the commission of any of the said offences, shall, for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two Calendar months.

Furious driving.

XXV. Every person who shall drive or ride furiously, or at a greater rate than ten miles an hour, any vehicle or animal in the said streets or public thoroughfares, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one Calendar month.

Lamps to vehicles.

XXVI. Every person who shall drive any vehicle of any description at any time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without having a lighted lamp affixed to such vehicle, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one Calendar month.

For suppression of common gaming-houses.

XXVII. If any person shall make oath before a Justice of the Peace that any house, building, room, or other place within the Town is commonly reported and believed to be kept or used as a common gaming-house or place, such Justice, by an order in writing, may authorize a Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter any such house, building, room, or place, with such constables as he shall deem requisite to accompany him, and if necessary to use force for the purpose of effecting such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to take into custody and search all persons found therein, and to seize all tables and instruments of gaming found in such house, building, room, or place, or on the persons of any of those found therein, and also to seize all moneys and securities for money found in any such house, building, room, or place, and the owner or keeper of the said gaming-house, or place, or other person having the care and management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months, and upon conviction of any such offender all such tables and instruments of unlawful games shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by order of the Justice before whom the conviction is had, and all the moneys and securities for moneys so found shall be forfeited to Government, and every person found on such premises, and who shall not be the owner or keeper or other person having the care or management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Proof of playing for stakes unnecessary.

XXVIII. It shall not be necessary, in support of any information for gaming in, or for suffering any games or gaming in, or for keeping or managing or being concerned in the management or conduct of, any common gaming-house or place, under this Act, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

What articles if found shall be evidence that the house is a gaming-house.

XXIX. Where any cards, dice, balls, counters, tables, or other instruments of gaming, used in playing any unlawful game, are found in any house, building, room, or place, suspected to be used as a common gaming-house or place, and entered by an order issued under this Act, or about the person of any who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, building, room, or place, is used as a common gaming-house or place, and that the persons found in the house, building, room, or place, where such tables or instruments of gaming shall have been found, were playing therein, although no play was actually going on in the presence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Inspector, or Constable entering the same as aforesaid.

Gambling in the Streets.

XXX. Every person who shall game for money, or any other thing or reward whatsoever, or who shall join in, bet at, or abet, or be present for the purpose of joining, betting at, or abetting any such gaming, in any street or public thoroughfare in the said Town, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one Calendar month.

Using false or defective weights and measures.

XXXI. All persons who deal in any articles by retail by weight or measure, and who have in or about their shops or premises, or otherwise in their possession, any false or deficient weight, measure, beam or scale, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one Calendar month; and every such false and defective weight, measure, beam or scale shall be forfeited, and the said Justice shall cause the same to be destroyed; and it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate or Superintendent of Police from time to time to issue public notices at the Police Office and Thannas, and such Places as to him appear suitable, of the exact weight and measure of just weights and measures, and to keep at the Police Office and Thannas standard weights and measures for the information of the public.

False weights and measures.

XXXII. Any Justice of the Peace, or the Superintendent of Police, may issue his warrant, directing any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter into any shop or other place where articles are bought and sold by retail, and to search for and to examine the weights and measures therein, and seize all such as he may suspect to be forfeited as false and deficient in weight.

Justice of the Peace may take cognizance of cases of desertion or unauthorized absence from their ship of Foreign and Asiatic seamen.

XXXIII. If any seaman, whether British or Foreign, shall, wilfully and without leave or lawful excuse, absent himself from his vessel, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint upon oath, and at the instance of any of the officers of the said vessel, may issue his warrant to apprehend and detain the said seaman and convey him on board of his vessel; and whenever any seaman shall have been imprisoned, it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace, on the release of such seaman from imprisonment, to cause him to be conveyed on board of the Vessel to which he may belong.

Arms carried by persons without due authority.

XXXIV. No person, not being a soldier or sailor in the service of the Queen or the East India Company, or a Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be entitled to carry any sword, spear, gun, or other offensive weapon in any street, thoroughfare, or public place, unless by leave of the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and any person offending against this enactment shall be liable to be disarmed by any Constable or other person acting under such instructions as shall be from time to time given by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and the weapons so seized shall be taken before the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, and forfeited to the Government, if the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, in his discretion, shall think fit to declare them forfeited.

The regulation of carriages and persons at places of public resort.

XXXV. The Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police from time to time, and as occasion may require, may make regulations for keeping clear the public ghauts and landing stairs, and for the route to be observed in the public streets and places by all carts, carriages, palanquins, hackeries, and other vehicles, and by all horses, cattle and persons, and as to the times during which they may take the said routes, and for preventing obstruction of the streets and thoroughfares within the Town on all times of public processions and native holidays, as also during the time of Divine Service, and also may give directions to the Constables and other peace officers for keeping order and for preventing any obstruction of the thoroughfares in the immediate neighbourhood of any place of public resort, and in any case when the ghauts, landing-stairs, streets, or thoroughfares may be thronged or may be liable to be obstructed, and every person opposing or not obeying the orders so issued by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police shall be liable to be arrested and detained by the Police, and, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred rupees.

Police Officers taking Bribes.

XXXVI. Any Police Officer or Constable who shall ask for or take any bribe or unauthorized reward in consideration of his doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three months.

XXXVII. The Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation passed by the Governor General in Council on the 8th April 1802, and Section II. Act XVIII. of 1841, are hereby repealed. Any person who shall, within the limits of the said Town, manufacture gunpowder or gun-cotton, or who shall, without a licence for that purpose being first had and obtained from the Chief Magistrate, have in his possession in any house, shop, warehouse, or other building, at any one time, a greater quantity of gun-powder or gun-cotton for sale or otherwise than ten pounds, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of all such gun-powder or gun-cotton so manufactured or possessed, together with the vessel or receptacle in which it may be seized, and also to a fine not exceeding in amount the sum of rupees five hundred.

As to manufacture or possession of Gunpowder or Gun-cotton.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate to grant to any person (whom he shall deem fit and proper) a licence for the sale or keeping in deposit, within the limits of the said Town, any quantity of imported or Indian manufactured gun-powder not exceeding fifty pounds, or any quantity of gun-cotton not exceeding twenty pounds, on such conditions as shall be specified in the licence, and any person who shall be guilty of a breach of any of such conditions, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of his licence and of all gun-powder or gun-cotton so kept in deposit contrary thereto, and also to a fine not exceeding rupees two hundred.

Chief Magistrate to grant licences for sale and deposit of gun-powder, &c.

XXXIX. Every such licence as is mentioned in the preceding Section shall be in force for a period of one year only and no longer, but shall be renewable by the said Chief Magistrate at his discretion on the same or any other terms and conditions, and such licence shall also provide for the transit and carrying of gun-powder from one place to another within the limits of the said Town, in such manner and in such quantity as shall be deemed advisable for the safety of the inhabitants and of property within the said Town, and every person offending against such provisions shall be liable to a fine not exceeding rupees fifty.

Licences to be in force for one year and to contain certain provisions.

XL. Any Justice of the Peace, on credible information laid before him on oath or solemn affirmation, that gun-powder or gun-cotton or mixed materials for making the same, contrary to the provisions of this Act, are suspected to be stored, kept, or possessed by any person, may issue his warrant authorizing any Police Officer to search in the day-time any house, shop, magazine, or other building or place in which he has reasonable ground to suspect any gun-powder or gun-cotton to be manufactured, sold, or kept, or any boat, carriage, cart, or other vehicle in which any gun-powder or gun-cotton or materials for manufacturing the same may be suspected to be carried, or any person suspected of carrying the same contrary to such licence or to the provisions of this Act, and all gun-powder gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, found on such search shall, together with the vessels or receptacles in which they may be stored, be immediately seized and brought before a Justice of the Peace, with whom the same shall be kept till it shall be adjudged whether the same shall be forfeited.

As to Search for Gunpowder, &c.

XLI. The four last preceding Sections shall not extend to any Government Magazine or store, or building for the making or deposit of gun-powder or gun-cotton under the authority or for the use of the Government, or to any gunpowder or gun-cotton for the use of Her Majesty's or the East India Company's Troops, or otherwise for the service of Government, or to any of Her Majesty's Vessels of War, or the Vessels of the Indian Navy, or of the East India Company's Marine, or to any other Vessel within the River Hooghly laden with gunpowder for importation or exportation.

Act not applicable to Government Powder, &c.

XLII. Commanders of merchant vessels entering the River Hooghly shall, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, deposit in the Magazine at that place all gun-powder intended for the Ship's use from on board their respective vessels, exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, which quantity they shall be permitted to retain in their vessels for the purpose of firing salutes or signals in case of distress, and the gun-powder so deposited shall be again delivered on board on the return of the respective vessels from Calcutta in prosecution of the outward voyage; and Commanders of merchant vessels in the River Hooghly having on board their vessels gun-powder or gun-cotton for importation (not being gunpowder belonging to the Government) exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, shall also deposit the same, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, in the Magazine of that place, under charge of an Officer belonging to the Customs at that place, or such other person as the Governor of Bengal may appoint, and the proprietors or consignees of such gun-powder or gun-cotton, or their agents, whenever they shall desire to remove the same from the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for authority to do so, which application, when it be intended that such gun-powder or gun-cotton shall be lodged in any place, or be laden in any boat or other conveyance within the limits of the said town, shall be accompanied by a written order of permission, signed by a Justice of the Peace to that effect, and when it be intended that such gun-powder or gun-cotton shall be exported by sea, the Commanders of vessels, or the proprietors, or their agents, by whom it shall have been deposited in the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for permission so to export it; and the Collector of Sea Customs shall comply with such applications aforesaid, except where the exportation of ammunition shall require, under provisions of Act XVIII. of 1841, a licence from a public Officer other than the Collector of Sea Customs, in which case the Collector of Sea Customs shall not comply with the application unless it be accompanied by the licence of such public Officer; and on or before the removal of all gun-powder or gun-cotton from the Magazine, the Collector of Sea Customs shall and he is hereby authorized to levy a fee, the rate of which shall not exceed two annas per pound, for all gun-powder or gun-cotton that has been lodged therein, which fee shall be taken to cover all charges for the safe custody of the gun-powder or gun-cotton during the period it has remained or shall remain in the Magazine; provided also, that the Governor of Bengal shall be at liberty to authorize such arrangement to be made by letting or otherwise contracting for the custody of the Magazine, and for the collection and appropriation of the fees which may be charged for gun-powder or gun-cotton stored therein, as he may think proper, subject however to all the restrictions and rules imposed by this Section in respect to the removal from the Magazine of gun-powder therein stored.

Penalties.

XLIII. For every act done or omitted to be done contrary to the provisions of the last preceding Section by the Commander of any merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, the Commander aforesaid shall, on conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace, be liable to a penalty of two hundred rupees: and the Collector of Sea Customs is hereby empowered to search for any quantity of gun-powder which he may have reason to believe to be on board a merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, contrary to the provisions of this Act, and to seize and detain it as forfeited to Government, to be dealt with as the Governor of Bengal shall think right to direct.

Jurisdiction of Justices on the River Hooghly.

XLIV. The jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace acting within and for the said Town shall extend to all offences committed by any person in sea-going vessels in any part of the River Hooghly, and the said Justices shall have the same power and jurisdiction in respect of criminal offences committed in sea-going vessels in any part of the said river, that they now have and exercise within the said Town.

Persons apprehended without warrant to be taken first to the Station-house, and if not admitted to bail, to the Police Office.

XLV. Every Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police is hereby authorized to arrest with a warrant any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, and every person taken into custody without warrant by any Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police shall be forthwith taken to the Station-house to which the Constable belongs, in order that such person may be detained, until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace to be dealt with according to law, or in order that such person may give bail for his appearance before a Justice of the Peace, if the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector at the Station shall deem it prudent to take bail in the manner hereinafter mentioned, which he is hereby authorized to do.

Power to take recognizances, at Station-houses or Police Lock-up on certain charges.

XLVI. Whenever any person is brought to the Station-house as aforesaid, charged with misdemeanor, assault, or with having carelessly done any hurt or damage, or whenever any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector of Police, or Town Serjeant in charge of a Police Lock-up, shall deem it probable that any person so brought is falsely or maliciously charged with having committed a felony, and any such person as aforesaid shall be, without the warrant of a Magistrate, in the custody of any Constable of the Calcutta Police, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent or any Deputy Superintendent of Police, if he shall deem it prudent, to enlarge such person on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, conditioned as hereinafter mentioned.

Condition of recognizance.

XLVII. Every recognizance so taken shall be without fee or reward, and shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person thereby bound before a Justice of the Peace at his next sitting, and the time and place of appearance and the sum thereby acknowledged (not exceeding one thousand rupees) shall be specified in the said recognizance, or the condition thereof; and the officer taking the recognizance shall enter into a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name, residence, and occupation of the party and his surety or sureties (if any) entering into such recognizance, together with the condition thereof, and the sum thereby acknowledged, and shall return every such recognizance to the Justice present at the time and place, and when, and where the party is bound to appear, and the said recognizance may be in either of the forms as the case may be, in Schedule (A) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect.

Amends may be awarded for false or malicious charges.

XLVIII. In every case in which any person shall be given in charge to a Constable, or in which any information or complaint of any offence shall be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace, and it shall appear to the Justice by whom the case shall be heard that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Justice, at his discretion, to award such amends not more than the sum of fifty rupees, to be paid by the informer to the party informed or complained against, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as to the Justice shall seem meet.

Offences how to be tried.

XLIX. Every Justice of the Peace shall be empowered summarily to hear and determine every complaint of an offence committed against this Act, and to convict any person charged with any such offence on the oath of one or more witnesses, or by his own confession, and to award the penalty or punishment herein provided for such offence.

Justices may proceed by summons, and if party does not appear may issue warrant.

L. Upon any information or complaint to be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace (which complaint need not be made upon oath) of any matter which such Justice is authorized to hear and determine, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, he may summon the party charged, and if such party shall not appear according to the tenor of the summons, the Justice, upon proof of the service of the summons, may proceed, in all cases which are not of a criminal nature, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the party, to hear and determine the case in the absence of the party, and in all criminal cases shall issue his warrant for apprehending and bringing such party before him, or some other Justice, in order that the said information and complaint may be heard and determined.

How summons may be served.

LI. Every such summons may be served by delivering it or a copy thereof to the party or to his wife, servant, or some inmate of his dwelling, or by delivering it at or affixing it to the door or wall of his usual place of abode.

Justices may issue warrant without summons.

LII. A Justice of the Peace may, without issuing any summons, forthwith issue his warrant for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, whenever good grounds for so doing shall be stated on oath before him.

May enforce attendance of witnesses.

LIII. Any Justice may summon any witness to appear and give evidence upon the matter of any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, with which any person shall be charged before him, at a time and place appointed for hearing the information or complaint, and, by warrant under his hand and seal, may require any person to be brought before him who shall neglect or refuse to give evidence at the time and place appointed on such summons, proof upon oath being first given of personal service of the summons upon the person against whom such warrant shall be granted, and such Justice may commit any person coming or brought before him who shall refuse to give evidence, to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or until such person shall sooner submit himself to be examined, and in case of such submission the order of such Justice shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of such person.

Power to Magistrates to order prisoners to be brought up to the Police Office.

LIV. When any Justice of the Peace is desirous of examining any prisoner confined in the Great Gaol or House of Correction as a witness or defendant, with respect to any charge, case, or proceeding pending before him, it shall be lawful for such Justice to issue an order in the form contained in Schedule (B) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, addressed to the keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named, to the Police Office, for examination, and the keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, on the receipt of such order, shall act in accordance therewith, and shall take care for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from prison for the purpose aforesaid.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

LV. All penalties and forfeitures and other sums of money imposed, awarded, or ordered to be paid by any Justice of the Peace under the authority of this Act, and all sums of money which any person is bound to pay under any recognizance taken before a Justice of the Peace or an officer of Police empowered to take recognizances by this Act and afterwards forfeited, in case of non-payment thereof, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or person liable to pay the same, by warrant under the hand of any Justice of the Peace, and in case any such penalty or forfeiture or sum of money shall not be forthwith paid, any Justice may order the party to be detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such Justice for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and the Justice may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise; and if upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no such sufficient distress could be had whereon to levy the said penalty, or forfeiture, or sum of money, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Justice, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty, forfeiture, or sum of money could be levied if warrant of distress should be issued, the Justice, by warrant under his hand, may commit such party to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, there to remain for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Convictions to be quashed on merits only. Form of Conviction, &c

LVI. No conviction, order, or judgment of any Justice of the Peace shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, the evidence on which it proceeds; but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment, in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions.

LVII. In the construction of this Act the following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the context or subject repugnant to such construction; that is to say,—

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "Town" shall include the Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Justice" or "Justices of the Peace" shall mean the Justices of the Peace for the time being acting within and for the said Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Oath" shall mean any oath or solemn affirmation in lieu of an oath.

Justice of the Peace.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th February, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 27th of February 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XIV. OF 1852.

An Act for extending the provisions of Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, to the Straits Settlement.

Whereas doubts have been entertained whether Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, are in force in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca; It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. The provisions of Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, shall be applicable and in force in the said Settlement.

II. All provisions contained in Act XXIV. of 1841, and Act XVII. of 1843, relating to Her Majesty's Supreme Courts, shall be applicable to the Court of Judicature of the said Settlement, and shall be respectively construed as if, instead of the words Her Majesty's Supreme Courts, or Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of the respective Presidencies, or the Supreme Court of each of the Presidencies, the words, "the Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca," had been therein mentioned.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative. The 27th February 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th of February 1852.

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to confer upon certain Inhabitants of the Territories in India under the Government of the East India Company, the rights of subjects of Her Majesty.

Whereas it is expedient to remove by law doubts that may have arisen as to the Civil and Political rights of certain persons domiciled in the Territories in India under the Government of the East India Company, and to provide for the naturalization of such persons, not being by law entitled to be regarded as subjects of Her Majesty, It is enacted as follows:

I. All persons actually domiciled in the said Territories, who shall have resided, or shall continue to reside therein, or in some other part of Her Majesty's dominions, until they shall have been resident inhabitants of Her Majesty's dominions for the space of seven years continually, without having been during that time stated residents in any foreign country, shall be deemed, adjudged and taken to be natural born subjects of Her Majesty, as if they and every of them had been born within the said Territories under the Government of the said East India Company. Provided always, that no such person shall be entitled to the benefit of this Act unless he shall, after he shall have completed such stated residence of seven years continually, apply for and obtain the permission in writing of the Governor in Council, Governor, or Lieutenant Governor of the Presidency or place in which he is resident to become naturalized as aforesaid, and take and subscribe the oath, or, if he be a person allowed by law to affirm in civil cases, make the declaration, contained in the Schedule annexed to this Act, before some Justice of the Peace or Magistrate.

II. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed so as to deprive the Courts of the East India Company of jurisdiction over any such naturalized person, or to give to the Courts of Her Majesty any jurisdiction over any such person not otherwise subject to such jurisdiction.

III. All Justices of the Peace or Magistrates within the said Territories are hereby empowered to administer the oath or affirmation contained in the Schedule annexed to this Act to all persons desirous of taking or making the same, who shall produce the written permission of the Governor in Council, Governor, or Lieutenant Governor hereinbefore mentioned, and the said Justices or Magistrates shall record the Administration of such oath or affirmation in their proceedings, and shall file and preserve a copy thereof subscribed by the person taking or making the same, and shall report the name and description of every such person to the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency in which such oath or affirmation is taken or made.

SCHEDULE.

OATH.

I, A. B., of (here state the description of the party) do swear (or being one of the persons allowed by law to affirm in civil cases do affirm,) that I have resided seven years in Her Majesty's dominions, without having been, during that time, a stated resident in any foreign country, and that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the Sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of these territories as dependant thereon.

(Signed) A. B.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 27th day of May next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th February 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council, in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 27th February 1852, is published for general information:

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 22nd August 1851, and published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd August 1851, to amend the law for the attendance and examination of witnesses in the Civil Courts of the Bengal Presidency.

Resolution.—The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following revised Draft on the subject be published for general information:

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence in the Civil Courts of the Bengal Presidency.

Whereas the law of evidence administered by the Civil Courts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and the rules for the attendance and examination of witnesses in such Courts, require amendment, It is enacted as follows:

I. Sections XXXIII. and LXXIII. of Regulation XXIII. of 1814 of the Bengal Code, regarding the examination of witnesses before Moonsiffs and Sudder Ameens, and so much of Section XI. Regulation XXIV. of 1814 of the same Code, and Section 1. Act VI. of 1843, as authorizes the examination of witnesses otherwise than personally by the presiding City or Zillah Judge or Principal Sudder Ameen, are hereby repealed.

II. In any regular suit, appeal or miscellaneous proceeding, it shall be lawful for the Judge, upon good and sufficient grounds in the estimation of such Judge being shown, to examine any party to such suit, appeal or proceeding, as a witness, with respect to any question at issue therein, and also to order, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, any such party as aforesaid to produce any document in his possession or power. Provided always that female parties, who according to the custom of the country ought not to be compelled to appear as witnesses in Court, shall be examined as hereinafter in Section XVIII. mentioned. Provided also, that if any party to any such suit, appeal or proceeding as aforesaid shall satisfy the Judge that the subject of inquiry is not one of which such party has personal knowledge, he shall be allowed to name any agent, local manager or other person on his behalf, who has personal knowledge of such matter, and then and in such case, the evidence of the agent, local manager or other person shall be accepted by the Judge in lieu of the evidence of such party, and the statement of the agent, local manager or person so examined shall be held conclusive against the party, in like manner as his own statement would have been.

III. If any party to such suit, appeal or proceeding as aforesaid shall refer to any document in his possession or power, in any pleading or statement filed or made by him in such suit appeal or proceeding, the adverse party, before replying to such pleading or statement, may apply to the Judge before whom such suit appeal or proceeding is pending, to order the production of such document for his inspection, and it shall thereupon be lawful for the said Judge to issue an order in writing, directing the production of such document, at a place and time to be named in such order, and from time to time, by similar orders, to enlarge the time allowed for such production, if the said Judge shall think fit so to do; and if the said party shall not produce the document at the time and place appointed for the production thereof, the Judge may proceed against him in such manner as is provided by Section X. of this Act with respect to parties summoned or examined as witnesses.

IV. After the parties in a suit have filed their exhibits and lists of witnesses whom they desire to summon, the Judge shall, by an order in writing, appoint a day, not less than fifteen nor more than forty days, after the date of such order, for the examination of witnesses and the hearing of the suit.

V. The Judge, or an Officer of the Court to be specially charged with the duty by the Judge, shall, on the requisition of the plaintiff or defendant, or their respective vakeels, issue a summons to every witness whom the parties may name, on payment into Court of such reasonable sum as shall, under the rules established in that respect under the authority of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, appear to be necessary, to defray the travelling and other expenses of such witness in passing to and from the Court, and being detained thereat. Provided always that no such summons shall be issued to any Hindoo or Mahomedan woman of a rank or quality which, according to the manners and customs of the country, would render it improper to compel her to appear as a witness in a Court of Justice.

VI. Every such summons shall set forth at whose request it has been issued, and shall require the intended witness to appear in the Court on the day named in the summons, and there to give evidence concerning the matter in dispute between the parties. If a witness is required to appear, and to produce before the Court any documents alleged by the party summoning him to be in his possession or power, a direction to attend the Court with such documents shall be inserted in the summons and the nature of each document which the witness may be so called upon to produce shall be set forth in the summons with reasonable certainty.

VII. A witness, not being a party to the suit or proceeding in which he is summoned, shall not be bound to produce his own title deeds, or the title deeds of his principal or client, nor any document relating to affairs of state the production of which would be contrary to good policy, nor any document the production of which would involve a breach of professional confidence on his part. A witness who is a party to the suit or proceeding in which he is summoned, shall not be bound to produce any document in his possession or power which exclusively relates to his own case, and is not relevant and material to the case made by the party opposed to him in such suit, appeal or proceeding, nor any documents which passed between him and his professional advisers relating to the said suit appeal or proceeding, or in contemplation thereof. Provided always, that every party shall be bound to produce all documents mentioned or referred to by himself, in any pleading or statement filed in the suit appeal or proceeding in which he is summoned as a witness.

VIII. Every witness, on receipt of a summons to appear and produce a document in his possession or power as aforesaid, shall be bound to bring such document into Court, although he may have a valid excuse for not disclosing the contents thereof, and the validity of any objection made by such witness to the production of such document in evidence shall be determined by the Court; and for the better determination thereof, it shall be lawful for the Court to receive any affidavit or deposition which the witness may make depose to or produce respecting the said document, and it shall also be lawful for the Court, in their discretion, to inspect the document, and if the Court shall be of opinion that such document should not be produced, the Court shall not disclose the contents thereof to the parties, or take any note, or make any mention thereof, in their judgment or proceedings, but shall return the document at once to the party producing the same.

IX. When the Judge, on the application of either of the parties to such suit appeal or proceeding as aforesaid, or in his own discretion, may determine to proceed under the authority given by Section II. of this Act, he shall, if the party whom he may desire to examine be personally present in Court, proceed to take his evidence, and if the party shall not be personally present in Court, but shall be represented by a Pleader, the Judge shall cause to be delivered to such Pleader a notice in writing, for which a receipt shall be taken from the Pleader, desiring the party to appear in Court by a day to be therein named, for the purpose of being examined; or if a defendant shall not have appeared in Court either personally or by a Pleader, a summons may be issued for his attendance, as in the case of an ordinary witness.

X. If any witness to whom any such Summons as aforesaid shall have been delivered, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to attend on the day appointed, or attending, shall refuse to give evidence, or to subscribe his deposition, or to produce any document named in such Summons as aforesaid which the Judge shall be satisfied the witness has in his possession or power and shall consider he is bound to produce, the Judge shall have full power and authority to issue an order in writing to the Nazir, to seize and bring the witness before the Court, or, if he be already before the Court, to take him into custody, and, in his discretion, may impose on such witness a fine, not exceeding five hundred rupees, for his default, realizable by attachment and sale of his property, and may commit him to close custody until he shall consent to give his evidence, and to sign his deposition, or to produce the document aforesaid; or, if the witness be a plaintiff or petitioner in the suit or proceeding, his complaint or petition may be dismissed with costs; and any such fine as aforesaid shall be levied and recovered by attachment and sale of the property of any such witness as aforesaid, and if any such witness, to whom a summons has been delivered, shall abscond or conceal himself so that he cannot be seized and brought before the Court, his property shall be liable to attachment and sale, in the same manner as is provided by Sections XII. XIV. and XV. of this Act with respect to witnesses on whom the Nazir may be unable to serve a summons.

XI. If a witness, who attends pursuant to a summons, shall have incurred any expense in consequence of his being required to appear, the judge shall award to him such sum for his charges as may appear reasonable, whether he be examined or not, and until payment of the sum so awarded, the person summoned may refuse to give evidence.

XII. When a witness after diligent search, to be certified by a return of the Nazir, cannot be found, it shall be deemed a sufficient service of the summons on such witness, if a proclamation requiring his attendance to give evidence be affixed, in the presence and with the attestation of two respectable householders of the village, outside of his house or place of usual abode, and if such witness does not attend within four weeks from the date of the proclamation being so affixed, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court, on oath, that the evidence of the witness is material to the cause, and that he cannot be found, and that there is good ground for believing that he has absconded to avoid giving evidence therein, his property, real and personal, to such amount as the Judge shall deem reasonable, (but subject to the same limitation as to the articles exempt from attachment as in case of attachment for arrears of rent,) shall be liable to attachment and sale. Provided always, that when the order of attachment and sale shall have been issued by any Court subordinate to the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, an appeal shall lie within one month from the date of the order of the subordinate Court to the Court to which its orders are generally appealable, and the rules in force in regard to sales made in execution of decrees, as to the place or manner of sale, and as to claims of third parties to property attached and notified for sale, shall be held applicable to such sales, or to sales in satisfaction of fines under Section X. of this Act.

XIII. It shall not be necessary to postpone the decision of a case for the evidence of a witness confined or absconding beyond such period as may appear proper to the Judge, upon application made to him according to Section XIX. of this Act.

XIV. The cost of the attachment shall be borne in the first instance by the party applying for it, and the Court issuing the summons and attachment shall not proceed to sale of the property, if the person summoned as a witness shall appear and satisfy the Court that his absence was not owing to any wilful default. Upon the appearance of such witness, the Court shall make such order in regard to the costs of the attachment as it shall deem fit, and if the witness appearing shall fail to satisfy the Court that his previous absence was not owing to any wilful default, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to release the property from attachment, upon payment of all costs, and of such fine as the Court may deem reasonable, with reference to the circumstances of the case, and the condition in life of the witness, and such fine may be recovered by sale of his property, a sufficient portion of which may be retained under attachment for that purpose.

XV. All orders as to costs or fines or the levy thereof under the last preceding Section, and all orders passed under Section X. of this Act, shall be subject to the like appeal as hereinbefore in Section XII. mentioned.

XVI. On the day appointed for trial, the judge shall require the parties or their pleaders to state and argue on their cases orally in open Court, with reference to the issues previously declared in the proceeding recorded under Section X. Regulation XXVI. of 1814.

XVII. The evidence of the attending witnesses shall be taken in open Court before the parties or their representatives, in the presence and under the personal direction of the judge, and shall be recorded in such manner and according to such forms as shall be from time to time prescribed in that behalf by the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

XVIII. In cases where the evidence is needed of females who, according to the customs of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear as witnesses in a Court of Justice, or in any other case in which the Judge shall be of opinion that the ends of justice require and justify it, he may issue a Commission to any Officer of his Court or other person to be named in such Commission for the examination of such females or persons, in the presence of both parties to the suit or their Vakeels, and with liberty to the parties or their Vakeels to cross-examine, anything in Section V. of Act VII. of 1841 to the contrary notwithstanding.

XIX. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Judge that any application has been preferred to him for the examination of any party to a suit appeal or proceeding from vexatious or malicious motives, it shall be lawful for such Judge to impose a fine, not exceeding one thousand rupees, on the party by whom or on whose behalf such application shall have been made, and the said fine shall be realized in like manner as other fines imposed under Section X., and the orders imposing such fines, or for the attachment and sale of the property of such person, shall be subject to the same appeal as hereinbefore in Section XII. provided.

XX. On or before the day appointed for trial, the Judge may, for any sufficient reason, such as the unavoidable absence of any material witness, or for other good cause, on the application of either party, postpone the hearing to another day, to be named, on such terms as to the payment of the costs of postponement to the other party, as to the Judge shall seem reasonable.

XXI. The recording of evidence on the trial of any suit, when begun under the rules above enacted, shall continue on the same day, or on consecutive days, until the whole of the evidence of the witnesses present has been heard, and after considering such testimony and the documentary evidence adduced, the Judge shall record his judgment under Act XII. of 1843.

XXII. The Judge, on the application of either party, shall cause public notice to be given in Court, either before or during the examination of any witness, requiring all other witnesses who have been summoned in the same cause, and who are present in Court, to leave the Court. Any witness in a cause who remains in Court after the giving of such notice, shall be punishable as for contempt, and shall be liable at the discretion of the Judge to any fine not exceeding rupees 200, or to imprisonment in the Civil Jail with or without labor for any term not exceeding three Calendar months.

XXIII. Any party to a suit appeal or proceeding who is examined as a witness therein, shall be examined under the same rules as are now in force for the examination of other witnesses, and shall be liable, in respect of any false evidence given by him on any issue material to such suit appeal or proceeding, to punishment for perjury, under the provisions of Regulation II. of 1807.

XXIV. The word "Judge," as used in this Act, shall be taken to mean the person presiding, or having the chief judicial authority in any Court, however designated, in the Presidency of Bengal or in places subordinate thereto.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of April next.

Justices of the Peace may make order of maintenance for wives and children.

II. If any person within the said Town, having sufficient means or employment, shall not duly maintain his wife or his legitimate or illegitimate children, and shall be thereof convicted before a Justice of the Peace, upon his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, the said Justice may make an order upon such person for the maintenance of such wife and children, or any of them, at such monthly rate as to the Justice seems reasonable, and upon non-compliance with the said order for any one month, or longer period, any Justice, by warrant under his hand and seal, may commit the person so convicted to the Common Gaol of Calcutta without labour, or to the House of Correction to hard labour, for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Persons convicted of having or conveying stolen goods liable to penalty.

III. Every person who shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying in any manner anything which may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained, and who shall not give an account to the satisfaction of such Justice how he came by the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before such Justice, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months.

Persons in whose possession stolen goods are found to be examined, &c.

IV. When any person shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying, anything stolen or unlawfully obtained, and shall declare that he received the same from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent, or servant to convey the same for some other person, such Justice shall cause every such person, and also if necessary every former or pretended purchaser, or other person through whose possession the same shall have passed, to be brought before him and examined, and shall examine witnesses upon oath touching the same, and if it shall appear to such Justice that any person shall have had possession of such thing, and had reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice, may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months. Every such person shall be deemed to have had possession of such thing at the time and place when and where the same shall have been found or seized, and the possession of a carrier, agent, or servant shall be deemed to be the possession of the person who shall have employed such carrier, agent, or servant to keep or convey the same.

On suspicion of goods being stolen or unlawfully obtained, Justice may grant search-warrant.

V. If information shall be given on oath to a Justice of the Peace that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that anything stolen or unlawfully obtained is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house, building, or other place, such Justice, by special warrant under his hand, directed to any police officer or constable, may cause such dwelling-house, building, or other place to be entered and searched at any time of the day, or by night, if power for that purpose be given by such warrant, and the said Justice, if it shall appear to him necessary, may empower such police officer or constable, with such assistance as may be found necessary, (such constable having previously made known his authority,) to use force for the effecting of such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and if upon search thereupon made any such thing shall be found, then to convey the same before a Justice, or to guard the same on the spot, until the offenders are taken before a Justice, or otherwise dispose thereof in some place of safety, and moreover to take into custody, and carry before the said Justice every person found in such house or place, who shall appear to have been privy to the deposit of any such thing, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the same to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

Power to search houses for stolen property without a warrant in certain cases.

VI. If information shall be given to any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector belonging to the Calcutta Police, that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that any stolen property is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house or other place, and the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector shall have good grounds for believing that, by reason of the delay in obtaining a search-warrant, the property is likely to be removed, the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector, in virtue of his office, may search for specific articles alleged to have been stolen in the houses and places specified; provided always that a list of the articles stolen or missing be delivered and taken down in writing, with a declaration stating that the robbery has been committed, and that the informant has good ground to believe that the property is deposited in such house or place; and provided further that the person who lost the goods, or his representative, accompany the officer in the search.

Extension of Act XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to cases in which property stolen does not exceed 50 rupees in value.

VII. All persons charged with the commission of any of the offences specified in Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace for the said Town, provided the value of the property which the prisoner is charged with having stolen does not, according to the belief of such Justice, exceed fifty rupees, anything in the said Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all the powers by Act XXI. of 1839 (except Section VIII. aforesaid) and Act III. of 1842, given or reserved to any such Justice for the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property not exceeding twenty rupees in value, and all the provisions of the said Acts (except as aforesaid) shall extend and be applicable to the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property, not exceeding, according to the belief of the Justice, fifty rupees in value.

Extension of Act XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to the offence of receiving stolen property when the value of the property does not exceed fifty rupees.

VIII. Every person charged with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money, knowing the same to be stolen, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace, provided that the value of the property stolen or received does not, according to the belief of the Justice, exceed fifty rupees, and every such person, on conviction of any such offence, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six Calendar months; and all the powers and provisions of Act III. of 1842 and Act XXI. of 1839, except Section VIII. aforesaid, shall apply, so far as they may be applicable, to the trial, conviction, and sentence of any person charged under this Section with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen; provided always, that if it shall appear to the said Justice that such person has been previously convicted of, or is in the habit of receiving stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen, the said Justice shall commit such person for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Summary conviction of persons accessory to the commission of certain felonies.

IX. Every person who is accessory, before or after the fact, to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice is liable to be tried and convicted summarily before such Justice on his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, and the convicting Justice shall have power to sentence any such accessory to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding six Calendar months, or in his or their discretion, instead of trying him, to commit him for trial to the Supreme Court of Judicature, or other court having authority to try him.

Punishment for boys.

X. Whenever any boy, under the age of sixteen years, is convicted before a Justice of the Peace, either of simple larceny under the said Act XXI. of 1839, or, under this Act, of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen, or of being an accessory to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, the said Justice, if he thinks fit, may sentence him to receive corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes of a light ratan, instead of sentencing him to imprisonment.

Cases of assault, forcible entry, or other injury not being felony.

XI. Any person who shall commit any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, within the said Town, against the person or property of any person whatsoever, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and the said Justice may award the whole or any part of such fine to the party or parties aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury, or, in the discretion of such Justice, such person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding four Calendar months.

Persons charged with recent assault may be apprehended by Police without warrant, though assault not committed in view of Police.

XII. Any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police may take into custody, or authorize a Constable to take into custody, without warrant, any person who within the said Town shall be charged by any other person with committing an aggravated assault, in every case in which such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police shall have good reason to believe that such assault has been committed, although not within view of such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector, and that by reason of the recent commission of the offence, a warrant could not have been obtained for the appearance of the offender.

Unlawfully taking or enticing away women or female children under the age of sixteen.

XIII. If complaint shall be made before any Justice that any person within the said Town has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken away, against her will, any woman, or has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken or enticed away any female child under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession or protection and against the will of the husband, father, mother, guardian or other person who has the lawful order, keeping, education, or government of such child, for the purpose of living in adultery with such woman or child, or for purposes of prostitution, or of deflowering or disposing of her in marriage, it shall be lawful for the said Justice to make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, father, mother, guardian, or such other person as aforesaid, as the case may be, and to compel compliance with such order, and, if it be necessary to use force for that purpose, any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police, duly authorized by the Justice in that behalf, with such assistants as he may deem necessary, may break open doors or otherwise compel compliance with the same, and the said Justice may commit any person charged with taking, or causing to be taken, or enticing any woman or female child as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Keeping open houses of public entertainment without licence.

XIV. Any person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort and entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) without a licence for the same being first had and obtained from and under the hand of two Justices of the Peace, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before any of the said Justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place of public resort or entertainment is kept open.

Two Justices to grant licences.

XV. Two or more of the said Justices shall from time to time hold licensing Sessions, for the purpose of granting licences to the keepers of such houses or places of public resort and entertainment as aforesaid, and the said licences may be granted by the said Justices for any term not exceeding one year, subject to the restriction contained in Section XII. Act. XI. of 1849, and upon such conditions to be inserted in every such licence as the Justices from time to time shall order, for securing the good behaviour of the keepers of the said houses or places of public resort or entertainment, and the prevention of drunkenness and disorder among the persons frequenting or using the same.

Penalty for parties not conforming to the tenor of their licence.

XVI. The keeper of every such house or place of public resort and entertainment, who shall wilfully offend against any condition of his licence, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and in the discretion of the convicting Justice, to forfeit his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Disorderly conduct and illegal harbouring of deserters in houses of public entertainment.

XVII. Every person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort or entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) and who shall knowingly or wilfully permit drunkenness or other disorderly behaviour in such house, shop, room, or place, or who shall knowingly suffer any unlawful games or any gaming whatsoever therein, or who shall knowingly permit prostitutes or persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or who shall wilfully harbour or conceal any Seaman or Apprentice who shall have deserted, knowing or having reason to believe such Seaman or Apprentice so harboured or concealed to be a deserter, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and shall be liable to forfeiture of his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Hours for sale of Spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs.

XVIII. Every person who shall keep open his house, shop, room, or place, for the purpose of selling or retailing spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, under a licence from the Collector of Calcutta, after the hour of nine at night and before the hour of six in the morning, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees, and shall also be liable, in the discretion of the said Justice, to the forfeiture of his licence.

Introduction of Spirituous Liquors without licence into Fort William.

XIX. If any person, not being amenable to the Articles of War, shall take or attempt to take into Fort William any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs of any description, without a licence from the Commanding Officer of the said Fort, or from some other person thereunto authorized, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint to him thereof made, may issue his summons or warrant for bringing the party complained of, and also the liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, before him, and in case of conviction may adjudge the said liquors, wine, or drugs and the vessels containing the same, to be forfeited, and every such person so convicted shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two Calendar months.

Taking Spirits, &c., into the Gaol.

XX. Every person who shall take or throw, or attempt to take or throw, into the Great Gaol or House of Correction of Calcutta, any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs, without the licence or consent of the Jailor or Keeper of such Gaol or House of Correction respectively, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two months.

Breaking Gaol.

XXI. Every person who shall have been committed to the Great Gaol or House of Correction, or who shall be in custody at any Police Office or Station, and who shall unlawfully break or escape from such Gaol, House of Correction, Police Office or Station, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any other sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be imprisoned at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

Riotous or indecent behaviour.

XXII. Every person who shall be found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself in any street or public thoroughfare, or who shall be guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street, public thoroughfare, Police Office, Station, or Section House, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding fourteen days.

Rogues and vagabonds.

XXIII. Any Constable or Peace Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police may take into custody, without a warrant, any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise armed with any dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoever with intent to break or enter into any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, or any loose, idle, or disorderly persons whom he shall find disturbing the public peace, or whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit any felony, misdemeanor, or breach of the peace, or any reputed thief whom he shall find between sunset and sunrise on board any boat in the river, or lying or loitering in any bazar, street, road, yard, thoroughfare or other place, and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, or any person having in his possession without lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall lie on such person), any picklock key, crow, jack, bit, or other implement of house-breaking, or any person found between sunset and sunrise having his face blackened or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any felony, or any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise in any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, with intent to commit any felony therein; and every such offender, on conviction before a Justice, either on his own confession or on the evidence of one or more credible witnesses, shall be liable, at the discretion of the said Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding four Calendar months.

Beggars

XXIV. Every person who shall beg or apply for alms or relief in any public road, street, or thoroughfare, or who shall expose or exhibit any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity in such roads, streets, or public thoroughfares, with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms or relief, or who shall, anywhere within the Town, seek for or obtain alms or relief by means of any false statements or pretences, or who shall cause, aid, or abet any such person as aforesaid in the commission of any of the said offences, shall, for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two Calendar months.

Furious driving.

XXV. Every person who shall drive or ride furiously, or at a greater rate than ten miles an hour, any vehicle or animal in the said streets or public thoroughfares, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one Calendar month.

Lamps to vehicles.

XXVI. Every person who shall drive any vehicle of any description at any time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without having a lighted lamp affixed to such vehicle, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one Calendar month.

For suppression of common gaming-houses.

XXVII. If any person shall make oath before a Justice of the Peace that any house, building, room, or other place within the Town is commonly reported and believed to be kept or used as a common gaming-house or place, such Justice, by an order in writing, may authorize a Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter any such house, building, room, or place, with such constables as he shall deem requisite to accompany him, and if necessary to use force for the purpose of effecting such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to take into custody and search all persons found therein, and to seize all tables and instruments of gaming found in such house, building, room, or place, or on the persons of any of those found therein, and also to seize all moneys and securities for money found in any such house, building, room, or place, and the owner or keeper of the said gaming-house, or place, or other person having the care and management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months, and upon conviction of any such offender all such tables and instruments of unlawful games shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by order of the Justice before whom the conviction is had, and all the moneys and securities for moneys so found shall be forfeited to Government, and every person found on such premises, and who shall not be the owner or keeper or other person having the care or management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Proof of playing for stakes unnecessary.

XXVIII. It shall not be necessary, in support of any information for gaming in, or for suffering any games or gaming in, or for keeping or managing or being concerned in the management or conduct of, any common gaming-house or place, under this Act, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

What articles if found shall be evidence that the house is a gaming-house.

XXIX. Where any cards, dice, balls, counters, tables, or other instruments of gaming, used in playing any unlawful game, are found in any house, building, room, or place, suspected to be used as a common gaming-house or place, and entered by an order issued under this Act, or about the person of any who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, building, room, or place, is used as a common gaming-house or place, and that the persons found in the house, building, room, or place, where such tables or instruments of gaming shall have been found, were playing therein, although no play was actually going on in the presence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Inspector, or Constable entering the same as aforesaid.

Gambling in the Streets.

XXX. Every person who shall game for money, or any other thing or reward whatsoever, or who shall join in, bet at, or abet, or be present for the purpose of joining, betting at, or abetting any such gaming, in any street or public thoroughfare in the said Town, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one Calendar month.

Using false or defective weights and measures.

XXXI. All persons who deal in any articles by retail by weight or measure, and who have in or about their shops or premises, or otherwise in their possession, any false or deficient weight, measure, beam or scale, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one Calendar month; and every such false and defective weight, measure, beam or scale shall be forfeited, and the said Justice shall cause the same to be destroyed; and it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate or Superintendent of Police from time to time to issue public notices at the Police Office and Thannas, and such Places as to him appear suitable, of the exact weight and measure of just weights and measures, and to keep at the Police Office and Thannas standard weights and measures for the information of the public.

False weights and measures.

XXXII. Any Justice of the Peace, or the Superintendent of Police, may issue his warrant, directing any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter into any shop or other place where articles are bought and sold by retail, and to search for and to examine the weights and measures therein, and seize all such as he may suspect to be forfeited as false and deficient in weight.

Justice of the Peace may take cognizance of cases of desertion or unauthorized absence from their ship of Foreign and Asiatic seamen.

XXXIII. If any seaman, whether British or Foreign, shall, wilfully and without leave or lawful excuse, absent himself from his vessel, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint upon oath, and at the instance of any of the officers of the said vessel, may issue his warrant to apprehend and detain the said seaman and convey him on board of his vessel; and whenever any seaman shall have been imprisoned, it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace, on the release of such seaman from imprisonment, to cause him to be conveyed on board of the Vessel to which he may belong.

Arms carried by persons without due authority.

XXXIV. No person, not being a soldier or sailor in the service of the Queen or the East India Company, or a Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be entitled to carry any sword, spear, gun, or other offensive weapon in any street, thoroughfare, or public place, unless by leave of the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and any person offending against this enactment shall be liable to be disarmed by any Constable or other person acting under such instructions as shall be from time to time given by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and the weapons so seized shall be taken before the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, and forfeited to the Government, if the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, in his discretion, shall think fit to declare them forfeited.

The regulation of carriages and persons at places of public resort.

XXXV. The Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police from time to time, and as occasion may require, may make regulations for keeping clear the public ghauts and landing stairs, and for the route to be observed in the public streets and places by all carts, carriages, palanquins, hackeries, and other vehicles, and by all horses, cattle and persons, and as to the times during which they may take the said routes, and for preventing obstruction of the streets and thoroughfares within the Town on all times of public processions and native holidays, as also during the time of Divine Service, and also may give directions to the Constables and other peace officers for keeping order and for preventing any obstruction of the thoroughfares in the immediate neighbourhood of any place of public resort, and in any case when the ghauts, landing-stairs, streets, or thoroughfares may be thronged or may be liable to be obstructed, and every person opposing or not obeying the orders so issued by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police shall be liable to be arrested and detained by the Police, and, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred rupees.

Police Officers taking Bribes.

XXXVI. Any Police Officer or Constable who shall ask for or take any bribe or unauthorized reward in consideration of his doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three months.

As to manufacture or possession of Gunpowder or Gun-cotton.

XXXVII. The Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation passed by the Governor General in Council on the 8th April 1802, and Section II. Act XVIII. of 1841, are hereby repealed. Any person who shall, within the limits of the said Town, manufacture gunpowder or gun-cotton, or who shall, without a licence for that purpose being first had and obtained from the Chief Magistrate, have in his possession in any house, shop, warehouse, or other building, at any one time, a greater quantity of gun-powder or gun-cotton for sale or otherwise than ten pounds, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of all such gun-powder or gun-cotton so manufactured or possessed, together with the vessel or receptacle in which it may be seized, and also to a fine not exceeding in amount the sum of rupees five hundred.

Chief Magistrate to grant licences for sale and deposit of gun-powder, &c.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate to grant to any person (whom he shall deem fit and proper) a licence for the sale or keeping in deposit, within the limits of the said Town, any quantity of imported or Indian manufactured gun-powder not exceeding fifty pounds, or any quantity of gun-cotton not exceeding twenty pounds, on such conditions as shall be specified in the licence, and any person who shall be guilty of a breach of any of such conditions, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of his licence and of all gun-powder or gun-cotton so kept in deposit contrary thereto, and also to a fine not exceeding rupees two hundred.

Licences to be in force for one year and to contain certain provisions.

XXXIX. Every such licence as is mentioned in the preceding Section shall be in force for a period of one year only and no longer, but shall be renewable by the said Chief Magistrate at his discretion on the same or any other terms and conditions, and such licence shall also provide for the transit and carrying of gun-powder from one place to another within the limits of the said Town, in such manner and in such quantity as shall be deemed advisable for the safety of the inhabitants and of property within the said Town, and every person offending against such provisions shall be liable to a fine not exceeding rupees fifty.

As to Search for Gunpowder, &c.

XL. Any Justice of the Peace, on credible information laid before him on oath or solemn affirmation, that gun-powder or gun-cotton or mixed materials for making the same, contrary to the provisions of this Act, are suspected to be stored, kept, or possessed by any person, may issue his warrant authorizing any Police Officer to search in the day-time any house, shop, magazine, or other building or place in which he has reasonable ground to suspect any gun-powder or gun-cotton to be manufactured, sold, or kept, or any boat, carriage, cart, or other vehicle in which any gun-powder or gun-cotton or materials for manufacturing the same may be suspected to be carried, or any person suspected of carrying the same contrary to such licence or to the provisions of this Act, and all gun-powder gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, found on such search shall, together with the vessels or receptacles in which they may be stored, be immediately seized and brought before a Justice of the Peace, with whom the same shall be kept till it shall be adjudged whether the same shall be forfeited.

Act not applicable to Government Powder, &c.

XLI. The four last preceding Sections shall not extend to any Government Magazine or store, or building for the making or deposit of gun-powder or gun-cotton under the authority or for the use of the Government, or to any gunpowder or gun-cotton for the use of Her Majesty's or the East India Company's Troops, or otherwise for the service of Government, or to any of Her Majesty's Vessels of War, or the Vessels of the Indian Navy, or of the East India Company's Marine, or to any other Vessel within the River Hooghly laden with gunpowder for importation or exportation.

As to Vessels arriving in River with Powder on board.

XLII. Commanders of merchant vessels entering the River Hooghly shall, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, deposit in the Magazine at that place all gun-powder intended for the Ship's use from on board their respective vessels, exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, which quantity they shall be permitted to retain in their vessels for the purpose of firing salutes or signals in case of distress, and the gun-powder so deposited shall be again delivered on board on the return of the respective vessels from Calcutta in prosecution of the outward voyage; and Commanders of merchant vessels in the River Hooghly having on board their vessels gun-powder or gun-cotton for importation (not being gunpowder belonging to the Government) exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, shall also deposit the same, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, in the Magazine of that place, under charge of an Officer belonging to the Customs at that place, or such other person as the Governor of Bengal may appoint, and the proprietors or consignees of such gun-powder or gun-cotton, or their agents, whenever they shall desire to remove the same from the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for authority to do so, which application, when it be intended that such gun-powder or gun-cotton shall be lodged in any place, or be laden in any boat or other conveyance within the limits of the said town, shall be accompanied by a written order of permission, signed by a Justice of the Peace to that effect, and when it be intended that such gun-powder or gun-cotton shall be exported by sea, the Commanders of vessels, or the proprietors, or their agents, by whom it shall have been deposited in the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for permission so to export it; and the Collector of Sea Customs shall comply with such applications aforesaid, except where the exportation of ammunition shall require, under provisions of Act XVIII. of 1841, a licence from a public Officer other than the Collector of Sea Customs, in which case the Collector of Sea Customs shall not comply with the application unless it be accompanied by the licence of such public Officer; and on or before the removal of all gun-powder or gun-cotton from the Magazine, the Collector of Sea Customs shall and he is hereby authorized to levy a fee, the rate of which shall not exceed two annas per pound, for all gun-powder or gun-cotton that has been lodged therein, which fee shall be taken to cover all charges for the safe custody of the gun-powder or gun-cotton during the period it has remained or shall remain in the Magazine; provided also, that the Governor of Bengal shall be at liberty to authorize such arrangement to be made by letting or otherwise contracting for the custody of the Magazine, and for the collection and appropriation of the fees which may be charged for gun-powder or gun-cotton stored therein, as he may think proper, subject however to all the restrictions and rules imposed by this Section in respect to the removal from the Magazine of gun-powder therein stored.

Penalties.

XLIII. For every act done or omitted to be done contrary to the provisions of the last preceding Section by the Commander of any merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, the Commander aforesaid shall, on conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace, be liable to a penalty of two hundred rupees: and the Collector of Sea Customs is hereby empowered to search for any quantity of gun-powder which he may have reason to believe to be on board a merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, contrary to the provisions of this Act, and to seize and detain it as forfeited to Government, to be dealt with as the Governor of Bengal shall think right to direct.

Jurisdiction of Justices on the River Hooghly.

XLIV. The jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace acting within and for the said Town shall extend to all offences committed by any person in sea-going vessels in any part of the River Hooghly, and the said Justices shall have the same power and jurisdiction in respect of criminal offences committed in sea-going vessels in any part of the said river, that they now have and exercise within the said Town.

Persons apprehended without warrant to be taken first to the Station-house, and if not admitted to bail, to the Police Office.

XLV. Every Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police is hereby authorized to arrest with a warrant any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, and every person taken into custody without warrant by any Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police shall be forthwith taken to the Station-house to which the Constable belongs, in order that such person may be detained, until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace to be dealt with according to law, or in order that such person may give bail for his appearance before a Justice of the Peace, if the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector at the Station shall deem it prudent to take bail in the manner hereinafter mentioned, which he is hereby authorized to do.

Power to take recognizances, at Station-houses or Police Lock-up on certain charges.

XLVI. Whenever any person is brought to the Station-house as aforesaid, charged with misdemeanor, assault, or with having carelessly done any hurt or damage, or whenever any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector of Police, or Town Serjeant in charge of a Police Lock-up, shall deem it probable that any person so brought is falsely or maliciously charged with having committed a felony, and any such person as aforesaid shall be, without the warrant of a Magistrate, in the custody of any Constable of the Calcutta Police, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent or any Deputy Superintendent of Police, if he shall deem it prudent, to enlarge such person on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, conditioned as hereinafter mentioned.

Condition of recognizance.

XLVII. Every recognizance so taken shall be without fee or reward, and shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person thereby bound before a Justice of the Peace at his next sitting, and the time and place of appearance and the sum thereby acknowledged (not exceeding one thousand rupees) shall be specified in the said recognizance, or the condition thereof; and the officer taking the recognizance shall enter into a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name, residence, and occupation of the party and his surety or sureties (if any) entering into such recognizance, together with the condition thereof, and the sum thereby acknowledged, and shall return every such recognizance to the Justice present at the time and place, and when, and where the party is bound to appear, and the said recognizance may be in either of the forms as the case may be, in Schedule (A) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect.

Amends may be awarded for false or malicious charges.

XLVIII. In every case in which any person shall be given in charge to a Constable, or in which any information or complaint of any offence shall be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace, and it shall appear to the Justice by whom the case shall be heard that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Justice, at his discretion, to award such amends not more than the sum of fifty rupees, to be paid by the informer to the party informed or complained against, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as to the Justice shall seem meet.

Offences how to be tried.

XLIX. Every Justice of the Peace shall be empowered summarily to hear and determine every complaint of an offence committed against this Act, and to convict any person charged with any such offence on the oath of one or more witnesses, or by his own confession, and to award the penalty or punishment herein provided for such offence.

Justices may proceed by summons, and if party does not appear may issue warrant.

L. Upon any information or complaint to be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace (which complaint need not be made upon oath) of any matter which such Justice is authorized to hear and determine, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, he may summon the party charged, and if such party shall not appear according to the tenor of the summons, the Justice, upon proof of the service of the summons, may proceed, in all cases which are not of a criminal nature, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the party, to hear and determine the case in the absence of the party, and in all criminal cases shall issue his warrant for apprehending and bringing such party before him, or some other Justice, in order that the said information and complaint may be heard and determined.

How summons may be served.

LI. Every such summons may be served by delivering it or a copy thereof to the party or to his wife, servant, or some inmate of his dwelling, or by delivering it at or affixing it to the door or wall of his usual place of abode.

Justices may issue warrant without summons.

LII. A Justice of the Peace may, without issuing any summons, forthwith issue his warrant for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, whenever good grounds for so doing shall be stated on oath before him.

May enforce attendance of witnesses.

LIII. Any Justice may summon any witness to appear and give evidence upon the matter of any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, with which any person shall be charged before him, at a time and place appointed for hearing the information or complaint, and, by warrant under his hand and seal, may require any person to be brought before him who shall neglect or refuse to give evidence at the time and place appointed on such summons, proof upon oath being first given of personal service of the summons upon the person against whom such warrant shall be granted, and such Justice may commit any person coming or brought before him who shall refuse to give evidence, to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or until such person shall sooner submit himself to be examined, and in case of such submission the order of such Justice shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of such person.

Power to Magistrates to order prisoners to be brought up to the Police Office.

LIV. When any Justice of the Peace is desirous of examining any prisoner confined in the Great Gaol or House of Correction as a witness or defendant, with respect to any charge, case, or proceeding pending before him, it shall be lawful for such Justice to issue an order in the form contained in Schedule (B) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, addressed to the keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named, to the Police Office, for examination, and the keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, on the receipt of such order, shall act in accordance therewith, and shall take care for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from prison for the purpose aforesaid.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

LV. All penalties and forfeitures and other sums of money imposed, awarded, or ordered to be paid by any Justice of the Peace under the authority of this Act, and all sums of money which any person is bound to pay under any recognizance taken before a Justice of the Peace or an officer of Police empowered to take recognizances by this Act and afterwards forfeited, in case of non-payment thereof, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or person liable to pay the same, by warrant under the hand of any Justice of the Peace, and in case any such penalty or forfeiture or sum of money shall not be forthwith paid, any Justice may order the party to be detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such Justice for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and the Justice may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise; and if upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no such sufficient distress could be had whereon to levy the said penalty, or forfeiture, or sum of money, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Justice, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty, forfeiture, or sum of money could be levied if warrant of distress should be issued, the Justice, by warrant under his hand, may commit such party to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, there to remain for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Convictions to be quashed on merits only. Form of Conviction, &c

LVI. No conviction, order, or judgment of any Justice of the Peace shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, the evidence on which it proceeds; but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment, in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions.

LVII. In the construction of this Act the following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the context or subject repugnant to such construction; that is to say,—

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "Town" shall include the Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Justice" or "Justices of the Peace" shall mean the Justices of the Peace for the time being acting within and for the said Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Oath" shall mean any oath or solemn affirmation in lieu of an oath.

E. F.

Justice of the Peace.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th February, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 27th of February 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT NO. XIV. OF 1852.

An Act for extending the provisions of Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, to the Straits Settlement.

Whereas doubts have been entertained whether Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, are in force in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca; It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. The provisions of Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, shall be applicable and in force in the said Settlement.

II. All provisions contained in Act XXIV. of 1841, and Act XVII. of 1843, relating to Her Majesty's Supreme Courts, shall be applicable to the Court of Judicature of the said Settlement, and shall be respectively construed as if, instead of the words Her Majesty's Supreme Courts, or Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of the respective Presidencies, or the Supreme Court of each of the Presidencies, the words, "the Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca," had been therein mentioned.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 20th February 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time, on the 20th February 1852.

ACT NO. —— OF 1852.

An Act for the Registration of Assurances in the Territories under the Government of the East India Company.

Whereas the laws now in force in the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, relating to the Registration of Assurances, require amendment, It is hereby enacted as follows:

Regulations repealed by this Act.

I. Regulations XXXVI. of 1793, XXVIII. of 1795, XVII. of 1803, Section XVII. Regulation VIII. of 1805, so far as it relates to Regulation XVII. of 1803, Section XXXII., Regulation XII. of 1805 and Regulations XX. of 1812 and IV. of 1824 of the Bengal Code; Regulations XVII. of 1802 and XI. of 1831 of the Madras Code, and Regulation IX. of 1827 of the Bombay Code; and Acts XXX. of 1838, I. of 1843, XIX. of 1843, IV. of 1845 and XVIII. of 1847 are hereby repealed with respect to each of the Presidencies aforesaid from and after the commencement of Registration under this Act in such Presidencies respectively, but not so as to revive any other Regulation or Act thereby repealed.

Public Register Offices to be established.

II. One public office shall be established in each of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Agra and Singapore, for the purposes of this Act, to be called "The Chief Register Office"; and one public office shall be established in each of the Districts to be formed and assigned as hereinafter mentioned, for the purposes of this Act, to be called "The District Register Office."

Proper buildings to be provided by Government.

III. The Government of each Presidency or place within the said Territories shall provide and appoint, from time to time, proper buildings for such offices, in convenient places in such Towns and Districts.

Certain Registrars to be appointed by each Government.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Government of each Presidency or place, from time to time, to appoint for the said Chief Register Office, a Registrar, to be called the Chief Registrar, and an Assistant to such Chief Registrar, to be called "The Assistant Registrar," and it shall also be lawful for the said Government respectively, from time to time, to appoint, for each of the said District Offices, a Registrar, to be called "The District Registrar."

Registrars to appoint their Clerks.

V. It shall be lawful for each of the said Chief Registrars and District Registrars to appoint for their respective offices such Clerks and subordinate Officers as may be allowed by the Government of each Presidency or place, and may be necessary for the execution of the duties to be performed in such offices, and at pleasure to remove them or any of them.

Qualification of Registrars.

VI. Every Chief Registrar to be appointed as aforesaid shall be a Barrister at Law, or an Advocate of the Court of Sessions in Scotland, or a Solicitor of one of Her Majesty's Courts in India, or shall have acted as an Assistant or District Registrar for a period of seven years at least.

Provision in case of temporary vacancy in the Office of District Registrar.

VII. In case of the illness, death, or temporary absence of a District Registrar, or during any temporary vacancy in the Office of such District Registrar, it shall be lawful for the Civil Judge of the said District to appoint such person as he shall think fit to act as District Registrar during such illness, absence, or temporary vacancy as aforesaid.

Registrars and Clerks to give Security.

VIII. Every Chief Registrar, Assistant Registrar and District Registrar, and such of the Clerks and subordinate Officers, to be appointed as aforesaid as the Government of each Presidency or place shall see fit, shall give Security for the due performance of the duties of his or their respective Office or Offices, in such manner and to such amount as the said Governments shall respectively deem fit.

Seal to be kept and the Impressions to be taken judicial notice of.

IX. Each of the said Registrars and District Registrars shall have and keep a Seal, and such Seal shall be supplied to each of the said Offices by the Government of the Presidency or place in which such Offices are respectively situate, and judicial notice shall be taken in all Courts of the impressions thereof, without any evidence of such Seal having been impressed, or any other evidence in relation thereto.

Each Presidency to be divided into Districts.

X. After the first appointment of the Chief Registrars aforesaid, the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place in the said Territories shall, with all convenient speed, (with the consent of the Government thereof) divide such Presidency or place into Districts for the purposes of this Act, and the said Districts shall be of such extent as may, in his opinion, be convenient for facilitating searches in the separate Registers and Indexes to be kept as hereinafter mentioned for such Districts respectively.

The different Register Offices to be provided with proper books.

XI. The Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place shall, at the expense of the Government of such Presidency or place, provide the Chief Register Office and each District Register Office therein with proper books for the Registers, Indexes and Receipts hereinafter mentioned.

Commencement of the Registration.

XII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, by notice published in the Government Gazette, to appoint a time not earlier than three calendar months from the time of the publication of such notice, when Registration under this Act shall commence; and the time so appointed shall be the time of the commencement of Registration under this Act.

Assurances affecting lands to be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District where lands are situate.

XIII. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by which any lands in the said Territories may be affected at Law or in Equity (except such Assurances as in Section XIV. mentioned) may be registered under this Act by the deposit of the original document, or, where there are duplicate original documents, of one of the duplicate original documents, in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, and by the entry or entries hereinafter required being made in the proper Index or Indexes to be kept under this Act in such Office, and the several documents to be deposited in such Office shall, from time to time, be made up into books or parcels, and numbered and arranged, with references to the said Indexes, in such manner as the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place may direct, and the said books or parcels shall be called "The Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands."

Leases for seven years and less to be registered in "the Register of Leases" of the District in which lands are situate.

XIV. After the commencement of Registration under this Act, all leases or agreements for leases of any lands of any tenure, for any time not exceeding seven years, to commence from the date of such lease or agreement, or from any time not exceeding twelve calendar months from the date of such lease or agreement, in which a Rent shall be reserved or agreed to be reserved, or any Assurance, by which any such lease or agreement shall be assigned or otherwise affected, may be registered under this Act by the deposit of the original document, or when there are duplicate original documents, of one of the original documents, in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, and by the entry or entries hereinafter required being made in the proper Index or Indexes to be kept under this Act in such Offices, and the several documents to be deposited in such Office under this Section shall, from time to time, be made up in parcels or books and numbered and arranged, with references to the said Indexes, in such manner as the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place may direct, and the said books or parcels shall be called "The Register of Leases."

Assurances affecting money or moveable property to be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which Assurance is made.

XV. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by which any money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity, shall be registered under this Act by the deposit of the original document, or, where there are duplicate original documents, of one of the duplicate original documents in the Register Office of the District in which such Assurance is made, and by the entry or entries hereinafter required being made in the proper Index or Indexes to be kept under this Act in such Office; and the several documents to be deposited in such Office shall, from time to time, be made up into books or parcels, and numbered and arranged, with references to the said Indexes, in such manner as the Chief Registrar of such Presidency or place may direct, and the said books or parcels shall be called "The General Register." Any such Assurance may also be registered in manner aforesaid in the Register Office of any other District where any other Assurance affecting the same money or moveable property is registered.

When Assurances affect both lands and money.

XVI. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by which any lands in the said Territories and also money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity, shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands," unless such lands are so affected by way of lease or agreement for lease only, in which case such Assurances shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the General Register," and all such Assurances registered in "the General Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" shall be indexed as hereinafter provided by Section L. of this Act.

Assurances to be marked by Registrar with date of deposit.

XVII. Every Assurance registered as hereinmentioned shall be marked by the District Registrar of the Office in which the same is registered, with the day and time of the day when the same was deposited as aforesaid.

One of duplicate Assurances need not be stamped if registered, and certain other documents need not be stamped.

XVIII. Where there are duplicate original Assurances and one duplicate thereof is duly stamped, the other duplicate shall be exempted from stamp duty if registered under this Act; but the Registrar, before he registers any unstamped Assurance, shall satisfy himself that the duplicate thereof is duly stamped, and all memorials and copies to be registered pursuant to this Act, and all copies and extracts of or from any of the documents to be deposited in the Register Office, and all extracts from any of the Indexes to be kept at the Register Office, and all certificates of the result of searches in the said Indexes, and all requisitions for such copies, extracts and searches respectively, shall be exempt from stamp duty.

Receipts to be given for Assurances deposited.

XIX. Every person who deposits an Assurance for Registration as aforesaid shall be entitled to receive from the Registrar of the Office in which the same is deposited, a receipt acknowledging such deposit and the day and time of the day when it was made, the date of the Assurance, the names of the parties thereto, and the entries in the proper Index or Indexes in which the same has been indexed. The Government of each Presidency or place shall furnish each District Registrar therein with receipt books for this purpose, and the receipts therein shall be according to the forms in Schedule (A.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, as the case may be, and every such receipt and the counterfoil thereof shall be numbered in order from the beginning to the end of the book, each receipt and the counterfoil thereof bearing the same number, and the Registrar shall sign both the receipt and the counterfoil thereof, and shall cut off and deliver to the depositer the counterfoil receipt on the right hand of the said receipt book, retaining the other receipt in the book for reference in the Office.

Deeds to be registered only in the District where lands affected thereby are situate. In the case of moveable property in the District where Assurance is made.

XX. All Assurances executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, and mentioned and described in Sections XIII. and XIV. shall be registered in the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands, or in "the Register of Leases," as the case may be, of the District in which the lands are situate, and in the Registers of no other Districts, and every Assurance not affecting lands but only money or moveable property shall be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which such Assurance is made, and also, if the parties think fit, in "the General Register" of any other District where any other Assurance affecting the same money or moveable property is registered.

Decrees affecting lands may be registered.

XXI. Every decree or order of any Court made after the commencement of Registration under this Act, whereby any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories is created, declared, transferred, or otherwise affected, and also every decree or order of any Court, made after such commencement, by which any suit, decree, or order as aforesaid is varied or reversed, shall for the purposes of this Act be considered an Assurance affecting such lands, and may be registered as aforesaid in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" or in "the Register of Leases," as the case may be, of the District in which such lands are situate, and in every such case the document to be deposited shall be a memorial of the decree or order, which memorial shall express the date of the decree or order, and the title of the cause wherein the same purports to be made, and shall also set forth the decree, or order, or so much thereof as relates to the estate or interest created, declared, transferred, or affected by the decree or order to be registered, or by the decree or order which is varied or reversed by the decree or order to be registered (as the case may be), and every such memorial as aforesaid shall, previously to the same being deposited in the Register Office, be examined with the decree or order by the Registrar or by some Clerk authorized to give out an office copy of such decree or order, and shall be certified by the signature of such Registrar or Clerk, and every such Registrar or Clerk is hereby required to examine any such memorial and to certify the same by his signature, at the request of any person upon being paid the sum of one rupee and eight annas.

Decrees affecting moveable property may be registered.

XXII. Every decree or order of any Court, made after the commencement of Registration under this Act, whereby any right or interest in money or moveable property only is created, declared, transferred, or otherwise affected, and also every decree or order of any Court, made after such commencement, by which any such decree or order as aforesaid is varied or reversed, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered an Assurance, and may be registered as aforesaid in "the General Register" of the District in which such Court is situate, and, if the party registering such decree shall think fit, in "the General Register" of any other District where any other Assurance affecting the same money or moveable property is registered, and in every such case the document deposited shall be a memorial of the decree or order, which shall be in such form, and shall contain the same particulars as are required by the last Section with respect to memorials of decrees affecting lands, and every such memorial as aforesaid shall be examined by such persons, and in such manner, and upon payment of such charge, as is provided by the last Section.

Equitable mortgage by deposit of deeds may be registered.

XXIII. Any person claiming any interest under any equitable mortgage affecting any lands in the said Territories, made by deposit of Title Deeds, after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may register in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, a memorandum containing a description of the lands and the names of persons by and with whom respectively the Title Deeds are deposited, and expressing the principal sum of money secured by such equitable mortgage, or, in case the total amount of the principal money secured or to be ultimately recoverable upon such equitable mortgage be limited not to exceed a given sum, the total amount of such money, or, in case the money secured by such equitable mortgage be without any limit, that the money secured by such equitable mortgage is unlimited, and, in every such case, the memorandum to be so registered shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered an Assurance affecting such lands, and shall be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands."

Liens by reason of non-payment of purchase-money may be registered by depositing a memorandum.

XXIV. Where by reason of the non-payment of purchase-money a vendor has, after the commencement of Registration under this Act, acquired a lien for such purchase-money on any lands in the said Territories, any person claiming an interest in such lien may register a memorandum containing such particulars of the conveyance by the vendor as are sufficient to identify the same, and also containing a description of the lands, and expressing the amount of the money for which a lien is claimed, and in every such case the memorandum to be so registered shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered an Assurance affecting such lands, and shall be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate.

The Assurance to be considered to have been made by the person whose right, &c., in the lands, &c., shall be bound by the decree, &c.

XXV. In the several cases provided for by the four immediately preceding Sections, the Assurance to be registered shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered to have been made by the person whose right or interest in the lands or property shall be bound or affected by the decree or order, the equitable mortgage, or the lien (as the case may be) and subject to the Regulations to be made under this Act, the same entry or entries shall be made on registering such Assurances as would have been required if the lands or property affected by the decree or order, the equitable mortgage, or the lien (as the case may be) had been so affected by the grant, conveyance, or assignment of such person.

Registration of Wills.

XXVI. Any Will by which lands in the said Territories may be affected at Law or in Equity, where the testator dies after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may be registered by the deposit of the original Will, or (where there are duplicate original Wills) of one of the duplicate original Wills in the Register Office of the District in which such lands are situate, and any Will by which only money or moveable property is affected, where the testator dies as aforesaid, may be registered by the deposit of the original Will, or (where there are duplicate original Wills) of one of the duplicate original Wills, in the Register Office of the District in which the testator died; or if any such Will as aforesaid be proved, or Letters of Administration with such Will annexed be granted in any Court in the said Territories having jurisdiction for the Probate of Wills, and such Will be deposited in such Court, the same may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the proper Register Office as aforesaid of a memorial of such Will, mentioning the name of the testator with his addition (if any) as set forth in the Will, and the Court in which, and the time when, such Will was proved or such Letters of Administration granted, or by the deposit in such Office of an office or authenticated copy of the Will duly certified by the Registrar or other Chief Officer of the Court in which such Will was proved or Letters of Administration granted; or if such Will be proved, or Letters of Administration with such Will annexed be granted in any Court having jurisdiction for the Probate of Wills in the United Kingdom, or elsewhere out of the said Territories, such Will may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the proper Register Office as aforesaid of a copy of the same: and the copy to be so deposited shall, where there is any Officer authorized to give out an office or authenticated copy from the office or place of deposit of such Will, be an office or authenticated copy duly certified by such Officer, and all such Wills or Memorials by which lands in the said Territories are affected at Law or in Equity shall be considered as Assurances affecting such lands within the meaning of this Act, and may be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" and all such Wills or Memorials by which only money or moveable property is affected at Law or in Equity, shall also be deemed Assurances, and shall be registered in "the General Register."

Letters of Administration or Affidavit of Intestacy may be registered.

XXVII. Where any person, having power to affect by Will lands money, or moveable property in the said Territories, dies after the commencement of Registration under this Act, intestate, Letters of Administration or Certificates granted under Act XX. of 1841, in respect of the estate and effects of such person, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of an office extract of such Letters or Certificates, and any person who claims as heir, representative, or otherwise any estate, property, or interest in such lands, money, or moveable property which might have been defeated or affected by the Will of any person dying after the commencement of Registration under this Act, and believes such person to have died intestate, or intestate as to such lands, money, or moveable property, may make and register an Affidavit, hereinafter referred to as an Affidavit of intestacy, stating that the deponent claims such estate or interest, and stating the time of the death of such deceased person, and that the deponent believes that such deceased person died without a Will, or without any Will other than any Will in such affidavit mentioned; and all such Letters of Administration, Certificates, Extracts, and Affidavits relating to or in any way affecting any lands shall be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act, and shall be deposited and registered as hereinbefore directed in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate, and all such Letters of Administration, Certificates, Extracts and Affidavits, relating to or affecting only money or moveable property, shall also be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act, and shall be registered as hereinbefore directed in "the General Register" of the District where such deceased person as aforesaid died.

Authority to adopt a son may be registered.

XXVIII. Every written authority given by any husband to a wife to adopt after his decease any son, such authority being so given after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may be registered by the deposit of the original authority, or (where there are duplicate original authorities) of one of the duplicate original authorities, and every such written authority shall be deemed an Assurance. Where any estate or interest in land may be affected by virtue of such adoption, the written authority shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which the lands are situate, and where only interests in money or moveable property may be affected by such adoption, such written authority shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the General Register" of the District in which such husband died.

Where the original is lost, a copy or extract may be deposited.

XXIX. Where the original document or (if there be duplicates) the several original documents is or are destroyed or lost, a copy of or (in cases where no copy is known to exist) an extract from the original document, or of or from any one of the duplicate original documents, may, on registering the Assurance, be deposited in the Register Office in lieu of an original document, and thereupon the Registration of the Assurance shall (so far as respects depositing a document) be as valid and effectual as if an original document had been deposited in the Register Office; provided always, that in every such case an Affidavit of the destruction or loss of the original document, or (if there have been duplicate originals) of the destruction or loss of the several original documents, and (where an extract only is deposited) of the non-existence, to the best of the deponent's belief, of any copy of the original document or of any one of the original documents (as the case may be) shall be brought to the Register Office with the said copy or extract to be deposited as aforesaid, and shall be deposited together with the same in the Register Office. Provided always, that in the case of a copy or extract, the Registration of an Assurance shall be effectual only so far as such copy or extract extends, and so far as the same substantially and in material respects agrees with the original document.

In case of an extract the Registration to be effectual only as far as the extract agrees with the original.

Where order or rule for delivery of any document to be registered is not complied with, the order or rule may be registered in lieu thereof.

XXX. Where any order or rule is made by any Judge or Court as hereinafter mentioned respecting the delivery or sending of any document, or copy, or extract, at or to a Register Office for the purpose of being registered, and the same is not delivered or sent within such time as by such order or rule may be limited in that behalf, such order or rule may be registered in the Register Office, and the registration thereof shall be of the like force and effect as the registration of such document, copy, or extract.

Petitions for adjudication of Insolvency and appointment of Assignees may be registered.

XXXI. Every petition for adjudication of Insolvency in the said Territories filed of record after the commencement of Registration under this Act, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of a memorandum, mentioning the Court in which, and the time when, such petition was filed, and the name and place of residence or business of the person against whom such petition is presented, as the same are set forth in the petition, and by the entry hereinafter required being made in the proper Index to be kept in the Register Office; and every appointment or choice of Assignees of any Insolvent in the said Territories made after such commencement, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of the District in which such Assignees are appointed of an office copy of the Certificate of such appointment or choice, and by the entry hereinafter required being made in the said Index; and all such memoranda and copies as aforesaid shall be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act. Where any lands may be affected at Law or in Equity by such adjudication or appointment as aforesaid, the same shall be registered as hereinbefore mentioned in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate; and where only money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity by such adjudication or appointment, the same shall be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which such petition is to be adjudicated.

Any order or appointment, &c., of Assignees in Insolvency may be registered by deposit of a copy or certificate, and making the proper entry.

XXXII. Where by virtue of any vesting or other order made after the commencement of Registration under this Act by any Court, Commissioner, or Judge in the said Territories having jurisdiction in that behalf,—or of any nomination, appointment, or choice of any Official or other Assignee made after such commencement by such Court, Commissioner, or Judge, or by the Creditors of any Insolvent Debtor,—the Estate and Effects of any Insolvent Debtor become vested in any such Assignee, every such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, may be registered under this Act by the deposit in the Register Office of an office or authenticated copy or certificate of such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, and by the entry hereinafter required being made in the proper Index in the Register Office; and all such copies and certificates shall be deemed Assurances within the meaning of this Act; and where any lands may be affected at Law or in Equity by such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, the same shall be registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District where such lands are situate; and where only money or moveable property may be affected at Law or in Equity by such order, nomination, appointment, or choice, the same shall be registered in "the General Register" of the District in which such order, nomination, appointment, or choice is made.

Inhibitions and Caveats may be Registered.

XXXIII. All requisitions for Inhibitions against alienation hereinafter mentioned, and the respective Affidavits delivered therewith, and all Caveats hereinafter mentioned, affecting any lands at Law or in Equity, shall be considered Assurances within the meaning of this Act, and may be registered by the deposit thereof in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands" of the District in which such lands are situate; and all requisitions for Inhibitions against alienation and the respective Affidavits delivered therewith, and all Caveats, affecting only money or moveable property, shall also be deemed Assurances, and may be registered by the deposit thereof in "the General Register" of the district in which the Assurance sought to be affected by any use, trust, or confidence mentioned in such requisition, or by any such Caveat, is or is about to be registered; and all such Affidavits delivered with such requisitions for Inhibitions shall be numbered in the respective Registers with the same number as the requisitions.

Shares in companies not to be affected.

XXXIV. None of the provisions of this Act shall extend to such Assurances relating to shares in any public or private works or undertaking of any Corporation, Company, or Society, as by virtue of any local or other Act, are required to be registered, or otherwise entered or minuted in the books of the Corporation, Company, or Society.

Bills of exchange and promissory notes not to be affected by this Act.

XXXV. None of the provisions of this Act shall be construed to extend to bills of Exchange or Promissory Notes.

Four Indexes shall be kept of "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands."

XXXVI. There shall be provided and kept in each District Register Office in the said Territories, four Indexes of "the Register of Title Deeds relating to Lands," to be respectively intituled, the Index of Titles, the Index of the Names of Grantors, the Index of Testators and Intestates, and the Index to Insolvents; and the said four Indexes shall respectively be made and kept as next hereinafter mentioned.

"Index of titles" of "the Register of "title deeds re- "lating to lands."

XXXVII. All Assurances to be registered under this Act, by which any lands may be affected as aforesaid, shall be indexed in "the Index of Titles" to the "Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," under heads to be respectively designated by numbers or names of Villages or Mehals or otherwise, as the Registrar may think fit; and every entry in the said Index shall express the year and the day of the month when the same is made, and the book or parcel in which the document deposited in the Register Office is made up, and the number of such document in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

The "index of "the name of grantors" to "the register of title deeds "relating to lands."

XXXVIII. "The Index of the names of Grantors" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands", shall be an alphabetical index of the names of such Grantors, and, save where otherwise provided by the regulations to be made under this Act, the name of the Grantor in the Assurance, with his addition (if any) as set forth therein, shall be entered in the Index of the names of Grantors for the district, and an entry shall be made opposite to the name so entered, which entry shall contain a reference to the head under which such Assurance is indexed in the Index of Titles, and where the lands affected by the Assurance are situate in more than one district, like entries shall be made in the Index of the names of Grantors for each such district..

The "index of "testators and intestates" to "the "register of title "deeds relating "to lands."

XXXIX. "The Index of Testators and Intestates" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands" shall be an alphabetical index of such testators and intestates, and where any will, letters of administration, certificate, or affidavit of intestacy is or are registered under this Act, an entry of the name of the testator or intestate, with his addition, if any, as set forth in the will, letters of administration, certificate or affidavit, shall be made in such index, and opposite to the name of every testator or intestate, whose name is so entered, an entry shall be made, expressing the year and day of the month when such entry is made, and the nature of the document deposited, and the book or parcel in which the will, memorial, copy, office extract of letters of administration, or certificate, or affidavit, is made up, and the number thereof in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

"The index of "insolvents"to"the "register of title "deeds relating to "lands."

XL. "The Index to Insolvents" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands" shall be an alphabetical index of such Insolvents, and where any petition for adjudication of Insolvency, appointment, or choice of Assignees, or any vesting or other order or nomination in any Insolvency, is registered under this Act, an entry of the name of the person against whom the petition is presented, or of the Insolvent, with the addition (if any) of such person or insolvent as set forth in the memorandum, copy, or certificate deposited as aforesaid, shall be made in the said Index to Insolvents; and opposite to the name of every Insolvent whose name is so entered an entry shall be made, expressing the year and day of the month when the same entry is made, and the book or parcel in which the said memorandum, copy, or certificate has been made up, and the number of the same in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

Maps may be made or adopted by Government &c., "land index" formed with reference to such maps.

XLI. The Government of each Presidency or place may cause to be provided for the several districts therein, such Maps as they may approve and deem sufficient for the purposes of registration under this Act, and for providing such Maps may cause to be made or adopted copies, with such additions, omissions, or variations, as they may think fit, of such of the Maps made for the Revenue Survey, or by the Trigonometrical Survey, or of such other existing Maps as they may think sufficient, or may cause, in any case, new Maps to be made for the whole or part of any district; and the Maps to be provided or adopted as aforesaid shall be deposited and kept in the respective District Register Offices, and shall be used for the purposes of this Act; and the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place respectively, with the consent of the Government thereof, shall cause to be made for each district an Index or Indexes, in such form as he may approve, of the several lands in the district, having reference to the Map or Maps thereof to be used for the purposes of this Act, and shall make provisions and Regulations for insertion from time to time, in the Indexes for the several districts, of the names or short descriptions of the Villages or other estates of whatever tenure therein respectively as cannot be conveniently indicated by reference to such Maps; and the Index or Indexes so to be made for each district shall be deposited and kept in the district Register Office, and shall be "the Land Index" of such District for the purposes of this Act; and from and after the period when such Maps are provided, and such Index or Indexes having references thereto are made as aforesaid in any district, it shall and may be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place (with the consent of the Government thereof), in his discretion, to make regulations for the discontinuance in such district of "the Index of Titles" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands."

Entries made in "the land index" to contain references to "the index of titles," if the latter Index is continued.

XLII. In districts where a Land Index is made and an Index of Titles is also continued, if an entry of an Assurance is made in the Index of Titles, an entry shall be made in "the Land Index" for the same district, opposite to the name or number of such land, which entry in the Land Index shall contain a reference to the entry in the Index of Titles, and the said Land Index shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

Two Indexes to be kept of "the Register of Leases."

XLIII. There shall be provided and kept in each District Register Office in the said Territories, two Indexes of "the Register of Leases," to be respectively intituled "the Index of Titles" and "the Index of Lessors," and the said two Indexes shall respectively be made and kept as next hereinafter mentioned.

"Index of Titles" to "the Register of Leases."

XLIV. All Leases or agreements for Leases, or other Assurances by which such Leases or Agreements shall be assigned or affected, shall be Indexed in "the Index of Titles" to "the Register of Leases," under heads, to be respectively designated by numbers, or names of Villages, or Estates, or otherwise as the District Registrar may think fit, or as may be directed by the Regulations hereinafter mentioned; and every entry in such Index shall express the year and day of the month when the same is made, and the book or parcel in which the document deposited in the Register Office is made up, and the number of such document in such book or parcel, and such other particulars as under any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed.

"Index of the "names of Lessors" to "the Register of Leases."

XLV. "The Index of the names of Lessors" to "the Register of Leases" shall be an alphabetical Index of the names of such Lessors, and the name of the Lessor in the Lease or assignment, with his addition, if any, as set forth therein, shall be entered in such Index, and an entry shall be made, opposite to the name to be so entered, which entry shall contain a reference to the head under which such Lease is indexed in the Index of Titles, and such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned may be directed; and when the lands affected by such Lease are situate in more than one district, like entries shall be made in the Index of each such district.

Three indexes to be kept of the General Register.

XLVI. There shall be provided and kept in each District Register Office in the said Territories, three Indexes of "the General Register," to be respectively intituled, the Index of the names of Grantors, the Index to Testators and Intestates, and the Index to Insolvents, and the said three Indexes shall respectively be made and kept as next hereinafter mentioned.

The "Index of "the names of Grantors" to "the General Register."

XLVII. The "Index of the names of Grantors" to "the General Register," shall be an alphabetical Index of such Grantors, and, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made under this Act, shall be made and kept in the manner and form hereinbefore provided for the making and keeping of the "Index of the names of Grantors," to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands" or as near thereto as circumstances will permit, and shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned shall be directed.

The "Index of "Testators and Intestates" to "the General Register."

XLVIII. "The Index of Testators and Intestates" to "the General Register" shall be an alphabetical Index of such Testators and Intestates, and, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made under this Act, shall be made and kept in the manner and form hereinbefore provided for the making and keeping of "the Index of Testators and Intestates" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," or as near thereto as circumstances will admit, and shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned shall be directed.

The "Index of "Insolvents" to "the General Register."

XLIX. "The Index of Insolvents" to "the General Register," shall be an alphabetical Index of such Insolvents, and, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made under this Act, shall be made and kept in the manner and form hereinbefore provided for the making and keeping of "the Index of Insolvents" to "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," or as near thereto as circumstances will admit, and shall contain such other particulars as under any Regulation to be made as hereinafter mentioned shall be directed.

Assurances affecting both lands and moveable property to be indexed in the proper Indexes of both Registers.

L. All Assurances by which any lands and also money or moveable property are affected, and registered in "the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands," according to Section XVI. of this Act, shall be indexed in the proper Indexes to "the General Register," as well as in the proper Indexes of the "Register of Title Deeds relating to lands."

Appointments of new Trustees and other like Assurances may be indexed in the "Index of Testators and Intestates."

LI. On the registration of any Assurance made by an heir at law or other person, by way of confirmation of a Will which has been registered under this Act, or of any appointment of new Trustees under any such Will, or of any release or assurance of any lands or charges on lands comprised in or affected by any such will, which, in the opinion of the Registrar, may be conveniently indexed with reference to such Will, the Registrar may cause to be entered in "the Index to Testators and Intestates," opposite to or in connexion with the entry in relation to such Will, a reference to the head or entry under which such Assurance, appointment, or release is entered in the Index of Titles.

Entries to be made immediately on receipt of document, and no Assurance registered until entries made.

LII. Each District Registrar shall cause the entries required to be made on registering or indexing any Assurance under this Act to be made immediately after the Assurance is received at the Register Office, and no Assurance shall be deemed registered under this Act unless and until all the entries required under this Act in respect of such Assurance have been duly made; provided that when, upon the registration under this Act of an Assurance affecting lands, all the entries which would be required for such registration have been duly made with respect to part only of the lands affected thereby, such Assurance shall, as to the lands with respect to which such entries have been so made, but not as to the residue of the lands affected by such Assurance, be deemed duly registered under this Act.

Assurance duly entered as to part only of the lands to be deemed duly registered as to such part.

Any person claiming under an Assurance may compel the registration thereof by application to a Judge.

LIII. Any person having an interest in any lands, money, or moveable property in the said Territories, under any Assurance by this Act authorized to be registered, which has not been registered, may require any person in possession of the original document, or, (where the original document or the several original documents is or are lost) a copy of, or (in cases where no copy is known to exist) an extract from the original document, or of or from any of the original documents, to deliver or send the same at or to the proper Register Office, for the purpose of its being registered; and in case the person in whose possession the same shall be refuse so to do, it shall be lawful for any Judge of any Court of Civil Judicature, upon a summary application, to make such order respecting the delivery or sending of such document, or copy, or extract as aforesaid at or to the proper Register Office for the purpose aforesaid as to such Judge, in the exercise of his discretion, shall, under the circumstances of the case, appear proper: and on non-compliance with any such order or rule the same may be registered as in Section XXX. hereinbefore mention. Provided always, that this enactment shall not authorize any person to require or enforce the registration of any Assurance, or copy, or extract of an Assurance, affecting lands at Law or in Equity, in case any Agreement or Provision has been made for the non-registration of such Assurance by him, or by any person from or through whom he derives an interest under such Assurance.

Judge may make order as to costs, and may order office copy to be furnished at the expense of the applicant.

LIV. It shall be lawful for the Judge, to whom any such application is made, to make such order respecting the costs of such application, and the costs incidental thereto, and the costs of registration, as to such Judge shall seem proper; and it shall also be lawful for such Judge, if he think fit, to order that an office copy of the original document, copy, or extract to be delivered or sent as aforesaid, shall be furnished to the party by whom the same shall be so delivered or sent, at the expense of the party by whom the application is made.

Appeals from such orders.

LV. Provided always, that where any Judge of Her Majesty's Courts or of the Courts of Sudder Adawlut makes or refuses to make any such order as aforesaid, application may be made to the whole Court of which he is a Judge to rescind or vary such order, or to make such order as the case may require, and such Court shall hear and determine the matter of such application; and where any Judge of a Small Cause Court makes or refuses to make any such order, application may be made to Her Majesty's Court having jurisdiction in the Town where such Small Cause Court is situate; and where any other Judge makes or refuses to make any such order, application may be made to the Sudder Adawlut of the Presidency in which such Judge has jurisdiction, to rescind or vary such order, or to make such order as the case may require, and the said Courts of Her Majesty and Sudder Adawlut, as the case may be, shall respectively hear and determine the matter of such application.

Assurances affecting lands authorized to be registered to be void as against purchasers unless registered.

LVI. Every Assurance by this Act authorized to be registered, other than a Will, decree, or order, shall (so far as regards any lands in the said Territories to be affected thereby) be void as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any subsequent Assurance duly registered, unless the prior Assurance have been registered in the manner directed by this Act before the registration of the subsequent Assurance.

Equitable mortgage by deposit of Deeds, and lien for purchase-money, to be void as against purchasers, unless Memorandum registered.

LVII. Where any equitable mortgage affecting lands in the said Territories is made by the deposit of Title Deeds after such commencement of Registration, and where, by reason of the non-payment of purchase-money, a vendor has, at any time after such commencement of Registration, acquired a lien for such purchase-money on any lands in the said Territories, such equitable mortgage and lien respectively shall be void as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any subsequent Assurance duly registered, unless, in the respective case of such equitable mortgage and lien, such Memorandum, as is hereinbefore in such respective cases authorized to be registered, be registered in the manner required by this Act before the registration of the subsequent Assurance.

Un-registered Will to be void against purchaser from persons enti-

LVIII. Where any Will, Letters of Administration, Certificate, or Affidavit of Intestacy, authorized to be registered under this Act, has or have been duly registered, tled under a registered Will, or, in default of a Will, where Letters of Administration or Affidavit of Intestacy registered.

every other Will authorized to be registered under this Act, made by the person by whom such first-mentioned Will was made, or in respect of whose Estate and Effects such Letters of Administration or Certificate were granted, or with respect to whose Intestacy or alleged Intestacy such Affidavit was made, shall, so far as regards any lands in the said Territories, be void as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any Assurance duly registered under this Act, made after the death of the Testator by any person claiming immediately or derivatively under such first-mentioned Will, or such Letters of Administration or Certificate, or by any other person by whom such Assurance might, have been made if such other Will as aforesaid had not been executed, unless such other Will be registered before the registration of such Assurance or such first mentioned Will, Letters of Administration, Certificate or Affidavit. Provided always, that every Will registered within two years after the death of the testator, shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after the death of the testator: Provided also, that if, by reason of the concealment, suppression, or contesting of any Will, or other inevitable difficulty, any person interested thereunder be disabled from registering the same within such two years, and such person, or any person on his behalf, within such last-mentioned period, make and register, in manner herein directed, an Affidavit, stating the name and addition of the testator, the date of his death, and the impediment to the registration of such Will which may be existing at the time of making such Affidavit, then and in such case the registration of such Will in manner directed by this Act, within six calendar months next after all impediments to the Registration thereof are removed, shall, unless before such registration the registration of such Affidavit be cancelled under the provision hereinafter contained, be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after the death of the testator; and such Affidavit as aforesaid shall be deposited in the Register Office, and shall be made up and numbered in like manner as hereinbefore directed concerning registered Wills, and the like entries shall be made in relation to such Affidavit in the "Index to Testators and Intestates" as in the case of a registered Will, save that in describing the document deposited, the same shall be called an Affidavit of a Will: Provided always, that where an Affidavit of a Will is registered under the provision lastly hereinbefore contained, it shall be lawful for the Court of Civil Judicature of the district in the Register Office of which the same is registered, upon the application, by motion or petition in a summary way, without bill or plaint filed, of any person claiming as Heir, Executor, Administrator, Representative, or otherwise any estate or interest in lands, money, or moveable property in the said Territories which might have been defeated or affected by the Will of the person in respect of whose Will or alleged Will such affidavit is made, in case it appear to the said Court that such affidavit was made and registered without due cause, or that the cause for making and registering the same has ceased, or otherwise that the registration of such affidavit should be cancelled, to order such cancellation accordingly; and it shall be lawful for such Court on any such application to award such costs, and generally to make such order in relation to the premises, as to such Court may seem fit, and the Registrar shall, where such Court orders such registration to be cancelled, cancel the entries in the Index in relation to such affidavit.

Registration of Will within two years after Testator's death effectual.

If concealment of Will contested, party interested may register an affidavit as to Will.

Court may order Registration of Affidavit of a Will to be cancelled.

LIX. Where the first vesting or other order, or nomination, appointment, or choice of any Assignees in any Insolvency, under which the estate and effects of the Insolvent becomes vested in any Assignees or Trustee under the Insolvency, is made after the commencement of registration under this Act, such Insolvency, or any vesting or other order, nomination, appointment, or choice of Assignees thereunder, shall not, as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any Assurance duly registered under this Act, made by the Insolvent or any other person by whom the same might have been made if such Insolvency had not happened, invalidate or affect such Assurance, so far as regards any lands in the said Territories, unless some such vesting or other order, or nomination, appointment, or choice of Assignees, as is authorized to be registered under this Act, be duly registered before the registration of such Assurance as aforesaid, or within one calendar month after the date of the order, nomination, appointment, or choice under which the estate and effects of the Insolvent have become vested in any Assignee or Trustee under the Insolvency.

Purchasers protected against Insolvency, unless appointment of Assignees, &c., be registered.

LX. No Assurance by an Insolvent affecting lands in the said Territories executed after the commencement of registration as aforesaid, and duly registered under this Act before the advertizement in the Government Gazette of an adjudication of Insolvency, shall, as against any person claiming under such Assurance for valuable consideration and without fraud, be invalidated, so far as regards any lands in the said Territories, by reason of such adjudication, or of the Act of Insolvency on which such adjudication is founded, or of any other act of insolvency, unless the petition for adjudication have been filed of record or presented after the commencement of Registration under this Act, or have been duly registered under this Act before the registration of such Assurance.

Protection of purchasers against subsequent adjudication in Insolvency where the petition is not registered.

LXI. The priority given by the provisions hereinbefore contained to any person claiming for valuable consideration under a registered Assurance shall not, as respects any person so claiming without fraud, be taken away by any Court in consequence of such person having been affected with notice; and where, under the provisions hereinbefore contained, priority is given to any person claiming for valuable consideration under a registered Assurance an equitable estate or interest, such priority shall, in favor of any person so claiming without fraud, be enforced in Equity, although the person so claiming under such registered Assurance has been affected with notice.

The priority given by the preceding clauses to be enforced in equity notwithstanding Notice.

LXII. Where any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories is vested in any person under any Assurance registered under this Act, no purchaser for valuable consideration, without fraud, claiming under any Assurance made by the person in whom such estate or interest is so vested, shall be affected or bound by reason of notice of any use, trust, or confidence declared or created after the commencement of Registration under this Act, and affecting such estate or interest, unless such use, trust or confidence be manifested or proved by such first-mentioned Assurance, or some other Assurance duly registered under this Act, before the registration of the Assurance under which such purchaser so claims; and where, in any Assurance registered under this Act, any use, trust, or confidence affecting any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories vested in any person under any Assurance registered under this Act, is declared or created by reference to and depends for its validity or for the terms thereof upon some other Assurance executed after the commencement of Registration under this Act, no purchaser for valuable consideration, without fraud, claiming under any Assurance made by the person in whom such estate or interest is so vested, shall be affected by such use, trust, or confidence, unless the Assurance, by reference to which such use, trust, or confidence is so declared or created, be registered under this Act before the registration of the Assurance under which such purchaser so claims.

Purchaser for valuable consideration not to be affected by notice of uses or trusts not manifested by a registered Assurance, nor by uses or trusts declared by reference to an unregistered Assurance.

LXIII. Where any two or more Assurances to be registered under this Act are registered at the same time, such Assurances shall have priority according to the order of time in which the same shall have been executed.

Assurances registered at the same time to have priority according to the time of execution.

LXIV. Every person who shall claim without valuable consideration, under any person who shall have claimed for valuable consideration, shall be entitled to the same preference, protection, and advantage under the provisions of this Act as the person who shall have so claimed for valuable consideration.

The protection of the Act to extend to persons who claim under purchasers for value.

LXV. In any case in which priority or protection might but for this Act have been given or allowed in Equity to any estate or interest in lands, by reason or on the ground of such estate or interest being protected by or tacked to any legal or other estate or interest in such lands, no such priority or protection shall, after the commencement of Registration under this Act, be so given or allowed to any estate or interest in lands in the said Territories, except as against any estate or interest which shall have existed prior to such commencement; and full effect shall be given in every Court of Equity to this present provision, although the party claiming such priority or protection as aforesaid shall claim as a purchaser for valuable consideration and without notice.

Protection by legal estate and tacking not to be allowed.

LXVI. No Assurance affecting lands which would (so far as this present enactment does not operate) have the effect at any time of merging or extinguishing any term of years or other particular estate, or of releasing or extinguishing any charge or any part thereof, or any interest therein, shall have such effect as against any person claiming for valuable consideration under any subsequent Assurance duly registered, whereby such term of years or other particular estate or such charge or interest is assigned or otherwise affected unless before the registration of such subsequent Assurance an entry of the Assurance which would have the effect of merging, releasing or extinguishing such term of years or other particular estate, or charge or interest or part respectively, be made in the Index of Titles in which an Assurance of such term of years or other particular estate, or charge or interest, if the same were subsisting, ought, under the provisions of this Act, to be indexed or entered.

An Assurance which would have the effect of merging any interest not to have such effect as against a subsequent purchaser of such interest, unless an entry be made to lead such purchaser to the Assurance.

LXVII. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed so as to render the registration of such leases or agreements for leases as in Section XIV. mentioned, or any Assurance by which any such lease or agreement shall be assigned or otherwise affected, compulsory or necessary; or to give any such leases, agreements, or assignments as aforesaid, when registered, any priority over other leases or Assurances.

Registration of leases not compulsory.

LXVIII. All Assurances affecting only money or moveable property (except Wills, Decrees and Orders) shall be utterly void and of none effect unless registered within six months after the execution thereof by the party who conveys, assures, transfers, assigns or appoints thereby, or unless a caveat respecting such Assurance be registered within six months after such execution, and such caveat continue in force, or unless a caveat respecting such Assurance be registered as aforesaid, and after such caveat ceases to be in force, such Assurance be registered within six months after such execution, the time during which such caveat is registered and in force being deducted in the calculation of such six months. Provided always, that every such Assurance as aforesaid affecting money or moveable property registered within six months after the execution thereof as aforesaid, or registered after a caveat has been duly registered as aforesaid, and before such caveat ceases to be in force, or registered after such caveat ceases to be in force, but within six months after such execution as aforesaid (the time during which such caveat was registered and in force being deducted in the calculation of such six months,) shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after such execution. All Wills, affecting only money or moveable property either at Law or in Equity, shall be wholly void and of none effect unless registered within two years after the death of the Testator, but if registered, within that time, shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been registered immediately after the death of the Testator, and if by reason of the concealment, suppression, or contesting of any Will, or other inevitable difficulty, any person interested thereunder be disabled from registering the same within such two years, then such Affidavit of a Will as hereinbefore in Section LVIII. mentioned, or to the like effect, so far as circumstances will admit shall be made and registered by such person, and the said Courts shall have the like power and authority to order the registration or cancellation of such Affidavits of Wills as are hereinbefore given and conferred by the said Section LVIII. with respect to the Affidavits of Wills affecting lands.

Assurances affecting money or moveable property invalid, unless registered within six months or caveat entered.

Persons interested under uses or trusts affecting estates or property vested under a registered Assurance may enter an inhibition against alienation.

LXIX. Where any person is interested under any use, trust, or confidence, declared or created after the commencement of registration under this Act, and affecting any estate or interest in lands, money or moveable property in the said Territories, which is vested in any person under any Assurance registered under this Act, and such use, trust or confidence is not manifested or proved by any Assurance, registered under this Act, or is, in any Assurance registered under this Act, declared and created by reference to and depends for its validity or for the terms thereof upon some other Assurance not registered under this Act, any person so interested as aforesaid may, by a requisition in writing under his hand, delivered at the Register Office in which such Assurance is registered as aforesaid, together with such Affidavit as hereinafter mentioned, require an Inhibition in respect of any such lands, money, or moveable property, to be mentioned in such requisition, to be entered against any person mentioned in such requisition in whom such estate or interest is vested as aforesaid, inhibiting him from alienating, transferring, charging, or affecting such lands, money or moveable property by virtue of such estate or interest, without notice being first given by the Registrar to the person signing such requisition, or some person on his behalf, at some office or place mentioned in such requisition, and situate within ten miles of the Register Office, and such requisition shall specify the date of and parties to the Assurance under which such estate or interest is vested, and the entries with respect to the same in the Index or Indexes of the Register in which the same is registered, and the affidavit to be delivered with such requisition shall be made by the person signing such requisition, and such person shall therein swear that he believes that he is interested under such use, trust, or confidence as aforesaid.

Inhibition to be entered in Index of Titles.

LXX. Where an Inhibition is so required to be entered, an entry shall be made in the Index or Indexes of the Register of Title Deeds relating to lands or "the General Register," as the case may be, under the same heads and expressing the like particulars as are by this Act required in the case of Assurances to be registered in such registers respectively.

Provision for cancelling Inhibition.

LXXI. Any person against whom an Inhibition is entered as aforesaid, or any person interested in the lands, money or moveable property to which the same relates, may, by writing, signed by such person and lodged at the Register Office, require the Registrar to cancel the entries in the Indexes of such Inhibition, and the Registrar shall, within two days after the receipt of such writing, give notice thereof to the person on whose requisition the Inhibition was entered, and shall state in such notice that on the expiration of fourteen days after the service thereof, the Inhibition will be cancelled, and the service of such notice at the office or place mentioned in the requisition for the Inhibition shall be deemed good service thereof, and at the expiration of the said period of fourteen days after such service, the Registrar, unless sooner restrained by the order of a competent Court as hereinafter mentioned, shall cancel the entries in the Indexes of the said Inhibition.

Court may restrain Registrar from cancelling Inhibition.

LXXII. It shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Courts of Judicature of the said Towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay or Singapore, in which any such Inhibition is registered, or for the Court of Civil Judicature of any District in which any such Inhibition is registered, upon the application of any party interested, by motion or petition in a summary way, without bill or plaint filed, to restrain the Registrar from cancelling the entry of any Inhibition entered under this Act; provided always, that the said Courts respectively shall have full power, upon the application of any party, to discharge or vary such order, and to award such costs on such application as such Courts respectively may see fit, and generally to make such order in relation to the premises as to the said Courts respectively may seem just.

Power to enter a Caveat.

LXXIII. "And whereas it may often happen "that some time will elapse pend- "ing the negociation for a sale "or other contract, and that "often, by reason of the illness or absence of "parties or from other causes, the written transfer "of property will be delayed for want of due "execution by all the requisite parties, and "whereas when Assurances affecting lands are "executed for a temporary purpose merely, it "may often be inconvenient, and occasion unne- "cessary expense to register an Assurance affect- "ing such lands, containing all the particu- "lars of the transaction," it is further enacted, that any person may, after the commencement of registration under this Act, by a requisition in writing under his hand, delivered at the proper Register Office, require a Caveat against his own acts to be entered in respect of any lands or money or moveable property in the said Territories to be mentioned in such requisition in favour of any person described therein, for the protection of any Assurance affecting such lands, money or moveable property which shall have been made and executed, or shall be in progress, or shall have been in contemplation at the time of entering such Caveat.

Mode of entering caveats.

LXXIV. Where a Caveat is so required to be entered, an entry shall be made in all the Indexes under the same head, and expressing the like particulars, as are under this Act required in the case of an Assurance affecting the lands, money or moveable property mentioned in the requisition for such Caveat, and made by the person requiring such Caveat to be entered.

Extent of protection to be afforded by Caveats.

LXXV. Where a Caveat is duly entered under this Act as to any lands in the said Territories, every person claiming for valuable consideration under any Assurance affecting the same lands to be made by the person by whom the entry of the Caveat has been required, or any person claiming under him, to or with the concurrence of the person in whose favour the Caveat was so entered, or his Heirs, Executors Administrators, Representatives or Assigns, and registered in the manner directed by this Act within six calendar months after the Caveat has been so entered as to such lands, shall be entitled to the same preference, protection, and advantage under the provisions of this Act as if such Assurance had been executed and so registered as aforesaid at the time of entering the Caveat: Provided always, that no such Caveat shall have any force or effect as against the operation of the Insolvency of the person requiring the same to be entered, or any Act under such Insolvency.

Not to protect against Insolvency.

LXXVI. Subject to such Regulations as may be from time to time made under this Act, the District Registrar shall, upon the application of any person interested under any Assurance and registering the same under this Act, issue to such person a Certificate of such Registration, and shall thereupon enter in the Index of Titles in which such Assurance is entered, a memorandum of such Certificate; and the Registrar shall, upon such Certificate being delivered at the Register Office for that purpose, cancel the same, and enter in the Index of Titles a note of such cancellation; and no Assurance by the person to whom such Certificate is issued affecting the lands to which such Certificate relates shall be registered until such Certificate has been cancelled; and such Certificate may be deposited by way of equitable mortgage by the person to whom the same has been issued, and any deposit thereof so made shall have the like effect as the like deposit of the Assurance to which the same relates would have had, but it shall not be necessary to register any equitable mortgage made by deposit of such Certificate.

Certificates of Registration may be delivered out and may be deposited by way of Equitable mortgage.

LXXVII. In every case in which, but for this enactment, it would be the duty of any Attorney, Solicitor, or Agent to make any search in any of the Indexes to be kept at the Register Office, such Attorney, Solicitor or Agent shall, as to any search of the result of which the Registrar may be required by the Regulations for the time being in force under this Act to give a Certificate, be held to have fulfilled his duty in that behalf by delivering at the Register Office a proper requisition for such search, stating therein particularly the object of such search, and by obtaining a Certificate from the Registrar of the Office of the result of the same, and shall not be responsible for any error or mistake in the result of such search as stated in such Certificate, and in all other cases every Attorney, Solicitor, or Agent shall stand indemnified in relying on the accuracy of any Certificate to be made or given in pursuance of this Act.

The duties of Attorneys, &c., to be fulfilled by causing an Office search to be made.

Attorneys, &c., indemnified in relying on the accuracy of Certificates.

LXXVIII. Each District Registrar, save where otherwise provided by the Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned, shall transmit at the end of every month to the Chief Registrar of the Presidency in which his District is situate, copies of every Assurance and of the entries and references thereon, and of the entries in the several Indexes to such Assurances, deposited, registered or made in the said District Registers or Indexes during such month, and the said copies shall be written bookwise or otherwise as the Chief Registrar of each such Presidency shall appoint, and the said Chief Registrar shall cause the said copies of the several Registers and Indexes of each District to be made up into separate books and parcels and shall number and arrange the same in such manner as shall be directed by the Regulations to be made under this Act as hereinafter mentioned.

LXXIX. Where there are duplicate originals of any Assurance which is registered under this Act, it shall be lawful for any person to bring or send to the Chief or District Register Office any duplicate original which has not been deposited in the District Register Office, in order that the same may be compared with the deposited original, or with the copy thereof in the Chief Register Office, and thereupon the document so brought or sent shall be compared accordingly, and any variances which may be found shall be noted in the margin of such document; and in every such case the seal of the Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be impressed on each skin or sheet of the document brought or sent to be compared as aforesaid; and a Certificate, signed by the proper Officer of the Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be written at the head or in the margin of such document, or endorsed on the same, which Certificate shall contain a statement that a duplicate of the document in or upon which the same is written has been deposited in the District Register Office, and shall state the parties by whom the deposited original appears to have been executed, and shall specify the book or parcel in which the same is made up, and the number of the document in such book or parcel; and every document so sealed, with such Certificate thereon, containing such statement, and purporting to be so signed as aforesaid, and whether furnished from the Chief or District Register Office, shall in all cases be evidence that another part of the same Assurance has been deposited in the District Register Office, and is made up in the book or parcel mentioned in such Certificate, and is numbered in such book or parcel as in the said Certificate is specified.

Duplicates of deposited documents may be compared at the Office and certified.

Every document so certified to be received as evidence that another part of the same Assurance has been deposited.

LXXX. Subject to the Regulations to be made under this Act, the Chief or District Registrar, as the case may be, shall cause to be provided, for any person applying for the same, copies or extracts from any document which has been deposited in the District Register Office, or from the copy thereof transmitted to the Chief Register Office under this Act, and in every case where a copy or extract is so provided, the seal of the Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be impressed on each sheet of such copy or extract; and a Certificate, signed by the proper Officer of the said Chief or District Register Office, as the case may be, shall be written at the head or margin of such copy or extract, or endorsed on the same, which Certificate shall contain a statement that the copy or extract on which the same is written is an examined copy of or extract from a document deposited in the District Register Office, or from a copy of such document in the Chief Register Office,

Copies of and extracts from deposited instruments to be provided on application, and to be certified.

as the case may be, and shall specify the book or parcel in which such document is made up, and the number of such document in such book or parcel; and every document so sealed, with such Certificate thereon, containing such statement and purporting to be so signed as aforesaid, and whether furnished from the District or Chief Register Office, shall be evidence that such document is a copy of or extract from a document deposited in the District Register Office, and made up in the book or parcel specified in such Certificate, and numbered in such book or parcel as in the said Certificate is expressed, and of the contents of the document deposited in the District Register Office, or of such part thereof as is purported to be extracted.

The seal of the Office, with a Certificate, to be evidence of such copies and extracts.

LXXXI. Subject to such Regulations as may be from time to time made under this Act, any person interested under any Assurance, or in the matter of any search, on application at the Chief or District Register Office, shall, at such times as may be limited by the Chief Registrar in this behalf, be allowed to inspect and search any of the Indexes, and to examine and inspect any of the documents, deposited in the Chief or District Register Offices under this Act, and to take extracts from any such Indexes or documents as aforesaid, and the Chief or District Registrar, as the case may be, shall, upon the delivery of such requisitions as under the Regulations hereinafter mentioned, may be required, and in accordance with such Regulations, make or cause to be made such searches in any of such Indexes, and give such Negative or other Certificates of the results of such searches, as by such Regulations may be directed in this behalf; and every such Certificate shall be sealed with the seal of the Register Office from which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Chief Registrar or Assistant, or District Registrar of such Office, as the case may be.

Searches of the Indexes to be permitted, and inspections of deposited instruments allowed.

Searches of the Indexes to be made on requisition, and Certificates given.

LXXXII. No document deposited in the District Register Office under this Act, and no copy of a document in the Chief Register Office, shall be removed from the same respectively, except in obedience to legal process for the production thereof, and none of the Indexes to be kept at the said Register Offices, respectively, shall be removed from the same on any account whatsoever.

Documents deposited at the Register Office not to be removed, except on legal process.

LXXXIII. Provided always, that where any Will has been registered under this Act by the deposit of the original Will, the District Registrar shall, upon the request of any person entitled to prove such Will, or to take out Letters of Administration to the testator with such Will annexed, or to take out a Certificate under Act XX. of 1841, such request to be testified by some writing signed by and containing the address of the person making such request, and specifying the Court in which the Will is desired to be proved, or in which administration to the testator with the Will annexed, or a Certificate under Act XX. of 1841 is desired to be taken out, cause such Will, together with a Certificate of the same having been deposited in the District Register Office, which Certificate shall be sealed with the seal of the District Register Office, and signed by the District Registrar, to be transmitted to the Court so specified, in order that the same may be proved in such Court, or that Administration to the Testator with such will annexed, or that such Certificate as aforesaid, may be granted by such Court; and the Registrar or other the Chief Officer of the Court to which such will is so transmitted, or his deputy, shall, immediately after such will has been proved, or Letters of Administration of the effects of the Testator with such will annexed, or Certificate, have been granted in or by such Court, or immediately after the termination of the proceedings in such Court, cause the same will to be returned to the District Register Office.

Wills deposited at the Register Office may be removed for the purpose of being proved, &c.

After being proved, &c. the will is to be returned.

LXXXIV. For facilitating the making up into books or parcels of the several documents to be deposited at the respective Register Offices under this Act, and for the convenience of reference thereto, it shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time (either before or after the commencement of registration under this Act) by a notice to be published at least four times in the "Government Gazette," of each Presidency or Place, of which the last time shall be not less than three Calendar months before the time when the same is intended to take effect, to order and direct that all documents of any description, to be specified in such notice, which shall be brought or sent to the Register Office in order to be deposited in the same under this Act (with any exceptions which shall be specified in such notice) shall be written or engrossed bookwise, or in such manner as shall be specified in such notice, and shall be written or engrossed either on paper, vellum, or parchment, as shall in that behalf be in such notice directed, and to order and direct that such paper, vellum or parchment shall be of such description and of such shape and dimensions as in such notice shall be specified, and if, after the time when any notice to be given in pursuance of this power has taken effect, any document within the meaning of such notice be brought or sent to the Register Office to be deposited as aforesaid which is not conformable with the directions in respect of the same contained in such notice, the person depositing the same shall pay, in addition to the ordinary fee made payable on such deposit, such extra fee as the Registrar may in each case think fit, not exceeding the amount of the said ordinary fee.

Power to the Registrar to order that documents to be deposited shall be written bookwise or otherwise, &c.

Additional payment on persons sending documents to be deposited, which shall not be conformable with such order.

LXXXV. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time, either before or after the commencement of Registration under this Act, by a notice to be published not less than four times in the "Government Gazette" of such Presidency or Place (of which the last time shall be at least one Calendar month before the time when the same shall be intended to take effect) to require that any statements which may appear to the Chief Registrar necessary or proper for directing or regulating the entries to be made on Registration, and for affording information for the making of such entries, shall be made and brought to the Register Office; and it shall also be lawful for the Chief Registrar, with such consent as aforesaid, by any such notice to specify the form of such statements as aforesaid, and to require that the same shall be signed by the persons respectively requiring the registration, and shall contain the addresses of such persons respectively, and also to require that the same shall be either written or endorsed on the documents to be deposited as aforesaid, or written on separate papers, as the Chief Registrar shall think fit: Provided always that nothing in this Act shall render the Registrar or any other Officer of the Register Office in any way responsible or liable in respect of any loss or damage which may be sustained or incurred by any person in consequence of the omission of any entry or reference required by this Act to be made in the Register Office, or in consequence of any error in any such entry or reference, in any case where no statement has been sent to the Register Office conformably with any such notice as aforesaid, or in any case where such statement has been so sent as aforesaid, and entries or references in conformity therewith have been made.

Power to the Registrar to require statements for regulating the entries to be sent with Assurances.

No Officer of the Register Office to be responsible for omissions or mistakes occasioned by defects in the statements.

LXXXVI. It shall be lawful for each District Registrar (subject to any Regulations to be made as hereinafter mentioned under this Act) upon such evidence as may appear to him sufficient in this behalf, to correct errors in entries made, and supply entries omitted to be made, under this Act. Provided always, that in the correction of any such entry he shall not erase or render illegible the original entry, and shall, on correcting or supplying any entry, cause an entry to be made, in connexion with the entry so corrected or supplied, of the time when the same was so corrected or supplied; and every correction made, and omission supplied, under this provision shall be as effectual as if made at the time when the same ought to have been made, but not so as to affect any Assurance registered, or act done, previously to the actual time of the correction of the entry, or supplying the omitted entry.

Registrar may correct errors in entries.

LXXXVII. If any person, making any Affidavit under this Act, shall therein wilfully swear falsely, such person shall be deemed guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury; and all Affidavits to be registered, or deposited in the Register Office under this Act, shall be sworn before a Chief Registrar, Assistant Registrar, District Registrar, Justice of the Peace, or Magistrate of the District, Town, or place where such Affidavit is sworn, or elsewhere, before a Magistrate and attested by a Notary, or before a British Minister, Resident, Consul or Vice Consul.

Falsely swearing under this Act to be punished as perjury.

LXXXVIII. If any person shall forge, counterfeit, or imitate, or cause or procure to be forged, counterfeited or imitated, or knowingly act or assist in forging, counterfeiting or imitating, upon any document upon which the seal of the Register Office is authorized to be impressed, the impression or any part of the impression of the Seal of the Register Office, or shall knowingly stamp or mark, or cause or procure to be stamped or marked, or knowingly act or assist in stamping or marking, any such document with any forged or counterfeited Seal of the Register Office, with the intent to defraud any person whomsoever; or shall forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be forged or counterfeited, or knowingly act or assist in forging or counterfeiting the name, signature or handwriting of any Officer, in any case in which the signature of such Officer is authorized to be made; or shall forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be forged or counterfeited, or knowingly act or assist in forging or counterfeiting the name, signature or handwriting of any person whomsoever, to any instrument or document which is in and by this Act, or shall by the exercise of any power contained in this Act, be required or directed to be signed by such person; or shall, with an intention to defraud any person whomsoever, use any document upon which any impression or part of the impression of any Seal of the Register Office shall have been forged, counterfeited, or imitated, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeited or imitated, or any document the signature of which shall be so forged or counterfeited as aforesaid, knowing the same to be forged or counterfeited, every such person so offending, being thereof lawfully convicted, shall be and is hereby declared and adjudged to be guilty of felony, and, being convicted thereof, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to be transported beyond the Seas for life, or for any term not less than seven years, or to be imprisoned (with or without hard labour) for any term not exceeding four years nor less than one year.

Punishment for forging signatures required by the Act, or Counterfeiting impressions of the Seal of the Register Office.

LXXXIX. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or Place (with the consent of the Government thereof) to fix the fees to be taken in the several Register Offices in such Presidency or place in respect of documents to be registered, entries to be made, Searches, Certificates, Office Copies, and other matters to be done in such Office under this Act, and from time to time to vary or wholly abolish any such fees, and fix new fees.

Chief Registrar, with consent of Government, to fix fees to be taken under this Act.

XC. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time, to direct that the fees or other payments which shall be received under the authority of this Act, shall be applied, under such Regulations as they shall appoint, in payment of the current or incidental expenses of the said Offices or any of them.

Power to apply monies received by the Office in payment of the expenses of the same.

XCI. Such fees and payments as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may not be applied as lastly hereinbefore mentioned in payment of any of the current or incidental expenses of the Register Offices, shall from time to time be paid into the Government Treasury of the Presidency or Place in which such Register Offices are situate.

Subject to the last power, all monies received by the Office to be paid to the Government Treasury.

XCII. An Account shall be kept in each District Register Office of the fees and other payments received under the authority of this Act, and of the expenses paid thereout as aforesaid; and such account shall, from time to time, be forwarded to and examined, tried, and audited by the Chief Registrars respectively, as well as the Civil Auditor of each Presidency or Place respectively.

Accounts of the Office to be audited.

Power to assign Salaries to the Registrar and other Officers of the Registry Office.

XCIII. It shall be lawful for the Governor or Governor in Council of each of the said Presidencies or Places to assign to the Chief Registrar thereof respectively a Salary not exceeding the monthly sum of , and to every Assistant Registrar a Salary not exceeding the monthly sum of , and to each District Registrar a Salary not exceeding the monthly sum of and to assign to the Clerks and other subordinate Officers of the Register Office such Salaries or other remuneration, as to the said Governments respectively shall seem proper.

Actions for damages occasioned by the omission or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office to be brought against the Chief Registrar. If final judgment be recovered, the damages to be paid by Government.

XCIV. Every action or suit which shall be brought by any person to recover damages for or by reason of any loss or damage occasioned by any omission or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office shall be brought against the Chief Registrar as the nominal defendant, and in case in any such action the plaintiff recover final judgment against such nominal defendant, then, upon the prayer of such plaintiff, the Court or Judge, as the case may be, of the Court where such action or suit shall have been brought, shall and he is hereby directed to certify to the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or Place in which such action or suit is brought, the fact of such judgment having been so recovered, and the amount of damages and costs recovered; and thereupon, or before the expiration of two Calendar months after such judgment is so certified, the amount of such damages and costs shall be paid by the said Government to the person recovering the same, his Executors, Administrators or representatives. Provided always, that notice in writing of every such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be served upon the Secretaries to Government for the time being, and also upon the Registrar for the time being, one Calendar month at least before the commencement of such action: Provided also, that no Chief Registrar, nor the real or personal Estate of any Chief Registrar, shall be in any way chargeable with or upon any judgment recovered as aforesaid; nor shall any process or notice in or relating to any such action, (except as aforesaid) be served upon the Chief Registrar, but all such processes and notices shall be served upon the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or Place in which such action or suit is brought.

Notice to be given to the Secretaries to Government.

The Chief Registrar not to be personally liable.

Provisions as to costs if judgment be given for the defendant or the plaintiff discontinue or become non-suit.

XCV. If in any such action or suit judgment be given in favour of the nominal defendant, or the plaintiff withdraw his action or suit, or discontinue, or become non-suit, the plaintiff shall be liable to pay the full costs of defending such action, and the same (when taxed) shall be levied in the name of the nominal defendant by the like process of execution as in other actions or suits of the like nature.

Provision for case of an appeal.

XCVI. If at any time before payment to the plaintiff of any damages recovered by any such judgment as aforesaid, an appeal be made from such judgment, such damages shall not be paid until the judgment is affirmed; and if, after payment to the plaintiff of any damages recovered by any such judgment as aforesaid, such judgment be reversed, the Court, by which such judgment is reversed, shall award a writ of restitution against the plaintiff in the name of the nominal defendant, or order the plaintiff to pay the same to the nominal defendant; and when the monies thereby directed to be levied, or any part thereof, are brought into Court, the said Court shall order the same to be paid into the Government Treasury to the account of Government.

Power to the Chief Registrar to compromise any such action.

XCVII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, to enter into and conclude a compromise with any person claiming a right of action or damages by reason of any loss or damage occasioned by any omission, mistake or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office; and, upon payment thereof, the person receiving the same shall execute to the Registrar a release of the cause of action in respect of which such payment is made, and such release may be pleaded in bar to any action which the person executing the same, or any person claiming under him, shall bring to recover damages for or by reason of any loss or damage occasioned by the same omission, mistake, or misfeasance.

Limitations of actions brought under this Act against the Chief Registrar.

XCVIII. Provided also, that the time which by the Act and Regulations now in force is limited for commencing or suing actions, shall, so far as respects any action brought in the manner directed by this Act to recover damages for any loss or damage arising from any omission, mistake or misfeasance of any Officer of the Register Office, be computed and run from the time when actual loss or damage has arisen from such omission, mistake, or misfeasance as aforesaid.

Actions by and against the Registrar not to abate by his death, &c.

XCIX. Every action which, under the Provisions of this Act, shall be brought by or against any Chief Registrar shall be so brought by or against him by his name of Office; and no such action shall abate by reason of the death or removal from Office of any such Chief Registrar.

C. It shall be lawful for the Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place, with the consent of the Government thereof, from time to time, to make such Regulations, as to him may seem proper, for and in relation to all or any of the matters hereinafter mentioned; viz: for determining the cases in which Assurances are to be indexed in the Index of Titles under new heads and existing heads respectively, and the heads under which Assurances are to be indexed in such Index, and in what cases of Assurances indexed in the Index of Titles, references shall be made under any head in such Index to any other head in such Index, and in what cases of Assurances so indexed, entries in respect thereof shall be made in the Indexes of the names of Grantors, or in the Index to Testators and Intestates, or in the Index of Insolvents, (as the case may require,) and providing generally for the convenient classification and arrangement under heads in the Index of Titles of the Assurances to be indexed therein, and the making of such references between any heads of such Index in respect of Assurances connected in Title, and of such entries in the Indexes of the names of the Grantors, the Indexes to Testators and Intestates, and the Index to Insolvents, and any other Index kept in the Register Office, as may, in the opinion of the Chief Registrar, tend to render searches easy and safe.

The particulars to be entered in the Indexes to be kept in the Register Office where entries are required under this Act, and the form and manner of such entries.

The correction of errors and supplying of omissions in entries made under this Act.

The issue of Certificates of Registration in substitution for like Certificates which may have been lost or destroyed.

The making of Copies of, and Extracts from, deposited documents, and the granting of Certificates with reference thereto, and the restrictions and conditions under which such copies, extracts, or Certificates shall be given.

The making of searches of, and providing and issuing extracts from, any of the Indexes to be kept at the Register Office, and granting negative or other certificates with reference thereto, the forms of requisition for such copies, extracts or searches as aforesaid, and the giving of receipts for documents received at the Register Office, the mode in which, and the restrictions and conditions under which searches of the Indexes kept at the said Office, and inspection of documents deposited there, shall be permitted.

And for regulating all other matters and things whatsoever connected with the regulation and management of the said Register Offices, and the execution of this Act not specially hereby provided for, and generally for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and from time to time to alter, vary or revoke any such regulations, and make any new regulation in relation to the matters aforesaid; and all regulations to be made under this Act by the Chief Registrar, with such consent as aforesaid, shall be published in the "Government Gazette," and a copy thereof shall be sent to each District Registrar in the said Presidency or place, and such District Registrar shall retain such copy, and permit persons to inspect the same, and to make copies and extracts of and from the same.

Chief Registrar to report to Government. Reports to be laid before Governor General in Council.

CI. The Chief Registrar of each Presidency or place shall, within one month after the commencement of registration under this Act, send to the Secretary to the Government of such Presidency or place a report of the Districts formed under this Act and of all other Acts and matters done by the Registrar preparatory to such commencement of registration, and shall also, in the month of January in every year, send to such Secretary a general report of his proceedings under this Act, and of the business of the chief Register Office, and of the other District Register offices subordinate to him, and shall specify in such report whether any and what difficulties have arisen in or in relation to registration under this Act, or the searches required to be made, or otherwise in the operation of this Act, or any regulations made thereunder, and whether any and what alterations have been suggested which appear to him expedient, or have occurred to him, and whether the same can or cannot be effected without the aid of the Legislature, and may in such report make such observations or suggestions in relation to the matters aforesaid as the Chief Registrar may think fit; and every such report shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council, within two months after the receipt thereof, by the said Governments respectively.

CII. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless such meanings be repugnant or inconsistent with the context, (that is to say)

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular number.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 20th day of May, 1852.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th February 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th of February 1852.

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to confer upon certain Inhabitants of the Territories in India under the Government of the East India Company, the rights of subjects of Her Majesty.

Whereas it is expedient to remove by law doubts that may have arisen as to the Civil and Political rights of certain persons domiciled in the Territories in India under the Government of the East India Company, and to provide for the naturalization of such persons, not being by law entitled to be regarded as subjects of Her Majesty, It is enacted as follows:

I. All persons actually domiciled in the said Territories, who shall have resided, or shall continue to reside therein, or in some other part of Her Majesty's dominions, until they shall have been resident inhabitants of Her Majesty's dominions for the space of seven years continually, without having been during that time stated residents in any foreign country, shall be deemed, adjudged and taken to be natural born subjects of Her Majesty, as if they and every of them had been born within the said Territories under the Government of the said East India Company. Provided always, that no such person shall be entitled to the benefit of this Act unless he shall, after he shall have completed such stated residence of seven years continually, apply for and obtain the permission in writing of the Governor in Council, Governor, or Lieutenant Governor of the Presidency or place in which he is resident to become naturalized as aforesaid, and take and subscribe the oath, or, if he be a person allowed by law to affirm in civil cases, make the declaration, contained in the Schedule annexed to this Act, before some Justice of the Peace or Magistrate.

II. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed so as to deprive the Courts of the East India Company of jurisdiction over any such naturalized person, or to give to the Courts of Her Majesty any jurisdiction over any such person not otherwise subject to such jurisdiction.

III. All Justices of the Peace or Magistrates within the said Territories are hereby empowered to administer the oath or affirmation contained in the Schedule annexed to this Act to all persons desirous of taking or making the same, who shall produce the written permission of the Governor in Council, Governor, or Lieutenant Governor hereinbefore mentioned, and the said Justices or Magistrates shall record the Administration of such oath or affirmation in their proceedings, and shall file and preserve a copy thereof subscribed by the person taking or making the same, and shall report the name and description of every such person to the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency in which such oath or affirmation is taken or made.

SCHEDULE.

OATH.

I, A. B., of (here state the description of the party) do swear (or being one of the persons allowed by law to affirm in civil cases do affirm,) that I have resided seven years in Her Majesty's dominions, without having been, during that time, a stated resident in any foreign country, and that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the Sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of these territories as dependant thereon.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 27th day of May next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative. the 27th February 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council, in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 27th February 1852, is published for general information:

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 22nd August 1851, and published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd August 1851, to amend the law for the attendance and examination of witnesses in the Civil Courts of the Bengal Presidency.

Resolution.—The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following revised Draft on the subject be published for general information:

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence in the Civil Courts of the Bengal Presidency.

Whereas the law of evidence administered by the Civil Courts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and the rules for the attendance and examination of witnesses in such Courts, require amendment, It is enacted as follows:

I. Sections XXXIII. and LXXIII. of Regulation XXIII. of 1814 of the Bengal Code, regarding the examination of witnesses before Moonsiffs and Sudder Ameens, and so much of Section XI. Regulation XXIV. of 1814 of the same Code, and Section I. Act VI. of 1843, as authorizes the examination of witnesses otherwise than personally by the presiding City or Zillah Judge or Principal Sudder Ameen, are hereby repealed.

II. In any regular suit, appeal or miscellaneous proceeding, it shall be lawful for the Judge, upon good and sufficient grounds in the estimation of such Judge being shown, to examine any party to such suit, appeal or proceeding, as a witness, with respect to any question at issue therein, and also to order, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, any such party as aforesaid to produce any document in his possession or power. Provided always that female parties, who according to the custom of the country ought not to be compelled to appear as witnesses in Court, shall be examined as hereinafter in Section XVIII. mentioned. Provided also, that if any party to any such suit, appeal or proceeding as aforesaid shall satisfy the Judge that the subject of inquiry is not one of which such party has personal knowledge, he shall be allowed to name any agent, local manager or other person on his behalf, who has personal knowledge of such matter, and then and in such case, the evidence of the agent, local manager or other person shall be accepted by the Judge in lieu of the evidence of such party, and the statement of the agent, local manager or person so examined shall be held conclusive against the party, in like manner as his own statement would have been.

III. If any party to such suit, appeal or proceeding as aforesaid shall refer to any document in his possession or power, in any pleading or statement filed or made by him in such suit appeal or proceeding, the adverse party, before replying to such pleading or statement, may apply to the Judge before whom such suit appeal or proceeding is pending, to order the production of such document for his inspection, and it shall thereupon be lawful for the said Judge to issue an order in writing, directing the production of such document, at a place and time to be named in such order, and from time to time, by similar orders, to enlarge the time allowed for such production, if the said Judge shall think fit so to do; and if the said party shall not produce the document at the time and place appointed for the production thereof, the Judge may proceed against him in such manner as is provided by Section X. of this Act with respect to parties summoned or examined as witnesses.

IV. After the parties in a suit have filed their exhibits and lists of witnesses whom they desire to summon, the Judge shall, by an order in writing, appoint a day, not less than fifteen nor more than forty days, after the date of such order, for the examination of witnesses and the hearing of the suit.

V. The Judge, or an Officer of the Court to be specially charged with the duty by the Judge, shall, on the requisition of the plaintiff or defendant, or their respective vakeels, issue a summons to every witness whom the parties may name, on payment into Court of such reasonable sum as shall, under the rules established in that respect under the authority of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, appear to be necessary, to defray the travelling and other expenses of such witness in passing to and from the Court, and being detained thereat. Provided always that no such summons shall be issued to any Hindoo or Mahomedan woman of a rank or quality which, according to the manners and customs of the country, would render it improper to compel her to appear as a witness in a Court of Justice.

VI. Every such summons shall set forth at whose request it has been issued, and shall require the intended witness to appear in the Court on the day named in the summons, and there to give evidence concerning the matter in dispute between the parties. If a witness is required to appear, and to produce before the Court any documents alleged by the party summoning him to be in his possession or power, a direction to attend the Court with such documents shall be inserted in the summons and the nature of each document which the witness may be so called upon to produce shall be set forth in the summons with reasonable certainty.

VII. A witness, not being a party to the suit or proceeding in which he is summoned, shall not be bound to produce his own title deeds, or the title deeds of his principal or client, nor any document relating to affairs of state the production of which would be contrary to good policy, nor any document the production of which would involve a breach of professional confidence on his part. A witness who is a party to the suit or proceeding in which he is summoned, shall not be bound to produce any document in his possession or power which exclusively relates to his own case, and is not relevant and material to the case made by the party opposed to him in such suit, appeal or proceeding, nor any documents which passed between him and his professional advisers relating to the said suit appeal or proceeding, or in contemplation thereof. Provided always, that every party shall be bound to produce all documents mentioned or referred to by himself, in any pleading or statement filed in the suit appeal or proceeding in which he is summoned as a witness.

VIII. Every witness, on receipt of a summons to appear and produce a document in his possession or power as aforesaid, shall be bound to bring such document into Court, although he may have a valid excuse for not disclosing the contents thereof, and the validity of any objection made by such witness to the production of such document in evidence shall be determined by the Court; and for the better determination thereof, it shall be lawful for the Court to receive any affidavit or deposition which the witness may make depos- to or produce respecting the said document, and it shall also be lawful for the Court, in their discretion, to inspect the document, and if the Court shall be of opinion that such document should not be produced, the Court shall not disclose the contents thereof to the parties, or take any note, or make any mention thereof, in their judgment or proceedings, but shall return the document at once to the party producing the same.

IX. When the Judge, on the application of either of the parties to such suit appeal or proceeding as aforesaid, or in his own discretion, may determine to proceed under the authority given by Section II. of this Act, he shall, if the party whom he may desire to examine be personally present in Court, proceed to take his evidence, and if the party shall not be personally present in Court, but shall be represented by a Pleader, the Judge shall cause to be delivered to such Pleader a notice in writing, for which a receipt shall be taken from the Pleader, desiring the party to appear in Court by a day to be therein named, for the purpose of being examined; or if a defendant shall not have appeared in Court either personally or by a Pleader, a summons may be issued for his attendance, as in the case of an ordinary witness.

X. If any witness to whom any such Summons as aforesaid shall have been delivered, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to attend on the day appointed, or attending, shall refuse to give evidence, or to subscribe his deposition, or to produce any document named in such Summons as aforesaid which the Judge shall be satisfied the witness has in his possession or power and shall consider he is bound to produce, the Judge shall have full power and authority to issue an order in writing to the Nazir, to seize and bring the witness before the Court, or, if he be already before the Court, to take him into custody, and, in his discretion, may impose on such witness a fine, not exceeding five hundred rupees, for his default, realizable by attachment and sale of his property, and may commit him to close custody until he shall consent to give his evidence, and to sign his deposition, or to produce the document aforesaid; or, if the witness be a plaintiff or petitioner in the suit or proceeding, his complaint or petition may be dismissed with costs; and any such fine as aforesaid shall be levied and recovered by attachment and sale of the property of any such witness as aforesaid, and if any such witness, to whom a summons has been delivered, shall abscond or conceal himself so that he cannot be seized and brought before the Court, his property shall be liable to attachment and sale, in the same manner as is provided by Sections XII. XIV. and XV. of this Act with respect to witnesses on whom the Nazir may be unable to serve a summons.

XI. If a witness, who attends pursuant to a summons, shall have incurred any expense in consequence of his being required to appear, the judge shall award to him such sum for his charges as may appear reasonable, whether he be examined or not, and until payment of the sum so awarded, the person summoned may refuse to give evidence.

XII. When a witness after diligent search, to be certified by a return of the Nazir, cannot be found, it shall be deemed a sufficient service of the summons on such witness, if a proclamation requiring his attendance to give evidence be affixed, in the presence and with the attestation of two respectable householders of the village, outside of his house or place of usual abode, and if such witness does not attend within four weeks from the date of the proclamation being so affixed, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court, on oath, that the evidence of the witness is material to the cause, and that he cannot be found, and that there is good ground for believing that he has absconded to avoid giving evidence therein, his property, real and personal, to such amount as the Judge shall deem reasonable, (but subject to the same limitation as to the articles exempt from attachment as in case of attachment for arrears of rent,) shall be liable to attachment and sale. Provided always, that when the order of attachment and sale shall have been issued by any Court subordinate to the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, an appeal shall lie within one month from the date of the order of the subordinate Court to the Court to which its orders are generally appealable, and the rules in force in regard to sales made in execution of decrees, as to the place or manner of sale, and as to claims of third parties to property attached and notified for sale, shall be held applicable to such sales, or to sales in satisfaction of fines under Section X. of this Act.

XIII. It shall not be necessary to postpone the decision of a case for the evidence of a witness confined or absconding beyond such period as may appear proper to the Judge, upon application made to him according to Section XIX. of this Act.

XIV. The cost of the attachment shall be borne in the first instance by the party applying for it, and the Court issuing the summons and attachment shall not proceed to sale of the property, if the person summoned as a witness shall appear and satisfy the Court that his absence was not owing to any wilful default. Upon the appearance of such witness, the Court shall make such order in regard to the costs of the attachment as it shall deem fit, and if the witness appearing shall fail to satisfy the Court that his previous absence was not owing to any wilful default, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to release the property from attachment, upon payment of all costs, and of such fine as the Court may deem reasonable, with reference to the circumstances of the case, and the condition in life of the witness, and such fine may be recovered by sale of his property, a sufficient portion of which may be retained under attachment for that purpose.

XV. All orders as to costs or fines or the levy thereof under the last preceding Section, and all orders passed under Secti n X. of this Act, shall be subject to the like appeal as hereinbefore in Section XII. mentioned.

XVI. On the day appointed for trial, the judge shall require the parties or their pleaders to state and argue on their cases orally in open Court, with reference to the issues previously declared in the proceeding recorded under Section X. Regulation XXVI. of 1814.

XVII. The evidence of the attending witnesses shall be taken in open Court before the parties or their representatives, in the presence and under the personal direction of the judge, and shall be recorded in such manner and according to such forms as shall be from time to time prescribed in that behalf by the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

XVIII. In cases where the evidence is needed of females who, according to the customs of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear as witnesses in a Court of Justice, or in any other case in which the Judge shall be of opinion that the ends of justice require and justify it, he may issue a Commission to any Officer of his Court or other person to be named in such Commission for the examination of such females or persons, in the presence of both parties to the suit or their Vakeels, and with liberty to the parties or their Vakeels to cross-examine, anything in Section V. of Act VII. of 1841 to the contrary notwithstanding.

XIX. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Judge that any application has been preferred to him for the examination of any party to a suit appeal or proceeding from vexatious or malicious motives, it shall be lawful for such Judge to impose a fine, not exceeding one thousand rupees, on the party by whom or on whose behalf such application shall have been made, and the said fine shall be realized in like manner as other fines imposed under Section X., and the orders imposing such fines, or for the attachment and sale of the property of such person, shall be subject to the same appeal as hereinbefore in Section XII. provided.

XX. On or before the day appointed for trial, the Judge may, for any sufficient reason, such as the unavoidable absence of any material witness, or for other good cause, on the application of either party, postpone the hearing to another day, to be named, on such terms as to the payment of the costs of postponement to the other party, as to the Judge shall seem reasonable.

XXI. The recording of evidence on the trial of any suit, when begun under the rules above enacted, shall continue on the same day, or on consecutive days, until the whole of the evidence of the witnesses present has been heard, and after considering such testimony and the documentary evidence adduced, the Judge shall record his judgment under Act XII. of 1843.

XXII. The Judge, on the application of either party, shall cause public notice to be given in Court, either before or during the examination of any witness, requiring all other witnesses who have been summoned in the same cause, and who are present in Court, to leave the Court. Any witness in a cause who remains in Court after the giving of such notice, shall be punishable as for contempt, and shall be liable at the discretion of the Judge to any fine not exceeding rupees 200, or to imprisonment in the Civil Jail with or without labor for any term not exceeding three Calendar months

XXIII. Any party to a suit appeal or proceeding who is examined as a witness therein, shall be examined under the same rules as are now in force for the examination of other witnesses, and shall be liable, in respect of any false evidence given by him on any issue material to such suit appeal or proceeding, to punishment for perjury, under the provisions of Regulation II. of 1807.

XXIV. The word "Judge," as used in this Act, shall be taken to mean the person presiding, or having the chief judicial authority in any Court, however designated, in the Presidency of Bengal or in places subordinate thereto.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of April next.

Justices of the Peace may make order of maintenance for wives and children.

II. If any person within the said Town, having sufficient means or employment, shall not duly maintain his wife or his legitimate or illegitimate children, and shall be thereof convicted before a Justice of the Peace, upon his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, the said Justice may make an order upon such person for the maintenance of such wife and children, or any of them, at such monthly rate as to the Justice seems reasonable, and upon non-compliance with the said order for any one month, or longer period, any Justice, by warrant under his hand and seal, may commit the person so convicted to the Common Gaol of Calcutta without labour, or to the House of Correction to hard labour, for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Persons convicted of having or conveying stolen goods liable to penalty.

III. Every person who shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying in any manner anything which may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained, and who shall not give an account to the satisfaction of such Justice how he came by the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before such Justice, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months.

Persons in whose possession stolen goods are found to be examined, &c.

IV. When any person shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying, anything stolen or unlawfully obtained, and shall declare that he received the same from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent, or servant to convey the same for some other person, such Justice shall cause every such person, and also if necessary every former or pretended purchaser, or other person through whose possession the same shall have passed, to be brought before him and examined, and shall examine witnesses upon oath touching the same, and if it shall appear to such Justice that any person shall have had possession of such thing, and had reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice, may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months. Every such person shall be deemed to have had possession of such thing at the time and place when and where the same shall have been found or seized, and the possession of a carrier, agent, or servant shall be deemed to be the possession of the person who shall have employed such carrier, agent, or servant to keep or convey the same.

On suspicion of goods being stolen or unlawfully obtained, Justice may grant search-warrant.

V. If information shall be given on oath to a Justice of the Peace that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that anything stolen or unlawfully obtained is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house, building, or other place, such Justice, by special warrant under his hand, directed to any police officer or constable, may cause such dwelling-house, building, or other place to be entered and searched at any time of the day, or by night, if power for that purpose be given by such warrant, and the said Justice, if it shall appear to him necessary, may empower such police officer or constable, with such assistance as may be found necessary, (such constable having previously made known his authority,) to use force for the effecting of such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and if upon search thereupon made any such thing shall be found, then to convey the same before a Justice, or to guard the same on the spot, until the offenders are taken before a Justice, or otherwise dispose thereof in some place of safety, and moreover to take into custody, and carry before the said Justice every person found in such house or place, who shall appear to have been privy to the deposit of any such thing, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the same to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

Power to search houses for stolen property without a warrant in certain cases.

VI. If information shall be given to any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector belonging to the Calcutta Police, that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that any stolen property is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house or other place, and the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector shall have good grounds for believing that, by reason of the delay in obtaining a search-warrant, the property is likely to be removed, the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector, in virtue of his office, may search for specific articles alleged to have been stolen in the houses and places specified; provided always that a list of the articles stolen or missing be delivered and taken down in writing, with a declaration stating that the robbery has been committed, and that the informant has good ground to believe that the property is deposited in such house or place; and provided further that the person who lost the goods, or his representative, accompany the officer in the search.

Extension of Act XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to cases in which property stolen does not exceed 50 rupees in value.

VII. All persons charged with the commission of any of the offences specified in Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace for the said Town, provided the value of the property which the prisoner is charged with having stolen does not, according to the belief of such Justice, exceed fifty rupees, anything in the said Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all the powers by Act XXI. of 1839 (except Section VIII. aforesaid) and Act III. of 1842, given or reserved to any such Justice for the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property not exceeding twenty rupees in value, and all the provisions of the said Acts (except as aforesaid) shall extend and be applicable to the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property, not exceeding, according to the belief of the Justice, fifty rupees in value.

Extension of Act XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to the offence of receiving stolen property when the value of the property does not exceed fifty rupees.

VIII. Every person charged with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money, knowing the same to be stolen, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace, provided that the value of the property stolen or received does not, according to the belief of the Justice, exceed fifty rupees, and every such person, on conviction of any such offence, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six Calendar months; and all the powers and provisions of Act III. of 1842 and Act XXI. of 1839, except Section VIII. aforesaid, shall apply, so far as they may be applicable, to the trial, conviction, and sentence of any person charged under this Section with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen; provided always, that if it shall appear to the said Justice that such person has been previously convicted of, or is in the habit of receiving stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen, the said Justice shall commit such person for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Summary conviction of persons accessory to the commission of certain felonies.

IX. Every person who is accessory, before or after the fact, to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice is liable to be tried and convicted summarily before such Justice on his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, and the convicting Justice shall have power to sentence any such accessory to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding six Calendar months, or in his or their discretion, instead of trying him, to commit him for trial to the Supreme Court of Judicature, or other court having authority to try him.

Punishment for boys.

X. Whenever any boy, under the age of sixteen years, is convicted before a Justice of the Peace, either of simple larceny under the said Act XXI. of 1839, or, under this Act, of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen, or of being an accessory to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, the said Justice, if he thinks fit, may sentence him to receive corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes of a light ratan, instead of sentencing him to imprisonment.

Cases of assault, forcible entry, or other injury not being felony.

XI. Any person who shall commit any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, within the said Town, against the person or property of any person whatsoever, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and the said Justice may award the whole or any part of such fine to the party or parties aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury, or, in the discretion of such Justice, such person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding four Calendar months.

Persons charged with recent assault may be apprehended by Police without warrant, though assault not committed in view of Police.

XII. Any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police may take into custody, or authorize a Constable to take into custody, without warrant, any person who within the said Town shall be charged by any other person with committing an aggravated assault, in every case in which such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police shall have good reason to believe that such assault has been committed, although not within view of such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector, and that by reason of the recent commission of the offence, a warrant could not have been obtained for the appearance of the offender.

Unlawfully taking or enticing away women or female children under the age of sixteen.

XIII. If complaint shall be made before any Justice that any person within the said Town has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken away, against her will, any woman, or has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken or enticed away any female child under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession or protection and against the will of the husband, father, mother, guardian or other person who has the lawful order, keeping, education, or government of such child, for the purpose of living in adultery with such woman or child, or for purposes of prostitution, or of deflowering or disposing of her in marriage, it shall be lawful for the said Justice to make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, father, mother, guardian, or such other person as aforesaid, as the case may be, and to compel compliance with such order, and, if it be necessary to use force for that purpose, any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police, duly authorized by the Justice in that behalf, with such assistants as he may deem necessary, may break open doors or otherwise compel compliance with the same, and the said Justice may commit any person charged with taking, or causing to be taken, or enticing any woman or female child as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Keeping open houses of public entertainment without licence.

XIV. Any person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort and entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) without a licence for the same being first had and obtained from and under the hand of two Justices of the Peace, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before any of the said Justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place of public resort or entertainment is kept open.

Two Justices to grant licences.

XV. Two or more of the said Justices shall from time to time hold licensing Sessions, for the purpose of granting licences to the keepers of such houses or places of public resort and entertainment as aforesaid, and the said licences may be granted by the said Justices for any term not exceeding one year, subject to the restriction contained in Section XII. Act. XI. of 1849, and upon such conditions to be inserted in every such licence as the Justices from time to time shall order, for securing the good behaviour of the keepers of the said houses or places of public resort or entertainment, and the prevention of drunkenness and disorder among the persons frequenting or using the same.

Penalty for parties not conforming to the tenor of their licence.

XVI. The keeper of every such house or place of public resort and entertainment, who shall wilfully offend against any condition of his licence, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and in the discretion of the convicting Justice, to forfeit his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Disorderly conduct and illegal harbouring of deserters in houses of public entertainment.

XVII. Every person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort or entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) and who shall knowingly or wilfully permit drunkenness or other disorderly behaviour in such house, shop, room, or place, or who shall knowingly suffer any unlawful games or any gaming whatsoever therein, or who shall knowingly permit prostitutes or persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or who shall wilfully harbour or conceal any Seaman or Apprentice who shall have deserted, knowing or having reason to believe such Seaman or Apprentice so harboured or concealed to be a deserter, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and shall be liable to forfeiture of his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Hours for sale of Spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs.

XVIII. Every person who shall keep open his house, shop, room, or place, for the purpose of selling or retailing spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, under a licence from the Collector of Calcutta, after the hour of nine at night and before the hour of six in the morning, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees, and shall also be liable, in the discretion of the said Justice, to the forfeiture of his licence.

Introduction of Spirituous Liquors without licence into Fort William.

XIX. If any person, not being amenable to the Articles of War, shall take or attempt to take into Fort William any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs of any description, without a licence from the Commanding Officer of the said Fort, or from some other person thereunto authorized, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint to him thereof made, may issue his summons or warrant for bringing the party complained of, and also the liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, before him, and in case of conviction may adjudge the said liquors, wine, or drugs and the vessels containing the same, to be forfeited, and every such person so convicted shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two Calendar months.

Taking Spirits, &c., into the Gaol.

XX. Every person who shall take or throw, or attempt to take or throw, into the Great Gaol or House of Correction of Calcutta, any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs, without the licence or consent of the Jailor or Keeper of such Gaol or House of Correction respectively, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two months.

Breaking Gaol.

XXI. Every person who shall have been committed to the Great Gaol or House of Correction, or who shall be in custody at any Police Office or Station, and who shall unlawfully break or escape from such Gaol, House of Correction, Police Office or Station, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any other sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be imprisoned at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

Riotous or indecent behaviour.

XXII. Every person who shall be found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself in any street or public thoroughfare, or who shall be guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street, public thoroughfare, Police Office, Station, or Section House, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding fourteen days.

Rogues and vagabonds.

XXIII. Any Constable or Peace Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police may take into custody, without a warrant, any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise armed with any dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoever with intent to break or enter into any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, or any loose, idle, or disorderly persons whom he shall find disturbing the public peace, or whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit any felony, misdemeanor, or breach of the peace, or any reputed thief whom he shall find between sunset and sunrise on board any boat in the river, or lying or loitering in any bazar, street, road, yard, thoroughfare or other place, and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, or any person having in his possession without lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall lie on such person), any picklock key, crow, jack, bit, or other implement of house-breaking, or any person found between sunset and sunrise having his face blackened or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any felony, or any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise in any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, with intent to commit any felony therein; and every such offender, on conviction before a Justice, either on his own confession or on the evidence of one or more credible witnesses, shall be liable, at the discretion of the said Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding four Calendar months.

Beggars

XXIV. Every person who shall beg or apply for alms or relief in any public road, street, or thoroughfare, or who shall expose or exhibit any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity in such roads, streets, or public thoroughfares, with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms or relief, or who shall, anywhere within the Town, seek for or obtain alms or relief by means of any false statements or pretences, or who shall cause, aid, or abet any such person as aforesaid in the commission of any of the said offences, shall, for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two Calendar months.

Furious driving.

XXV. Every person who shall drive or ride furiously, or at a greater rate than ten miles an hour, any vehicle or animal in the said streets or public thoroughfares, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one Calendar month.

Lamps to vehicles.

XXVI. Every person who shall drive any vehicle of any description at any time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without having a lighted lamp affixed to such vehicle, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one Calendar month.

For suppression of common gaming-houses.

XXVII. If any person shall make oath before a Justice of the Peace that any house, building, room, or other place within the Town is commonly reported and believed to be kept or used as a common gaming-house or place, such Justice, by an order in writing, may authorize a Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter any such house, building, room, or place, with such constables as he shall deem requisite to accompany him, and if necessary to use force for the purpose of effecting such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to take into custody and search all persons found therein, and to seize all tables and instruments of gaming found in such house, building, room, or place, or on the persons of any of those found therein, and also to seize all moneys and securities for money found in any such house, building, room, or place, and the owner or keeper of the said gaming-house, or place, or other person having the care and management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months, and upon conviction of any such offender all such tables and instruments of unlawful games shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by order of the Justice before whom the conviction is had, and all the moneys and securities for moneys so found shall be forfeited to Government, and every person found on such premises, and who shall not be the owner or keeper or other person having the care or management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Proof of playing for stakes unnecessary.

XXVIII. It shall not be necessary, in support of any information for gaming in, or for suffering any games or gaming in, or for keeping or managing or being concerned in the management or conduct of, any common gaming-house or place, under this Act, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

What articles if found shall be evidence that the house is a gaming-house.

XXIX. Where any cards, dice, balls, counters, tables, or other instruments of gaming, used in playing any unlawful game, are found in any house, building, room, or place, suspected to be used as a common gaming-house or place, and entered by an order issued under this Act, or about the person of any who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, building, room, or place, is used as a common gaming-house or place, and that the persons found in the house, building, room, or place, where such tables or instruments of gaming shall have been found, were playing therein, although no play was actually going on in the presence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Inspector, or Constable entering the same as aforesaid.

Gambling in the Streets.

XXX. Every person who shall game for money, or any other thing or reward whatsoever, or who shall join in, bet at, or abet, or be present for the purpose of joining, betting at, or abetting any such gaming, in any street or public thoroughfare in the said Town, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one Calendar month.

Using false or defective weights and measures.

XXXI. All persons who deal in any articles by retail by weight or measure, and who have in or about their shops or premises, or otherwise in their possession, any false or deficient weight, measure, beam or scale, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one Calendar month; and every such false and defective weight, measure, beam or scale shall be forfeited, and the said Justice shall cause the same to be destroyed; and it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate or Superintendent of Police from time to time to issue public notices at the Police Office and Thannas, and such Places as to him appear suitable, of the exact weight and measure of just weights and measures, and to keep at the Police Office and Thannas standard weights and measures for the information of the public.

False weights and measures.

XXXII. Any Justice of the Peace, or the Superintendent of Police, may issue his warrant, directing any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter into any shop or other place where articles are bought and sold by retail, and to search for and to examine the weights and measures therein, and seize all such as he may suspect to be forfeited as false and deficient in weight.

Justice of the Peace may take cognizance of cases of desertion or unauthorized absence from their ship of Foreign and Asiatic seamen.

XXXIII. If any seaman, whether British or Foreign, shall, wilfully and without leave or lawful excuse, absent himself from his vessel, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint upon oath, and at the instance of any of the officers of the said vessel, may issue his warrant to apprehend and detain the said seaman and convey him on board of his vessel; and whenever any seaman shall have been imprisoned, it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace, on the release of such seaman from imprisonment, to cause him to be conveyed on board of the Vessel to which he may belong.

Arms carried by persons without due authority.

XXXIV. No person, not being a soldier or sailor in the service of the Queen or the East India Company, or a Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be entitled to carry any sword, spear, gun, or other offensive weapon in any street, thoroughfare, or public place, unless by leave of the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and any person offending against this enactment shall be liable to be disarmed by any Constable or other person acting under such instructions as shall be from time to time given by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and the weapons so seized shall be taken before the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, and forfeited to the Government, if the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, in his discretion, shall think fit to declare them forfeited.

The regulation of carriages and persons at places of public resort.

XXXV. The Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police from time to time, and as occasion may require, may make regulations for keeping clear the public ghauts and landing stairs, and for the route to be observed in the public streets and places by all carts, carriages, palanquins, hackeries, and other vehicles, and by all horses, cattle and persons, and as to the times during which they may take the said routes, and for preventing obstruction of the streets and thoroughfares within the Town on all times of public processions and native holidays, as also during the time of Divine Service, and also may give directions to the Constables and other peace officers for keeping order and for preventing any obstruction of the thoroughfares in the immediate neighbourhood of any place of public resort, and in any case when the ghauts, landing-stairs, streets, or thoroughfares may be thronged or may be liable to be obstructed, and every person opposing or not obeying the orders so issued by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police shall be liable to be arrested and detained by the Police, and, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred rupees.

Police Officers taking Bribes.

XXXVI. Any Police Officer or Constable who shall ask for or take any bribe or unauthorized reward in consideration of his doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three months.

As to manufacture or possession of Gunpowder or Gun-cotton.

XXXVII. The Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation passed by the Governor General in Council on the 8th April 1802, and Section II. Act XVIII. of 1841, are hereby repealed. Any person who shall, within the limits of the said Town, manufacture gunpowder or gun-cotton, or who shall, without a licence for that purpose being first had and obtained from the Chief Magistrate, have in his possession in any house, shop, warehouse, or other building, at any one time, a greater quantity of gun-powder or gun-cotton for sale or otherwise than ten pounds, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of all such gun-powder or gun-cotton so manufactured or possessed, together with the vessel or receptacle in which it may be seized, and also to a fine not exceeding in amount the sum of rupees five hundred.

Chief Magistrate to grant licences for sale and deposit of gun-powder, &c.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate to grant to any person (whom he shall deem fit and proper) a licence for the sale or keeping in deposit, within the limits of the said Town, any quantity of imported or Indian manufactured gun-powder not exceeding fifty pounds, or any quantity of gun-cotton not exceeding twenty pounds, on such conditions as shall be specified in the licence, and any person who shall be guilty of a breach of any of such conditions, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of his licence and of all gun-powder or gun-cotton so kept in deposit contrary thereto, and also to a fine not exceeding rupees two hundred.

Licences to be in force for one year and to contain certain provisions.

XXXIX. Every such licence as is mentioned in the preceding Section shall be in force for a period of one year only and no longer, but shall be renewable by the said Chief Magistrate at his discretion on the same or any other terms and conditions, and such licence shall also provide for the transit and carrying of gun-powder from one place to another within the limits of the said Town, in such manner and in such quantity as shall be deemed advisable for the safety of the inhabitants and of property within the said Town, and every person offending against such provisions shall be liable to a fine not exceeding rupees fifty.

As to Search for Gunpowder, &c.

XL. Any Justice of the Peace, on credible information laid before him on oath or solemn affirmation, that gun-powder or gun-cotton or mixed materials for making the same, contrary to the provisions of this Act, are suspected to be stored, kept, or possessed by any person, may issue his warrant authorizing any Police Officer to search in the day-time any house, shop, magazine, or other building or place in which he has reasonable ground to suspect any gun-powder or gun-cotton to be manufactured, sold, or kept, or any boat, carriage, cart, or other vehicle in which any gun-powder or gun-cotton or materials for manufacturing the same may be suspected to be carried, or any person suspected of carrying the same contrary to such licence or to the provisions of this Act, and all gun-powder gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, found on such search shall, together with the vessels or receptacles in which they may be stored, be immediately seized and brought before a Justice of the Peace, with whom the same shall be kept till it shall be adjudged whether the same shall be forfeited.

Act not applicable to Government Powder, &c.

XLI. The four last preceding Sections shall not extend to any Government Magazine or store, or building for the making or deposit of gun-powder or gun-cotton under the authority or for the use of the Government, or to any gunpowder or gun-cotton for the use of Her Majesty's or the East India Company's Troops, or otherwise for the service of Government, or to any of Her Majesty's Vessels of War, or the Vessels of the Indian Navy, or of the East India Company's Marine, or to any other Vessel within the River Hooghly laden with gunpowder for importation or exportation.

As to Vessels arriving in River with Powder on board.

XLII. Commanders of merchant vessels entering the River Hooghly shall, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, deposit in the Magazine at that place all gun-powder intended for the Ship's use from on board their respective vessels, exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, which quantity they shall be permitted to retain in their vessels for the purpose of firing salutes or signals in case of distress, and the gun-powder so deposited shall be again delivered on board on the return of the respective vessels from Calcutta in prosecution of the outward voyage; and Commanders of merchant vessels in the River Hooghly having on board their vessels gun-powder or gun-cotton for importation (not being gunpowder belonging to the Government) exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, shall also deposit the same, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, in the Magazine of that place, under charge of an Officer belonging to the Customs at that place, or such other person as the Governor of Bengal may appoint, and the proprietors or consignees of such gun-powder or gun-cotton, or their agents, whenever they shall desire to remove the same from the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for authority to do so, which application, when it be intended that such gun-powder or gun-cotton shall be lodged in any place, or be laden in any boat or other conveyance within the limits of the said town, shall be accompanied by a written order of permission, signed by a Justice of the Peace to that effect, and when it be intended that such gun-powder or gun-cotton shall be exported by sea, the Commanders of vessels, or the proprietors, or their agents, by whom it shall have been deposited in the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for permission so to export it; and the Collector of Sea Customs shall comply with such applications aforesaid, except where the exportation of ammunition shall require, under provisions of Act XVIII. of 1841, a licence from a public Officer other than the Collector of Sea Customs, in which case the Collector of Sea Customs shall not comply with the application unless it be accompanied by the licence of such public Officer; and on or before the removal of all gun-powder or gun-cotton from the Magazine, the Collector of Sea Customs shall and he is hereby authorized to levy a fee, the rate of which shall not exceed two annas per pound, for all gun-powder or gun-cotton that has been lodged therein, which fee shall be taken to cover all charges for the safe custody of the gun-powder or gun-cotton during the period it has remained or shall remain in the Magazine; provided also, that the Governor of Bengal shall be at liberty to authorize such arrangement to be made by letting or otherwise contracting for the custody of the Magazine, and for the collection and appropriation of the fees which may be charged for gun-powder or gun-cotton stored therein, as he may think proper, subject however to all the restrictions and rules imposed by this Section in respect to the removal from the Magazine of gun-powder therein stored.

Penalties.

XLIII. For every act done or omitted to be done contrary to the provisions of the last preceding Section by the Commander of any merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, the Commander aforesaid shall, on conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace, be liable to a penalty of two hundred rupees: and the Collector of Sea Customs is hereby empowered to search for any quantity of gun-powder which he may have reason to believe to be on board a merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, contrary to the provisions of this Act, and to seize and detain it as forfeited to Government, to be dealt with as the Governor of Bengal shall think right to direct.

Jurisdiction of Justices on the River Hooghly.

XLIV. The jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace acting within and for the said Town shall extend to all offences committed by any person in sea-going vessels in any part of the River Hooghly, and the said Justices shall have the same power and jurisdiction in respect of criminal offences committed in sea-going vessels in any part of the said river, that they now have and exercise within the said Town.

Persons apprehended without warrant to be taken first to the Station-house, and if not admitted to bail, to the Police Office.

XLV. Every Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police is hereby authorized to arrest with a warrant any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, and every person taken into custody without warrant by any Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police shall be forthwith taken to the Station-house to which the Constable belongs, in order that such person may be detained, until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace to be dealt with according to law, or in order that such person may give bail for his appearance before a Justice of the Peace, if the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector at the Station shall deem it prudent to take bail in the manner hereinafter mentioned, which he is hereby authorized to do.

Power to take recognizances, at Station-houses or Police Lock-up on certain charges.

XLVI. Whenever any person is brought to the Station-house as aforesaid, charged with misdemeanor, assault, or with having carelessly done any hurt or damage, or whenever any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector of Police, or Town Serjeant in charge of a Police Lock-up, shall deem it probable that any person so brought is falsely or maliciously charged with having committed a felony, and any such person as aforesaid shall be, without the warrant of a Magistrate, in the custody of any Constable of the Calcutta Police, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent or any Deputy Superintendent of Police, if he shall deem it prudent, to enlarge such person on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, conditioned as hereinafter mentioned.

Condition of recognizance.

XLVII. Every recognizance so taken shall be without fee or reward, and shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person thereby bound before a Justice of the Peace at his next sitting, and the time and place of appearance and the sum thereby acknowledged (not exceeding one thousand rupees) shall be specified in the said recognizance, or the condition thereof; and the officer taking the recognizance shall enter into a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name, residence, and occupation of the party and his surety or sureties (if any) entering into such recognizance, together with the condition thereof, and the sum thereby acknowledged, and shall return every such recognizance to the Justice present at the time and place, and when, and where the party is bound to appear, and the said recognizance may be in either of the forms as the case may be, in Schedule (A) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect.

Amends may be awarded for false or malicious charges.

XLVIII. In every case in which any person shall be given in charge to a Constable, or in which any information or complaint of any offence shall be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace, and it shall appear to the Justice by whom the case shall be heard that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Justice, at his discretion, to award such amends not more than the sum of fifty rupees, to be paid by the informer to the party informed or complained against, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as to the Justice shall seem meet.

Offences how to be tried.

XLIX. Every Justice of the Peace shall be empowered summarily to hear and determine every complaint of an offence committed against this Act, and to convict any person charged with any such offence on the oath of one or more witnesses, or by his own confession, and to award the penalty or punishment herein provided for such offence.

Justices may proceed by summons, and if party does not appear may issue warrant.

L. Upon any information or complaint to be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace (which complaint need not be made upon oath) of any matter which such Justice is authorized to hear and determine, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, he may summon the party charged, and if such party shall not appear according to the tenor of the summons, the Justice, upon proof of the service of the summons, may proceed, in all cases which are not of a criminal nature, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the party, to hear and determine the case in the absence of the party, and in all criminal cases shall issue his warrant for apprehending and bringing such party before him, or some other Justice, in order that the said information and complaint may be heard and determined.

How summons may be served.

LI. Every such summons may be served by delivering it or a copy thereof to the party or to his wife, servant, or some inmate of his dwelling, or by delivering it at or affixing it to the door or wall of his usual place of abode.

Justices may issue warrant without summons.

LII. A Justice of the Peace may, without issuing any summons, forthwith issue his warrant for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, whenever good grounds for so doing shall be stated on oath before him.

May enforce attendance of witnesses.

LIII. Any Justice may summon any witness to appear and give evidence upon the matter of any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, with which any person shall be charged before him, at a time and place appointed for hearing the information or complaint, and, by warrant under his hand and seal, may require any person to be brought before him who shall neglect or refuse to give evidence at the time and place appointed on such summons, proof upon oath being first given of personal service of the summons upon the person against whom such warrant shall be granted, and such Justice may commit any person coming or brought before him who shall refuse to give evidence, to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or until such person shall sooner submit himself to be examined, and in case of such submission the order of such Justice shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of such person.

Power to Magistrates to order prisoners to be brought up to the Police Office.

LIV. When any Justice of the Peace is desirous of examining any prisoner confined in the Great Gaol or House of Correction as a witness or defendant, with respect to any charge, case, or proceeding pending before him, it shall be lawful for such Justice to issue an order in the form contained in Schedule (B) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, addressed to the keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named, to the Police Office, for examination, and the keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, on the receipt of such order, shall act in accordance therewith, and shall take care for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from prison for the purpose aforesaid.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

LV. All penalties and forfeitures and other sums of money imposed, awarded, or ordered to be paid by any Justice of the Peace under the authority of this Act, and all sums of money which any person is bound to pay under any recognizance taken before a Justice of the Peace or an officer of Police empowered to take recognizances by this Act and afterwards forfeited, in case of non-payment thereof, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or person liable to pay the same, by warrant under the hand of any Justice of the Peace, and in case any such penalty or forfeiture or sum of money shall not be forthwith paid, any Justice may order the party to be detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such Justice for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and the Justice may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise; and if upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no such sufficient distress could be had whereon to levy the said penalty, or forfeiture, or sum of money, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Justice, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty, forfeiture, or sum of money could be levied if warrant of distress should be issued, the Justice, by warrant under his hand, may commit such party to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, there to remain for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Convictions to be quashed on merits only. Form of Conviction, &c.

LVI. No conviction, order, or judgment of any Justice of the Peace shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, the evidence on which it proceeds; but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment, in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions.

LVII. In the construction of this Act the following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the context or subject repugnant to such construction; that is to say,—

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "Town" shall include the Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Justice" or "Justices of the Peace" shall mean the Justices of the Peace for the time being acting within and for the said Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Oath" shall mean any oath or solemn affirmation in lieu of an oath.

Justice of the Peace.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th February, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 27th of February 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XIV. OF 1852.

An Act for extending the provisions of Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, to the Straits Settlement.

Whereas doubts have been entertained whether Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, are in force in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca; It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. The provisions of Acts XXIV. of 1841, and XVII. of 1843, shall be applicable and in force in the said Settlement.

II. All provisions contained in Act XXIV. of 1841, and Act XVII. of 1843, relating to Her Majesty's Supreme Courts, shall be applicable to the Court of Judicature of the said Settlement, and shall be respectively construed as if, instead of the words Her Majesty's Supreme Courts, or Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of the respective Presidencies, or the Supreme Court of each of the Presidencies, the words, "the Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca," had been therein mentioned.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th February 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th of February 1852.

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to confer upon certain Inhabitants of the Territories in India under the Government of the East India Company, the rights of subjects of Her Majesty.

Whereas it is expedient to remove by law doubts that may have arisen as to the Civil and Political rights of certain persons domiciled in the Territories in India under the Government of the East India Company, and to provide for the naturalization of such persons, not being by law entitled to be regarded as subjects of Her Majesty, It is enacted as follows:

I. All persons actually domiciled in the said Territories, who shall have resided, or shall continue to reside therein, or in some other part of Her Majesty's dominions, until they shall have been resident inhabitants of Her Majesty's dominions for the space of seven years continually, without having been during that time stated residents in any foreign country, shall be deemed, adjudged and taken to be natural born subjects of Her Majesty, as if they and every of them had been born within the said Territories under the Government of the said East India Company. Provided always, that no such person shall be entitled to the benefit of this Act unless he shall, after he shall have completed such stated residence of seven years continually, apply for and obtain the permission in writing of the Governor in Council, Governor, or Lieutenant Governor of the Presidency or place in which he is resident to become naturalized as aforesaid, and take and subscribe the oath, or, if he be a person allowed by law to affirm in civil cases, make the declaration, contained in the Schedule annexed to this Act, before some Justice of the Peace or Magistrate.

II. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed so as to deprive the Courts of the East India Company of jurisdiction over any such naturalized person, or to give to the Courts of Her Majesty any jurisdiction over any such person not otherwise subject to such jurisdiction.

III. All Justices of the Peace or Magistrates within the said Territories are hereby empowered to administer the oath or affirmation contained in the Schedule annexed to this Act to all persons desirous of taking or making the same, who shall produce the written permission of the Governor in Council, Governor, or Lieutenant Governor hereinbefore mentioned, and the said Justices or Magistrates shall record the Administration of such oath or affirmation in their proceedings, and shall file and preserve a copy thereof subscribed by the person taking or making the same, and shall report the name and description of every such person to the Secretary to the Government of the Presidency in which such oath or affirmation is taken or made.

SCHEDULE.

Oath.

I, A. B., of (here state the description of the party) do swear (or being one of the persons allowed by law to affirm in civil cases do affirm,) that I have resided seven years in Her Majesty's dominions, without having been, during that time, a stated resident in any foreign country, and that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the Sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of these territories as dependant thereon.

(Signed) A. B.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 27th day of May next.

Fred. Jas. Halliday,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative. the 27th February 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council, in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 27th February 1852, is published for general information:

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 22nd August 1851, and published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd August 1851, to amend the law for the attendance and examination of witnesses in the Civil Courts of the Bengal Presidency.

Resolution.—The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following revised Draft on the subject be published for general information:

Act No. —— of 1852.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence in the Civil Courts of the Bengal Presidency.

Whereas the law of evidence administered by the Civil Courts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and the rules for the attendance and examination of witnesses in such Courts, require amendment, It is enacted as follows:

I. Sections XXXIII. and LXXIII. of Regulation XXIII. of 1814 of the Bengal Code, regarding the examination of witnesses before Moonsiffs and Sudder Ameens, and so much of Section XI. Regulation XXIV. of 1814 of the same Code, and Section I. Act VI. of 1843, as authorizes the examination of witnesses otherwise than personally by the presiding City or Zillah Judge or Principal Sudder Ameen, are hereby repealed.

II. In any regular suit, appeal or miscellaneous proceeding, it shall be lawful for the Judge, upon good and sufficient grounds in the estimation of such Judge being shown, to examine any party to such suit, appeal or proceeding, as a witness, with respect to any question at issue therein, and also to order, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, any such party as aforesaid to produce any document in his possession or power. Provided always that female parties, who according to the custom of the country ought not to be compelled to appear as witnesses in Court, shall be examined as hereinafter in Section XVIII. mentioned. Provided also, that if any party to any such suit, appeal or proceeding as aforesaid shall satisfy the Judge that the subject of inquiry is not one of which such party has personal knowledge, he shall be allowed to name any agent, local manager or other person on his behalf, who has personal knowledge of such matter, and then and in such case, the evidence of the agent, local manager or other person shall be accepted by the Judge in lieu of the evidence of such party, and the statement of the agent, local manager or person so examined shall be held conclusive against the party, in like manner as his own statement would have been.

III. If any party to such suit, appeal or proceeding as aforesaid shall refer to any document in his possession or power, in any pleading or statement filed or made by him in such suit appeal or proceeding, the adverse party, before replying to such pleading or statement, may apply to the Judge before whom such suit appeal or proceeding is pending, to order the production of such document for his inspection, and it shall thereupon be lawful for the said Judge to issue an order in writing, directing the production of such document, at a place and time to be named in such order, and from time to time, by similar orders, to enlarge the time allowed for such production, if the said Judge shall think fit so to do; and if the said party shall not produce the document at the time and place appointed for the production thereof, the Judge may proceed against him in such manner as is provided by Section X. of this Act with respect to parties summoned or examined as witnesses.

IV. After the parties in a suit have filed their exhibits and lists of witnesses whom they desire to summon, the Judge shall, by an order in writing, appoint a day, not less than fifteen nor more than forty days, after the date of such order, for the examination of witnesses and the hearing of the suit.

V. The Judge, or an Officer of the Court to be specially charged with the duty by the Judge, shall, on the requisition of the plaintiff or defendant, or their respective vakeels, issue a summons to every witness whom the parties may name, on payment into Court of such reasonable sum as shall, under the rules established in that respect under the authority of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, appear to be necessary, to defray the travelling and other expenses of such witness in passing to and from the Court, and being detained thereat. Provided always that no such summons shall be issued to any Hindoo or Mahomedan woman of a rank or quality which, according to the manners and customs of the country, would render it improper to compel her to appear as a witness in a Court of Justice.

VI. Every such summons shall set forth at whose request it has been issued, and shall require the intended witness to appear in the Court on the day named in the summons, and there to give evidence concerning the matter in dispute between the parties. If a witness is required to appear, and to produce before the Court any documents alleged by the party summoning him to be in his possession or power, a direction to attend the Court with such documents shall be inserted in the summons and the nature of each document which the witness may be so called upon to produce shall be set forth in the summons with reasonable certainty.

VII. A witness, not being a party to the suit or proceeding in which he is summoned, shall not be bound to produce his own title deeds, or the title deeds of his principal or client, nor any document relating to affairs of state the production of which would be contrary to good policy, nor any document the production of which would involve a breach of professional confidence on his part. A witness who is a party to the suit or proceeding in which he is summoned, shall not be bound to produce any document in his possession or power which exclusively relates to his own case, and is not relevant and material to the case made by the party opposed to him in such suit, appeal or proceeding, nor any documents which passed between him and his professional advisers relating to the said suit appeal or proceeding, or in contemplation thereof. Provided always, that every party shall be bound to produce all documents mentioned or referred to by himself, in any pleading or statement filed in the suit appeal or proceeding in which he is summoned as a witness.

VIII. Every witness, on receipt of a summons to appear and produce a document in his possession or power as aforesaid, shall be bound to bring such document into Court, although he may have a valid excuse for not disclosing the contents thereof, and the validity of any objection made by such witness to the production of such document in evidence shall be determined by the Court; and for the better determination thereof, it shall be lawful for the Court to receive any affidavit or deposition which the witness may make depose to or produce respecting the said document, and it shall also be lawful for the Court, in their discretion, to inspect the document, and if the Court shall be of opinion that such document should not be produced, the Court shall not disclose the contents thereof to the parties, or take any note, or make any mention thereof, in their judgment or proceedings, but shall return the document at once to the party producing the same.

IX. When the Judge, on the application of either of the parties to such suit appeal or proceeding as aforesaid, or in his own discretion, may determine to proceed under the authority given by Section II. of this Act, he shall, if the party whom he may desire to examine be personally present in Court, proceed to take his evidence, and if the party shall not be personally present in Court, but shall be represented by a Pleader, the Judge shall cause to be delivered to such Pleader a notice in writing, for which a receipt shall be taken from the Pleader, desiring the party to appear in Court by a day to be therein named, for the purpose of being examined; or if a defendant shall not have appeared in Court either personally or by a Pleader, a summons may be issued for his attendance, as in the case of an ordinary witness.

X. If any witness to whom any such Summons as aforesaid shall have been delivered, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to attend on the day appointed, or attending, shall refuse to give evidence, or to subscribe his deposition, or to produce any document named in such Summons as aforesaid which the Judge shall be satisfied the witness has in his possession or power and shall consider he is bound to produce, the Judge shall have full power and authority to issue an order in writing to the Nazir, to seize and bring the witness before the Court, or, if he be already before the Court, to take him into custody, and, in his discretion, may impose on such witness a fine, not exceeding five hundred rupees, for his default, realizable by attachment and sale of his property, and may commit him to close custody until he shall consent to give his evidence, and to sign his deposition, or to produce the document aforesaid; or, if the witness be a plaintiff or petitioner in the suit or proceeding, his complaint or petition may be dismissed with costs; and any such fine as aforesaid shall be levied and recovered by attachment and sale of the property of any such witness as aforesaid, and if any such witness, to whom a summons has been delivered, shall abscond or conceal himself so that he cannot be seized and brought before the Court, his property shall be liable to attachment and sale, in the same manner as is provided by Sections XII. XIV. and XV. of this Act with respect to witnesses on whom the Nazir may be unable to serve a summons.

XI. If a witness, who attends pursuant to a summons, shall have incurred any expense in consequence of his being required to appear, the judge shall award to him such sum for his charges as may appear reasonable, whether he be examined or not, and until payment of the sum so awarded, the person summoned may refuse to give evidence.

XII. When a witness after diligent search, to be certified by a return of the Nazir, cannot be found, it shall be deemed a sufficient service of the summons on such witness, if a proclamation requiring his attendance to give evidence be affixed, in the presence and with the attestation of two respectable householders of the village, outside of his house or place of usual abode, and if such witness does not attend within four weeks from the date of the proclamation being so affixed, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court, on oath, that the evidence of the witness is material to the cause, and that he cannot be found, and that there is good ground for believing that he has absconded to avoid giving evidence therein, his property, real and personal, to such amount as the Judge shall deem reasonable, (but subject to the same limitation as to the articles exempt from attachment as in case of attachment for arrears of rent,) shall be liable to attachment and sale. Provided always, that when the order of attachment and sale shall have been issued by any Court subordinate to the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, an appeal shall lie within one month from the date of the order of the subordinate Court to the Court to which its orders are generally appealable, and the rules in force in regard to sales made in execution of decrees, as to the place or manner of sale, and as to claims of third parties to property attached and notified for sale, shall be held applicable to such sales, or to sales in satisfaction of fines under Section X. of this Act.

XIII. It shall not be necessary to postpone the decision of a case for the evidence of a witness confined or absconding beyond such period as may appear proper to the Judge, upon application made to him according to Section XIX. of this Act.

XIV. The cost of the attachment shall be borne in the first instance by the party applying for it, and the Court issuing the summons and attachment shall not proceed to sale of the property, if the person summoned as a witness shall appear and satisfy the Court that his absence was not owing to any wilful default. Upon the appearance of such witness, the Court shall make such order in regard to the costs of the attachment as it shall deem fit, and if the witness appearing shall fail to satisfy the Court that his previous absence was not owing to any wilful default, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to release the property from attachment, upon payment of all costs, and of such fine as the Court may deem reasonable, with reference to the circumstances of the case, and the condition in life of the witness, and such fine may be recovered by sale of his property, a sufficient portion of which may be retained under attachment for that purpose.

XV. All orders as to costs or fines or the levy thereof under the last preceding Section, and all orders passed under Section X. of this Act, shall be subject to the like appeal as hereinbefore in Section XII. mentioned.

XVI. On the day appointed for trial, the judge shall require the parties or their pleaders to state and argue on their cases orally in open Court, with reference to the issues previously declared in the proceeding recorded under Section X. Regulation XXVI. of 1814.

XVII. The evidence of the attending witnesses shall be taken in open Court before the parties or their representatives, in the presence and under the personal direction of the judge, and shall be recorded in such manner and according to such forms as shall be from time to time prescribed in that behalf by the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

XVIII. In cases where the evidence is needed of females who, according to the customs of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear as witnesses in a Court of Justice, or in any other case in which the Judge shall be of opinion that the ends of justice require and justify it, he may issue a Commission to any Officer of his Court or other person to be named in such Commission for the examination of such females or persons, in the presence of both parties to the suit or their Vakeels, and with liberty to the parties or their Vakeels to cross-examine, anything in Section V. of Act VII. of 1841 to the contrary notwithstanding.

XIX. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Judge that any application has been preferred to him for the examination of any party to a suit appeal or proceeding from vexatious or malicious motives, it shall be lawful for such Judge to impose a fine, not exceeding one thousand rupees, on the party by whom or on whose behalf such application shall have been made, and the said fine shall be realized in like manner as other fines imposed under Section X., and the orders imposing such fines, or for the attachment and sale of the property of such person, shall be subject to the same appeal as hereinbefore in Section XII. provided.

XX. On or before the day appointed for trial, the Judge may, for any sufficient reason, such as the unavoidable absence of any material witness, or for other good cause, on the application of either party, postpone the hearing to another day, to be named, on such terms as to the payment of the costs of postponement to the other party, as to the Judge shall seem reasonable.

XXI. The recording of evidence on the trial of any suit, when begun under the rules above enacted, shall continue on the same day, or on consecutive days, until the whole of the evidence of the witnesses present has been heard, and after considering such testimony and the documentary evidence adduced, the Judge shall record his judgment under Act XII. of 1843.

XXII. The Judge, on the application of either party, shall cause public notice to be given in Court, either before or during the examination of any witness, requiring all other witnesses who have been summoned in the same cause, and who are present in Court, to leave the Court. Any witness in a cause who remains in Court after the giving of such notice, shall be punishable as for contempt, and shall be liable at the discretion of the Judge to any fine not exceeding rupees 200, or to imprisonment in the Civil Jail with or without labor for any term not exceeding three Calendar months.

XXIII. Any party to a suit appeal or proceeding who is examined as a witness therein, shall be examined under the same rules as are now in force for the examination of other witnesses, and shall be liable, in respect of any false evidence given by him on any issue material to such suit appeal or proceeding, to punishment for perjury, under the provisions of Regulation II. of 1807.

XXIV. The word "Judge," as used in this Act, shall be taken to mean the person presiding, or having the chief judicial authority in any Court, however designated, in the Presidency of Bengal or in places subordinate thereto.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of April next.

Fort William,
the 8th March 1852.

NOTIFICATION.—An examination will be held early in April 1852, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Military Class of the Medical College. All candidates will be expected to possess a knowledge of the Hindustani language, adequate to enable them to read and write it in the Persian or Devanagri character.

2nd. All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested, through the Military Departments, not to grant certificates of qualification to any candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years, and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expence and inconvenience have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with certificates, who were found, on examination, quite unqualified for admission: and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this that the above measure has been adopted.

3rd. Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper descriptive roll may be prepared for transmission to the examiners of the College of Fort William.

4th. The preference in selection, attainments being equal, will be given to those who have already been attached to, or served in Civil or Regimental Hospitals.

5th. No candidate will be allowed to present himself for examination, who cannot produce a written testimonial of his conduct and character, or afford satisfactory evidence as to who and what he is. A few individuals of decidedly bad character have, upon recent occasions, managed to obtain admittance, it is supposed, by producing false papers: the strictest care and scrutiny will therefore be exercised in examining the credentials of all future candidates, who will, in addition, require to be furnished with regular muster rolls, in order that they may be identified.

6th. All pupils must, as a condition of their appointment, reside within the College premises at all times, and never be absent from morning and evening muster without special leave.

7th. All students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

8th. No candidate will be admitted to the School, who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

(By Order).

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1852.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative.
The 12th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 12th March, 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

Act No. XV. of 1852.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law of Evidence in divers particulars, It is hereby enacted as follows:

Repeal of part of Section I., Act VII. of 1844.

I. So much of Section I. of Act No. VII. of 1844 as provides that the said Act shall "not render competent any party to any suit, action, or proceeding individually named in the record, or any lessor of the plaintiff or tenant of premises sought to be recovered in ejectment, or the landlord or other person in whose right any defendant in replevin may make cognizance, or any person in whose immediate and individual behalf any action may be brought or defended, either wholly or in part," is hereby repealed.

Parties to be admissible witnesses.

II. On the trial of any issue joined, or of any matter or question, or on any enquiry arising in any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law, or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence with respect to, or concerning any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of such Courts, the parties thereto, and the persons in whose behalf any such suit, action, or other proceeding, may be brought or defended, shall, except as hereinafter excepted, be competent and compellable to give evidence, either viva voce, or by deposition, according to the practice of the Courts, on behalf of either or any of the parties to the said suit, action, or other proceeding.

Parties not compellable to criminate themselves. Husband and wife not compellable to give evidence for or against each other.

III. But nothing herein contained shall render any person, who in any criminal proceeding is charged with the commission of any indictable offence, or any offence punishable on summary conviction, competent or compellable to give evidence for or against himself or herself, or shall render any person compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself or herself, or shall in any criminal proceeding render any husband competent or compellable to give evidence for or against his wife, or any wife competent or compellable to give evidence for or against her husband.

Act not to apply to proceedings for adultery or to actions for breach of promise of marriage.

IV. Nothing herein contained shall apply to any action, suit, or proceeding in any Court of Common Law, or in any Ecclesiastical Court, instituted in consequence of adultery, or to any action for breach of promise of marriage.

The Wills Act not repealed.

V. Nothing herein contained shall repeal any provision contained in Act XXV. of 1838.

Courts authorized to compel inspection of documents in actions and other proceedings whenever Equity would grant discovery.

VI. Whenever any action or other legal proceeding shall henceforth be pending in any of Her Majesty's Courts, such Court and each of the Judges thereof may respectively, on application made for such purpose by either of the litigants, compel the opposite party to allow the party making the application to inspect all documents in the custody or under the control of such opposite party relating to such action or other legal proceeding, and, if necessary, to take examined copies of the same, or to procure the same to be duly stamped, in all cases in which previous to the passing of this Act, a discovery might have been obtained by filing a bill, or by any other proceeding in a Court of Equity at the instance of the party so making application as aforesaid to the said Court or Judge. Provided always, that every such application shall be made as aforesaid before issue joined in any such action, and twenty-one days before the trial or hearing of any other legal proceeding.

Foreign and Colonial Acts of State, judgments, &c., provable by certified copies, without proof of seal or signature or judicial character of person signing the same.

VII. All proclamations, treaties, and other Acts of State of any Foreign State, or of the East India Company, or of any Territory under the Government of the East India Company, or of any British Colony, and all judgments, decrees, orders, and other judicial proceedings of any Court of Justice in any foreign State, or in any of the territories under the Government of the East India Company, or in any British Colony, and all affidavits, pleadings, and other legal documents filed or deposited in any such Court, may be proved in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, either by examined copies, or by copies authenticated as hereinafter mentioned; that is to say, if the document sought to be proved be a Proclamation, Treaty, or other Act of State, the authenticated copy to be admissible in evidence must purport to be sealed with the Seal of the Foreign State, or of the East India Company, or of the Territory under the Government of the East India Company, or of the British Colony to which the original document belongs; and if the document sought to be proved be a judgment, decree, order, or other judicial proceeding of any Foreign or Colonial Court, or of any Court within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, or an affidavit, pleading, or other legal document filed or deposited in any such Court, the authenticated copy to be admissible in evidence, must purport either to be sealed with the Seal of the Foreign or Colonial Court or Court within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company to which the original document belongs, or in the event of such Court having no Seal, to be signed by the Judge, or if there be more than one Judge, by any one of the Judges of the said Court, and such Judge shall attach to his signature a statement in writing on the said copy that the Court whereof he is a Judge has no Seal; but if any of the aforesaid authenticated copies shall purport to be sealed or signed as hereinbefore respectively directed, the same shall respectively be admitted in evidence in every case in which the original document could have been received in evidence, without any proof of the Seal, where a Seal is necessary, or of the signature, or of the truth of the statement attached thereto, where such signature and statement are necessary, or of the judicial character of the person appearing to have made such signature and statement.

Registers of British Vessels and Certificates of Registry admissible without proof of signature.

VIII. Every Register of a Vessel kept under Act X. of 1841, or under any of the Acts of Parliament relating to the registry of British Vessels, may be proved in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, either by the production of the original, or by an examined copy thereof, or by a copy thereof purporting to be certified under the hand of the person having the charge of the original, and which person is hereby required to furnish such certified copy to any person applying at a reasonable time for the same, upon payment of the sum of one Rupee; and every such Register, or such copy of a Register, and also every Certificate of Registry granted under the said Act or any of the Acts of Parliament relating to the registry of British Vessels, and purporting to be signed as required by law, shall be received in evidence in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, as primâ facie proof of all the matters contained or recited in such Register, when the Register, or such copy thereof as aforesaid, is produced, and of all the matters contained or recited in or endorsed on such Certificate of Registry when the said Certificate is produced.

Where necessary to prove conviction or acquittal, not necessary to produce record, but Certificate of Clerk of Court.

IX. Whenever in any proceeding whatever it may be necessary to prove the trial and conviction or acquittal of any person charged with any indictable offence, it shall not be necessary to produce the record of the conviction or acquittal of such person, or a copy thereof, but it shall be sufficient that it be certified or purport to be certified under the hand of the Clerk of the Court or other Officer having the custody of the records of the Court where such conviction or acquittal took place, or by the Deputy of such Clerk or other Officer, that the paper produced is a copy of the record of the indictment, trial, conviction, and judgment or acquittal, as the case may be, omitting the formal parts thereof.

Examined or certified copies of documents admissible.

X. Whenever any book or other document is of such a public nature as to be admissible in evidence on its mere production from the proper custody, and no statute or Act exists which renders its contents provable by means of a copy, any copy thereof, or extract therefrom, shall be admissible in evidence in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person now or hereafter having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, provided it be proved to be an examined copy or extract, or provided it purports to be signed and certified as a true copy or extract by the Officer to whose custody the original is entrusted, and which Officer is hereby required to furnish such certified copy or extract to any person applying at a reasonable time for the same, upon payment of a reasonable sum for the same, not exceeding four annas, for every folio of ninety words.

Certifying a false document a misdemeanor.

XI. If any officer authorized or required by this Act to furnish any certified copies or extracts shall wilfully certify any document as being a true copy or extract, knowing that the same is not a true copy or extract, as the case may be, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable, upon conviction, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding eighteen months.

Court, &c. may administer oath.

XII. All Her Majesty's Courts within the British Territories under the Government of the East India Company, and every Judge and Justice of such Courts, and every Officer, Commissioner, Arbitrator or other person, now or hereafter having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence with respect to or concerning any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of such Courts, is hereby empowered to administer an oath to all such witnesses as are legally called before them respectively.

Persons forging seal, stamp, or signature of certain documents, or wilfully uttering the same, guilty of felony.

XIII. If any person shall forge the seal, stamp, or signature of any document in this Act mentioned or referred to, or shall tender in evidence any such document with a false or counterfeit seal, stamp, or signature thereto, knowing the same to be false or counterfeit, he shall be guilty of felony, and shall, upon conviction, be liable to transportation for seven years, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three years, nor less than one year, with hard labour; and whenever any such document shall have been admitted in evidence by virtue of this Act, the Court, or the person who shall have admitted the same, may, at the request of any party against whom the same is so admitted in evidence, direct that the same shall be impounded and be kept in the custody of some officer of the Court or other proper person, for such period, and subject to such conditions, as to the said Court or person shall seem meet; and every person who shall be charged with committing any felony under this Act may be dealt with, indicted, tried, and, if convicted, sentenced, and his offence may be laid and charged to have been committed in the place in which he shall be apprehended or be in custody; and every accessory before or after the fact to any such offence may be dealt with, indicted, tried, and, if convicted, sentenced, and his offence may be laid and charged to have been committed in any place in which the principal offender may be tried.

XIV. This Act shall come into operation from and after the tenth day of April, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty-two.

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative.
The 12th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 12th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT NO. XVI. OF 1852.

An Act for further Improving the Administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Courts of Justice in the Territories of the East India Company.

Whereas offenders frequently escape conviction on their trials, by reason of the technical strictness of criminal proceedings in matters not material to the merits of the case; and whereas such technical strictness may safely be relaxed in many instances, so as to insure the punishment of the guilty, without depriving the accused of any just means of defence; and whereas a failure of justice often takes place on the trial of persons charged with felony and misdemeanor by reason of variances between the statement in the indictment on which the trial is had, and the proof of names, dates, matters, and circumstances therein mentioned, not material to the merits of the case, and by the misstatement whereof the person on trial cannot have been prejudiced in his defence, It is hereby enacted as follows:

The Court may amend certain variances not material to the merits of the case, and by which the defendant cannot be prejudiced in his defence, and may either proceed with or postpone the trial to be had before the same or another jury.

I. From and after the coming of this Act into operation, whenever, on the trial of any indictment for any felony or misdemeanor, there shall appear to be any variance between the statement in such indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall and may be lawful for the Court before which the trial shall be had, if it shall consider such variance not material to the merits of the case, and that the defendant cannot be prejudiced thereby in his defence on such merits, to order such indictment to be amended, according to the proof, by some officer of the Court or other person, both in that part of the indictment where such variance occurs, and in every other part of the indictment which it may become necessary to amend, on such terms as to postponing the trial to be had before the same or another jury, as such Court shall think reasonable; and after any such amendment the trial shall proceed, whenever the same shall be proceeded with, in the same manner in all respects, and with the same consequences, both with respect to the liability of witnesses to be indicted for perjury and otherwise, as if no such variance had occurred: provided that, in all such cases where the trial shall be so postponed as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court to respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses, and of the defendant, and his surety or sureties, if any, accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence respectively, and the defendant shall be bound to attend to be tried, at the time and place to which such trial shall be postponed, without entering into any fresh recognizances for that purpose, in such and the same manner as if they were originally bound by their recognizance to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, at the time and place to which such trial shall have been so postponed: provided also, that where any such trial shall be to be had before another jury, the crown and the defendant shall respectively be entitled to the same challenges as they were respectively entitled to before the first jury was sworn.

Verdicts and judgments valid after amendments.

II. Every verdict and judgment which shall be given after the making of any amendment under the provisions of this Act, shall be of the same force and effect in all respects as if the indictment had originally been in the same form in which it was after such amendment was made.

Records to be drawn up in amended form, without noticing the amendments.

III. If it shall become necessary at any time, for any purpose whatsoever, to draw up a formal record in any case where any amendment shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, such record shall be drawn up in the form in which the indictment was after such amendment was made, without taking any notice of the fact of such amendment having been made.

The means by which the injury was inflicted need not be specified in indictments for murder and manslaughter.

IV. In any indictment for murder or manslaughter preferred after the coming of this Act into operation, it shall not be necessary to set forth the manner in which, or the means by which, the death of the deceased was caused, but it shall be sufficient, in every indictment for murder, to charge that the defendant did feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought kill and murder the deceased, and it shall be sufficient in every indictment for manslaughter to charge that the defendant did feloniously kill and slay the deceased.

Forms of indictment in cases of forgery and uttering, stealing, and embezzling, or obtaining by false pretences.

V. In any indictment for forging, uttering, stealing, embezzling, destroying, or concealing, or for obtaining by false pretences, any instrument, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile thereof, or otherwise describing the same, or the value thereof.

In engraving plates, &c.

VI. In any indictment for engraving or making the whole or any part of any instrument, matter or thing whatsoever, or for using or having the unlawful possession of any plate, or other material upon which the whole or any part of any instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever shall have been engraved or made, or for having the unlawful possession of any paper upon which the whole or any part of any instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever shall have been made or printed, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument, matter, or thing by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, without setting out any copy or fac-simile of the whole or any part of such instrument, matter, or thing.

In other cases.

VII. In all other cases, wherever it shall be necessary to make any averment in any indictment as to any instrument, whether the same consists wholly or in part of writing, print, or figures, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile of the whole or any part thereof.

Intent to defraud particular persons need not be alleged or proved in cases of forgery, uttering, or false pretences.

VIII. From and after the coming of this Act into operation, it shall be sufficient in any indictment for forging, uttering, offering, disposing of, or putting off any instrument whatsoever, or for obtaining or attempting to obtain any property by false pretences, to allege that the defendant did the act with intent to defraud, without alleging the intent of the defendant to be to defraud any particular person; and on the trial of any of the offences in this section mentioned, it shall not be necessary to prove an intent on the part of the defendant to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to prove that the defendant did the act charged with an intent to defraud.

A party indicted for felony or misdemeanor may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and shall be liable to the same consequences as if charged with and convicted of the attempt only. No person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

IX. And whereas offenders often escape conviction by reason that such persons ought to have been charged with attempting to commit offences, and not with the actual commission thereof; it is enacted, that if on the trial of any person charged with any felony or misdemeanor, it shall appear to the jury upon the evidence that the defendant did not complete the offence charged, but that he was guilty only of an attempt to commit the same, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the defendant is not guilty of the felony or misdemeanor charged, but is guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for attempting to commit the particular felony or misdemeanor charged in the said indictment; and no person so tried as herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the felony or misdemeanor for which he was so tried.

Repeal of the 8th Section of Act XXXI. of 1838.

X. And whereas it is enacted by the 8th Section of Act XXXI. of 1838 that "on the trial of any person for any of the offences thereinbefore mentioned, or for any felony whatever where the crime charged shall include an assault against the person, it shall be lawful for the jury to acquit of the felony, and to find a verdict of guilty of assault against the person indicted, if the evidence shall warrant such finding": and whereas great difficulties have arisen in the construction of such enactment: for remedy thereof it is enacted that the said enactment shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

On the trial of an indictment for robbery, the jury may convict of an assault with intent to rob; no person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

XI. If upon the trial of any person upon any indictment for robbery, it shall appear to the jury upon the evidence that the defendant did not commit the crime of robbery, but that he did commit an assault with intent to rob, the defendant shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the defendant is guilty of an assault with intent to rob, and thereupon such defendant shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for feloniously assaulting with intent to rob; and no person so tried as is herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an assault with intent to commit the robbery for which he was so tried.

Person tried for misdemeanor not to be acquitted if the offence turn out to be felony, unless the Court so direct.

XII. If upon the trial of any person for any misdemeanor, it shall appear that the facts given in evidence amount in law to a felony, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of such misdemeanor; and no person tried for such misdemeanor shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for felony on the same facts, unless the Court before which such trial may be had shall think fit, in its discretion, to discharge the jury from giving any verdict upon such trial, and to direct such person to be indicted for felony, in which case such person may be dealt with in all respects as if he had not been put upon his trial for such misdemeanor.

Persons indicted for embezzlement, as a clerk, &c., not to be acquitted if the offence turn out to be larceny, and vice versâ.

XIII. If upon the trial any person indicted for embezzlement as a clerk, servant, or person employed for the purpose, or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, it shall be proved that he took the property in question in any such manner as to amount in law to larceny, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that such person is not guilty of embezzlement, but is guilty of simple larceny, or of larceny as a clerk, servant, or person employed for the purpose, or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, as the case may be, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for such larceny; and if upon the trial of any person indicted for larceny it shall be proved that he took the property in question in any such manner as to amount in law to embezzlement, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that such person is not guilty of larceny, but is guilty of embezzlement, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for such embezzlement; and no person so tried for embezzlement or larceny as aforesaid shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for larceny or embezzlement upon the same facts.

Upon an indictment for jointly receiving, persons guilty of separately receiving may be convicted.

XIV. If upon the trial of two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving any property, it shall be proved that one or more of such persons separately received any part of such property, it shall be lawful for the jury to convict upon such indictment such of the said persons as shall be proved to have received any part of such property.

Separate accessories and receivers may be included in the same indictment in the absence of the principal felon.

XV. And whereas it frequently happens that the principal in a felony is not in custody or amenable to justice, although several accessories to such felony or receivers at different times of stolen property the subject of such felony may be in custody or amenable to justice: for the prevention of several trials, it is enacted that any number of such accessories or receivers may be charged with substantive felonies in the same indictment, notwithstanding the principal felon shall not be included in the same indictment, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice.

Three larcenies from the same person within six months may be included in the same indictment.

XVI. It shall be lawful to insert several counts in the same indictment against the same person for any number of distinct acts of stealing, not exceeding three, which may have been committed by him against the same person within the space of six calendar months from the first to the last of such acts, and to proceed thereon for all or any of them.

Where a single taking is charged, the prosecutor need not elect, unless where more than three takings, or more than six months between the first and last taking.

XVII. If upon the trial of any indictment for larceny, it shall appear that the property alleged in such indictment to have been stolen at one time was taken at different times, the prosecutor shall not by reason thereof be required to elect upon which taking he will proceed, unless it shall appear that there were more than three takings, or that more than the space of six calendar months elapsed between the first and the last of such takings; and in either of such last-mentioned cases the prosecutor shall be required to elect to proceed for such number of takings, not exceeding three, as appear to have taken place within the period of six calendar months from the first to the last of such takings.

Coin and bank-notes may be described simply as money.

XVIII. In every indictment in which it shall be necessary to make any averment as to any money or any note of any bank, it shall be sufficient to describe such money or bank-note simply as money, without specifying any particular coin or bank-note; and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of any bank-note, although the particular species of coin of which such amount was composed, or the particular nature of the bank-note, shall not be proved, and in cases of embezzlement and obtaining money or bank-notes by false pretences, by proof that the offender embezzled or obtained any piece of coin or any bank-note, or any portion of the value thereof, although such piece of coin or bank-note may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same, or to any other person, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

Simplifying indictments for perjury and other like offences.

XIX. In every indictment for perjury, or for unlawfully, wilfully, falsely, fraudulently, deceitfully, maliciously, or corruptly taking, making, signing, or subscribing any oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged upon the defendant, and by what Court or before whom the oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing was taken, made, signed, or subscribed, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration, or any part of any proceeding either in law or in equity, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the Court or person before whom such offence was committed.

As to form of indictments for subornation of perjury and other like offences.

XX. In every indictment for subornation of perjury, or for corrupt bargaining or contracting with any person to commit wilful and corrupt perjury, or for inciting, causing, or procuring any person unlawfully, wilfully, falsely, fraudulently, deceitfully, maliciously or corruptly to take, make, sign or subscribe any oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing, it shall be sufficient, wherever such perjury or other offence aforesaid shall have been actually committed, to allege the offence of the person who actually committed such perjury or other offence in the manner hereinbefore mentioned, and then to allege that the defendants unlawfully, wilfully, and corruptly did cause and procure the said person the said offence, in manner and form aforesaid, to do and commit; and wherever such perjury or other offence aforesaid shall not have been actually committed, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged upon the defendant, without setting forth or averring any of the matters or things hereinbefore rendered unnecessary to be set forth or averred in the case of wilful and corrupt perjury.

What defects shall not vitiate an indictment.

XXI. No indictment for any offence shall be held insufficient for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute," instead of "against the form of the statutes," or vice versâ, nor for that any person mentioned in the indictment is designated by a name of office, or other descriptive appellation, instead of his proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment, or on an impossible day, or on a day that never happened, nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, nor for want of a proper or formal conclusion, nor for want of or imperfection in the addition of any defendant, nor for want of the statement of the value or price of any matter or thing, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil, in any case where the value or price, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil, is not of the essence of the offence.

Formal objections to indictments shall be taken before jury are sworn. Court may amend any formal defect.

XXII. Every objection to any indictment for any formal defect apparent on the face thereof shall be taken, by demurrer or motion to quash such indictment, before the jury shall be sworn, and not afterwards; and every Court before which any such objection shall be taken for any formal defect may, if it be thought necessary, cause the indictment to be forthwith amended in such particular by some officer of the Court, or other person, and thereupon the trial shall proceed as if no such defect had appeared.

Provision as to traversing indictments.

XXIII. No person prosecuted shall be entitled to traverse or postpone the trial of any indictment found against him at any Session of the Peace, Session of Oyer and Terminer, or Session of Gaol Delivery; provided always that if the Court, upon the application of the person so indicted or otherwise, shall be of opinion that he ought to be allowed a further time, either to prepare for his defence or otherwise, such Court may adjourn the trial of such person to the next subsequent session, upon such terms as to bail or otherwise as to such Court shall seem meet, and may respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence at such subsequent Session without entering into any fresh recognizance for that purpose.

Provision as to plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit.

XXIV. In any plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit it shall be sufficient for any defendant to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted (as the case may be) of the said offence charged in the indictment.

Punishment for certain indictable misdemeanors.

XXV. Whenever any person shall be convicted of any one of the offences following, as an indictable misdemeanor; that is to say,—any cheat or fraud punishable at common law; any conspiracy to cheat or defraud, or to extort money or goods, or falsely to accuse of any crime, or to obstruct, prevent, pervert, or defeat the course of public justice; any escape or rescue from lawful custody, on a criminal charge; any public and indecent exposure of the person; any indecent assault, or any assault occasioning actual bodily harm; any attempt to have carnal knowledge of a girl under twelve years of age; any public selling, or exposing for public sale or to public view, of any obscene book, print, picture, or other indecent exhibition, it shall be lawful for the Court to sentence the offender to be imprisoned for any term now warranted by law, and also to be kept to hard labour during the whole or any part of such term of imprisonment.

Interpretation of terms.

XXVI. In the construction of this Act the word "indictment" shall be understood to include "information," "inquisition," and "presentment," as well as "indictment," and also any "plea," "replication," or other pleading; and the terms "finding of the indictment," shall be understood to include "the taking of an inquisition," "the exhibiting of an information," and "the making a presentment;" and wherever, in this Act, in describing or referring to any person or party, matter or thing, any word importing the singular number or masculine gender is used, the same shall be understood to include and shall be applied to several persons and parties as well as one person or party, and females as well as males, and bodies corporate as well as individuals, and several matters and things as well as one matter or thing; and the word "property" shall be understood to include goods, chattels, money, valuable securities, and every other matter or thing, whether real or personal, upon or with respect to which any offence may be committed.

Commencement of Act.

XXVII. This Act shall come into operation from and after the tenth day of April, One thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, The 12th March 1852.

The following Act passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 12th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XVII. OF 1852.

An Act to diminish the expense and delay of proceedings in Her Majesty's Courts within the Territories of the East India Company.

Persons interested in questions cognisable in Her Majesty's Courts may state special cases for the opinion of such Courts.

I. It shall be lawful for persons interested or claiming to be interested in any question cognizable in Her Majesty's Courts within the Territories of the East India Company, on the Equity, Plea, Ecclesiastical or Admiralty sides thereof respectively, and including among such persons all lunatics, married women, and infants in the manner and under the restrictions hereinafter contained, to concur in stating such question in the form of a special case for the opinion of the said Courts, and it shall also be lawful for all Executors, Administrators, Representatives and Trustees to concur in such case.

How lunatic may concur.

II. The Committee of the estate of any lunatic interested or claiming to be interested in any such question as aforesaid may, after having been authorized in that behalf by the Court or any Judge thereof in which such special case is filed, concur in such case in his own name, and in the name and on the behalf of the lunatic.

How married women may concur.

III. A husband interested or claiming to be interested in right of his wife in any such question as aforesaid may concur in such case in his own name, and in the name of his wife where the wife has no claim to any interest distinct from her husband, and a married woman having or claiming any interest in any such question as aforesaid distinct from her husband may in her own right concur in such case, provided that her husband also concurs therein; but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to require the husband of a Mahomedan or Hindoo female to concur in such case.

How infant may concur.

IV. The guardian of any infant interested or claiming to be interested in any such question as aforesaid may concur in such case in the name and on the behalf of the infant, unless such guardian has an interest in such question adverse to the interest of the infant therein.

How special guardian to be appointed for a lunatic not found such by inquisition and for infant.

V. It shall be lawful for the said Courts, by order to be made in the matter of any lunatic not found such by inquisition, or in the matter of any infant, upon the application of any person on the behalf of such lunatic, or upon the application of such infant, by motion or petition, to appoint any person shown by affidavit to be a fit person, and to have no interest adverse to the interest of the lunatic or infant, to be the special guardian of such lunatic or infant for the purpose of concurring in such case in the name and on behalf of the lunatic or infant, and any such person so appointed may lawfully so concur. Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the said Courts to require notice of such application to be given to such person, if any, as the Court shall think fit.

Order to appoint special guardian of an infant may be discharged by Courts if made without notice.

VI. In any case in which any such order as aforesaid shall have been made by the said Courts in the matter of any infant without notice to the guardian of the infant, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, if they shall respectively think fit so to do, to discharge such order upon the application of such guardian, by motion or petition; and the said Courts, if they shall respectively think fit, may thereupon appoint some other fit person to be the special guardian of such infant for the purpose of such special case, and may also give such directions as may be necessary for substituting in such special case either the name of the guardian so applying, or of the special guardian so appointed, in lieu of the name of the special guardian so displaced. Provided always, that the discharge of any Order appointing a special guardian shall not invalidate any thing which shall in the meantime have been done by such special guardian, unless the Court shall, upon notice to all parties, specially so direct.

How special cases to be entitled.

VII. Every such special case shall be entitled as a cause between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant; and in the title to such cases, lunatics and infants shall be described as such, and their Committees, guardians, or special guardians named; and where in any such case a married woman is named as a plaintiff, and her husband as a defendant thereto, a next friend of such married woman shall be named in the title to such case; but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to require a next friend of any Hindoo or Mahomedan married woman to be named in such title.

Form of special case.

VIII. Every such special case shall concisely state such facts and documents as may be necessary to enable the Court to decide the question raised thereby; and upon the hearing of such case, the Court and the parties shall be at liberty to refer to the whole contents of such documents; and the Court shall be at liberty to draw from the facts and documents stated in any such special case any inference which the Court might have drawn therefrom if proved in a cause.

Special case to state how guardian constituted, and the concurrence of married women.

IX. Every such special case to which an infant or lunatic is a party by his guardian or special guardian shall also state how such guardian or special guardian was constituted; and where any married woman having or claiming any interest distinct from her husband is a party to such case, it shall be stated therein that she concurs in such case in her own right.

Special case to be signed by Counsel and filed, and appearances to be entered for defendants.

X. Every such special case shall be signed by Counsel for all parties, and shall be filed in the same manner as bills, plaints, or allegations are filed, and the defendants may appear thereto in the same manner as defendants appear to bills, plaints, or allegations, and no defendants shall be required to take an office copy of a special case, but an office copy thereof shall be taken by the plaintiff.

Parties to be bound by statements after defendants have appeared to special case.

XI. After a special case shall have been filed, and the defendants shall have appeared thereto, all the parties to such special case shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court in the same manner as if the plaintiff in the special case had filed a bill, plaint, or allegation against the parties named as defendants thereto, and such defendants had appeared to such bill, plaint, or allegation, and upon the special case being filed and appearances entered thereto as aforesaid, all parties to such special case, shall, for the purposes of such special case, be bound by the statements therein.

How cases to be set down for hearing.

XII So soon as all the defendants shall have appeared to the special case, the same may be set down for hearing, and subpœnas to hear judgment or notices of hearing, issued and served according to the practice of the said Courts.

Upon hearing Court to determine question and make declaration.

XIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts upon the hearing of any such special case as aforesaid, to determine the questions raised therein or any of them, and by decree or judgment to declare its opinion thereon, and, so far as the case shall admit of the same, upon the right involved therein, without proceeding to administer any relief consequent upon such declaration, and every such declaration of the said Court contained in any such decree or judgment shall have the same force and effect as such declaration would have had, and shall be binding to the same extent as such declaration would have been, if contained in a decree or judgment made in a suit between the same parties instituted by bill, plaint, or allegation; provided always, that if upon the hearing of such special case as aforesaid, the Court shall be of opinion that the statements contained therein so far as the same affect the interest of any married woman, infant or lunatic are not true, or that the questions raised thereby or any of them cannot properly be decided upon such case, the same may be at such hearing, with the consent of all parties thereto, and of the Court, amended so as properly to raise such questions, or the said Court may refuse to decide the same.

Proviso that Court may refuse to decide.

Protection to be afforded to Trustees by declaration.

XIV. Every executor, administrator, representative, trustee, or other person making any payment or doing any act in conformity with the declaration contained in any decree or judgment made or pronounced upon a special case, shall in all respects be as fully and effectually protected and indemnified by such declaration, as if such payment had been made or act done under or in pursuance of the express order of the said Court made in a suit, action, or proceeding between the same parties instituted by bill, plaint, or allegation, save only as to any rights or claims of any person in respect of matters not determined by such declaration.

The Court may suspend the acting upon declaration.

XV. Where any person shall be desirous to have a special case re-heard, or to appeal from the decision thereon, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, upon application for that purpose, either at the time of the decree or udgment upon such special case being made, or at any time afterwards, and upon such conditions, if any, as the Court shall think fit, to order that the declaration contained in such decree shall not be acted upon for such time as the said Courts respectively shall think just.

Special case to be a lis pendens, and may be filed.

XVI. The filing of a special case, and the entering of appearances thereto by the persons named as defendants therein, shall be taken to be a lis pendens.

Mode of identifying documents, and Court may order production.

XVII. Any documents referred to, in a special case, and any copies thereof or extracts therefrom, identified by the signature of the solicitors for all parties, may be produced and read at the hearing of such case, without further proof; and it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, at any time after the filing of the special case, and the entering of appearances thereto by the persons named as defendants therein, to order any document, which may be admitted thereby to be in the possession of any party to such case, to be deposited and produced in such manner and for such purposes as the said Courts respectively shall think fit.

Court, on application of Executors or Administrators, may by order of course direct it to be referred to a Master to take an account of debts and liabilities.

XVIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts upon the application of the executors, administrators or representatives in estate of any deceased person, by order to be made upon motion or petition of course, and to be in the form or to the effect set forth in the schedule hereto, with such variations as circumstances may require, to refer it to the Master of the said Courts respectively to take an account of the debts and liabilities affecting the estate of such deceased person, and to report thereon; provided always, that no such order shall be made until the expiration of one year next after the death of such deceased person, or pending any proceedings to administer the estate of such person, and in case at any time after the making of such order, any decree or order for administering the estate of such deceased person shall be made, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, by such decree or order, to stay or suspend the proceedings under such order of course on such terms and conditions, if any, as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just.

Master's Report may be objected to by motion to the Court, of which notice shall be given.

XIX. It shall be lawful for any person who may have come in before the Master under any such order, and claimed to be a creditor upon the estate of the deceased person, or to have any demand upon such estate by reason of any liability, and whose debt or claim may not have been wholly allowed by the said Master, to apply to the Court making such order by motion, of which notice shall be given within fourteen days after the filing of the Master's Report, to have such claim allowed by such Court, either wholly or partially; and it shall be lawful for the said executors, administrators or representatives in estate, and for any creditor of the deceased person who may be authorized by special leave of the said Court so to do, to apply to the said Court by motion, of which notice shall be given within the time aforesaid, to have any debt or claim allowed by the said Master disallowed by the said Court, either wholly or partially, and, at the expiration of fourteen days after the filing of the said report, the same shall, except as to any debt or claim as to which any such notice as aforesaid may have been given, be absolute, as if the same had been confirmed by order of the said Court.

Proceeding of the Court on such motion.

XX. Upon the hearing of any such motion as aforesaid the said Courts respectively may either dismiss such motion, or may order the debt or claim to which such motion relates to be allowed or disallowed, as the case may be, and either wholly or partially, or may direct further inquiry or further proceedings, by way of action or otherwise, touching such debt or claim, and after such inquiry or proceedings may, upon further motion, deal with such debt or claim as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just: provided always, that no new evidence shall be received by the said Courts upon the hearing of any such motion without special leave of the said Courts.

If debts or certain liabilities allowed, and not paid or provided for, order may be made for payment or accounts.

XXI. In case any debt or any certain liability shall have been allowed as aforesaid, and shall not within fourteen days after the report has become absolute as to such debt or liability, or after the same shall have been allowed by the said Court, be paid or provided for by appropriation to the satisfaction of the person who has established such liability, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively by order to be made, in case of any debt remaining due, upon the application by motion or petition of the person to whom the debt remains due, and on notice to the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, and in case of any certain liability remaining unprovided for by appropriation, upon the application by motion or petition of the person by whom such liability has been established, or of the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, and on notice by the party applying to the other of them, to order payment of the debts which may have been allowed and remain unpaid, and to provide for the certain liabilities which may have been allowed and remain unprovided for, in like manner as the same could or might have been paid or provided for in a suit for that purpose instituted by Bill, or to refer it to the Master to take an account of the debts and certain liabilities allowed as aforesaid which remain unpaid or unprovided for, and also the usual accounts of the estate of the deceased person, with all usual and proper directions; and every such order shall have the same force and effect and shall be prosecuted and carried on in like manner as a decree in a creditor's suit instituted by bill.

Accounts to be taken according to usual practice of the Courts.

XXII. Nothing in Sections XVIII. and XXI. of this Act contained shall be construed so as to prevent any of Her Majesty's Courts from taking such accounts as aforesaid in any manner in which, according to the usual practice of such Courts, the same might have been taken if directed by a decretal order made in a suit.

Court, on application of executors or administrators, &c. may direct appropriation of Money to answer contingent liability.

XXIII. In case any contingent liability shall be allowed by the said report or by the said Courts respectively, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, by order, to be made upon the application of the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, by motion or petition, on notice to the person who may have established such contingent liability, to order such sum of money, part, or proceeds of part, of the estate of the deceased person, as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just, to be set apart and appropriated for answering such contingent liability, and to give such directions as the said Courts shall think fit touching the payment of such sum of money into Courts, and the investment thereof, and the payment, application, or accumulation of the interest or dividends thereof in the meantime and until the same shall be required to answer such liability, and when such liability shall be ascertained or determined, to give such directions as to the payment of such sum out of Court as the said Courts respectively shall deem right: Provided always, that no order to be made as aforesaid shall in any manner bind the assets so appropriated as against the persons entitled to the estate of the deceased subject to the contingent liability; and any person interested in such appropriated assets may apply to the Court touching the same, as he may be advised.

Court may restrain proceedings against executors, administrators, &c.

XXIV. After the filing of such report as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively upon the application of the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate of the deceased, by order, to be made on motion, to restrain by injunction any proceedings at law against them by any person having or claiming to have any demand upon the estate of the deceased by reason of any debt or liability other than the persons who may have established contingent liabilities under the said order for which no appropriation may have been made.

Protection to be afforded to executors, administrators, &c.

XXV. In case no debt or liability, or no debt or liability other than a contingent liability, shall have been allowed as aforesaid, or in case any debt or liability other than as aforesaid shall have been allowed as aforesaid, then after the same shall have been paid or provided for by appropriation as aforesaid, all payments made by the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, or any of them, on account of the estate of the deceased person, and all dispositions of such assets made by them or any of them on account of such estate, shall, as against all persons having or claiming to have any demand upon such estate by reason of any debt or liability, other than persons who may have established under the said order any contingent liability for which no such appropriation as aforesaid may have been made, be as good and effectual as if the same had been made under a decree of the said Courts respectively: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall in any manner affect or prejudice the rights of any creditor or other person having any demand or claim upon the estate of the deceased against any assets so paid or disposed of, or against the persons to whom such payment or disposition may have been made, or against any assets appropriated under the provisions of this Act, and the appropriation of which, if made under a decree of the said Court, in a suit to which he was not a party, would not have been binding upon him.

Exceptions for scandal, impertinence and insufficiency to be heard by the Court.

XXVI. All exceptions for scandal, impertinence, and insufficiency, which according to the existing practice of the said Courts are referred to the Masters of the said Courts, shall not any longer be so referred, but shall be heard and determined in the first instance by the said Courts, or any Judge thereof.

Power for Court, notwithstanding any rule, &c. to the contrary, to receive proof by affidavit.

XXVII. Notwithstanding any rule or practice of the said Courts to the contrary, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, at the hearing of any cause or of any further directions therein, to receive proof by affidavit or otherwise of all proper parties being before the Court, and of all such matters as are necessary to be proved for enabling the said Courts respectively to order payment of any monies belonging to any married woman, and of all such other matters, not directly in issue in the cause, as in the opinion of the said Courts respectively may safely and properly be so proved.

Her Majesty's Courts to make General Rules and Orders from time to time.

XXVIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, from time to time, to make, rescind, and alter General Rules and Orders for better enabling the opinion of the said Courts respectively to be obtained on special cases, and for effectuating the purposes of this Act as to the debts and liabilities of deceased persons, and for making any provisions which may be or be deemed necessary or proper as to amendment, revivor and supplemental matter or relief, and as to costs of any proceedings under or in pursuance of this Act, and for regulating the times and form and mode of procedure and practice of the said Courts in respect of the matters to which this Act relates, and every of them, and so far as may be found expedient for altering the course of proceeding hereinbefore prescribed in respect to such matters or any of them, and generally for assimilating the practice of the said Courts respectively to that of the High Court of Chancery in England.

Rules and Orders to be laid before the Governor General in Council, and to be binding from the time appointed or from the making, unless objected to.

XXIX. All such General Rules and Orders shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within one month after the making and issuing of the same, and every such Rule or Order shall, from and after the time in that behalf to be appointed by the said Courts respectively, and if no time shall be so appointed, then from and after the making thereof, be binding and obligatory on the said Courts respectively, and be of like force and effect as if the provisions therein contained had been expressly enacted by the Governor General of India in Council. Provided always, that if the said Governor General of India in Council shall, by any resolution passed at any time within six months after such Rules, Orders, and Regulations shall have been laid before him, resolve that the whole or any part of such Rules or Orders ought not to continue in force, in such case the whole or such part thereof as shall be so included in such resolution shall, from and after the time that such resolution is notified to the said Court, cease to be binding and obligatory on the said Court; provided that every such Rule or Order so made or expressed to be made in pursuance of this Act which shall not be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within the time by this Act limited for that purpose shall, from and after the expiration of such time, be absolutely void and of no effect. Provided always, that nothing in this clause contained shall be construed so that the said Rules or Orders should not be transmitted as heretofore to Her Majesty in Privy Council for approbation.

XXX. In the meantime and until any such General Rules or Orders shall be made, and in so far as the same, when made, shall not be applicable, the proceedings under this Act shall be governed and regulated by the provisions herein contained, so far as the same extend, and in so far as the same do not extend shall, as well with respect to the persons who ought to be made parties to special cases as in every other respect, be governed and regulated by the Rules, Orders and Practice of the said Courts respectively, in suits instituted by bill, so far as the same can be applied thereto; and subject to such General Rules and Orders as aforesaid, the costs of all proceedings under this Act, shall be in the discretion of the said Courts respectively.

Until Rules or Orders are made, and if not applicable when made, practice to be according to this Act and practice of the Court.

XXXI. All decrees and orders made under the provisions of this Act, shall be subject to rehearing, appeal, and review, and may be discharged and varied in the same and the like manner as decrees and orders of the said Courts made in suits instituted by bill.

Decrees and Orders to be subject to appeal, &c.

XXXII. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or in the context repugnant to such construction:

Interpretation of Terms.

No. 458.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th March 1852.

The Most Noble the Governor of Bengal has been pleased to direct that the following test of qualifications, sanctioned by the Government of India as the standard which shall entitle Military Officers attaining to it, in two or more of the Native Languages to claim the reward of Rupees 1,000, granted by the Honorable the Court of Directors, be published for general information.

The languages from which candidates are at liberty to select those in which they will be examined are—

Arabic,	Sanscrit,
Persian,	Hindee,
Oordoo,	Bengalee,

provided that one of the languages chosen must be of Mahomedan origin, either Arabic, Persian or Oordoo, and another of Hindoo origin, either Sanscrit or one of the other languages mentioned above in the same column as Sanscrit, according to the Presidency to which the Officer examined belongs.

The test books in the several languages are to be—

In Arabic, ...	1	Alif Laila.
	2	Ikhwanōōs Safa.
	3	Nafhatōōl Yaman.
In Persian, ...	1	Gulistan.
	2	Bostan.
	3	Anwari Soheilee.
In Oordoo, ...	1	Baghobahar.
	2	Gooli Bakawalee.
	3	Betal Pacheesee.
	4	Ikhwanōōs Safa.
In Sanscrit,..	1	Hitopadesha.
	2	Mahabharata.
In Hindee, ...	1	Rajneeti.
	2	Prem Sagur.
	3	Baghobahar.
In Bengalee,..	1	Betal Punchabinshate.
	2	Bangalar Itihas.
	3	Purush Pariksha.
Maharatta and Goozerattee,	1	Punchopa Khyan.
	2	Æsop's Fables.
	3	Bali Mittra.
Canarese, ...	1	Æsop's Fables.
Tamil, ...	1	Punchatuntra.
Telagoo, ...	1	Morris' Selections.
	2	Punchatuntra.
	3	Vikra Marka Tales.

The candidate will of course not be permitted to have access to any Dictionary or other book, or to receive any kind of assistance in the performance of his exercises, either written or oral.

The written exercises to consist of—

1. A paper not less than an ordinary octavo page in length printed in the language in which the examination is held, to be translated into English.

2. A paper in English of the same length to be translated into the selected language in such a manner as to evince a decided familiarity with the language and some elegance of style.

3. A paper of short sentences in English, the greater part on professional subjects, to be rendered into the language of examination accurately and idiomatically.

The candidate will then be called upon to read fluently and translate correctly portions of any of the test books, and also a fairly but not very clearly written manuscript in the language selected; and, when that is still a spoken language of the country, he shall further be required to carry on a conversation with the Examiners, or with one or more Natives in presence of the Examiners, on such subjects proposed by them, as are calculated to test his colloquial facility both as regards scholar-like expression and knowledge of the terms and phrases commonly used by the poorer and uneducated classes.

The examinations under these orders will be conducted by the College Examiners at Fort William and Fort Saint George in the case of Bengal and Madras Officers respectively, and by the Examination Committee at Bombay when the candidate belongs to that Presidency.

By Order of the Most Noble the Governor of Bengal,

J. P. GRANT,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 459.

NOTIFICATION.

The 11th March 1852.

The Most Noble the Governor of Bengal is pleased to notify that from and after the 1st of May next, unpaid Letters and Newspapers will be received at the several Police Thannas in the Lower Provinces, for despatch to any part of India, or to any place with which a communication by post is established; and that from the same date Letters received at any Post Office, addressed to persons residing beyond the limits of ordinary delivery, will be transmitted by the District Dawk to the persons addressed, unless those persons have made arrangements for receiving their Letters at the Post Office.

Unpaid Letters and Newspapers, not exceeding 12½ tolahs in weight, will be received at every Thanna without payment: and the village watchmen of whatever denomination, who present themselves at regular periods at the Thanna, are authorized and required to receive Letters and Newspapers entrusted to them in their several villages, and to convey them to the Thanna without charge.

Letters and Newspapers, posted as above, if addressed to any place within the same District, will be forwarded, if possible, directly to the Thanna nearest to the place of their destination; but if there be no direct communication between the two Thannas, they will be forwarded, together with all covers intended for other Districts, either to the Post Office at the Sudder Station, or to the nearest Post Office, as in the judgment of the Magistrate may be most convenient.

All Letters and Newspapers, posted as above, will be despatched in the day on which they are posted. They will be stamped with the Thanna Seal, and will be closed in a separate bag or wrapper, together with a bill or chellan, shewing the number of Letters and Newspapers contained therein.

Letters and Newspapers received by the District Dawk at any Thanna or Police Station for delivery, will be immediately delivered to the person addressed, or to his known servant or agent, or to the watchman of the village in which he resides; or they will be sent to him, when instructions to that effect are given by a hired messenger.

The bills or chellans which accompany Letters sent through the District Dawk for delivery, are to be returned or sent to the Post Master at the Sudder Station on the day after receipt, countersigned by the Officer who opened the packet.

No unpaid Letters or Newspapers will be delivered until after payment of the postage due on them; and all postage realized at each Thanna will be remitted regularly on every Saturday to the Post Office at the Sudder Station.

Letters and Newspapers upon which postage has been charged at any Post Office will not be subject to any additional charge for delivery through the District Dawk; but Letters and Newspapers sent from one Police Station to another, without passing through a Post Office, will be charged on delivery with the lowest rate of postage chargeable by law on Letters and Newspapers sent through the Post Office.

Abstract Registers of Letters posted and delivered will be kept at each Station in the annexed form, and these Registers will be forwarded at the end of every month to the Post Office at the Sudder Station.

Register of Letters and Newspapers posted at———

Date.	Number of Letters.	Number of Newspapers.

Register of Letters and Newspapers received for delivery at———

Date of Receipt.	Date of Chellan.	From whence received.	Number of paid Covers.		Unpaid Covers.
					Letters.		Newspapers.
			Letters.	Newspapers.	Number.	Amount of Postage.	Number.	Amount of Postage.

All postage realized on Letters conveyed by the District Dawk will be credited in the public accounts as a receipt of the Post Office, under a separate head of account to be designated "District Postage."

the 11th March 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. Bracken,
Collector of Customs.

Justices of the Peace may make order of maintenance for wives and children.

II. If any person within the said Town, having sufficient means or employment, shall not duly maintain his wife, or his legitimate or illegitimate children, and shall be thereof convicted before a Justice of the Peace, upon his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, the said Justice may make an order upon such person for the maintenance of such wife and children, or any of them, at such monthly rate as to the Justice seems reasonable, and upon non-compliance with the said order for any one month, or longer period, any Justice, by warrant under his hand and seal, may commit the person so convicted to the Common Gaol of Calcutta without labour, or to the House of Correction to hard labour, for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Persons convicted of having or conveying stolen goods liable to penalty.

III. Every person who shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying in any manner anything which may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained, and who shall not give an account to the satisfaction of such Justice how he came by the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before such Justice, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months.

Persons in whose possession stolen goods are found, to be examined, &c.

IV. When any person shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying anything stolen or unlawfully obtained, and shall declare that he received the same from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent, or servant to convey the same for some other person, such Justice shall cause every such person, and also if necessary every former or pretended purchaser, or other person through whose possession the same shall have passed, to be brought before him and examined, and shall examine witnesses upon oath touching the same; and if it shall appear to such Justice that any person shall have had possession of such thing, and had reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice, may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months; every such person shall be deemed to have had possession of such thing at the time and place when and where the same shall have been found or seized, and the possession of a carrier, agent, or servant shall be deemed to be the possession of the person who shall have employed such carrier, agent, or servant to keep or convey the same.

On suspicion of goods being stolen or unlawfully obtained, Justice may grant search-warrant.

V. If information shall be given on oath to a Justice of the Peace that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that anything stolen or unlawfully obtained is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house, building, or other place, such Justice, by special warrant under his hand, directed to any Police Officer or Constable, may cause such dwelling-house, building, or other place to be entered and searched at any time of the day, or by night, if power for that purpose be given by such warrant, and the said Justice, if it shall appear to him necessary, may empower such Police Officer or Constable, with such assistance as may be found necessary, (such Constable having previously made known his authority,) to use force for the effecting of such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and if upon search thereupon made any such thing shall be found, then to convey the same before a Justice, or to guard the same on the spot, until the offenders are taken before a Justice, or otherwise dispose thereof in some place of safety, and moreover to take into custody, and carry before the said Justice, every person found in such house or place who shall appear to have been privy to the deposit of any such thing, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the same to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

Power to search houses for stolen property without a warrant in certain cases.

VI. If information shall be given to any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector belonging to the Calcutta Police, that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that any stolen property is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house or other place, and the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector shall have good grounds for believing that, by reason of the delay in obtaining a search-warrant, the property is likely to be removed, the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector, in virtue of his office, may search for specific articles alleged to have been stolen in the houses and places specified; provided always, that a list of the articles stolen or missing be delivered and taken down in writing, with a declaration stating that the robbery has been committed, and that the informant has good ground to believe that the property is deposited in such house or place; and provided further, that the person who lost the goods, or his representative, accompany the officer in the search.

Extension of Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to cases in which property stolen does not exceed fifty rupees in value.

VII. All persons charged with the commission of any of the offences specified in Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace for the said Town, provided the value of the property which the prisoner is charged with having stolen does not, according to the belief of such Justice, exceed fifty rupees, anything in the said Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all the powers by Act XXI. of 1839 (except Section VIII. aforesaid,) and Act III. of 1842, given or reserved to any such Justice for the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property not exceeding twenty rupees in value, and all the provisions of the said Acts (except as aforesaid) shall extend and be applicable to the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property, not exceeding, according to the belief of the Justice, fifty rupees in value.

Extension of Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to the offence of receiving stolen property when the value of the property does not exceed fifty rupees.

VIII. Every person charged with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money, knowing the same to be stolen, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace, provided that the value of the property stolen or received does not, according to the belief of the Justice, exceed fifty rupees, and every such person, on conviction of any such offence, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six Calendar months; and all the powers and provisions of Act III. of 1842 and Act XXI. of 1839, except Section VIII. aforesaid, shall apply, so far as they may be applicable, to the trial, conviction, and sentence of any person charged under this Section with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen; provided always, that if it shall appear to the said Justice that such person has been previously convicted of, or is in the habit of receiving stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen, the said Justice shall commit such person for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Summary conviction of persons accessory to the commission of certain felonies.

IX. Every person who is accessory, before or after the fact, to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, is liable to be tried and convicted summarily before such Justice, on his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, and the convicting Justice shall have power to sentence any such accessory to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding six Calendar months, or in his or their discretion, instead of trying him, to commit him for trial to the Supreme Court of Judicature, or other court having authority to try him.

Punishment for boys.

X. Whenever any boy, under the age of sixteen years, is convicted before a Justice of the Peace, either of simple larceny under the said Act XXI. of 1839, or, under this Act, of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen, or of being an accessory to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, the said Justice, if he thinks fit, may sentence him to receive corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes of a light rattan, instead of sentencing him to imprisonment

Cases of assault, forcible entry, or other injury not being felony.

XI. Any person who shall commit any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, within the said Town, against the person or property of any person whatsoever, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and the said Justice may award the whole or any part of such fine to the party or parties aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury, or, in the discretion of such Justice, such person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding four Calendar months.

Persons charged with recent assault may be apprehended by Police without warrant, though assault not committed in view of Police.

XII. Any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police may take into custody, or authorize a Constable to take into custody, without warrant, any person who within the said Town shall be charged by any other person with committing an aggravated assault, in every case in which such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police shall have good reason to believe that such assault has been committed, although not within view of such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector, and that by reason of the recent commission of the offence, a warrant could not have been obtained for the appearance of the offender.

Unlawfully taking or enticing away women or female children under the age of sixteen.

XIII. If complaint shall be made before any Justice that any person within the said Town has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken away, against her will, any woman, or has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken or enticed away any female child under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession or protection and against the will of the husband, father, mother, guardian or other person who has the lawful order, keeping, education, or government of such child, for the purpose of living in adultery with such woman or child, or for purposes of prostitution, or of deflowering or disposing of her in marriage, it shall be lawful for the said Justice to make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, father, mother, guardian, or such other person as aforesaid, as the case may be, and to compel compliance with such order, and if it be necessary, to use force for that purpose; any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police, duly authorized by the Justice in that behalf, with such assistants as he may deem necessary, may break open doors or otherwise compel compliance with the same, and the said Justice may commit any person charged with taking, or causing to be taken, or enticing any woman or female child as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature,

Keeping open houses of public entertainment without licence.

XIV. Any person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort and entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewere,) without a licence for the same being first had and obtained from and under the hand of two Justices of the Peace, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before any of the said Justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place of public resort or entertainment is kept open.

Two Justices to grant licences.

XV. Two or more of the said Justices shall from time to time hold licensing Sessions, for the purpose of granting licences to the keepers of such houses or places of public resort and entertainment as aforesaid, and the said licences may be granted by the said Justices for any term not exceeding one year, subject to the restriction contained in Section XII. Act XI. of 1849, and upon such conditions to be inserted in every such licence as the Justices from time to time shall order, for securing the good behaviour of the keepers of the said houses or places of public resort or entertainment, and the prevention of drunkenness and disorder among the persons frequenting or using the same.

Penalty for parties not conforming to the tenor of their licence.

XVI. The keeper of every such house or place of public resort and entertainment, who shall wilfully offend against any condition of his licence, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and, in the discretion of the convicting Justice, to forfeit his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Disorderly conduct and illegal harbouring of deserters in houses of public entertainment.

XVII. Every person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort or entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) and who shall knowingly or wilfully permit drunkenness or other disorderly behaviour in such house, shop, room, or place, or who shall knowingly suffer any unlawful games or any gaming whatsoever therein, or who shall knowingly permit prostitutes or persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or who shall wilfully harbour or conceal any Seaman or Apprentice who shall have deserted, knowing or having reason to believe such Seaman or Apprentice so harboured or concealed to be a deserter, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and shall be liable to forfeiture of his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Hours for sale of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs.

XVIII. Every person who shall keep open his house, shop, room, or place, for the purpose of selling or retailing spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, under a licence from the Collector of Calcutta, after the hour of nine at night and before the hour of six in the morning, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees, and shall also be liable, in the discretion of the said Justice, to the forfeiture of his licence.

Introduction of spirituous liquors without licence into Fort William.

XIX. If any person, not being amenable to the Articles of War, shall take or attempt to take into Fort William any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs of any description, without a licence from the Commanding Officer of the said Fort, or from some other person thereunto authorized, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint to him thereof made, may issue his summons or warrant for bringing the party complained of, and also the liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, before him, and in case of conviction may adjudge the said liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, to be forfeited, and every such person so convicted shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two calendar months.

Taking spirits, &c., into the Gaol.

XX. Every person who shall take or throw, or attempt to take or throw, into the Great Gaol or House of Correction of Calcutta, any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs, without the licence or consent of the Jailor or Keeper of such Gaol or House of Correction, respectively, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two months.

Breaking Gaol.

XXI. Every person who shall have been committed to the Great Gaol or House of Correction, or who shall be in custody at any Police Office or Station, and who shall unlawfully break or escape from such Gaol, House of Correction, Police Office, or Station, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the peace, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any other sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be imprisoned at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

Riotous or indecent behaviour.

XXII. Every person who shall be found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself in any street or public thoroughfare, or who shall be guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street, public thoroughfare, Police Office, Station, or Section House, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding fourteen days.

Rogues and Vagabonds.

XXIII. Any Constable or Peace Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police may take into custody, without a warrant, any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise armed with any dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoever, with intent to break or enter into any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, or any loose, idle, or disorderly persons whom he shall find disturbing the public peace, or whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit, any felony, misdemeanor, or breach of the peace, or any reputed thief whom he shall find between sunset and sunrise on board any boat in the river, or lying or loitering in any bazar, street, road, yard, thoroughfare or other place, and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, or any person having in his possession without lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall lie on such person), any pick-lock, key, crow, jack, bit, or other implement of house-breaking, or any person found between sunset and sunrise having his face blackened or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any felony, or any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise in any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, with intent to commit any felony therein; and every such offender, on conviction before a Justice, either on his own confession or on the evidence of one or more credible witnesses, shall be liable, at the discretion of the said Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding four calendar months.

Beggars.

XXIV. Every person who shall beg or apply for alms or relief in any public road, street, or thoroughfare, or who shall expose or exhibit any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity in such roads, streets, or public thoroughfares, with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms, or relief, or who shall, anywhere within the Town, seek for or obtain alms or relief by means of any false statements or pretences, or who shall cause, aid, or abet any such person as aforesaid in the commission of any of the said offences, shall, for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour for any period not exceeding two calendar months.

Furious Driving.

XXV. Every person who shall drive or ride furiously, or at a greater rate than ten miles an hour, any vehicle or animal in the said streets or public thoroughfares, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one calendar month.

Lamps to vehicles.

XXVI. Every person who shall drive any vehicle of any description, at any time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without having a lighted lamp affixed to such vehicle, shall for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty rupees, or, in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one calendar month.

For suppression of common gaming-houses.

XXVII. If any person shall make oath before a Justice of the Peace that any house, building, room, or other place within the Town is commonly reported and believed to be kept or used as a common gaming-house or place, such Justice, by an order in writing, may authorize a Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter any such house, building, room, or place, with such Constables as he shall deem requisite to accompany him, and if necessary, to use force for the purpose of effecting such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to take into custody and search all persons found therein, and to seize all tables and instruments of gaming found in such house, building, room, or place, or on the persons of any of those found therein, and also to seize all moneys and securities for money found in any such house, building, room, or place; and the owner or keeper of the said gaming-house, or place, or other person having the care and management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three calendar months, and upon conviction of any such offender all such tables and instruments of unlawful games shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by order of the Justice before whom the conviction is had, and all the moneys and securities for moneys so found shall be forfeited to Government, and every person found on such premises, and who shall not be the owner or keeper, or other person having the care or management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Proof of playing for stakes unnecessary.

XXVIII. It shall not be necessary in support of any information for gaming in, or for suffering any games or gaming in, or for keeping or managing, or being concerned in the management or conduct of, any common gaming-house or place, under this Act, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

What articles if found shall be evidence that the house is a gaming-house.

XXIX. Where any cards, dice, balls, counters, tables, or other instruments of gaming, used in playing any unlawful game, are found in any house, building, room, or place suspected to be used as a common gaming-house or place, and entered by an order issued under this Act, or about the person of any who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, building, room, or place, is used as a common gaming-house or place, and that the persons found in the house, building, room, or place, where such tables or instruments of gaming shall have been found were playing therein, although no play was actually going on in the presence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Inspector, or Constable entering the same as aforesaid.

Gambling in the Streets.

XXX. Every person who shall game for money or any other thing or reward whatsoever, or who shall join in, bet at, or abet, or be present for the purpose of joining, betting at, or abetting any such gaming, in any street or public thoroughfare in the said Town, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one calendar month.

Using false or defective weights and measures.

XXXI. All persons who deal in any articles by retail by weight or measure, and who have in or about their shops or premises, or otherwise in their possession, any false, or deficient weight, measure, beam or scale, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one calendar month; and every such false and defective weight, measure, beam or scale shall be forfeited, and the said Justice shall cause the same to be destroyed; and it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate or Superintendent of Police from time to time to issue public notices at the Police Office and Thannas, and such places as to him appear suitable, of the exact weight and measure of just weights and measures, and to keep at the Police Office and Thannas standard weights and measures for the information of the public.

False weights and measures.

XXXII. Any Justice of the Peace or the Superintendent of Police may issue his warrant, directing any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter into any shop or other place where articles are bought and sold by retail, and to search for and to examine the weights and measures therein, and seize all such as he may suspect to be forfeited as false and deficient in weight.

Justice of the Peace may take cognizance of cases of desertion or unauthorized absence from their ship of Foreign and Asiatic seamen.

XXXIII. If any seaman, whether British or Foreign, shall, wilfully and without leave or lawful excuse, absent himself from his vessel, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint upon oath, and at the instance of any of the officers of the said vessel, may issue his warrant to apprehend and detain the said seaman and convey him on board of his vessel; and whenever any seaman shall have been imprisoned, it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace, on the release of such seaman from imprisonment, to cause him to be conveyed on board of the vessel to which he may belong.

Arms carried by persons without due authority.

XXXIV. No person, not being a soldier or sailor in the service of the Queen or the East India Company, or a Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be entitled to carry any sword, spear, gun, or other offensive weapon in any street, thoroughfare, or public place, unless by leave of the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and any person offending against this enactment, shall be liable to be disarmed by any Constable or other person acting under such instructions as shall be from time to time given by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and the weapons so seized shall be taken before the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, and forfeited to the Government, if the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, in his discretion, shall think fit to declare them forfeited.

The regulation of carriages and persons at places of public resort.

XXXV. The Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, from time to time, and as occasion may require, may make regulations for keeping clear the public ghauts and landing-stairs, and for the route to be observed in the public streets and places by all carts, carriages, palanquins, hackeries, and other vehicles, and by all horses, cattle and persons, and as to the times during which they may take the said routes, and for preventing obstruction of the streets and thoroughfares within the Town on all times of public processions and native holidays, as also during the time of Divine Service, and also may give directions to the Constables and other Peace Officers for keeping order and for preventing any obstruction of the thoroughfares in the immediate neighbourhood of any place of public resort, and in any case when the ghauts, landing-stairs, streets, or thoroughfares may be thronged, or may be liable to be obstructed, and every person opposing or not obeying the orders so issued by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, shall be liable to be arrested and detained by the Police, and, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Police Officers taking Bribes.

XXXVI. Any Police Officer or Constable who shall ask for or take any bribe or unauthorized reward in consideration of his doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three months.

As to manufacture or possession of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton.

XXXVII. The Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation passed by the Governor General in Council on the 8th April 1802, and Section II. Act XVIII. of 1841, are hereby repealed. Any person who shall, within the limits of the said Town, manufacture Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or who shall, without a licence for that purpose being first had and obtained from the Chief Magistrate, have in his possession, in any house, shop, warehouse, or other building, at any one time, a greater quantity of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for sale or otherwise than ten pounds, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of all such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton so manufactured or possessed, together with the vessel or receptacle in which it may be seized, and also to a fine not exceeding in amount the sum of rupees five hundred.

Chief Magistrate to grant licences for sale and deposit of Gun-powder, &c.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate to grant to any person (whom he shall deem fit and proper) a licence for the sale or keeping in deposit, within the limits of the said Town, any quantity of imported or Indian manufactured Gun-powder not exceeding fifty pounds, or any quantity of Gun-cotton not exceeding twenty pounds, on such conditions as shall be specified in the licence, and any person who shall be guilty of a breach of any of such conditions, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of his licence and of all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton so kept in deposit contrary thereto, and also to a fine not exceeding rupees two hundred.

Licences to be in force for one year, and to contain certain provisions.

XXXIX. Every such licence as is mentioned in the preceding Section shall be in force for a period of one year only and no longer, but shall be renewable by the said Chief Magistrate, at his discretion, on the same or any other terms and conditions, and such licence shall also provide for the transit and carrying of Gun-powder from one place to another within the limits of the said Town, in such manner and in such quantity as shall be deemed advisable for the safety of the inhabitants and of property within the said Town, and every person offending against such provisions shall be liable to a fine not exceeding rupees fifty.

As to Search for Gun-powder, &c.

XL. Any Justice of the Peace, on credible information laid before him on oath or solemn affirmation, that Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or mixed materials for making the same contrary to the provisions of this Act, are suspected to be stored, kept, or possessed by any person, may issue his warrant, authorizing any Police Officer to search in the day-time any house, shop, magazine, or other building or place in which he has reasonable ground to suspect any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton to be manufactured, sold, or kept, or any boat, carriage, cart, or other vehicle in which any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, may be suspected to be carried, or any person suspected of carrying the same contrary to such licence or to the provisions of this Act, and all Gun-powder, Gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, found on such search, shall, together with the vessels or receptacles in which they may be stored, be immediately seized and brought before a Justice of the Peace, with whom the same shall be kept till it shall be adjudged whether the same shall be forfeited.

Act not applicable to Government Powder, &c.

XLI. The four last preceding Sections shall not extend to any Government Magazine or store, or building for the making or deposit of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton under the authority or for the use of the Government, or to any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for the use of Her Majesty's or the East India Company's Troops, or otherwise for the service of Government, or to any of Her Majesty's Vessels of War, or the Vessels of the Indian Navy, or of the East India Company's Marine, or to any other Vessel within the River Hooghly laden with Gun-powder for importation or exportation.

As to Vessels arriving in River with Powder on Board.

XLII. Commanders of merchant vessels entering the River Hooghly shall, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, deposit in the Magazine at that place all Gun-powder intended for the Ship's use from on board their respective vessels, exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, which quantity they shall be permitted to retain in their vessels for the purpose of firing salutes or signals in case of distress, and the Gun-powder so deposited shall be again delivered on board on the return of the respective vessels from Calcutta in prosecution of the outward voyage; and Commanders of merchant vessels in the River Hooghly having on board their vessels Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for importation (not being Gun-powder belonging to the Government) exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, shall also deposit the same, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, in the Magazine of that place, under charge of an Officer belonging to the Customs at that place, or such other person as the Governor of Bengal may appoint, and the proprietors or consignees of such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or their agents, whenever they shall desire to remove the same from the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for authority to do so, which application, when it be intended that such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton shall be lodged in any place, or be laden in any boat or other conveyance within the limits of the said Town, shall be accompanied by a written order of permission, signed by a Justice of the Peace to that effect, and when it be intended that such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton shall be exported by sea, the Commanders of vessels, or the proprietors or their agents, by whom it shall have been deposited in the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for permission so to export it, and the Collector of Sea Customs shall comply with such applications aforesaid, except where the exportation of ammunition shall require, under provisions of Act XVIII. of 1841, a licence from a public Officer other than the Collector of Sea Customs, in which case the Collector of Sea Customs shall not comply with the application unless it be accompanied by the licence of such public Officer; and on or before the removal of all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton from the Magazine, the Collector of Sea Customs shall and he is hereby authorized to levy a fee, the rate of which shall not exceed two annas per pound, for all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton that has been lodged therein, which fee shall be taken to cover all charges for the safe custody of the Gun-powder or Gun-cotton during the period it has remained or shall remain in the Magazine; provided also, that the Governor of Bengal shall be at liberty to authorize such arrangement to be made, by letting or otherwise contracting for the custody of the Magazine, and for the collection and appropriation of the fees which may be charged for Gun-powder or Gun-cotton stored therein, as he may think proper, subject however to all the restrictions and rules imposed by this Section in respect to the removal from the Magazine of Gun-powder therein stored.

Penalties.

XLIII. For every act done or omitted to be done contrary to the provisions of the last preceding Section by the Commander of any merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, the Commander aforesaid shall, on conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace, be liable to a penalty of two hundred rupees: and the Collector of Sea Customs is hereby empowered to search for any quantity of Gun-powder which he may have reason to believe to be on board a merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, contrary to the provisions of this Act, and to seize and detain it as forfeited to Government, to be dealt with as the Governor of Bengal shall think right to direct.

Jurisdiction of Justices on the River Hooghly.

XLIV. The jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace acting within and for the said Town shall extend to all offences committed by any person in sea-going vessels in any part of the River Hooghly, and the said Justices shall have the same power and jurisdiction in respect of criminal offences committed in sea-going vessels, in any part of the said river, that they now have and exercise within the said Town.

Persons apprehended without warrant to be taken first to the Station-house, and if not admitted to bail, to the Police Office.

XLV. Every Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police is hereby authorized to arrest without warrant any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, and every person taken into custody without warrant by any Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be forth with taken to the Station-house to which the Constable belongs, in order that such person may be detained, until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace to be dealt with according to law, or in order that such person may give bail for his appearance before a Justice of the Peace, if the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector at the Station shall deem it prudent to take bail in the manner hereinafter mentioned, which he is hereby authorized to do.

Power to take recognizances at Station-houses or Police Lock-up on certain charges.

XLVI. Whenever any person is brought to the Station-house as aforesaid charged with misdemeanor, assault, or with having carelessly done any hurt or damage, or whenever any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector of Police, or Town Serjeant in charge of a Police Lock-up, shall deem it probable that any person so brought is falsely or maliciously charged with having committed a felony, and any such person as aforesaid shall be, without the warrant of a Magistrate, in the custody of any Constable of the Calcutta Police, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent or any Deputy Superintendent of Police, if he shall deem it prudent, to enlarge such person on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, conditioned as hereinafter mentioned.

Condition of recognizance.

XLVII. Every recognizance so taken shall be without fee or reward, and shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person thereby bound before a Justice of the Peace at his next sitting, and the time and place of appearance and the sum thereby acknowledged (not exceeding one thousand rupees) shall be specified in this said recognizance, or the condition thereof; and the Officer taking the recognizance shall enter into a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name, residence, and occupation of the party and his surety or sureties (if any) entering into such recognizance, together with the condition thereof, and the sum thereby acknowledged, and shall return every such recognizance to the Justice present at the time and place and when and where the party is bound to appear, and the said recognizance may be in either of the forms, as the case may be, in Schedule (A.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect.

Amends may be awarded for false or malicious charges.

XLVIII. In every case in which any person shall be given in charge to a Constable, or in which any information or complaint of any offence shall be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace, and it shall appear to the Justice by whom the case shall be heard that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Justice, at his discretion, to award such amends, not more than the sum of fifty rupees, to be paid by the informer to the party informed or complained against, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as to the Justice shall seem meet.

Offences how to be tried.

XLIX. Every Justice of the Peace shall be empowered summarily to hear and determine every complaint of an offence committed against this Act, and to convict any person charged with any such offence on the oath of one or more witnesses, or by his own confession, and to award the penalty or punishment herein provided for such offence.

Justices may proceed by summons, and if party does not appear may issue warrant.

L. Upon any information or complaint to be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace (which complaint need not be made upon oath) of any matter which such Justice is authorized to hear and determine, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, he may summon the party charged, and if such party shall not appear according to the tenor of the summons, the Justice, upon proof of the service of the summons, may proceed, in all cases which are not of a criminal nature, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the party, to hear and determine the case in the absence of the party, and in all criminal cases shall issue his warrant for apprehending and bringing such party before him or some other Justice, in order that the said information and complaint may be heard and determined.

How summons may be served.

LI. Every such summons may be served by delivering it or a copy thereof to the party, or to his wife, servant, or some inmate of his dwelling, or by delivering it at or affixing it to the door or wall of his usual place of abode.

Justices may issue warrant without summons.

LII. A Justice of the Peace may, without issuing any summons, forthwith issue his warrant for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, whenever good grounds for so doing shall be stated on oath before him.

May enforce attendance of witnesses.

LIII. Any Justice may summon any witness to appear and give evidence upon the matter of any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, with which any person shall be charged before him, at a time and place appointed for hearing the information or complaint, and, by warrant under his hand and seal, may require any person to be brought before him who shall neglect or refuse to give evidence at the time and place appointed on such summons, proof upon oath being first given of personal service of the summons upon the person against whom such warrant shall be granted, and such Justice may commit any person coming or brought before him who shall refuse to give evidence, to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or until such person shall sooner submit himself to be examined, and in case of such submission the order of such Justice shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of such person.

Power to Magistrates to order prisoners to be brought up to the Police Office.

LIV. When any Justice of the Peace is desirous of examining any prisoner confined in the Great Gaol or House of Correction as a witness or defendant, with respect to any charge, case, or proceeding pending before him, it shall be lawful for such Justice to issue an order in the form contained in Schedule (B.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, addressed to the Keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named to the Police Office, for examination, and the Keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, on the receipt of such order, shall act in accordance therewith, and shall take care for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from prison for the purpose aforesaid.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

LV. All penalties and forfeitures and other sums of money imposed, awarded, or ordered to be paid by any Justice of the Peace under the authority of this Act, and all sums of money which any person is bound to pay under any recognizance taken before a Justice of the Peace or an Officer of Police empowered to take recognizances by this Act, and afterwards forfeited, in case of non-payment thereof, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or person liable to pay the same, by warrant under the hand of any Justice of the Peace, and in case any such penalty or forfeiture or sum of money shall not be forthwith paid, any Justice may order the party to be detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such Justice for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and the Justice may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise; and if upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no such sufficient distress could be had whereon to levy the said penalty or forfeiture, or sum of money, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear, to the satisfaction of the Justice, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty, forfeiture, or sum of money could be levied if warrant of distress should be issued, the Justice, by warrant under his hand, may commit such party to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, there to remain for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Convictions to be quashed on merits only. Form of conviction, &c.

LVI. No conviction, order, or judgment of any Justice of the Peace shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, the evidence on which it proceeds; but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment, in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions.

LVII. In the construction of this Act the following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the context or subject repugnant to such construction; that is to say,

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "Town" shall include the Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Justice" or "Justices of the Peace" shall mean the Justices of the Peace for the time being acting within and for the said Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Oath" shall mean any oath or solemn affirmation in lieu of an oath.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative. The 12th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor eneral of India in Council on the 12th March, 352, is hereby promulgated for general inform-ion:

ACT NO. XV. OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law of vidence in divers particulars, It is hereby en-cted as follows:

Repeal of part of Section I., Act VII. of 1844.

I. So much of Section I. of Act No. VII. of 1844 as provides that the said Act shall "not render competent any party to any suit, action, or proceeding individually named in the record, or any lessor of the plaintiff or tenant of premises sought to be recovered in ejectment, or the landlord or other person in whose right any defendant in replevin may make cognizance, or any person in whose immediate and individual behalf any action may be brought or defended, either wholly or in part," is hereby repealed.

Parties to be admissible witnesses.

II. On the trial of any issue joined, or of any matter or question, or on any enquiry arising in any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law, or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence with respect to, or concerning any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of such Courts, the parties thereto, and the persons in whose behalf any such suit, action, or other proceeding, may be brought or defended, shall, except as hereinafter excepted, be competent and compellable to give evidence, either viva voce, or by deposition, according to the practice of the Courts, on behalf of either or any of the parties to the said suit, action, or other proceeding.

Parties not compellable to criminate themselves. Husband and wife not compellable to give evidence for or against each other.

III. But nothing herein contained shall render any person, who in any criminal proceeding is charged with the commission of any indictable offence, or any offence punishable on summary conviction, competent or compellable to give evidence for or against himself or herself, or shall render any person compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself or herself, or shall in any criminal proceeding render any husband competent or compellable to give evidence for or against his wife, or any wife competent or compellable to give evidence for or against her husband.

Act not to apply to proceedings for adultery or to actions for breach of promise of marriage.

IV. Nothing herein contained shall apply to any action, suit, or proceeding in any Court of Common Law, or in any Ecclesiastical Court, instituted in consequence of adultery, or to any action for breach of promise of marriage.

The Wills Act not repealed.

V. Nothing herein contained shall repeal any provision contained in Act XXV. of 1838.

Courts authorized to compel inspection of documents in actions and other proceedings whenever Equity would grant discovery.

VI. Whenever any action or other legal proceeding shall henceforth be pending in any of Her Majesty's Courts, such Court and each of the Judges thereof may respectively, on application made for such purpose by either of the litigants, compel the opposite party to allow the party making the application to inspect all documents in the custody or under the control of such opposite party relating to such action or other legal proceeding, and, if necessary, to take examined copies of the same, or to procure the same to be duly stamped, in all cases in which previous to the passing of this Act, a discovery might have been obtained by filing a bill, or by any other proceeding in a Court of Equity at the instance of the party so making application as aforesaid to the said Court or Judge. Provided always, that every such application shall be made as aforesaid before issue joined in any such action, and twenty-one days before the trial or hearing of any other legal proceeding.

Foreign and Colonial Acts of State, judgments, &c., provable by certified copies, without proof of seal or signature or judicial character of person signing the same.

VII. All proclamations, treaties, and other Acts of State of any Foreign State, or of the East India Company, or of any Territory under the Government of the East India Company, or of any British Colony, and all judgments, decrees, orders, and other judicial proceedings of any Court of Justice in any foreign State, or in any of the territories under the Government of the East India Company, or in any British Colony, and all affidavits, pleadings, and other legal documents filed or deposited in any such Court, may be proved in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, either by examined copies, or by copies authenticated as hereinafter mentioned; that is to say, if the document sought to be proved be a Proclamation, Treaty, or other Act of State, the authenticated copy to be admissible in evidence must purport to be sealed with the Seal of the Foreign State, or of the East India Company, or of the Territory under the Government of the East India Company, or of the British Colony to which the original document belongs; and if the document sought to be proved be a judgment, decree, order, or other judicial proceeding of any Foreign or Colonial Court, or of any Court within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, or an affidavit, pleading, or other legal document filed or deposited in any such Court, the authenticated copy to be admissible in evidence, must purport either to be sealed with the Seal of the Foreign or Colonial Court or Court within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company to which the original document belongs, or in the event of such Court having no Seal, to be signed by the Judge, or if there be more than one Judge, by any one of the Judges of the said Court, and such Judge shall attach to his signature a statement in writing on the said copy that the Court whereof he is a Judge has no Seal; but if any of the aforesaid authenticated copies shall purport to be sealed or signed as hereinbefore respectively directed, the same shall respectively be admitted in evidence in every case in which the original document could have been received in evidence, without any proof of the Seal, where a Seal is necessary, or of the signature, or of the truth of the statement attached thereto, where such signature and statement are necessary, or of the judicial character of the person appearing to have made such signature and statement.

Registers of British Vessels and Certificates of Registry admissible without proof of signature.

VIII. Every Register of a Vessel kept under Act X. of 1841, or under any of the Acts of Parliament relating to the registry of British Vessels, may be proved in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, either by the production of the original, or by an examined copy thereof, or by a copy thereof purporting to be certified under the hand of the person having the charge of the original, and which person is hereby required to furnish such certified copy to any person applying at a reasonable time for the same, upon payment of the sum of one Rupee; and every such Register, or such copy of a Register, and also every Certificate of Registry granted under the said Act or any of the Acts of Parliament relating to the registry of British Vessels, and purporting to be signed as required by law, shall be received in evidence in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, as primâ facie proof of all the matters contained or recited in such Register, when the Register, or such copy thereof as aforesaid, is produced, and of all the matters contained or recited in or endorsed on such Certificate of Registry when the said Certificate is produced.

Where necessary to prove conviction or acquittal, not necessary to produce record, but Certificate of Clerk of Court.

IX. Whenever in any proceeding whatever it may be necessary to prove the trial and conviction or acquittal of any person charged with any indictable offence, it shall not be necessary to produce the record of the conviction or acquittal of such person, or a copy thereof, but it shall be sufficient that it be certified or purport to be certified under the hand of the Clerk of the Court or other Officer having the custody of the records of the Court where such conviction or acquittal took place, or by the Deputy of such Clerk or other Officer, that the paper produced is a copy of the record of the indictment, trial, conviction, and judgment or acquittal, as the case may be, omitting the formal parts thereof.

Examined or certified copies of documents admissible.

X. Whenever any book or other document is of such a public nature as to be admissible in evidence on its mere production from the proper custody, and no statute or Act exists which renders its contents provable by means of a copy, any copy thereof, or extract therefrom, shall be admissible in evidence in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person now or hereafter having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, provided it be proved to be an examined copy or extract, or provided it purports to be signed and certified as a true copy or extract by the Officer to whose custody the original is entrusted, and which Officer is hereby required to furnish such certified copy or extract to any person applying at a reasonable time for the same, upon payment of a reasonable sum for the same, not exceeding four annas, for every folio of ninety words.

Certifying a false document a misdemeanor.

XI. If any officer authorized or required by this Act to furnish any certified copies or extracts shall wilfully certify any document as being a true copy or extract, knowing that the same is not a true copy or extract, as the case may be, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable, upon conviction, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding eighteen months.

Court, &c. may administer oath.

XII. All Her Majesty's Courts within the British Territories under the Government of the East India Company, and every Judge and Justice of such Courts, and every Officer, Commissioner, Arbitrator or other person, now or hereafter having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence with respect to or concerning any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of such Courts, is hereby empowered to administer an oath to all such witnesses as are legally called before them respectively.

Persons forging seal, stamp, or signature of certain documents, or wilfully uttering the same, guilty of felony.

XIII. If any person shall forge the seal, stamp, or signature of any document in this Act mentioned or referred to, or shall tender in evidence any such document with a false or counterfeit seal, stamp, or signature thereto, knowing the same to be false or counterfeit, he shall be guilty of felony, and shall, upon conviction, be liable to transportation for seven years, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three years, nor less than one year, with hard labour; and whenever any such document shall have been admitted in evidence by virtue of this Act, the Court, or the person who shall have admitted the same, may, at the request of any party against whom the same is so admitted in evidence, direct that the same shall be impounded and be kept in the custody of some officer of the Court or other proper person, for such period, and subject to such conditions, as to the said Court or person shall seem meet; and every person who shall be charged with committing any felony under this Act may be dealt with, indicted, tried, and, if convicted, sentenced, and his offence may be laid and charged to have been committed in the place in which he shall be apprehended or be in custody; and every accessory before or after the fact to any such offence may be dealt with, indicted, tried, and, if convicted, sentenced, and his offence may be laid and charged to have been committed in any place in which the principal offender may be tried.

XIV. This Act shall come into operation from and after the tenth day of April, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty-two.

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative.
The 12th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 12th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT NO. XVI. OF 1852.

An Act for further Improving the Administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Courts of Justice in the Territories of the East India Company.

Whereas offenders frequently escape conviction on their trials, by reason of the technical strictness of criminal proceedings in matters not material to the merits of the case; and whereas such technical strictness may safely be relaxed in many instances, so as to insure the punishment of the guilty, without depriving the accused of any just means of defence; and whereas a failure of justice often takes place on the trial of persons charged with felony and misdemeanor by reason of variances between the statement in the indictment on which the trial is had, and the proof of names, dates, matters, and circumstances therein mentioned, not material to the merits of the case, and by the misstatement whereof the person on trial cannot have been prejudiced in his defence, It is hereby enacted as follows:

The Court may amend certain variances not material to the merits of the case, and by which the defendant cannot be prejudiced in his defence, and may either proceed with or postpone the trial to be had before the same or another jury.

I. From and after the coming of this Act into operation, whenever, on the trial of any indictment for any felony or misdemeanor, there shall appear to be any variance between the statement in such indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall and may be lawful for the Court before which the trial shall be had, if it shall consider such variance not material to the merits of the case, and that the defendant cannot be prejudiced thereby in his defence on such merits, to order such indictment to be amended, according to the proof, by some officer of the Court or other person, both in that part of the indictment where such variance occurs, and in every other part of the indictment which it may become necessary to amend, on such terms as to postponing the trial to be had before the same or another jury, as such Court shall think reasonable; and after any such amendment the trial shall proceed, whenever the same shall be proceeded with, in the same manner in all respects, and with the same consequences, both with respect to the liability of witnesses to be indicted for perjury and otherwise, as if no such variance had occurred: provided that, in all such cases where the trial shall be so postponed as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court to respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses, and of the defendant, and his surety or sureties, if any, accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence respectively, and the defendant shall be bound to attend to be tried, at the time and place to which such trial shall be postponed, without entering into any fresh recognizances for that purpose, in such and the same manner as if they were originally bound by their recognizance to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, at the time and place to which such trial shall have been so postponed: provided also, that where any such trial shall be to be had before another jury, the crown and the defendant shall respectively be entitled to the same challenges as they were respectively entitled to before the first jury was sworn.

Verdicts and judgments valid after amendments.

II. Every verdict and judgment which shall be given after the making of any amendment under the provisions of this Act, shall be of the same force and effect in all respects as if the indictment had originally been in the same form in which it was after such amendment was made.

Records to be drawn up in amended form, without noticing the amendments.

III. If it shall become necessary at any time, for any purpose whatsoever, to draw up a formal record in any case where any amendment shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, such record shall be drawn up in the form in which the indictment was after such amendment was made, without taking any notice of the fact of such amendment having been made.

The means by which the injury was inflicted need not be specified in indictments for murder and manslaughter.

IV. In any indictment for murder or manslaughter preferred after the coming of this Act into operation, it shall not be necessary to set forth the manner in which, or the means by which, the death of the deceased was caused, but it shall be sufficient, in every indictment for murder, to charge that the defendant did feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought kill and murder the deceased, and it shall be sufficient in every indictment for manslaughter to charge that the defendant did feloniously kill and slay the deceased.

Forms of indictment in cases of forgery and uttering, stealing, and embezzling, or obtaining by false pretences.

V. In any indictment for forging, uttering, stealing, embezzling, destroying, or concealing, or for obtaining by false pretences, any instrument, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile thereof, or otherwise describing the same, or the value thereof.

In engraving plates, &c.

VI. In any indictment for engraving or making the whole or any part of any instrument, matter or thing whatsoever, or for using or having the unlawful possession of any plate, or other material upon which the whole or any part of any instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever shall have been engraved or made, or for having the unlawful possession of any paper upon which the whole or any part of any instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever shall have been made or printed, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument, matter, or thing by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, without setting out any copy or fac-simile of the whole or any part of such instrument, matter, or thing.

In other cases.

VII. In all other cases, wherever it shall be necessary to make any averment in any indictment as to any instrument, whether the same consists wholly or in part of writing, print, or figures, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile of the whole or any part thereof.

Intent to defraud particular persons need not be alleged or proved in cases of forgery, uttering, or false pretences.

VIII. From and after the coming of this Act into operation, it shall be sufficient in any indictment for forging, uttering, offering, disposing of, or putting off any instrument whatsoever, or for obtaining or attempting to obtain any property by false pretences, to allege that the defendant did the act with intent to defraud, without alleging the intent of the defendant to be to defraud any particular person; and on the trial of any of the offences in this section mentioned, it shall not be necessary to prove an intent on the part of the defendant to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to prove that the defendant did the act charged with an intent to defraud.

A party indicted for felony or misdemeanor may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and shall be liable to the same consequences as if charged with and convicted of the attempt only. No person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

IX. And whereas offenders often escape conviction by reason that such persons ought to have been charged with attempting to commit offences, and not with the actual commission thereof; it is enacted, that if on the trial of any person charged with any felony or misdemeanor, it shall appear to the jury upon the evidence that the defendant did not complete the offence charged, but that he was guilty only of an attempt to commit the same, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the defendant is not guilty of the felony or misdemeanor charged, but is guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for attempting to commit the particular felony or misdemeanor charged in the said indictment; and no person so tried as herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the felony or misdemeanor for which he was so tried.

Repeal of the 8th Section of Act XXXI. of 1838.

X. And whereas it is enacted by the 8th Section of Act XXXI. of 1838 that "on the trial of any person for any of the offences thereinbefore mentioned, or for any felony whatever where the crime charged shall include an assault against the person, it shall be lawful for the jury to acquit of the felony, and to find a verdict of guilty of assault against the person indicted, if the evidence shall warrant such finding": and whereas great difficulties have arisen in the construction of such enactment: for remedy thereof it is enacted that the said enactment shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

On the trial of an indictment for robbery, the jury may convict of an assault with intent to rob; no person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

XI. If upon the trial of any person upon any indictment for robbery, it shall appear to the jury upon the evidence that the defendant did not commit the crime of robbery, but that he did commit an assault with intent to rob, the defendant shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the defendant is guilty of an assault with intent to rob, and thereupon such defendant shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for feloniously assaulting with intent to rob; and no person so tried as is herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an assault with intent to commit the robbery for which he was so tried.

Person tried for misdemeanor not to be acquitted if the offence turn out to be felony, unless the Court so direct.

XII. If upon the trial of any person for any misdemeanor, it shall appear that the facts given in evidence amount in law to a felony, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of such misdemeanor; and no person tried for such misdemeanor shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for felony on the same facts, unless the Court before which such trial may be had shall think fit, in its discretion, to discharge the jury from giving any verdict upon such trial, and to direct such person to be indicted for felony, in which case such person may be dealt with in all respects as if he had not been put upon his trial for such misdemeanor.

Persons indicted for embezzlement, as a clerk, &c., not to be acquitted if the offence turn out to be larceny, and vice versâ.

XIII. If upon the trial any person indicted for embezzlement as a clerk, servant, or person employed for the purpose, or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, it shall be proved that he took the property in question in any such manner as to amount in law to larceny, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that such person is not guilty of embezzlement, but is guilty of simple larceny, or of larceny as a clerk, servant, or person employed for the purpose, or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, as the case may be, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for such larceny; and if upon the trial of any person indicted for larceny it shall be proved that he took the property in question in any such manner as to amount in law to embezzlement, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that such person is not guilty of larceny, but is guilty of embezzlement, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for such embezzlement; and no person so tried for embezzlement or larceny as aforesaid shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for larceny or embezzlement upon the same facts.

Upon an indictment for jointly receiving, persons guilty of separately receiving may be convicted.

XIV. If upon the trial of two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving any property, it shall be proved that one or more of such persons separately received any part of such property, it shall be lawful for the jury to convict upon such indictment such of the said persons as shall be proved to have received any part of such property.

Separate accessories and receivers may be included in the same indictment in the absence of the principal felon.

XV. And whereas it frequently happens that the principal in a felony is not in custody or amenable to justice, although several accessories to such felony or receivers at different times of stolen property the subject of such felony may be in custody or amenable to justice: for the prevention of several trials, it is enacted that any number of such accessories or receivers may be charged with substantive felonies in the same indictment, notwithstanding the principal felon shall not be included in the same indictment, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice.

Three larcenies from the same person within six months may be included in the same indictment.

XVI. It shall be lawful to insert several counts in the same indictment against the same person for any number of distinct acts of stealing, not exceeding three, which may have been committed by him against the same person within the space of six calendar months from the first to the last of such acts, and to proceed thereon for all or any of them.

Where a single taking is charged, the prosecutor need not elect, unless where more than three takings, or more than six months between the first and last taking.

XVII. If upon the trial of any indictment for larceny, it shall appear that the property alleged in such indictment to have been stolen at one time was taken at different times, the prosecutor shall not by reason thereof be required to elect upon which taking he will proceed, unless it shall appear that there were more than three takings, or that more than the space of six calendar months elapsed between the first and the last of such takings; and in either of such last-mentioned cases the prosecutor shall be required to elect to proceed for such number of takings, not exceeding three, as appear to have taken place within the period of six calendar months from the first to the last of such takings.

Coin and bank-notes may be described simply as money.

XVIII. In every indictment in which it shall be necessary to make any averment as to any money or any note of any bank, it shall be sufficient to describe such money or bank-note simply as money, without specifying any particular coin or bank-note; and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of any bank-note, although the particular species of coin of which such amount was composed, or the particular nature of the bank-note, shall not be proved, and in cases of embezzlement and obtaining money or bank-notes by false pretences, by proof that the offender embezzled or obtained any piece of coin or any bank-note, or any portion of the value thereof, although such piece of coin or bank-note may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same, or to any other person, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

Simplifying indictments for perjury and other like offences.

XIX. In every indictment for perjury, or for unlawfully, wilfully, falsely, fraudulently, deceitfully, maliciously, or corruptly taking, making, signing, or subscribing any oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged upon the defendant, and by what Court or before whom the oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing was taken, made, signed, or subscribed, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration, or any part of any proceeding either in law or in equity, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the Court or person before whom such offence was committed.

As to form of indictments for subornation of perjury and other like offences.

XX. In every indictment for subornation of perjury, or for corrupt bargaining or contracting with any person to commit wilful and corrupt perjury, or for inciting, causing, or procuring any person unlawfully, wilfully, falsely, fraudulently, deceitfully, maliciously or corruptly to take, make, sign or subscribe any oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing, it shall be sufficient, wherever such perjury or other offence aforesaid shall have been actually committed, to allege the offence of the person who actually committed such perjury or other offence in the manner hereinbefore mentioned, and then to allege that the defendants unlawfully, wilfully, and corruptly did cause and procure the said person the said offence, in manner and form aforesaid, to do and commit; and wherever such perjury or other offence aforesaid shall not have been actually committed, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged upon the defendant, without setting forth or averring any of the matters or things hereinbefore rendered unnecessary to be set forth or averred in the case of wilful and corrupt perjury.

What defects shall not vitiate an indictment.

XXI. No indictment for any offence shall be held insufficient for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute." instead of "against the form of the statutes," or vice versâ, nor for that any person mentioned in the indictment is designated by a name of office, or other descriptive appellation, instead of his proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment, or on an impossible day, or on a day that never happened, nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, nor for want of a proper or formal conclusion, nor for want of or imperfection in the addition of any defendant, nor for want of the statement of the value or price of any matter or thing, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil, in any case where the value or price, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil, is not of the essence of the offence.

Formal objections to indictments shall be taken before jury are sworn. Court may amend any formal defect.

XXII. Every objection to any indictment for any formal defect apparent on the face thereof shall be taken, by demurrer or motion to quash such indictment, before the jury shall be sworn, and not afterwards; and every Court before which any such objection shall be taken for any formal defect may, if it be thought necessary, cause the indictment to be forthwith amended in such particular by some officer of the Court, or other person, and thereupon the trial shall proceed as if no such defect had appeared.

Provision as to traversing indictments.

XXIII. No person prosecuted shall be entitled to traverse or postpone the trial of any indictment found against him at any Session of the Peace, Session of Oyer and Terminer, or Session of Gaol Delivery; provided always that if the Court, upon the application of the person so indicted or otherwise, shall be of opinion that he ought to be allowed a further time, either to prepare for his defence or otherwise, such Court may adjourn the trial of such person to the next subsequent session, upon such terms as to bail or otherwise as to such Court shall seem meet, and may respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence at such subseqnent Session without entering into any fresh recognizance for that purpose.

Provision as to plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit.

XXIV. In any plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit it shall be sufficient for any defendant to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted (as the case may be) of the said offence charged in the indictment.

Punishment for certain indictable misdemeanors.

XXV. Whenever any person shall be convicted of any one of the offences following, as an indictable misdemeanor; that is to say,—any cheat or fraud punishable at common law; any conspiracy to cheat or defraud, or to extort money or goods, or falsely to accuse of any crime, or to obstruct, prevent, pervert, or defeat the course of public justice; any escape or rescue from lawful custody, on a criminal charge; any public and indecent exposure of the person; any indecent assault, or any assault occasioning actual bodily harm; any attempt to have carnal knowledge of a girl under twelve years of age; any public selling, or exposing for public sale or to public view, of any obscene book, print, picture, or other indecent exhibition, it shall be lawful for the Court to sentence the offender to be imprisoned for any term now warranted by law, and also to be kept to hard labour during the whole or any part of such term of imprisonment.

Interpretation of terms.

XXVI. In the construction of this Act the word "indictment" shall be understood to include "information," "inquisition," and "presentment," as well as "indictment," and also any "plea," "replication," or other pleading; and the terms "finding of the indictment," shall be understood to include "the taking of an inquisition," "the exhibiting of an information," and "the making a presentment;" and wherever, in this Act, in describing or referring to any person or party, matter or thing, any word importing the singular number or masculine gender is used, the same shall be understood to include and shall be applied to several persons and parties as well as one person or party, and females as well as males, and bodies corporate as well as individuals, and several matters and things as well as one matter or thing; and the word "property" shall be understood to include goods, chattels, money, valuable securities, and every other matter or thing, whether real or personal, upon or with respect to which any offence may be committed.

Commencement of Act.

XXVII. This Act shall come into operation from and after the tenth day of April, One thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, The 12th March 1852.

The following Act passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 12th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XVII. OF 1852.

An Act to diminish the expense and delay of proceedings in Her Majesty's Courts within the Territories of the East India Company.

Persons interested in questions cognizable in Her Majesty's Courts may state special cases for the opinion of such Courts.

I. It shall be lawful for persons interested or claiming to be interested in any question cognizable in Her Majesty's Courts within the Territories of the East India Company, on the Equity, Plea, Ecclesiastical or Admiralty sides thereof respectively, and including among such persons all lunatics, married women, and infants in the manner and under the restrictions hereinafter contained, to concur in stating such question in the form of a special case for the opinion of the said Courts, and it shall also be lawful for all Executors, Administrators, Representatives and Trustees to concur in such case.

How lunatic may concur.

II. The Committee of the estate of any lunatic interested or claiming to be interested in any such question as aforesaid may, after having been authorized in that behalf by the Court or any Judge thereof in which such special case is filed, concur in such case in his own name, and in the name and on the behalf of the lunatic.

How married women may concur.

III. A husband interested or claiming to be interested in right of his wife in any such question as aforesaid may concur in such case in his own name, and in the name of his wife where the wife has no claim to any interest distinct from her husband, and a married woman having or claiming any interest in any such question as aforesaid distinct from her husband may in her own right concur in such case, provided that her husband also concurs therein; but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to require the husband of a Mahomedan or Hindoo female to concur in such case.

How infant may concur.

IV. The guardian of any infant interested or claiming to be interested in any such question as aforesaid may concur in such case in the name and on the behalf of the infant, unless such guardian has an interest in such question adverse to the interest of the infant therein.

How special guardian to be appointed for a lunatic not found such by inquisition and for infant.

V. It shall be lawful for the said Courts, by order to be made in the matter of any lunatic not found such by inquisition, or in the matter of any infant, upon the application of any person on the behalf of such lunatic, or upon the application of such infant, by motion or petition, to appoint any person shown by affidavit to be a fit person, and to have no interest adverse to the interest of the lunatic or infant, to be the special guardian of such lunatic or infant for the purpose of concurring in such case in the name and on behalf of the lunatic or infant, and any such person so appointed may lawfully so concur. Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the said Courts to require notice of such application to be given to such person, if any, as the Court shall think fit.

Order to appoint special guardian of an infant may be discharged by Courts if made without notice.

VI. In any case in which any such order as aforesaid shall have been made by the said Courts in the matter of any infant without notice to the guardian of the infant, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, if they shall respectively think fit so to do, to discharge such order upon the application of such guardian, by motion or petition; and the said Courts, if they shall respectively think fit, may thereupon appoint some other fit person to be the special guardian of such infant for the purpose of such special case, and may also give such directions as may be necessary for substituting in such special case either the name of the guardian so applying, or of the special guardian so appointed, in lieu of the name of the special guardian so displaced. Provided always, that the discharge of any Order appointing a special guardian shall not invalidate any thing which shall in the meantime have been done by such special guardian, unless the Court shall, upon notice to all parties, specially so direct.

How special cases to be entitled.

VII. Every such special case shall be entitled as a cause between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant; and in the title to such cases, lunatics and infants shall be described as such, and their Committees, guardians, or special guardians named; and where in any such case a married woman is named as a plaintiff, and her husband as a defendant thereto, a next friend of such married woman shall be named in the title to such case; but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to require a next friend of any Hindoo or Mahomedan married woman to be named in such title.

Form of special case.

VIII. Every such special case shall concisely state such facts and documents as may be necessary to enable the Court to decide the question raised thereby; and upon the hearing of such case, the Court and the parties shall be at liberty to refer to the whole contents of such documents; and the Court shall be at liberty to draw from the facts and documents stated in any such special case any inference which the Court might have drawn therefrom if proved in a cause.

Special case to state how guardian constituted, and the concurrence of married women.

IX. Every such special case to which an infant or lunatic is a party by his guardian or special guardian shall also state how such guardian or special guardian was constituted; and where any married woman having or claiming any interest distinct from her husband is a party to such case, it shall be stated therein that she concurs in such case in her own right.

Special case to be signed by Counsel and filed, and appearances to be entered for defendants.

X. Every such special case shall be signed by Counsel for all parties, and shall be filed in the same manner as bills, plaints, or allegations are filed, and the defendants may appear thereto in the same manner as defendants appear to bills, plaints, or allegations, and no defendants shall be required to take an office copy of a special case, but an office copy thereof shall be taken by the plaintiff.

Parties to be bound by statements after defendants have appeared to special case.

XI. After a special case shall have been filed, and the defendants shall have appeared thereto, all the parties to such special case shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court in the same manner as if the plaintiff in the special case had filed a bill, plaint, or allegation against the parties named as defendants thereto, and such defendants had appeared to such bill, plaint, or allegation, and upon the special case being filed and appearances entered thereto as aforesaid, all parties to such special case, shall, for the purposes of such special case, be bound by the statements therein.

How cases to be set down for hearing.

XII. So soon as all the defendants shall have appeared to the special case, the same may be set down for hearing, and subpœnas to hear judgment or notices of hearing, issued and served according to the practice of the said Courts.

Upon hearing Court to determine question and make declaration.

XIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts upon the hearing of any such special case as aforesaid, to determine the questions raised therein or any of them, and by decree or judgment to declare its opinion thereon, and, so far as the case shall admit of the same, upon the right involved therein, without proceeding to administer any relief consequent upon such declaration, and every such declaration of the said Court contained in any such decree or judgment shall have the same force and effect as such declaration would have had, and shall be binding to the same extent as such declaration would have been, if contained in a decree or judgment made in a suit between the same parties instituted by bill, plaint, or allegation; provided always, that if upon the hearing of such special case as aforesaid, the Court shall be of opinion that the statements contained therein so far as the same affect the interest of any married woman, infant or lunatic are not true, or that the questions raised thereby or any of them cannot properly be decided upon such case, the same may be at such hearing, with the consent of all parties thereto, and of the Court, amended so as properly to raise such questions, or the said Court may refuse to decide the same.

Proviso that Court may refuse to decide.

Protection to be afforded to Trustees by declaration.

XIV. Every executor, administrator, representative, trustee, or other person making any payment or doing any act in conformity with the declaration contained in any decree or judgment made or pronounced upon a special case, shall in all respects be as fully and effectually protected and indemnified by such declaration, as if such payment had been made or act done under or in pursuance of the express order of the said Court made in a suit, action, or proceeding between the same parties instituted by bill, plaint, or allegation, save only as to any rights or claims of any person in respect of matters not determined by such declaration.

The Court may suspend the acting upon declaration.

XV. Where any person shall be desirous to have a special case re-heard, or to appeal from the decision thereon, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, upon application for that purpose, either at the time of the decree or

XXX. In the meantime and until any such General Rules or Orders shall be made, and in so far as the same, when made, shall not be applicable, the proceedings under this Act shall be governed and regulated by the provisions herein contained, so far as the same extend, and in so far as the same do not extend shall, as well with respect to the persons who ought to be made parties to special cases as in every other respect, be governed and regulated by the Rules, Orders and Practice of the said Courts respectively, in suits instituted by bill, so far as the same can be applied thereto; and subject to such General Rules and Orders as aforesaid, the costs of all proceedings under this Act, shall be in the discretion of the said Courts respectively.

Until Rules or Orders are made, and if not applicable when made, practice to be according to this Act and practice of the Court.

XXXI. All decrees and orders made under the provisions of this Act, shall be subject to rehearing, appeal, and review, and may be discharged and varied in the same and the like manner as decrees and orders of the said Courts made in suits instituted by bill.

Decrees and Orders to be subject to appeal, &c.

No. 458.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th March 1852.

The Most Noble the Governor of Bengal has been pleased to direct that the following test of qualifications, sanctioned by the Government of India as the standard which shall entitle Military Officers attaining to it, in two or more of the Native Languages to claim the reward of Rupees (1,000) one thousand, granted by the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, be published for general information.

The languages from which candidates are at liberty to select those in which they will be examined are—

Arabic,	Sanscrit,
Persian,	Hindee,
Oordoo,	Bengalee,

provided that one of the languages chosen must be of Mahomedan origin, either Arabic, Persian or Oordoo, and another of Hindoo origin, either Sanscrit or one of the other languages mentioned above in the same column as Sanscrit, according to the Presidency to which the Officer examined belongs.

The test books in the several languages are to be—

In Arabic, ...	1 Alif Laila. 2 Ikhwanōōs Safa. 3 Nafhatōōl Yaman.
In Persian, ...	1 Gulistan. 2 Bostan. 3 Anwari Soheilee.
In Oordoo, ...	1 Baghobahar. 2 Gooli Bakawalee. 3 Betal Pacheesee. 4 Ikhwanōōs Safa.
In Sanscrit,..	1 Hitopadesha. 2 Mahabharata.
In Hindee, ...	1 Rajneeti. 2 Prem Sagur. 3 Baghobahar.
In Bengalee,..	1 Betal Punchabinshate. 2 Bangalar Itihas. 3 Purush Pariksha.
Maharatta and Goozerattee,	1 Punchopa Khyan. 2 Æsop's Fables. 3 Bah Mittra.
Canarese, ...	1 Æsop's Fables.
Tamil, ...	1 Punchatuntra.
Telagoo, ...	1 Morris' Selections. 2 Punchatuntra. 3 Vikra Marka Tales.

The candidate will of course not be permitted to have access to any Dictionary or other book, or to receive any kind of assistance in the performance of his exercises, either written or oral.

The written exercises to consist of—

1. A paper not less than an ordinary octavo page in length, printed in the language in which the examination is held, to be translated into English.
2. A paper in English, of the same length, to be translated into the selected language in such a manner as to evince a decided familiarity with the language, and some elegance of style.
3. A paper of short sentences in English, the greater part on professional subjects, to be rendered into the language of examination accurately and idiomatically.

The candidate will then be called upon to read fluently and translate correctly portions of any of the test books, and also a fairly but not very clearly written manuscript in the language selected; and, when that is still a spoken language of the country, he shall further be required to carry on a conversation with the Examiners, or with one or more Natives in presence of the Examiners, on such subjects proposed by them, as are calculated to test his colloquial facility both as regards scholar-like expression and knowledge of the terms and phrases commonly used by the poorer and uneducated classes.

The examinations under these orders will be conducted by the College Examiners at Fort William and Fort Saint George in the case of Bengal and Madras Officers respectively, and by the Examination Committee at Bombay when the candidate belongs to that Presidency.

No. 348.

Fort William, Civil Auditor's Office, the 16th March 1852.

NOTIFICATION.

To the Officers of the Judicial, Revenue, Customs, Salt, Opium and Abkaree and other branches of the Service.

The Civil Auditor requests that disbursing Officers will submit for audit, a detailed Pay Abstract of their Office Establishments respectively, for the month of April 1852, stating the names, dates of appointment, and the dates of orders of Government, &c., sanctioning the same, or any alteration in the salaries of Christian Assistants and Native Omlahs that may have been made agreeably to the Financial Rules of 8th December 1843. The Thannah Establishments, under the control of the Magistrates and Joint Magistrates, to be specified in detail, distinguishing the sums drawn under each particular head, and the total of the Police Force shewn at one view in the outer column in the above Abstract. The Orders notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th January 1849, page 11, should be strictly attended to with respect to vacant situations. At the foot of the Abstract, a Memorandum must be given, shewing the amount which may have been drawn purely as batta on account of salaries of old incumbents, also the reduction that may have been effected in consequence of vacancies, and subsequently carried to the credit of Government.

W. P. Palmer,
Civil Auditor.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

NOTIFICATION.

CALCUTTA COURT OF SMALL CAUSES.

The 17th March 1852.

In pursuance of the power vested in them by Section XII. of Act IX. 1850, the Judges of the Small Cause Court, with the approval of the Judges of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, have framed the following Amended and New Rules and Forms, which are now published for general information, to take effect from this date.

By the Court,

JOHN KING,
Clerk of the Court.

Present Rules.	Amended Rules.
Rule 20th.—No New Trial shall be granted unless application be made within four days after judgment, and without leave of the Court having been first obtained, and before such application for leave shall be made, the party making such application shall deposit in Court the whole amount of the debt or damages decreed against him, with costs thereon, and shall give notice in writing of such application to the Clerk, at his Office, at the time of making such deposit. The Clerk, on such application being granted, shall cause a Summons for such new trial in the usual form to be served on the other party.	Rule 20th.—No New Trial shall be granted unless application be made within four days after judgment, and without leave of the Court having been first obtained, and before such application for leave shall be made, the party making such application shall deposit in Court the whole amount of the debt or damages decreed against him, with costs thereon, and shall give notice in writing of such application to the Clerk, at his Office, at the time of making such deposit.
Rule 34th.—No Warrant of Execution or Commitment shall be executed after the expiration of two Calendar months from the date thereof, provided that second and successive Warrants of Execution may be issued by order of the Judge, at the expiration of two Calendar months from the date of each, on payment of the prescribed costs of Execution by the party suing out the same. Provided always, that no Warrant of Execution shall issue upon any judgment or order of this Court after the expiration of three years from the date of such judgment or order, but the parties in such a case shall institute a Suit or Action de novo on such unsatisfied judgment or order.	Rule 34th.—No Warrant of Execution or Commitment shall be executed after the expiration of one Calendar month from the date thereof, provided that second and successive Warrants of Execution may be issued by order of the Judge, at the expiration of one Calendar month from the date of each, on payment of the prescribed costs of Execution by the party suing out the same. Provided always, that no Warrant of Execution shall issue upon any judgment or order of this Court after the expiration of three years from the date of such judgment or order, but the parties in such a case shall institute a Suit or Action de novo on such unsatisfied judgment or order.

Present Rules.	Amended Rules.

ADDITIONAL RULES.

DISTRIBUTION OF CASES.

Rule 54*th*.—Every case in which the Plaintiff, or his Agent, on applying for a Summons, or the Defendant or his Agent, prior to the returnable date of the Summons, certifies to the Chief Clerk that a point of Law of any difficulty is involved, shall be set down for hearing before the First Judge.

NEW TRIALS.

Rule 55*th*.—Motions for New Trials, and new Trials, will be heard before two Judges at least, of whom one will be the Judge who tried the case originally, and the other the first Judge. If the case were heard by the first Judge he will call for the assistance of one or both of the other Judges.

Rule 56*th*.—If the Court is of opinion that a New Trial should be granted, the Plaintiff shall proceed to set his case down for re-hearing within four days, unless some other time be granted by the Court, and in default the Defendant shall be at liberty to withdraw his deposit.

Rule 57*th*.—Should the Rule for a New Trial be made absolute, the order shall be made on such terms as to the payment of costs as the Court shall direct.

Rule 58*th*.—If on the hearing of the Second Trial the Verdict is entered for the Plaintiff, the judgment may be satisfied pro tanto out of the sum already deposited for debt and costs by Defendant, with right of Execution against the goods or person of the Defendant for the amount payable by the Defendant over and above the sum so deposited by him in Court.

Rule 59*th*.—If on the hearing of the Second Trial the Verdict is entered for the Defendant, he shall be at liberty to withdraw his deposit.

Justices of the Peace may make order of maintenance for wives and children.

II. If any person within the said Town, having sufficient means or employment, shall not duly maintain his wife, or his legitimate or illegitimate children, and shall be thereof convicted before a Justice of the Peace, upon his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, the said Justice may make an order upon such person for the maintenance of such wife and children, or any of them, at such monthly rate as to the Justice seems reasonable, and upon non-compliance with the said order for any one month, or longer period, any Justice, by warrant under his hand and seal, may commit the person so convicted to the Common Gaol of Calcutta without labour, or to the House of Correction to hard labour, for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Persons convicted of having or conveying stolen goods liable to penalty.

III. Every person who shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying in any manner anything which may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained, and who shall not give an account to the satisfaction of such Justice how he came by the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before such Justice, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months.

Persons in whose possession stolen goods are found, to be examined, &c.

IV. When any person shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying anything stolen or unlawfully obtained, and shall declare that he received the same from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent, or servant to convey the same for some other person, such Justice shall cause every such person, and also if necessary every former or pretended purchaser, or other person through whose possession the same shall have passed, to be brought before him and examined, and shall examine witnesses upon oath touching the same; and if it shall appear to such Justice that any person shall have had possession of such thing, and had reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice, may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months; every such person shall be deemed to have had possession of such thing at the time and place when and where the same shall have been found or seized, and the possession of a carrier, agent, or servant shall be deemed to be the possession of the person who shall have employed such carrier, agent, or servant to keep or convey the same.

On suspicion of goods being stolen or unlawfully obtained. Justice may grant search-warrant.

V. If information shall be given on oath to a Justice of the Peace that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that anything stolen or unlawfully obtained is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house, building, or other place, such Justice, by special warrant under his hand, directed to any Police Officer or Constable, may cause such dwelling-house, building, or other place to be entered and searched at any time of the day, or by night, if power for that purpose be given by such warrant, and the said Justice, if it shall appear to him necessary, may empower such Police Officer or Constable, with such assistance as may be found necessary, (such Constable having previously made known his authority,) to use force for the effecting of such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and if upon search thereupon made any such thing shall be found, then to convey the same before a Justice, or to guard the same on the spot, until the offenders are taken before a Justice, or otherwise dispose thereof in some place of safety, and moreover to take into custody, and carry before the said Justice, every person found in such house or place who shall appear to have been privy to the deposit of any such thing, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the same to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

Power to search houses for stolen property without a warrant in certain cases.

VI. If information shall be given to any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector belonging to the Calcutta Police, that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that any stolen property is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house or other place, and the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector shall have good grounds for believing that, by reason of the delay in obtaining a search-warrant, the property is likely to be removed, the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector, in virtue of his office, may search for specific articles alleged to have been stolen in the houses and places specified; provided always, that a list of the articles stolen or missing be delivered and taken down in writing, with a declaration stating that the robbery has been committed, and that the informant has good ground to believe that the property is deposited in such house or place; and provided further, that the person who lost the goods, or his representative, accompany the officer in the search.

Extension of Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to cases in which property stolen does not exceed fifty rupees in value.

VII. All persons charged with the commission of any of the offences specified in Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace for the said Town, provided the value of the property which the prisoner is charged with having stolen does not, according to the belief of such Justice, exceed fifty rupees, anything in the said Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all the powers by Act XXI. of 1839 (except Section VIII. aforesaid,) and Act III. of 1842, given or reserved to any such Justice for the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property not exceeding twenty rupees in value, and all the provisions of the said Acts (except as aforesaid) shall extend and be applicable to the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property, not exceeding, according to the belief of the Justice, fifty rupees in value.

Extension of Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to the offence of receiving stolen property when the value of the property does not exceed fifty rupees.

VIII. Every person charged with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money, knowing the same to be stolen, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace, provided that the value of the property stolen or received does not, according to the belief of the Justice, exceed fifty rupees, and every such person, on conviction of any such offence, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six Calendar months; and all the powers and provisions of Act III. of 1842 and Act XXI. of 1839; except Section VIII. aforesaid, shall apply, so far as they may be applicable, to the trial, conviction, and sentence of any person charged under this Section with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen; provided always, that if it shall appear to the said Justice that such person has been previously convicted of, or is in the habit of receiving stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen, the said Justice shall commit such person for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Summary conviction of persons accessory to the commission of certain felonies.

IX. Every person who is accessory, before or after the fact, to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, is liable to be tried and convicted summarily before such Justice, on his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, and the convicting Justice shall have power to sentence any such accessory to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding six Calendar months, or in his or their discretion, instead of trying him, to commit him for trial to the Supreme Court of Judicature, or other court having authority to try him.

Punishment for boys.

X. Whenever any boy, under the age of sixteen years, is convicted before a Justice of the Peace, either of simple larceny under the said Act XXI. of 1839, or, under this Act, of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen, or of being an accessory to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, the said Justice, if he thinks fit, may sentence him to receive corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes of a light ratan, instead of sentencing him to imprisonment

Cases of assault, forcible entry, or other injury not being felony.

XI. Any person who shall commit any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, within the said Town, against the person or property of any person whatsoever, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and the said Justice may award the whole or any part of such fine to the party or parties aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury, or, in the discretion of such Justice, such person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding four Calendar months.

Persons charged with recent assault may be apprehended by Police without warrant, though assault not committed in view of Police.

XII. Any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police may take into custody, or authorize a Constable to take into custody, without warrant, any person who within the said Town shall be charged by any other person with committing an aggravated assault, in every case in which such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police shall have good reason to believe that such assault has been committed, although not within view of such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector, and that by reason of the recent commission of the offence, a warrant could not have been obtained for the appearance of the offender.

Unlawfully taking or enticing away women or female children under the age of sixteen.

XIII. If complaint shall be made before any Justice that any person within the said Town has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken away, against her will, any woman, or has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken or enticed away any female child under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession or protection and against the will of the husband, father, mother, guardian or other person who has the lawful order, keeping, education, or government of such child, for the purpose of living in adultery with such woman or child, or for purposes of prostitution, or of deflowering or disposing of her in marriage, it shall be lawful for the said Justice to make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, father, mother, guardian, or such other person as aforesaid, as the case may be, and to compel compliance with such order, and if it be necessary to use force for that purpose, any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police, duly authorized by the Justice in that behalf, with such assistants as he may deem necessary, may break open doors or otherwise compel compliance with the same, and the said Justice may commit any person charged with taking, or causing to be taken, or enticing any woman or female child as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature,

Keeping open houses of public entertainment without licence.

XIV. Any person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort and entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) without a licence for the same being first had and obtained from and under the hand of two Justices of the Peace, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before any of the said Justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place of public resort or entertainment is kept open.

Two Justices to grant licences.

XV. Two or more of the said Justices shall from time to time hold licensing Sessions, for the purpose of granting licences to the keepers of such houses or places of public resort and entertainment as aforesaid, and the said licences may be granted by the said Justices for any term not exceeding one year, subject to the restriction contained in Section XII. Act XI. of 1849, and upon such conditions to be inserted in every such licence as the Justices from time to time shall order, for securing the good behaviour of the keepers of the said houses or places of public resort or entertainment, and the prevention of drunkenness and disorder among the persons frequenting or using the same.

Penalty for parties not conforming to the tenor of their licence.

XVI. The keeper of every such house or place of public resort and entertainment, who shall wilfully offend against any condition of his licence, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and, in the discretion of the convicting Justice, to forfeit his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Disorderly conduct and illegal harbouring of deserters in houses of public entertainment.

XVII. Every person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort or entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) and who shall knowingly or wilfully permit drunkenness or other disorderly behaviour in such house, shop, room, or place, or who shall knowingly suffer any unlawful games or any gaming whatsoever therein, or who shall knowingly permit prostitutes or persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or who shall wilfully harbour or conceal any Seaman or Apprentice who shall have deserted, knowing or having reason to believe such Seaman or Apprentice so harboured or concealed to be a deserter, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and shall be liable to forfeiture of his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Hours for sale of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs.

XVIII. Every person who shall keep open his house, shop, room, or place, for the purpose of selling or retailing spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, under a licence from the Collector of Calcutta, after the hour of nine at night and before the hour of six in the morning, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees, and shall also be liable, in the discretion of the said Justice, to the forfeiture of his licence.

Introduction of spirituous liquors without licence into Fort William.

XIX. If any person, not being amenable to the Articles of War, shall take or attempt to take into Fort William any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs of any description, without a licence from the Commanding Officer of the said Fort, or from some other person thereunto authorized, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint to him thereof made, may issue his summons or warrant for bringing the party complained of, and also the liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, before him, and in case of conviction may adjudge the said liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, to be forfeited, and every such person so convicted shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two calendar months.

Taking spirits, &c., into the Gaol.

XX. Every person who shall take or throw, or attempt to take or throw, into the Great Gaol or House of Correction of Calcutta, any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs, without the licence or consent of the Jailor or Keeper of such Gaol or House of Correction, respectively, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two months.

Breaking Gaol.

XXI. Every person who shall have been committed to the Great Gaol or House of Correction, or who shall be in custody at any Police Office or Station, and who shall unlawfully break or escape from such Gaol, House of Correction, Police Office, or Station, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any other sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be imprisoned at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

Riotous or indecent behaviour.

XXII. Every person who shall be found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself in any street or public thoroughfare, or who shall be guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street, public thoroughfare, Police Office, Station, or Section House, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding fourteen days.

Rogues and Vagabonds.

XXIII. Any Constable or Peace Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police may take into custody, without a warrant, any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise armed with any dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoever, with intent to break or enter into any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, or any loose, idle, or disorderly persons whom he shall find disturbing the public peace, or whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit, any felony, misdemeanor, or breach of the peace, or any reputed thief whom he shall find between sunset and sunrise on board any boat in the river, or lying or loitering in any bazar, street, road, yard, thoroughfare or other place, and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, or any person having in his possession without lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall lie on such person), any pick-lock key, crow, jack, bit, or other implement of house-breaking, or any person found between sunset and sunrise having his face blackened or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any felony, or any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise in any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, with intent to commit any felony therein; and every such offender, on conviction before a Justice, either on his own confession or on the evidence of one or more credible witnesses, shall be liable, at the discretion of the said Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding four calendar months.

Beggars.

XXIV. Every person who shall beg or apply for alms or relief in any public road, street, or thoroughfare, or who shall expose or exhibit any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity in such roads, streets, or public thoroughfares, with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms, or relief, or who shall, anywhere within the Town, seek for or obtain alms or relief by means of any false statements or pretences, or who shall cause, aid, or abet any such person as aforesaid in the commission of any of the said offences, shall, for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two calendar months.

Furious Driving.

XXV. Every person who shall drive or ride furiously, or at a greater rate than ten miles an hour, any vehicle or animal in the said streets or public thoroughfares, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one calendar month.

Lamps to vehicles.

XXVI. Every person who shall drive any vehicle of any description, at any time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without having a lighted lamp affixed to such vehicle, shall for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty rupees, or, in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one calendar month.

For suppression of common gaming-houses.

XXVII. If any person shall make oath before a Justice of the Peace that any house, building, room, or other place within the Town is commonly reported and believed to be kept or used as a common gaming-house or place, such Justice, by an order in writing, may authorize a Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter any such house, building, room, or place, with such Constables as he shall deem requisite to accompany him, and if necessary, to use force for the purpose of effecting such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to take into custody and search all persons found therein, and to seize all tables and instruments of gaming found in such house, building, room, or place, or on the persons of any of those found therein, and also to seize all moneys and securities for money found in any such house, building, room, or place; and the owner or keeper of the said gaming-house, or place, or other person having the care and management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three calendar months, and upon conviction of any such offender all such tables and instruments of unlawful games shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by order of the Justice before whom the conviction is had, and all the moneys and securities for moneys so found shall be forfeited to Government, and every person found on such premises, and who shall not be the owner or keeper, or other person having the care or management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Proof of playing for stakes unnecessary.

XXVIII. It shall not be necessary in support of any information for gaming in, or for suffering any games or gaming in, or for keeping or managing, or being concerned in the management or conduct of, any common gaming-house or place, under this Act, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

What articles if found shall be evidence that the house is a gaming-house.

XXIX. Where any cards, dice, balls, counters, tables, or other instruments of gaming, used in playing any unlawful game, are found in any house, building, room, or place suspected to be used as a common gaming-house or place, and entered by an order issued under this Act, or about the person of any who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, building, room, or place, is used as a common gaming-house or place, and that the persons found in the house, building, room, or place, where such tables or instruments of gaming shall have been found were playing therein, although no play was actually going on in the presence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Inspector, or Constable entering the same as aforesaid.

Gambling in the Streets.

XXX. Every person who shall game for money or any other thing or reward whatsoever, or who shall join in, bet at, or abet, or be present for the purpose of joining, betting at, or abetting any such gaming, in any street or public thoroughfare in the said Town, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one calendar month.

Using false or defective weights and measures.

XXXI. All persons who deal in any articles by retail by weight or measure, and who have in or about their shops or premises, or otherwise in their possession any false, or deficient weight, measure, beam or scale, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one calendar month; and every such false and defective weight, measure, beam or scale shall be forfeited, and the said Justice shall cause the same to be destroyed; and it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate or Superintendent of Police from time to time to issue public notices at the Police Office and Thannas, and such places as to him appear suitable, of the exact weight and measure of just weights and measures, and to keep at the Police Office and Thannas standard weights and measures for the information of the public.

False weights and measures.

XXXII. Any Justice of the Peace or the Superintendent of Police may issue his warrant, directing any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter into any shop or other place where articles are bought and sold by retail, and to search for and to examine the weights and measures therein, and seize all such as he may suspect to be forfeited as false and deficient in weight.

Justice of the Peace may take cognizance of cases of desertion or unauthorized absence from their ship of Foreign and Asiatic seamen.

XXXIII. If any seaman, whether British or Foreign, shall, wilfully and without leave or lawful excuse, absent himself from his vessel, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint upon oath, and at the instance of any of the officers of the said vessel, may issue his warrant to apprehend and detain the said seaman and convey him on board of his vessel; and whenever any seaman shall have been imprisoned, it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace, on the release of such seaman from imprisonment, to cause him to be conveyed on board of the vessel to which he may belong.

Arms carried by persons without due authority.

XXXIV. No person, not being a soldier or sailor in the service of the Queen or the East India Company, or a Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be entitled to carry any sword, spear, gun, or other offensive weapon in any street, thoroughfare, or public place, unless by leave of the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and any person offending against this enactment, shall be liable to be disarmed by any Constable or other person acting under such instructions as shall be from time to time given by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and the weapons so seized shall be taken before the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, and forfeited to the Government, if the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, in his discretion, shall think fit to declare them forfeited.

The regulation of carriages and persons at places of public resort.

XXXV. The Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, from time to time, and as occasion may require, may make regulations for keeping clear the public ghauts and landing-stairs, and for the route to be observed in the public streets and places by all carts, carriages, palanquins, hackeries, and other vehicles, and by all horses, cattle and persons, and as to the times during which they may take the said routes, and for preventing obstruction of the streets and thoroughfares within the Town on all times of public processions and native holidays, as also during the time of Divine Service, and also may give directions to the Constables and other Peace Officers for keeping order and for preventing any obstruction of the thoroughfares in the immediate neighbourhood of any place of public resort, and in any case when the ghauts, landing-stairs, streets, or thoroughfares may be thronged, or may be liable to be obstructed, and every person opposing or not obeying the orders so issued by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, shall be liable to be arrested and detained by the Police, and, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Police Officers taking Bribes.

XXXVI. Any Police Officer or Constable who shall ask for or take any bribe or unauthorized reward in consideration of his doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three months.

As to manufacture or possession of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton.

XXXVII. The Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation passed by the Governor General in Council on the 8th April 1802, and Section II. Act XVIII. of 1841, are hereby repealed. Any person who shall, within the limits of the said Town, manufacture Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or who shall, without a licence for that purpose being first had and obtained from the Chief Magistrate, have in his possession, in any house, shop, warehouse, or other building, at any one time, a greater quantity of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for sale or otherwise than ten pounds, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of all such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton so manufactured or possessed, together with the vessel or receptacle in which it may be seized, and also to a fine not exceeding in amount the sum of rupees five hundred.

Chief Magistrate to grant licences for sale and deposit of Gun-powder, &c.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate to grant to any person (whom he shall deem fit and proper) a licence for the sale or keeping in deposit, within the limits of the said Town, any quantity of imported or Indian manufactured Gun-powder not exceeding fifty pounds, or any quantity of Gun-cotton not exceeding twenty pounds, on such conditions as shall be specified in the licence, and any person who shall be guilty of a breach of any of such conditions, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of his licence and of all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton so kept in deposit contrary thereto, and also to a fine not exceeding rupees two hundred.

Licences to be in force for one year, and to contain certain provisions.

XXXIX. Every such licence as is mentioned in the preceding Section shall be in force for a period of one year only and no longer, but shall be renewable by the said Chief Magistrate, at his discretion, on the same or any other terms and conditions, and such licence shall also provide for the transit and carrying of Gun-powder from one place to another within the limits of the said Town, in such manner and in such quantity as shall be deemed advisable for the safety of the inhabitants and of property within the said Town, and every person offending against such provisions shall be liable to a fine not exceeding rupees fifty.

As to Search for Gun-powder, &c.

XL. Any Justice of the Peace, on credible information laid before him on oath or solemn affirmation, that Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or mixed materials for making the same contrary to the provisions of this Act, are suspected to be stored, kept, or possessed by any person, may issue his warrant, authorizing any Police Officer to search in the day-time any house, shop, magazine, or other building or place in which he has reasonable ground to suspect any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton to be manufactured, sold, or kept, or any boat, carriage, cart, or other vehicle in which any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, may be suspected to be carried, or any person suspected of carrying the same contrary to such licence or to the provisions of this Act, and all Gun-powder, Gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, found on such search, shall, together with the vessels or receptacles in which they may be stored, be immediately seized and brought before a Justice of the Peace, with whom the same shall be kept till it shall be adjudged whether the same shall be forfeited.

Act not applicable to Government Powder, &c.

XLI. The four last preceding Sections shall not extend to any Government Magazine or store, or building for the making or deposit of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton under the authority or for the use of the Government, or to any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for the use of Her Majesty's or the East India Company's Troops, or otherwise for the service of Government, or to any of Her Majesty's Vessels of War, or the Vessels of the Indian Navy, or of the East India Company's Marine, or to any other Vessel within the River Hooghly laden with Gun-powder for importation or exportation.

As to Vessels arriving in River with Powder on Board.

XLII. Commanders of merchant vessels entering the River Hooghly shall, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, deposit in the Magazine at that place all Gun-powder intended for the Ship's use from on board their respective vessels, exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, which quantity they shall be permitted to retain in their vessels for the purpose of firing salutes or signals in case of distress, and the Gun-powder so deposited shall be again delivered on board on the return of the respective vessels from Calcutta in prosecution of the outward voyage; and Commanders of merchant vessels in the River Hooghly having on board their vessels Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for importation (not being Gun-powder belonging to the Government) exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, shall also deposit the same, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, in the Magazine of that place, under charge of an Officer belonging to the Customs at that place, or such other person as the Governor of Bengal may appoint, and the proprietors or consignees of such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or their agents, whenever they shall desire to remove the same from the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for authority to do so, which application, when it be intended that such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton shall be lodged in any place, or be laden in any boat or other conveyance within the limits of the said Town, shall be accompanied by a written order of permission, signed by a Justice of the Peace to that effect, and when it be intended that such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton shall be exported by sea, the Commanders of vessels, or the proprietors or their agents, by whom it shall have been deposited in the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for permission so to export it, and the Collector of Sea Customs shall comply with such applications aforesaid, except where the exportation of ammunition shall require, under provisions of Act XVIII. of 1841, a licence from a public Officer other than the Collector of Sea Customs, in which case the Collector of Sea Customs shall not comply with the application unless it be accompanied by the licence of such public Officer; and on or before the removal of all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton from the Magazine, the Collector of Sea Customs shall and he is hereby authorized to levy a fee, the rate of which shall not exceed two annas per pound, for all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton that has been lodged therein, which fee shall be taken to cover all charges for the safe custody of the Gun-powder or Gun-cotton during the period it has remained or shall remain in the Magazine; provided also, that the Governor of Bengal shall be at liberty to authorize such arrangement to be made, by letting or otherwise contracting for the custody of the Magazine, and for the collection and appropriation of the fees which may be charged for Gun-powder or Gun-cotton stored therein, as he may think proper, subject however to all the restrictions and rules imposed by this Section in respect to the removal from the Magazine of Gun-powder therein stored.

Penalties.

XLIII. For every act done or omitted to be done contrary to the provisions of the last preceding Section by the Commander of any merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, the Commander aforesaid shall, on conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace, be liable to a penalty of two hundred rupees: and the Collector of Sea Customs is hereby empowered to search for any quantity of Gun-powder which he may have reason to believe to be on board a merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, contrary to the provisions of this Act, and to seize and detain it as forfeited to Government, to be dealt with as the Governor of Bengal shall think right to direct.

Jurisdiction of Justices on the River Hooghly.

XLIV. The jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace acting within and for the said Town shall extend to all offences committed by any person in sea-going vessels in any part of the River Hooghly, and the said Justices shall have the same power and jurisdiction in respect of criminal offences committed in sea-going vessels, in any part of the said river, that they now have and exercise within the said Town.

Persons apprehended without warrant to be taken first to the Station-house, and if not admitted to bail, to the Police Office.

XLV. Every Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police is hereby authorized to arrest without warrant any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, and every person taken into custody without warrant by any Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be forthwith taken to the Station-house to which the Constable belongs, in order that such person may be detained, until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace to be dealt with according to law, or in order that such person may give bail for his appearance before a Justice of the Peace, if the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector at the Station shall deem it prudent to take bail in the manner hereinafter mentioned, which he is hereby authorized to do.

Power to take recognizances at Station-houses or Police Lock-up on certain charges.

XLVI. Whenever any person is brought to the Station-house as aforesaid charged with misdemeanor, assault, or with having carelessly done any hurt or damage, or whenever any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector of Police, or Town Serjeant in charge of a Police Lock-up, shall deem it probable that any person so brought is falsely or maliciously charged with having committed a felony, and any such person as aforesaid shall be, without the warrant of a Magistrate, in the custody of any Constable of the Calcutta Police, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent or any Deputy Superintendent of Police, if he shall deem it prudent, to enlarge such person on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, conditioned as hereinafter mentioned.

Condition of recognizance.

XLVII. Every recognizance so taken shall be without fee or reward, and shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person thereby bound before a Justice of the Peace at his next sitting, and the time and place of appearance and the sum thereby acknowledged (not exceeding one thousand rupees) shall be specified in this said recognizance, or the condition thereof; and the Officer taking the recognizance shall enter into a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name, residence, and occupation of the party and his surety or sureties (if any) entering into such recognizance, together with the condition thereof, and the sum thereby acknowledged, and shall return every such recognizance to the Justice present at the time and place and when and where the party is bound to appear, and the said recognizance may be in either of the forms, as the case may be, in Schedule (A.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect.

Amends may be awarded for false or malicious charges.

XLVIII. In every case in which any person shall be given in charge to a Constable, or in which any information or complaint of any offence shall be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace, and it shall appear to the Justice by whom the case shall be heard that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Justice, at his discretion, to award such amends, not more than the sum of fifty rupees, to be paid by the informer to the party informed or complained against, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as to the Justice shall seem meet.

Offences how to be tried.

XLIX. Every Justice of the Peace shall be empowered summarily to hear and determine every complaint of an offence committed against this Act, and to convict any person charged with any such offence on the oath of one or more witnesses, or by his own confession, and to award the penalty or punishment herein provided for such offence.

Justices may proceed by summons, and if party does not appear may issue warrant.

L. Upon any information or complaint to be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace (which complaint need not be made upon oath) of any matter which such Justice is authorized to hear and determine, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, he may summon the party charged, and if such party shall not appear according to the tenor of the summons, the Justice, upon proof of the service of the summons, may proceed, in all cases which are not of a criminal nature, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the party, to hear and determine the case in the absence of the party, and in all criminal cases shall issue his warrant for apprehending and bringing such party before him or some other Justice, in order that the said information and complaint may be heard and determined.

How summons may be served.

LI. Every such summons may be served by delivering it or a copy thereof to the party, or to his wife, servant, or some inmate of his dwelling, or by delivering it at or affixing it to the door or wall of his usual place of abode.

Justices may issue warrant without summons.

LII. A Justice of the Peace may, without issuing any summons, forthwith issue his warraat for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, whenever good grounds for so doing shall be stated on oath before him.

May enforce attendance of witnesses.

LIII. Any Justice may summon any witness to appear and give evidence upon the matter of any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, with which any person shall be charged before him, at a time and place appointed for hearing the information or complaint, and, by warrant under his hand and seal, may require any person to be brought before him who shall neglect or refuse to give evidence at the time and place appointed on such summons, proof upon oath being first given of personal service of the summons upon the person against whom such warrant shall be granted, and such Justice may commit any person coming or brought before him who shall refuse to give evidence, to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or until such person shall sooner submit himself to be examined, and in case of such submission the order of such Justice shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of such person.

Power to Magistrates to order prisoners to be brought up to the Police Office.

LIV. When any Justice of the Peace is desirous of examining any prisoner confined in the Great Gaol or House of Correction as a witness or defendant, with respect to any charge, case, or proceeding pending before him, it shall be lawful for such Justice to issue an order in the form contained in Schedule (B.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, addressed to the Keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named to the Police Office, for examination, and the Keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, on the receipt of such order, shall act in accordance therewith, and shall take care for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from prison for the purpose aforesaid.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

LV. All penalties and forfeitures and other sums of money imposed, awarded, or ordered to be paid by any Justice of the Peace under the authority of this Act, and all sums of money which any person is bound to pay under any recognizance taken before a Justice of the Peace or an Officer of Police empowered to take recognizances by this Act, and afterwards forfeited, in case of non-payment thereof, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or person liable to pay the same, by warrant under the hand of any Justice of the Peace, and in case any such penalty or forfeiture or sum of money shall not be forthwith paid, any Justice may order the party to be detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such Justice for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and the Justice may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise; and if upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no such sufficient distress could be had whereon to levy the said penalty or forfeiture, or sum of money, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear, to the satisfaction of the Justice, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty, forfeiture, or sum of money could be levied if warrant of distress should be issued, the Justice, by warrant under his hand, may commit such party to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, there to remain for any time not exceeding two calendar months.

Convictions to be quashed on merits only. Form of conviction, &c.

LVI. No conviction, order, or judgment of any Justice of the Peace shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, the evidence on which it proceeds; but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment, in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions.

LVII. In the construction of this Act the following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the context or subject repugnant to such construction; that is to say,

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "Town" shall include the Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Justice" or "Justices of the Peace" shall mean the Justices of the Peace for the time being acting within and for the said Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Oath" shall mean any oath or solemn affirmation in lieu of an oath.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative.
The 12th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 12th March, 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XV. OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law of Evidence in divers particulars, It is hereby enacted as follows:

Repeal of part of Section I., Act VII. of 1844.

I. So much of Section I. of Act No. VII. of 1844 as provides that the said Act shall "not render competent any party to any suit, action, or proceeding individually named in the record, or any lessor of the plaintiff or tenant of premises sought to be recovered in ejectment, or the landlord or other person in whose right any defendant in replevin may make cognizance, or any person in whose immediate and individual behalf any action may be brought or defended, either wholly or in part," is hereby repealed.

Parties to be admissible witnesses.

II. On the trial of any issue joined, or of any matter or question, or on any enquiry arising in any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law, or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence with respect to, or concerning any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of such Courts, the parties thereto, and the persons in whose behalf any such suit, action, or other proceeding, may be brought or defended, shall, except as hereinafter excepted, be competent and compellable to give evidence, either viva voce, or by deposition, according to the practice of the Courts, on behalf of either or any of the parties to the said suit, action, or other proceeding.

Parties not compellable to criminate themselves. Husband and wife not compellable to give evidence for or against each other.

III. But nothing herein contained shall render any person, who in any criminal proceeding is charged with the commission of any indictable offence, or any offence punishable on summary conviction, competent or compellable to give evidence for or against himself or herself, or shall render any person compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself or herself, or shall in any criminal proceeding render any husband competent or compellable to give evidence for or against his wife, or any wife competent or compellable to give evidence for or against her husband.

Act not to apply to proceedings for adultery or to actions for breach of promise of marriage.

IV. Nothing herein contained shall apply to any action, suit, or proceeding in any Court of Common Law, or in any Ecclesiastical Court, instituted in consequence of adultery, or to any action for breach of promise of marriage.

The Wills Act not repealed.

V. Nothing herein contained shall repeal any provision contained in Act XXV. of 1838.

Courts authorized to compel inspection of documents in actions and other proceedings whenever Equity would grant discovery.

VI. Whenever any action or other legal proceeding shall henceforth be pending in any of Her Majesty's Courts, such Court and each of the Judges thereof may respectively, on application made for such purpose by either of the litigants, compel the opposite party to allow the party making the application to inspect all documents in the custody or under the control of such opposite party relating to such action or other legal proceeding, and, if necessary, to take examined copies of the same, or to procure the same to be duly stamped; in all cases in which previous to the passing of this Act, a discovery might have been obtained by filing a bill, or by any other proceeding in a Court of Equity at the instance of the party so making application as aforesaid to the said Court or Judge. Provided always, that every such application shall be made as aforesaid before issue joined in any such action, and twenty-one days before the trial or hearing of any other legal proceeding.

Foreign and Colonial Acts of State, judgments, &c., provable by certified copies, without proof of seal or signature or judicial character of person signing the same.

VII. All proclamations, treaties, and other Acts of State of any Foreign State, or of the East India Company, or of any Territory under the Government of the East India Company, or of any British Colony, and all judgments, decrees, orders, and other judicial proceedings of any Court of Justice in any foreign State, or in any of the territories under the Government of the East India Company, or in any British Colony, and all affidavits, pleadings, and other legal documents filed or deposited in any such Court, may be proved in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, either by examined copies, or by copies authenticated as hereinafter mentioned; that is to say, if the document sought to be proved be a Proclamation, Treaty, or other Act of State, the authenticated copy to be admissible in evidence must purport to be sealed with the Seal of the Foreign State, or of the East India Company, or of the Territory under the Government of the East India Company, or of the British Colony to which the original document belongs; and if the document sought to be proved be a judgment, decree, order, or other judicial proceeding of any Foreign or Colonial Court, or of any Court within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, or an affidavit, pleading, or other legal document filed or deposited in any such Court, the authenticated copy to be admissible in evidence, must purport either to be sealed with the Seal of the Foreign or Colonial Court or Court within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company to which the original document belongs, or in the event of such Court having no Seal, to be signed by the Judge, or if there be more than one Judge, by any one of the Judges of the said Court, and such Judge shall attach to his signature a statement in writing on the said copy that the Court whereof he is a Judge has no Seal; but if any of the aforesaid authenticated copies shall purport to be sealed or signed as hereinbefore respectively directed, the same shall respectively be admitted in evidence in every case in which the original document could have been received in evidence, without any proof of the Seal, where a Seal is necessary, or of the signature, or of the truth of the statement attached thereto, where such signature and statement are necessary, or of the judicial character of the person appearing to have made such signature and statement.

Registers of British Vessels and Certificates of Registry admissible without proof of signature.

VIII. Every Register of a Vessel kept under Act X. of 1841, or under any of the Acts of Parliament relating to the registry of British Vessels, may be proved in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, either by the production of the original, or by an examined copy thereof, or by a copy thereof purporting to be certified under the hand of the person having the charge of the original, and which person is hereby required to furnish such certified copy to any person applying at a reasonable time for the same, upon payment of the sum of one Rupee; and every such Register, or such copy of a Register, and also every Certificate of Registry granted under the said Act or any of the Acts of Parliament relating to the registry of British Vessels, and purporting to be signed as required by law, shall be received in evidence in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, as primâ facie proof of all the matters contained or recited in such Register, when the Register, or such copy thereof as aforesaid, is produced, and of all the matters contained or recited in or endorsed on such Certificate of Registry when the said Certificate is produced.

Where necessary to prove conviction or acquittal, not necessary to produce record, but Certificate of Clerk of Court.

IX. Whenever in any proceeding whatever it may be necessary to prove the trial and conviction or acquittal of any person charged with any indictable offence, it shall not be necessary to produce the record of the conviction or acquittal of such person, or a copy thereof, but it shall be sufficient that it be certified or purport to be certified under the hand of the Clerk of the Court or other Officer having the custody of the records of the Court where such conviction or acquittal took place, or by the Deputy of such Clerk or other Officer, that the paper produced is a copy of the record of the indictment, trial, conviction, and judgment or acquittal, as the case may be, omitting the formal parts thereof.

Examined or certified copies of documents admissible.

X. Whenever any book or other document is of such a public nature as to be admissible in evidence on its mere production from the proper custody, and no statute or Act exists which renders its contents provable by means of a copy, any copy thereof, or extract therefrom, shall be admissible in evidence in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, or before any person now or hereafter having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence as aforesaid, provided it be proved to be an examined copy or extract, or provided it purports to be signed and certified as a true copy or extract by the Officer to whose custody the original is entrusted, and which Officer is hereby required to furnish such certified copy or extract to any person applying at a reasonable time for the same, upon payment of a reasonable sum for the same, not exceeding four annas, for every folio of ninety words.

Certifying a false document a misdemeanor.

XI. If any officer authorized or required by this Act to furnish any certified copies or extracts shall wilfully certify any document as being a true copy or extract, knowing that the same is not a true copy or extract, as the case may be, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable, upon conviction, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding eighteen months.

Court, &c. may administer oath.

XII. All Her Majesty's Courts within the British Territories under the Government of the East India Company, and every Judge and Justice of such Courts, and every Officer, Commissioner, Arbitrator or other person, now or hereafter having, by law or by consent of parties, authority to hear, receive, and examine evidence with respect to or concerning any suit, action, or other proceeding in any of such Courts, is hereby empowered to administer an oath to all such witnesses as are legally called before them respectively.

Persons forging seal, stamp, or signature of certain documents, or wilfully uttering the same, guilty of felony.

XIII. If any person shall forge the seal, stamp, or signature of any document in this Act mentioned or referred to, or shall tender in evidence any such document with a false or counterfeit seal, stamp, or signature thereto, knowing the same to be false or counterfeit, he shall be guilty of felony, and shall, upon conviction, be liable to transportation for seven years, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three years, nor less than one year, with hard labour; and whenever any such document shall have been admitted in evidence by virtue of this Act, the Court, or the person who shall have admitted the same, may, at the request of any party against whom the same is so admitted in evidence, direct that the same shall be impounded and be kept in the custody of some officer of the Court or other proper person, for such period, and subject to such conditions, as to the said Court or person shall seem meet; and every person who shall be charged with committing any felony under this Act may be dealt with, indicted, tried, and, if convicted, sentenced, and his offence may be laid and charged to have been committed in the place in which he shall be apprehended or be in custody; and every accessory before or after the fact to any such offence may be dealt with, indicted, tried, and, if convicted, sentenced, and his offence may be laid and charged to have been committed in any place in which the principal offender may be tried.

XIV. This Act shall come into operation from and after the tenth day of April, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty-two.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative.
The 12th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 12th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT NO. XVI. OF 1852.

An Act for further Improving the Administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Courts of Justice in the Territories of the East India Company.

Whereas offenders frequently escape conviction on their trials, by reason of the technical strictness of criminal proceedings in matters not material to the merits of the case; and whereas such technical strictness may safely be relaxed in many instances, so as to insure the punishment of the guilty, without depriving the accused of any just means of defence; and whereas a failure of justice often takes place on the trial of persons charged with felony and misdemeanor by reason of variances between the statement in the indictment on which the trial is had, and the proof of names, dates, matters, and circumstances therein mentioned, not material to the merits of the case, and by the misstatement whereof the person on trial cannot have been prejudiced in his defence, It is hereby enacted as follows:

The Court may amend certain variances not material to the merits of the case, and by which the defendant cannot be prejudiced in his defence, and may either proceed with or postpone the trial to be had before the same or another jury.

I. From and after the coming of this Act into operation, whenever, on the trial of any indictment for any felony or misdemeanor, there shall appear to be any variance between the statement in such indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall and may be lawful for the Court before which the trial shall be had, if it shall consider such variance not material to the merits of the case, and that the defendant cannot be prejudiced thereby in his defence on such merits, to order such indictment to be amended, according to the proof, by some officer of the Court or other person, both in that part of the indictment where such variance occurs, and in every other part of the indictment which it may become necessary to amend, on such terms as to postponing the trial to be had before the same or another jury, as such Court shall think reasonable; and after any such amendment the trial shall proceed, whenever the same shall be proceeded with, in the same manner in all respects, and with the same consequences, both with respect to the liability of witnesses to be indicted for perjury and otherwise, as if no such variance had occurred: provided that, in all such cases where the trial shall be so postponed as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court to respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses, and of the defendant, and his surety or sureties, if any, accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence respectively, and the defendant shall be bound to attend to be tried, at the time and place to which such trial shall be postponed, without entering into any fresh recognizances for that purpose, in such and the same manner as if they were originally bound by their recognizance to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, at the time and place to which such trial shall have been so postponed: provided also, that where any such trial shall be to be had before another jury, the crown and the defendant shall respectively be entitled to the same challenges as they were respectively entitled to before the first jury was sworn.

Verdicts and judgments valid after amendments.

II. Every verdict and judgment which shall be given after the making of any amendment under the provisions of this Act, shall be of the same force and effect in all respects as if the indictment had originally been in the same form in which it was after such amendment was made.

Records to be drawn up in amended form, without noticing the amendments.

III. If it shall become necessary at any time, for any purpose whatsoever, to draw up a formal record in any case where any amendment shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, such record shall be drawn up in the form in which the indictment was after such amendment was made, without taking any notice of the fact of such amendment having been made.

The means by which the injury was inflicted need not be specified in indictments for murder and manslaughter.

IV. In any indictment for murder or manslaughter preferred after the coming of this Act into operation, it shall not be necessary to set forth the manner in which, or the means by which, the death of the deceased was caused, but it shall be sufficient, in every indictment for murder, to charge that the defendant did feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought kill and murder the deceased, and it shall be sufficient in every indictment for manslaughter to charge that the defendant did feloniously kill and slay the deceased.

Forms of indictment in cases of forgery and uttering, stealing, and embezzling, or obtaining by false pretences.

V. In any indictment for forging, uttering, stealing, embezzling, destroying, or concealing, or for obtaining by false pretences, any instrument, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile thereof, or otherwise describing the same, or the value thereof.

In engraving plates, &c.

VI. In any indictment for engraving or making the whole or any part of any instrument, matter or thing whatsoever, or for using or having the unlawful possession of any plate, or other material upon which the whole or any part of any instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever shall have been engraved or made, or for having the unlawful possession of any paper upon which the whole or any part of any instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever shall have been made or printed, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument, matter, or thing by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, without setting out any copy or fac-simile of the whole or any part of such instrument, matter, or thing.

In other cases.

VII. In all other cases, wherever it shall be necessary to make any averment in any indictment as to any instrument, whether the same consists wholly or in part of writing, print, or figures, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument by any name or designation by which the same may be usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile of the whole or any part thereof.

Intent to defraud particular persons need not be alleged or proved in cases of forgery, uttering, or false pretences.

VIII. From and after the coming of this Act into operation, it shall be sufficient in any indictment for forging, uttering, offering, disposing of, or putting off any instrument whatsoever, or for obtaining or attempting to obtain any property by false pretences, to allege that the defendant did the act with intent to defraud, without alleging the intent of the defendant to be to defraud any particular person; and on the trial of any of the offences in this section mentioned, it shall not be necessary to prove an intent on the part of the defendant to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to prove that the defendant did the act charged with an intent to defraud.

A party indicted for felony or misdemeanor may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and shall be liable to the same consequences as if charged with and convicted of the attempt only. No person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

IX. And whereas offenders often escape conviction by reason that such persons ought to have been charged with attempting to commit offences, and not with the actual commission thereof; it is enacted, that if on the trial of any person charged with any felony or misdemeanor, it shall appear to the jury upon the evidence that the defendant did not complete the offence charged, but that he was guilty only of an attempt to commit the same, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the defendant is not guilty of the felony or misdemeanor charged, but is guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for attempting to commit the particular felony or misdemeanor charged in the said indictment; and no person so tried as herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the felony or misdemeanor for which he was so tried.

Repeal of the 8th Section of Act XXXI. of 1838.

X. And whereas it is enacted by the 8th Section of Act XXXI. of 1838 that "on the trial of any person for any of the offences thereinbefore mentioned, or for any felony whatever where the crime charged shall include an assault against the person, it shall be lawful for the jury to acquit of the felony, and to find a verdict of guilty of assault against the person indicted, if the evidence shall warrant such finding": and whereas great difficulties have arisen in the construction of such enactment: for remedy thereof it is enacted that the said enactment shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

On the trial of an indictment for robbery, the jury may convict of an assault with intent to rob: no person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

XI. If upon the trial of any person upon any indictment for robbery, it shall appear to the jury upon the evidence that the defendant did not commit the crime of robbery, but that he did commit an assault with intent to rob, the defendant shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the defendant is guilty of an assault with intent to rob, and thereupon such defendant shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for feloniously assaulting with intent to rob; and no person so tried as is herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an assault with intent to commit the robbery for which he was so tried.

Person tried for misdemeanor not to be acquitted if the offence turn out to be felony, unless the Court so direct.

XII. If upon the trial of any person for any misdemeanor, it shall appear that the facts given in evidence amount in law to a felony, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of such misdemeanor; and no person tried for such misdemeanor shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for felony on the same facts, unless the Court before which such trial may be had shall think fit, in its discretion, to discharge the jury from giving any verdict upon such trial, and to direct such person to be indicted for felony, in which case such person may be dealt with in all respects as if he had not been put upon his trial for such misdemeanor.

Persons indicted for embezzlement, as a clerk, &c., not to be acquitted if the offence turn out to be larceny, and vice versâ.

XIII. If upon the trial any person indicted for embezzlement as a clerk, servant, or person employed for the purpose, or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, it shall be proved that he took the property in question in any such manner as to amount in law to larceny, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that such person is not guilty of embezzlement, but is guilty of simple larceny, or of larceny as a clerk, servant, or person employed for the purpose, or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, as the case may be, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for such larceny; and if upon the trial of any person indicted for larceny it shall be proved that he took the property in question in any such manner as to amount in law to embezzlement, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that such person is not guilty of larceny, but is guilty of embezzlement, and thereupon such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for such embezzlement; and no person so tried for embezzlement or larceny as aforesaid shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for larceny or embezzlement upon the same facts.

Upon an indictment for jointly receiving, persons guilty of separately receiving may be convicted.

XIV. If upon the trial of two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving any property, it shall be proved that one or more of such persons separately received any part of such property, it shall be lawful for the jury to convict upon such indictment such of the said persons as shall be proved to have received any part of such property.

Separate accessories and receivers may be included in the same indictment in the absence of the principal felon.

XV. And whereas it frequently happens that the principal in a felony is not in custody or amenable to justice, although several accessories to such felony or receivers at different times of stolen property the subject of such felony may be in custody or amenable to justice: for the prevention of several trials, it is enacted that any number of such accessories or receivers may be charged with substantive felonies in the same indictment, notwithstanding the principal felon shall not be included in the same indictment, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice.

Three larcenies from the same person within six months may be included in the same indictment.

XVI. It shall be lawful to insert several counts in the same indictment against the same person for any number of distinct acts of stealing, not exceeding three, which may have been committed by him against the same person within the space of six calendar months from the first to the last of such acts, and to proceed thereon for all or any of them.

Where a single taking is charged, the prosecutor need not elect, unless where more than three takings, or more than six months between the first and last taking.

XVII. If upon the trial of any indictment for larceny, it shall appear that the property alleged in such indictment to have been stolen at one time was taken at different times, the prosecutor shall not by reason thereof be required to elect upon which taking he will proceed, unless it shall appear that there were more than three takings, or that more than the space of six calendar months elapsed between the first and the last of such takings; and in either of such last-mentioned cases the prosecutor shall be required to elect to proceed for such number of takings, not exceeding three, as appear to have taken place within the period of six calendar months from the first to the last of such takings.

Coin and bank-notes may be described simply as money.

XVIII. In every indictment in which it shall be necessary to make any averment as to any money or any note of any bank, it shall be sufficient to describe such money or bank-note simply as money, without specifying any particular coin or bank-note; and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of any bank-note, although the particular species of coin of which such amount was composed, or the particular nature of the bank-note, shall not be proved, and in cases of embezzlement and obtaining money or bank-notes by false pretences, by proof that the offender embezzled or obtained any piece of coin or any bank-note, or any portion of the value thereof, although such piece of coin or bank-note may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same, or to any other person, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

Simplifying indictments for perjury and other like offences.

XIX. In every indictment for perjury, or for unlawfully, wilfully, falsely, fraudulently, deceitfully, maliciously, or corruptly taking, making, signing, or subscribing any oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged upon the defendant, and by what Court or before whom the oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing was taken, made, signed, or subscribed, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration, or any part of any proceeding either in law or in equity, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the Court or person before whom such offence was committed.

As to form of indictments for subornation of perjury and other like offences.

XX. In every indictment for subornation of perjury, or for corrupt bargaining or contracting with any person to commit wilful and corrupt perjury, or for inciting, causing, or procuring any person unlawfully, wilfully, falsely, fraudulently, deceitfully, maliciously or corruptly to take, make, sign or subscribe any oath, affirmation, declaration, affidavit, deposition, bill, answer, notice, certificate, or other writing, it shall be sufficient, wherever such perjury or other offence aforesaid shall have been actually committed, to allege the offence of the person who actually committed such perjury or other offence in the manner hereinbefore mentioned, and then to allege that the defendants unlawfully, wilfully, and corruptly did cause and procure the said person the said offence, in manner and form aforesaid, to do and commit; and wherever such perjury or other offence aforesaid shall not have been actually committed, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged upon the defendant, without setting forth or averring any of the matters or things hereinbefore rendered unnecessary to be set forth or averred in the case of wilful and corrupt perjury.

What defects shall not vitiate an indictment.

XXI. No indictment for any offence shall be held insufficient for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute," instead of "against the form of the statutes," or vice versâ, nor for that any person mentioned in the indictment is designated by a name of office, or other descriptive appellation, instead of his proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment, or on an impossible day, or on a day that never happened, nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, nor for want of a proper or formal conclusion, nor for want of or imperfection in the addition of any defendant, nor for want of the statement of the value or price of any matter or thing, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil, in any case where the value or price, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil, is not of the essence of the offence.

Formal objections to indictments shall be taken before jury are sworn. Court may amend any formal defect.

XXII. Every objection to any indictment for any formal defect apparent on the face thereof shall be taken, by demurrer or motion to quash such indictment, before the jury shall be sworn, and not afterwards; and every Court before which any such objection shall be taken for any formal defect may, if it be thought necessary, cause the indictment to be forthwith amended in such particular by some officer of the Court, or other person, and thereupon the trial shall proceed as if no such defect had appeared.

Provision as to traversing indictments.

XXIII. No person prosecuted shall be entitled to traverse or postpone the trial of any indictment found against him at any Session of the Peace, Session of Oyer and Terminer, or Session of Gaol Delivery; provided always that if the Court, upon the application of the person so indicted or otherwise, shall be of opinion that he ought to be allowed a further time, either to prepare for his defence or otherwise, such Court may adjourn the trial of such person to the next subsequent session, upon such terms as to bail or otherwise as to such Court shall seem meet, and may respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence at such subsequent Session without entering into any fresh recognizance for that purpose.

Provision as to plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit.

XXIV. In any plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit it shall be sufficient for any defendant to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted (as the case may be) of the said offence charged in the indictment.

Punishment for certain indictable misdemeanors.

XXV. Whenever any person shall be convicted of any one of the offences following, as an indictable misdemeanor; that is to say,—any cheat or fraud punishable at common law; any conspiracy to cheat or defraud, or to extort money or goods, or falsely to accuse of any crime, or to obstruct, prevent, pervert, or defeat the course of public justice; any escape or rescue from lawful custody, on a criminal charge; any public and indecent exposure of the person; any indecent assault, or any assault occasioning actual bodily harm; any attempt to have carnal knowledge of a girl under twelve years of age; any public selling, or exposing for public sale or to public view, of any obscene book, print, picture, or other indecent exhibition, it shall be lawful for the Court to sentence the offender to be imprisoned for any term now warranted by law, and also to be kept to hard labour during the whole or any part of such term of imprisonment.

Interpretation of terms.

XXVI. In the construction of this Act the word "indictment" shall be understood to include "information," "inquisition," and "presentment," as well as "indictment," and also any "plea," "replication," or other pleading; and the terms "finding of the indictment," shall be understood to include "the taking of an inquisition," "the exhibiting of an information," and "the making a presentment;" and wherever, in this Act, in describing or referring to any person or party, matter or thing, any word importing the singular number or masculine gender is used, the same shall be understood to include and shall be applied to several persons and parties as well as one person or party, and females as well as males, and bodies corporate as well as individuals, and several matters and things as well as one matter or thing; and the word "property" shall be understood to include goods, chattels, money, valuable securities, and every other matter or thing, whether real or personal, upon or with respect to which any offence may be committed.

Commencement of Act.

XXVII. This Act shall come into operation from and after the tenth day of April, One thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, The 12th March 1852.

The following Act passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 12th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XVII. 1852.

An Act to diminish the Expense and delay of proceedings in Her Majesty's Courts within the Territories of the East India Company.

Persons interested in questions cognizable in Her Majesty's Courts may state special cases for the opinion of such Courts.

I. It shall be lawful for persons interested or claiming to be interested in any question cognizable in Her Majesty's Courts within the Territories of the East India Company, on the Equity, Plea, Ecclesiastical or Admiralty sides thereof respectively, and including among such persons all lunatics, married women, and infants in the manner and under the restrictions hereinafter contained, to concur in stating such question in the form of a special case for the opinion of the said Courts, and it shall also be lawful for all Executors, Administrators, Representatives and Trustees to concur in such case.

How lunatic may concur.

II. The Committee of the estate of any lunatic interested or claiming to be interested in any such question as aforesaid may, after having been authorized in that behalf by the Court or any Judge thereof in which such special case is filed, concur in such case in his own name, and in the name and on the behalf of the lunatic.

How married women may concur.

III. A husband interested or claiming to be interested in right of his wife in any such question as aforesaid may concur in such case in his own name, and in the name of his wife where the wife has no claim to any interest distinct from her husband, and a married woman having or claiming any interest in any such question as aforesaid distinct from her husband may in her own right concur in such case, provided that her husband also concurs therein; but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to require the husband of a Mahomedan or Hindoo female to concur in such case.

How infant may concur.

IV. The guardian of any infant interested or claiming to be interested in any such question as aforesaid may concur in such case in the name and on the behalf of the infant, unless such guardian has an interest in such question adverse to the interest of the infant therein.

How special guardian to be appointed for a lunatic not found such by inquisition and for infant.

V. It shall be lawful for the said Courts, by order to be made in the matter of any lunatic not found such by inquisition, or in the matter of any infant, upon the application of any person on the behalf of such lunatic, or upon the application of such infant, by motion or petition, to appoint any person shown by affidavit to be a fit person, and to have no interest adverse to the interest of the lunatic or infant, to be the special guardian of such lunatic or infant for the purpose of concurring in such case in the name and on behalf of the lunatic or infant, and any such person so appointed may lawfully so concur. Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the said Courts to require notice of such application to be given to such person, if any, as the Court shall think fit.

Order to appoint special guardian of an infant may be discharged by Courts if made without notice.

VI. In any case in which any such order as aforesaid shall have been made by the said Courts in the matter of any infant without notice to the guardian of the infant, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, if they shall respectively think fit so to do, to discharge such order upon the application of such guardian, by motion or petition; and the said Courts, if they shall respectively think fit, may thereupon appoint some other fit person to be the special guardian of such infant for the purpose of such special case, and may also give such directions as may be necessary for substituting in such special case either the name of the guardian so applying, or of the special guardian so appointed, in lieu of the name of the special guardian so displaced. Provided always, that the discharge of any Order appointing a special guardian shall not invalidate any thing which shall in the meantime have been done by such special guardian, unless the Court shall, upon notice to all parties, specially so direct.

How special cases to be entitled.

VII. Every such special case shall be entitled as a cause between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant; and in the title to such cases, lunatics and infants shall be described as such, and their Committees, guardians, or special guardians named; and where in any such case a married woman is named as a plaintiff, and her husband as a defendant thereto, a next friend of such married woman shall be named in the title to such case; but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to require a next friend of any Hindoo or Mahomedan married woman to be named in such title.

Form of special case.

VIII. Every such special case shall concisely state such facts and documents as may be necessary to enable the Court to decide the question raised thereby; and upon the hearing of such case, the Court and the parties shall be at liberty to refer to the whole contents of such documents; and the Court shall be at liberty to draw from the facts and documents stated in any such special case any inference which the Court might have drawn therefrom if proved in a cause.

Special case to state how guardian constituted, and the concurrence of married women.

IX. Every such special case to which an infant or lunatic is a party by his guardian or special guardian shall also state how such guardian or special guardian was constituted; and where any married woman having or claiming any interest distinct from her husband is a party to such case, it shall be stated therein that she concurs in such case in her own right.

Special case to be signed by Counsel and filed, and appearances to be entered for defendants.

X. Every such special case shall be signed by Counsel for all parties, and shall be filed in the same manner as bills, plaints, or allegations are filed, and the defendants may appear thereto in the same manner as defendants appear to bills, plaints, or allegations, and no defendants shall be required to take an office copy of a special case, but an office copy thereof shall be taken by the plaintiff.

Parties to be bound by statements after defendants have appeared to special case.

XI. After a special case shall have been filed, and the defendants shall have appeared thereto, all the parties to such special case shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court in the same manner as if the plaintiff in the special case had filed a bill, plaint, or allegation against the parties named as defendants thereto, and such defendants had appeared to such bill, plaint, or allegation, and upon the special case being filed and appearances entered thereto as aforesaid, all parties to such special case, shall, for the purposes of such special case, be bound by the statements therein.

How cases to be set down for hearing.

XII So soon as all the defendants shall have appeared to the special case, the same may be set down for hearing, and subpœnas to hear judgment or notices of hearing, issued and served according to the practice of the said Courts.

Upon hearing Court to determine question and make declaration.

XIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts upon the hearing of any such special case as aforesaid, to determine the questions raised therein or any of them, and by decree or judgment to declare its opinion thereon, and, so far as the case shall admit of the same, upon the right involved therein, without proceeding to administer any relief consequent upon such declaration, and every such declaration of the said Court contained in any such decree or judgment shall have the same force and effect as such declaration would have had, and shall be binding to the same extent as such declaration would have been, if contained in a decree or judgment made in a suit between the same parties instituted by bill, plaint, or allegation; provided always, that if upon the hearing of such special case as aforesaid, the Court shall be of opinion that the statements contained therein so far as the same affect the interest of any married woman, infant or lunatic are not true, or that the questions raised thereby or any of them cannot properly be decided upon such case, the same may be at such hearing, with the consent of all parties thereto, and of the Court, amended so as properly to raise such questions, or the said Court may refuse to decide the same.

Proviso that Court may refuse to decide.

Protection to be afforded to Trustees by declaration.

XIV. Every executor, administrator, representative, trustee, or other person making any payment or doing any act in conformity with the declaration contained in any decree or judgment made or pronounced upon a special case, shall in all respects be as fully and effectually protected and indemnified by such declaration, as if such payment had been made or act done under or in pursuance of the express order of the said Court made in a suit, action, or proceeding between the same parties instituted by bill, plaint, or allegation, save only as to any rights or claims of any person in respect of matters not determined by such declaration.

The Court may suspend the acting upon declaration.

XV. Where any person shall be desirous to have a special case re-heard, or to appeal from the decision thereon, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, upon application for that purpose either at the time of the decree or judgment upon such special case being made, or at any time afterwards, and upon such conditions, if any, as the Court shall think fit, to order that the declaration contained in such decree shall not be acted upon for such time as the said Courts respectively shall think just.

Special case to be a lis pendens, and may be filed.

XVI. The filing of a special case, and the entering of appearances thereto by the persons named as defendants therein, shall be taken to be a lis pendens.

Mode of identifying documents, and Court may order production.

XVII. Any documents referred to, in a special case, and any copies thereof or extracts therefrom, identified by the signature of the solicitors for all parties, may be produced and read at the hearing of such case, without further proof; and it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, at any time after the filing of the special case, and the entering of appearances thereto by the persons named as defendants therein, to order any document, which may be admitted thereby to be in the possession of any party to such case, to be deposited and produced in such manner and for such purposes as the said Courts respectively shall think fit.

Court, on application of Executors or Administrators, may by order of course direct it to be referred to a Master to take an account of debts and liabilities.

XVIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts upon the application of the executors, administrators or representatives in estate of any deceased person, by order to be made upon motion or petition of course, and to be in the form or to the effect set forth in the schedule hereto, with such variations as circumstances may require, to refer it to the Master of the said Courts respectively to take an account of the debts and liabilities affecting the estate of such deceased person, and to report thereon; provided always, that no such order shall be made until the expiration of one year next after the death of such deceased person, or pending any proceedings to administer the estate of such person, and in case at any time after the making of such order, any decree or order for administering the estate of such deceased person shall be made, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, by such decree or order, to stay or suspend the proceedings under such order of course on such terms and conditions, if any, as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just.

Master's Report may be objected to by motion to the Court, of which notice shall be given.

XIX. It shall be lawful for any person who may have come in before the Master under any such order, and claimed to be a creditor upon the estate of the deceased person, or to have any demand upon such estate by reason of any liability, and whose debt or claim may not have been wholly allowed by the said Master, to apply to the Court making such order by motion, of which notice shall be given within fourteen days after the filing of the Master's Report, to have such claim allowed by such Court, either wholly or partially; and it shall be lawful for the said executors, administrators or representatives in estate, and for any creditor of the deceased person who may be authorized by special leave of the said Court so to do, to apply to the said Court by motion, of which notice shall be given within the time aforesaid, to have any debt or claim allowed by the said Master disallowed by the said Court, either wholly or partially, and, at the expiration of fourteen days after the filing of the said report, the same shall, except as to any debt or claim as to which any such notice as aforesaid may have been given, be absolute, as if the same had been confirmed by order of the said Court.

Proceeding of the Court on such motion.

XX. Upon the hearing of any such motion as aforesaid the said Courts respectively may either dismiss such motion, or may order the debt or claim to which such motion relates to be allowed or disallowed, as the case may be, and either wholly or partially, or may direct further inquiry or further proceedings, by way of action or otherwise, touching such debt or claim, and after such inquiry or proceedings may, upon further motion, deal with such debt or claim as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just: provided always, that no new evidence shall be received by the said Courts upon the hearing of any such motion without special leave of the said Courts.

If debts or certain liabilities allowed, and not paid or provided for, order may be made for payment or accounts.

XXI. In case any debt or any certain liability shall have been allowed as aforesaid, and shall not within fourteen days after the report has become absolute as to such debt or liability, or after the same shall have been allowed by the said Court, be paid or provided for by appropriation to the satisfaction of the person who has established such liability, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively by order to be made, in case of any debt remaining due, upon the application by motion or petition of the person to whom the debt remains due, and on notice to the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, and in case of any certain liability remaining unprovided for by appropriation, upon the application by motion or petition of the person by whom such liability has been established, or of the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, and on notice by the party applying to the other of them, to order payment of the debts which may have been allowed and remain unpaid, and to provide for the certain liabilities which may have been allowed and remain unprovided for, in like manner as the same could or might have been paid or provided for in a suit for that purpose instituted by Bill, or to refer it to the Master to take an account of the debts and certain liabilities allowed as aforesaid which remain unpaid or unprovided for, and also the usual accounts of the estate of the deceased person, with all usual and proper directions; and every such order shall have the same force and effect and shall be prosecuted and carried on in like manner as a decree in a creditor's suit instituted by bill.

Accounts to be taken according to usual practice of the Courts.

XXII. Nothing in Sections XVIII. and XXI. of this Act contained shall be construed so as to prevent any of Her Majesty's Courts from taking such accounts as aforesaid in any manner in which, according to the usual practice of such Courts, the same might have been taken if directed by a decretal order made in a suit.

Court, on application of executors or administrators, &c. may direct appropriation of Money to answer contingent liability.

XXIII. In case any contingent liability shall be allowed by the said report or by the said Courts respectively, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, by order, to be made upon the application of the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, by motion or petition, on notice to the person who may have established such contingent liability, to order such sum of money, part, or proceeds of part, of the estate of the deceased person, as to the said Courts respectively shall seem just, to be set apart and appropriated for an swering such contingent liability, and to give such directions as the said Courts shall think fit touching the payment of such sum of money into Courts, and the investment thereof, and the payment, application, or accumulation of the interest or dividends thereof in the meantime and until the same shall be required to answer such liability, and when such liability shall be ascertained or determined, to give such directions as to the payment of such sum out of Court as the said Courts respectively shall deem right: Provided always, that no order to be made as aforesaid shall in any manner bind the assets so appropriated as against the persons entitled to the estate of the deceased subject to the contingent liability; and any person interested in such appropriated assets may apply to the Court touching the same, as he may be advised.

Court may restrain proceedings against executors, administrators, &c.

XXIV. After the filing of such report as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively upon the application of the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate of the deceased, by order, to be made on motion, to restrain by injunction any proceedings at law against them by any person having or claiming to have any demand upon the estate of the deceased by reason of any debt or liability other than the persons who may have established contingent liabilities under the said order for which no appropriation may have been made.

Protection to be afforded to executors, administrators, &c.

XXV. In case no debt or liability, or no debt or liability other than a contingent liability, shall have been allowed as aforesaid, or in case any debt or liability other than as aforesaid shall have been allowed as aforesaid, then after the same shall have been paid or provided for by appropriation as aforesaid, all payments made by the executors, administrators, or representatives in estate, or any of them, on account of the estate of the deceased person, and all dispositions of such assets made by them or any of them on account of such estate, shall, as against all persons having or claiming to have any demand upon such estate by reason of any debt or liability, other than persons who may have established under the said order any contingent liability for which no such appropriation as aforesaid may have been made, be as good and effectual as if the same had been made under a decree of the said Courts respectively: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall in any manner affect or prejudice the rights of any creditor or other person having any demand or claim upon the estate of the deceased against any assets so paid or disposed of, or against the persons to whom such payment or disposition may have been made, or against any assets appropriated under the provisions of this Act, and the appropriation of which, if made under a decree of the said Court, in a suit to which he was not a party, would not have been binding upon him.

Exceptions for scandal, impertinence and insufficiency to be heard by the Court.

XXVI. All exceptions for scandal, impertinence, and insufficiency, which according to the existing practice of the said Courts are referred to the Masters of the said Courts, shall not any longer be so referred, but shall be heard and determined in the first instance by the said Courts, or any Judge thereof.

Power for Court, notwithstanding any rule, &c. to the contrary, to receive proof by affidavit.

XXVII. Notwithstanding any rule or practice of the said Courts to the contrary, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, at the hearing of any cause or of any further directions therein, to receive proof by affidavit or otherwise of all proper parties being before the Court, and of all such matters as are necessary to be proved for enabling the said Courts respectively to order payment of any monies belonging to any married woman, and of all such other matters, not directly in issue in the cause, as in the opinion of the said Courts respectively may safely and properly be so proved.

Her Majesty's Courts to make General Rules and Orders from time to time.

XXVIII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively, from time to time, to make, rescind, and alter General Rules and Orders for better enabling the opinion of the said Courts respectively to be obtained on special cases, and for effectuating the purposes of this Act as to the debts and liabilities of deceased persons, and for making any provisions which may be or be deemed necessary or proper as to amendment, revivor and supplemental matter or relief, and as to costs of any proceedings under or in pursuance of this Act, and for regulating the times and form and mode of procedure and practice of the said Courts in respect of the matters to which this Act relates, and every of them, and so far as may be found expedient for altering the course of proceeding hereinbefore prescribed in respect to such matters or any of them, and generally for assimilating the practice of the said Courts respectively to that of the High Court of Chancery in England.

Rules and Orders to be laid before the Governor General in Council, and to be binding from the time appointed or from the making, unless objected to.

XXIX. All such General Rules and Orders shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within one month after the making and issuing of the same, and every such Rule or Order shall, from and after the time in that behalf to be appointed by the said Courts respectively, and if no time shall be so appointed, then from and after the making thereof, be binding and obligatory on the said Courts respectively, and be of like force and effect as if the provisions therein contained had been expressly enacted by the Governor General of India in Council. Provided always, that if the said Governor General of India in Council shall, by any resolution passed at any time within six months after such Rules, Orders, and Regulations shall have been laid before him, resolve that the whole or any part of such Rules or Orders ought not to continue in force, in such case the whole or such part thereof as shall be so included in such resolution shall, from and after the time that such resolution is notified to the said Court, cease to be binding and obligatory on the said Court; provided that every such Rule or Order so made or expressed to be made in pursuance of this Act which shall not be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within the time by this Act limited for that purpose shall, from and after the expiration of such time, be absolutely void and of no effect. Provided always, that nothing in this clause contained shall be construed so that the said Rules or Orders should not be transmitted as heretofore to Her Majesty in Privy Council for approbation.

XXX. In the meantime and until any such General Rules or Orders shall be made, and in so far as the same, when made, shall not be applicable, the proceedings under this Act shall be governed and regulated by the provisions herein contained, so far as the same extend, and in so far as the same do not extend shall, as well with respect to the persons who ought to be made parties to special cases as in every other respect, be governed and regulated by the Rules, Orders and Practice of the said Courts respectively, in suits instituted by bill, so far as the same can be applied thereto; and subject to such General Rules and Orders as aforesaid, the costs of all proceedings under this Act, shall be in the discretion of the said Courts respectively.

Until Rules or Orders are made, and if not applicable when made, practice to be according to this Act and practice of the Court.

XXXI. All decrees and orders made under the provisions of this Act, shall be subject to rehearing, appeal, and review, and may be discharged and varied in the same and the like manner as decrees and orders of the said Courts made in suits instituted by bill.

Decrees and Orders to be subject to appeal, &c.

XXXII. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or in the context repugnant to such construction:

Interpretation of Terms.

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular number:

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 19th March 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 19th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT. No. XVIII. OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Pleaders in the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal.

Whereas the laws in force relating to pleaders, practising in the Courts of the East India Company, in the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal, require amendment, It is enacted as follows:

I. Clause 4, Section V. Regulation XXVI. of 1814, and Sections VI., VII., VIII., X., XI., XIII., XIV., XV., Clause 3, Section IX. and Clause 6, Section XX. of Regulation XXVII. of 1814, and Section XVIII., Regulation X. of 1829, of the Bengal Code, and Sections X. and XI. of Act I. of 1846, so far as regards the said Courts, and the Pleaders therein, are hereby repealed.

II. Any pleader practising in the said Courts shall be liable to dismissal on proof of his conviction by a competent Court of a criminal offence, or on proof of a declaration or finding by a competent Court, in a suit or proceeding to which such pleader was a party, that he has knowingly committed a breach of trust, or for fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty.

III. When a competent Court has convicted a pleader of a criminal offence, or has declared or found, in a suit or proceeding to which such pleader was a party, that he has knowingly committed a breach of trust, the Court competent to dismiss such pleader may make an order for his dismissal, on the production of an authenticated copy of the judgment or decision containing such conviction, declaration, or finding, and on proof, to the satisfaction of the Court, that such judgment or decision has not been set aside or reversed, and that the pleader is the party to whom such conviction or decision relates.

IV. When any pleader is charged with fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty, by any person or Court, the Court competent to make an order for his dismissal, shall serve, or cause to be served, upon such pleader a copy of the charge or charges brought against him, and also a notice of the day appointed by the said Court for the hearing of such charge or charges, and such copy and notice shall be served upon the said pleader at least twenty clear days before the day appointed for such hearing; and on the hearing of the said charge or charges the Court shall receive all such relevant evidence as shall be properly tendered by, or on behalf of the Court or party bringing the charge or charges, or by the said pleader, and shall proceed to adjudicate on the said charge or charges in a summary way, and shall record its decision, and the reasons on which the same is grounded. Provided always, that the Court which is competent to dismiss a pleader, shall also be competent to bring a charge or charges and proceed against him as aforesaid, and may also hear and adjudicate upon such charge or charges in manner hereinbefore mentioned. Provided also, that the evidence of witnesses on such hearing shall be taken and made upon oath, and every witness who shall give false evidence at such hearing shall be liable on conviction to punishment for perjury, in like manner as witnesses examined in civil or criminal trials.

V. The power of dismissing pleaders practising in the Suddor Court of the said Provinces is vested in the Judges of that Court; the power of dismissing pleaders practising in the Courts of the Zillah Judges, or in Courts subordinate to them, in the said Provinces, is vested in the Zillah Judges, respectively.

VI. An appeal from the order of any Zillah Judge, for the dismissal of a pleader, may be made to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, according to the Rules in force for the admission of appeals.

VII. It shall not be lawful for any of the said Courts of the Lower Provinces of the said Presidency to impose any fine on any pleader practising in the said Courts, except such fine as may be imposed under the provisions of Act XXX. of 1841.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 19th March 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 19th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XIX. OF 1852.

An Act for securing the Abkarry Revenue of Madras.

For better securing the Abkarry Revenue of the Town and Suburbs of Madras, It is enacted as follows:—

I. Regulation I. of 1813 of the Madras Code, and so much of Clause 159, of an Act of Parliament numbered Chapter LII. of the Statutes passed in the thirty-third year of King George the Third, as relates to the sale of Arrack or other spirituous liquors within the Town of Madras, and to the punishment of unlicensed traders in spirits or spirituous liquors within the said Town, are repealed.

II. The Collection of the Revenue arising from the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, shall be under the charge of the Collector of Madras, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control of the Board of Revenue.

III. The Collector may appoint Conicopolies, Pygusts, Jemadars, Peons and other Officers for collection of the said Revenue and prevention of smuggling; and the Officers so appointed, besides their ordinary respective designations, shall be styled "Abkarry Officers."

IV. Every person who shall sell by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors within the Town and Suburbs of Madras without a licence for that purpose, under the hand and seal of the Collector of Madras, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each sale, but this enactment shall not apply to wholesale dealers selling such small quantities of Beer, Wine, or Spirits, as may appear to the Collector to be intended only as samples.

V. A sale of European Spirits in a less quantity than two and half gallons old Wine measure, (i. e. one dozen quart bottles,) and of Arrack or Rum or any other Spirits manufactured to the Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope in a less quantity than one quart, and of English and Foreign Beer or Wine in a less quantity than six quart bottles, and of Toddy in a less quantity than one quart, shall be deemed a retail sale within the meaning of this Act.

VI. The Board of Revenue shall have authority at all times to regulate the form and provisions of licences to be granted under this Act, and to alter and add to the conditions thereof; and each licence shall distinctly specify the kind or kinds of liquor the holder is authorized to sell, the manner in which and source whence such liquor is to be supplied to him, the excise duty, not exceeding three rupees and eight annas per gallon, which he shall pay upon it, whether it be provided by the Officers of Government or otherwise, or should a fee upon the licence be substituted for the said excise duty, the amount of such fee. The licence shall further specify the district or place, street or road, and house or shop in which the sale is to be carried on.

VII. The sale of Arrack or Rum, or other country Spirits, or of Toddy, in quantities larger than those specified for each article in Section V. of this Act, is prohibited; and every person who shall act in breach of this prohibition, shall be liable to the fine prescribed in Section XV. for the illicit possession of these articles; but this prohibition does not apply to the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors imported into Madras under passes from the Collector, or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, and supplied by wholesale to licensed retail dealers, or to the sale of Rum under bond for exportation by sea, and covered by a certificate to that effect.

VIII. Every person taking out a licence for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs under this Act, shall execute a counterpart engagement in exact conformity with the tenor of such licence.

IX. The Collector may withhold or recall a licence, if any of the conditions upon which the licence is granted be not complied with, or, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, for any other cause, giving fifteen days' notice of such withdrawal; and any person selling by retail any spirituous or fermented liquor within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, whilst such licence is withheld, or after it is recalled, shall be subject to all the penalties provided by this Act for the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors.

X. No spirituous liquor manufactured Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, shall be removed from the Sea Custom House to any Warehouse, Shop, or private dwelling, or from one Warehouse, Shop, or private dwelling to another, without the Permit of the Collector of Madras, which Permit must accompany all liquors so removed, but persons having paid the Sea Custom Duty, shall be entitled to dispose of such liquor by wholesale for exportation beyond the limits of Madras and its Suburbs, such export to be made under permits to be granted by the Collector of Madras at his discretion, and on proof to his satisfaction that the spirits are intended to be exported.

XI. All spirituous liquor manufactured by the European method of distillation shall, when imported into the Town and Suburbs of Madras by land, be placed under the charge of the Collector of Sea Customs, who will have them gauged and tested. The said liquors may be either kept in the custody of the Importer on his furnishing security for its exportation or sale, under the provisions of Section II. Act XXXII. of 1845, or in the joint custody of the Collector of Sea Customs and the Importer, or it may be deposited in the Sea Custom Warehouse on payment of the usual Warehouse rent. When kept in such joint custody, or deposited in such Warehouse as aforesaid, no security for its exportation or sale shall be required, and the amount and nature of the security required to be furnished when such liquors are kept in the custody of the Importer, shall be fixed by the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, who shall also determine the time to be allowed for its exportation.

XII. It shall not be lawful for the Justices to grant a licence to open or establish, or keep open any Lodging House, Boarding House, Eating House, Punch House, Coffee Room, Tavern, Hotel, or any other House of Public Entertainment within their jurisdiction, in which any spirituous or fermented liquor may be sold, to any person who has not taken out a licence for the retail sale of such liquor, and any such licence granted by the Justices shall become void whenever the licence for the retail of such liquor granted to such person, shall be withheld or recalled by the Collector under this Act. Provided always that, on the representation of the Superintendent of Police to the Collector, that any such house of public entertainment as aforesaid is kept as a disorderly house, or that the keeper thereof is, for any reason, or in consequence of misconduct, (such reason or misconduct to be specially assigned by the Superintendent,) unfit to receive or retain any such licence, then and in such case the said Collector shall forthwith revoke any licence already granted by him to such keeper of any such house of public entertainment.

XIII. The Collector, after demand made in writing, may levy any arrears of tax, duty, or fee, due on account of any licence granted under this Act, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due; provided that no such arrears shall be recoverable after the end of two years next after the same shall have become due, or next after an acknowledgment of the same in writing shall have been given by the person by whom the same is payable.

XIV. A breach of any of the conditions of a licence granted under this Act, shall, besides forfeiture of the licence, be punishable by a fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees, and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer, notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant or other person in charge of the shop or place of sale.

XV. Any person, not being a licensed dealer, having in his possession, and any person carrying within the Town and Suburbs of Madras any greater quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors, (excepting English and Foreign Beer, Wine, and Spirits,) than the quantity specified for each article in Section V., and not being protected by a Pass or Permit from the Collector, or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XVI. Beside the penalties above specified for the illicit sale, possession, and carrying of spirituous or fermented liquors, all such liquors found in the possession of any offender against this Act, shall be seized and confiscated, together with the Vessels, Packages and Coverings in which such liquors are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them shall also be liable to seizure and confiscation.

XVII. Any Abkarry Officer above the rank of Peon, may enter, inspect, and search, at any time, by day or by night, for any of the purposes contemplated in this Act, the house or shop in which any licensed retail dealer shall carry on the sale of spirituous or fermented liquor under this Act.

XVIII. Every person, holding a licence for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, shall keep such licence at the house or shop specified in the licence, and shall show the licence on the demand of any Abkarry Officer who shall desire to see the same; and any licenced dealer, who shall refuse or be unable to produce his licence on the demand of any Abkarry Officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees.

XIX. Any Abkarry Officer may stop and detain any person having possession of or carrying in any Public Road, Street, Thoroughfare or place, or in any open shop, any spirituous or fermented liquors without a Pass, or otherwise liable to confiscation under this Act, and may seize the liquors, with the Vessels, Packages, and Coverings in which the liquors are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them.

XX. If the Collector has good reason to believe, either from information given by any Abkarry Officer, or other person, to be taken down in writing, or from his own knowledge, or from the proceedings in any other case, that any spirituous or fermented liquor liable to confiscation under this Act, is kept or concealed in any place, the Collector, by warrant under his hand, may empower any Abkarry Officer, above the rank of Jemadar of Peons, between sunrise and sunset, but always in the presence of a Constable or other Officer of the Peace, to enter into every such place where any such liquor is suspected to be kept or concealed, and to seize and carry away such liquor, and in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, search, seizure or removal, as aforesaid, and to arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in the unlawful keeping or concealing of such liquor whom he shall find on the premises. Provided that, where there is ground to suspect that such liquor is unlawfully concealed in any apartment of the women, in houses belonging to the classes whose women do not appear in public, the Officer charged with the execution of the Warrant, shall follow, as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of property so concealed, adopted by the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort St. George.

XXI. All Constables and other Ministerial Officers of the Peace, are required to aid the Abkarry Officers in the due execution of this Act, upon notice given, or request made by any such Abkarry Officer; and any Officer who, without lawful excuses, shall refuse or neglect to assist as aforesaid, on being required to do so, shall be liable to the penalty prescribed by Section XXIX. of this Act for Abkarry Officers conniving at the escape of a person arrested under this Act.

XXII. Whenever an Abkarry Officer, duly authorized under this Act, shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquor, or shall enter any house or shop for the purpose of searching for such illicit liquors, he shall carry the person arrested, with the illicit liquors seized, with all convenient despatch, to the Collector, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Collector of all the particulars. And the Collector, after such further inquiry as he may deem necessary, shall forthwith either release the person arrested, or send him in custody to the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies.

XXIII. Every person who shall maliciously give false information against any person, for being engaged in the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or for having in his possession or carrying, or in respect of there being in any house or shop, any spirituous or fermented liquors, in contravention of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, or to both.

XXIV. Every person who shall obstruct or molest any Abkarry Officer, or any person acting in aid of such Officer, in the due execution of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, and such person shall be further liable, if any affray or breach of the peace shall happen in consequence of his resistance, on conviction of the same before a competent tribunal, to such punishment as is prescribed by Law for cases of affray and breach of the peace, in addition to the penalty above prescribed for resistance of process.

XXV. Any Abkarry Officer, who shall delay carrying to the Collector any person arrested, or any illicit liquors seized under this Act, or who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees.

XXVI. Any Abkarry Officer, who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXVII. The provisions regarding Distilleries and Stills in Sections IV., V., VI. Regulation I. of 1820 of the Madras Code, and Act XXXII. of 1845, shall apply and be in force within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, except that the powers vested in the Criminal Judge by Section IV. Clause 5, and Section VI. Clause 9 Regulation I. of 1820, of the Madras Code, and in the Session Judge and Subordinate Judge of the Zillah, by Sections IV., V., Act XXXII. of 1845, shall be exercised within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court by the Superintendent of Police.

XXVIII. It shall be competent to the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, or to any Officer duly empowered by him in that behalf, to revise, from time to time, the forms of licences to be granted under Section IV. Regulation I. of 1820, of the Madras Code, for the establishment of Distilleries for manufacturing Rum, Arrack, or other Spirits by process of distillation similar to the European process, and to introduce into such forms of licences such provisions and stipulations as may seem to be advisable, anything in Section II. Act XXXII. of 1845, to the contrary notwithstanding.

XXIX. Any Officer employed in the Abkarry Department, who shall unlawfully release or connive at the escape of any person arrested under this Act, or connive at the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors without a licence, or by any licensed dealer contrary to the terms of such licence, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, for the purpose of enabling any person to do anything whereby any of the provisions of this Act may be evaded or broken, or the Abkarry Revenue be defrauded, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXX. Any Officer employed in the Abkarry Department, who shall ask or take any gratuity not authorized by any law or order of Government, or of the Board of Revenue, in consideration of doing or of omitting to do any act in his official capacity, and any person who shall offer a bribe to any such Officer, in order to induce such Officer to act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXXI. When any goods or chattels shall be seized by an Abkarry Officer, as liable to confiscation under this Act, such seizure shall, upon information exhibited by order of the Collector, be heard and determined in a summary manner, by the Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, who shall cause the persons to whom such goods and chattels belong, to be summoned to appear, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the cause of the seizure thereof and give judgment; and, if such judgment shall be for confiscation of the goods or chattels seized, shall issue his warrant to the Collector for the sale or disposal thereof, according to such orders as the Collector may receive from the Board of Revenue.

XXXII. Whenever any goods or chattels shall be seized as aforesaid, and within one calendar month no person shall appear before the Collector to claim the same, the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies, shall examine into the cause of the seizure, at a place and time, of which notice shall have been given by the Collector in the Fort St. George Gazette, and give judgment for the confiscation of such of the goods and chattels as, upon such examination, shall appear to him liable to forfeiture; and upon confiscation thereof, shall issue his warrant for the disposal of them, as if the owner had been summoned to attend before the said Superintendent or one of his Deputies.

XXXIII. All fines leviable under this Act shall be adjudged by the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies, any of whom, upon information exhibited before him by order of the Collector, shall, within three calendar months next after the act by which the fine was incurred and not afterwards, summon the parties accused, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the matter, and upon due proof made thereof, by the voluntary confession of the parties, or by the oath, or solemn affirmation, (in cases wherein a solemn affirmation is receivable by law instead of an oath,) of one or more credible witnesses, shall give judgment accordingly; and, in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be liable, by Warrant of the said Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, or until the fine be sooner paid.

XXXIV. Whenever any person shall be convicted of an offence against this Act, after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months, shall be incurred in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

XXXV. One-half of all fines levied from persons convicted of the illicit possession, carrying, or sale, of spirituous or fermented liquors, and of the proceeds from the sale of liquors, vessels, packages, conveyances, stills, and other things confiscated under this Act, shall, upon adjudication of the case, be awarded in such proportion as the Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, adjudicating as aforesaid, may think proper, to the Officer or Officers who apprehended the offender or seized the illicit liquors or other articles,—and the other half shall be given to the informer; and if no fine be realized, the Board of Revenue may grant such reasonable reward, not exceeding the sum of Two Hundred Rupees, as may appear to them fit. Provided that the Board of Revenue may determine, by General Order, what class of Abkarry Officers shall receive rewards, and what classes shall have no title to share therein.

XXXVI. All fines levied under this Act, the disposal of which is not especially provided for, shall belong to Government; but the Officer adjudicating the case may grant any portion thereof not exceeding one-half, as rewards to informers, or as compensation to parties injured by any proceedings under this Act.

XXXVII. No writ of Certiorari shall be issued at the suit of any party out of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort St. Gorge, to supersede, stay, remove, or in anywise affect any information or judicial proceeding before the Superintendent of Police or any of his Deputies in pursuance of this Act; and no judgment thereupon shall be quashed, except for error of law apparent on the face of the judgment.

XXXVIII. All actions and prosecutions to be instituted against the Collector or any Abkarry Officer, or any person acting in aid of any such Officer, for anything done in pursuance of this Act, shall be tried and determined in the Civil Courts established by the East India Company in the Zillah of Chingleput, notwithstanding that the cause of action, in respect of which such action is brought, arose, or the defendant therein reside, within the limits of the Town of Madras, and every such action shall be brought within three calendar months after the fact committed and not afterwards, and notice in writing of such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant, one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action, and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into Court with costs, by or on behalf of the defendant.

XXXIX. The Collector, in respect of the duties to be performed by him under this Act, shall have power to punish any contempt committed in his presence in open cutcherry by the imposition of a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol for a period not exceeding one month. Provided that an appeal from any order passed under this Section shall lie to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board thereon shall be final.

XL. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, that is to say, words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular, and words importing the masculine gender only, shall include females. The words "Collector of Madras," shall mean the Officer who may at any time be charged with the superintendence and collection of the public revenue within the Town of Madras, although such Officer may not be officially designated "Collector of Madras." The words "Town and Suburbs of Madras," shall include the Town of Madras, the limits of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras as declared and described by the 12th Section of Regulation II. of 1802, of the Madras Code, and the district comprized within eight miles beyond any part of those limits.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 12th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 12th of March 1852.

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to confer certain powers on Patels and other heads of Villages in the Bombay Presidency.

Whereas it is expedient to confer certain powers on Patels and other heads of Villages in the Bombay Presidency, It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. Clause 1, Section XLIX. of Regulation XII. of 1827, of the Bombay Code, is repealed.

II. From and after the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council of Bombay, by an order in writing, to authorize any Magistrate of a Zillah to issue a Commission to any person exercising the office of Patel, or charged with the administration of criminal justice within the limits of any Town, Village or Peth, in the said Presidency, empowering him to try any person charged with any of the offences hereinafter mentioned, and the said Magistrate shall forthwith issue the said Commission in accordance with such order.

III. It shall be lawful for every such Patel or other, Officer, who shall have received from the Magistrate such Commission as aforesaid, to try any person charged with the offence of theft, assault, or abuse, when the value of the property stolen, or the amount of damages sought to be recovered, does not exceed rupees , and also to try any person charged with resisting or refusing to obey any order of such Patel or other Officer as aforesaid. Provided always, that every charge of any such offence shall be preferred to such Patel or other Officer as aforesaid within eight days after the commission of such offence.

IV. It shall be lawful for every such Patel or other Officer, who shall have received from the Magistrate such Commission as aforesaid, to order any person, convicted by him of any such offence as aforesaid, to pay a fine not exceeding five rupees, or to be placed in the stocks for any period not exceeding six hours, or to be detained in the chowkey of the Town, Village or Peth, for any period not exceeding forty-eight hours.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 12th day of June next.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. BRACKEN,
Collector of Customs.

Calcutta, Collector's Office, Govt. Custom House, the 5th March 1852.

II. If any person within the said Town, having sufficient means or employment, shall not duly maintain his wife, or his legitimate or illegitimate children, and shall be thereof convicted before a Justice of the Peace, upon his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, the said Justice may make an order upon such person for the maintenance of such wife and children, or any of them, at such monthly rate as to the Justice seems reasonable, and upon non-compliance with the said order for any one month, or longer period, any Justice, by warrant under his hand and seal, may commit the person so convicted to the Common Gaol of Calcutta without labour, or to the House of Correction to hard labour, for any time not exceeding two Calendar months.

Justices of the Peace may make order of maintenance for wives and children.

III. Every person who shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying in any manner anything which may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained, and who shall not give an account to the satisfaction of such Justice how he came by the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before such Justice, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months.

Persons convicted of having or conveying stolen goods liable to penalty.

IV. When any person shall be brought before a Justice of the Peace charged with having in his possession, or in his premises with his knowledge, or with conveying anything stolen or unlawfully obtained, and shall declare that he received the same from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent, or servant to convey the same for some other person, such Justice shall cause every such person, and also if necessary every former or pretended purchaser, or other person through whose possession the same shall have passed, to be brought before him and examined, and shall examine witnesses upon oath touching the same; and if it shall appear to such Justice that any person shall have had possession of such thing, and had reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice, may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three Calendar months; every such person shall be deemed to have had possession of such thing at the time and place when and where the same shall have been found or seized, and the possession of a carrier, agent, or servant shall be deemed to be the possession of the person who shall have employed such carrier, agent, or servant to keep or convey the same.

Persons in whose possession stolen goods are found, to be examined, &c.

On suspicion of goods being stolen or unlawfully obtained, Justice may grant search-warrant.

V. If information shall be given on oath to a Justice of the Peace that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that anything stolen or unlawfully obtained is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house, building, or other place, such Justice, by special warrant under his hand, directed to any Police Officer or Constable, may cause such dwelling-house, building, or other place to be entered and searched at any time of the day, or by night, if power for that purpose be given by such warrant, and the said Justice, if it shall appear to him necessary, may empower such Police Officer or Constable, with such assistance as may be found necessary, (such Constable having previously made known his authority,) to use force for the effecting of such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and if upon search thereupon made any such thing shall be found, then to convey the same before a Justice, or to guard the same on the spot, until the offenders are taken before a Justice, or otherwise dispose thereof in some place of safety, and moreover to take into custody, and carry before the said Justice, every person found in such house or place who shall appear to have been privy to the deposit of any such thing, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the same to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

Power to search houses for stolen property without a warrant in certain cases.

VI. If information shall be given to any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector belonging to the Calcutta Police, that there is reasonable cause for suspecting that any stolen property is concealed or lodged in any dwelling-house or other place, and the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector shall have good grounds for believing that, by reason of the delay in obtaining a search-warrant, the property is likely to be removed, the said Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector, in virtue of his office, may search for specific articles alleged to have been stolen in the houses and places specified; provided always, that a list of the articles stolen or missing be delivered and taken down in writing, with a declaration stating that the robbery has been committed, and that the informant has good grounds to believe that the property is deposited in such house or place; and provided further, that the person who lost the goods, or his representative, accompany the officer in the search.

Extension of Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to cases in which property stolen does not exceed fifty rupees in value.

VII. All persons charged with the commission of any of the offences specified in Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace for the said Town, provided the value of the property which the prisoner is charged with having stolen does not, according to the belief of such Justice, exceed fifty rupees, anything in the said Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all the powers by Act XXI. of 1839 (except Section VIII. aforesaid,) and Act III. of 1842, given or reserved to any such Justice for the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property not exceeding twenty rupees in value, and all the provisions of the said Acts (except as aforesaid) shall extend and be applicable to the trial, conviction, and sentence of parties charged with having stolen property, not exceeding, according to the belief of the Justice, fifty rupees in value.

Extension of Acts XXI. of 1839 and III. of 1842, to the offence of receiving stolen property when the value of the property does not exceed fifty rupees.

VIII. Every person charged with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money, knowing the same to be stolen, may be tried by any Justice of the Peace, provided that the value of the property stolen or received does not, according to the belief of the Justice, exceed fifty rupees, and every such person, on conviction of any such offence, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six Calendar months; and all the powers and provisions of Act III. of 1842 and Act XXI. of 1839, except Section VIII. aforesaid, shall apply, so far as they may be applicable, to the trial, conviction, and sentence of any person charged under this Section with the offence of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen; provided always, that if it shall appear to the said Justice that such person has been previously convicted of, or is in the habit of receiving stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen, the said Justice shall commit such person for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature.

Summary conviction of persons accessory to the commission of certain felonies.

IX. Every person who is accessory, before or after the fact, to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, is liable to be tried and convicted summarily before such Justice, on his own confession or the oath of one or more credible witnesses, and the convicting Justice shall have power to sentence any such accessory to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding six Calendar months, or in his or their discretion, instead of trying him, to commit him for trial to the Supreme Court of Judicature, or other court having authority to try him.

Punishment for boys.

X. Whenever any boy, under the age of sixteen years, is convicted before a Justice of the Peace, either of simple larceny under the said Act XXI. of 1839, or, under this Act, of feloniously receiving goods or money knowing the same to be stolen, or of being an accessory to any felony which is punishable on summary conviction before any Justice, the said Justice, if he thinks fit, may sentence him to receive corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes of a light ratan, instead of sentencing him to imprisonment

Cases of assault, forcible entry, or other injury not being felony.

XI. Any person who shall commit any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, within the said Town, against the person or property of any person whatsoever, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and the said Justice may award the whole or any part of such fine to the party or parties aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury, or, in the discretion of such Justice, such person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding four Calendar months.

Persons charged with recent assault may be apprehended by Police without warrant, though assault not committed in view of Police.

XII. Any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police may take into custody, or authorize a Constable to take into custody, without warrant, any person who within the said Town shall be charged by any other person with committing an aggravated assault, in every case in which such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police shall have good reason to believe that such assault has been committed, although not within view of such Deputy Superintendent or Inspector, and that by reason of the recent commission of the offence, a warrant could not have been obtained for the appearance of the offender.

Unlawfully taking or enticing away women or female children under the age of sixteen.

XIII. If complaint shall be made before any Justice that any person within the said Town has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken away, against her will, any woman, or has unlawfully taken or caused to be taken or enticed away any female child under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession or protection and against the will of the husband, father, mother, guardian or other person who has the lawful order, keeping, education, or government of such child, for the purpose of living in adultery with such woman or child, or for purposes of prostitution, or of deflowering or disposing of her in marriage, it shall be lawful for the said Justice to make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, father, mother, guardian, or such other person as aforesaid, as the case may be, and to compel compliance with such order, and if it be necessary to use force for that purpose, any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police, duly authorized by the Justice in that behalf, with such assistants as he may deem necessary, may break open doors or otherwise compel compliance with the same, and the said Justice may commit any person charged with taking, or causing to be taken, or enticing any woman or female child as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, for trial before the Supreme Court of Judicature,

Keeping open houses of public entertainment without licence.

XIV. Any person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort and entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) without a licence for the same being first had and obtained from and under the hand of two Justices of the Peace, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before any of the said Justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place of public resort or entertainment is kept open.

Two Justices to grant licences.

XV. Two or more of the said Justices shall from time to time hold licensing Sessions, for the purpose of granting licences to the keepers of such houses or places of public resort and entertainment as aforesaid, and the said licences may be granted by the said Justices for any term not exceeding one year, subject to the restriction contained in Section XII. Act XI. of 1849, and upon such conditions to be inserted in every such licence as the Justices from time to time shall order, for securing the good behaviour of the keepers of the said houses or places of public resort or entertainment, and the prevention of drunkenness and disorder among the persons frequenting or using the same.

Penalty for parties not conforming to the tenor of their licence.

XVI. The keeper of every such house or place of public resort and entertainment, who shall wilfully offend against any condition of his licence, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and, in the discretion of the convicting Justice, to forfeit his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Disorderly conduct and illegal harbouring of deserters in houses of public entertainment.

XVII. Every person who shall have or keep any house, shop, room, or place of public resort or entertainment within the said Town, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind shall be sold or consumed, (whether the same shall be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere,) and who shall knowingly or wilfully permit drunkenness or other disorderly behaviour in such house, shop, room, or place, or who shall knowingly suffer any unlawful games or any gaming whatsoever therein, or who shall knowingly permit prostitutes or persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or who shall wilfully harbour or conceal any Seaman or Apprentice who shall have deserted, knowing or having reason to believe such Seaman or Apprentice so harboured or concealed to be a deserter, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and shall be liable to forfeiture of his licence, in addition to any other penalty or punishment that shall be imposed on him.

Hours for sale of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs.

XVIII. Every person who shall keep open his house, shop, room, or place, for the purpose of selling or retailing spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, under a licence from the Collector of Calcutta, after the hour of nine at night and before the hour of six in the morning, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees, and shall also be liable, in the discretion of the said Justice, to the forfeiture of his licence.

Introduction of spirituous liquors without licence into Fort William.

XIX. If any person, not being amenable to the Articles of War, shall take or attempt to take into Fort William any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs of any description, without a licence from the Commanding Officer of the said Fort, or from some other person thereunto authorized, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint to him thereof made, may issue his summons or warrant for bringing the party complained of, and also the liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, before him, and in case of conviction may adjudge the said liquors, wine, or drugs, and the vessels containing the same, to be forfeited, and every such person so convicted shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two calendar months.

Taking spirits, &c., into the Gaol.

XX. Every person who shall take or throw, or attempt to take or throw, into the Great Gaol or House of Correction of Calcutta, any quantity of spirituous liquors, wine, or intoxicating drugs, without the licence or consent of the Jailor or Keeper of such Gaol or House of Correction, respectively, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two months.

Breaking Gaol.

XXI. Every person who shall have been committed to the Great Gaol or House of Correction, or who shall be in custody at any Police Office or Station, and who shall unlawfully break or escape from such Gaol, House of Correction, Police Office, or Station, shall be liable for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any other sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be imprisoned at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

Riotous or indecent behaviour.

XXII. Every person who shall be found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself in any street or public thoroughfare, or who shall be guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street, public thoroughfare, Police Office, Station, or Section House, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding fourteen days.

Rogues and Vagabonds.

XXIII. Any Constable or Peace Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police may take into custody, without a warrant, any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise armed with any dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoever, with intent to break or enter into any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, or any loose, idle, or disorderly persons whom he shall find disturbing the public peace, or whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit, any felony, misdemeanor, or breach of the peace, or any reputed thief whom he shall find between sunset and sunrise on board any boat in the river, or lying or loitering in any bazar, street, road, yard, thoroughfare or other place, and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, or any person having in his possession without lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall lie on such person), any pick-lock key, crow, jack, bit, or other implement of house-breaking, or any person found between sunset and sunrise having his face blackened or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any felony, or any person who shall be found between sunset and sunrise in any dwelling-house or other building whatsoever, with intent to commit any felony therein; and every such offender, on conviction before a Justice, either on his own confession or on the evidence of one or more credible witnesses, shall be liable, at the discretion of the said Justice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding four calendar months.

Beggars.

XXIV. Every person who shall beg or apply for alms or relief in any public road, street, or thoroughfare, or who shall expose or exhibit any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity in such roads, streets, or public thoroughfares, with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms, or relief, or who shall, anywhere within the Town, seek for or obtain alms or relief by means of any false statements or pretences, or who shall cause, aid, or abet any such person as aforesaid in the commission of any of the said offences, shall, for every such offence, on conviction before a Justice, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding two calendar months.

Furious Driving.

XXV. Every person who shall drive or ride furiously, or at a greater rate than ten miles an hour, any vehicle or animal in the said streets or public thoroughfares, shall, for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one calendar month.

Lamps to vehicles.

XXVI. Every person who shall drive any vehicle of any description, at any time between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without having a lighted lamp affixed to such vehicle, shall for every such offence, on conviction thereof before a Justice, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty rupees, or, in default of payment thereof, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one calendar month.

For suppression of common gaming-houses.

XXVII. If any person shall make oath before a Justice of the Peace that any house, building, room, or other place within the Town is commonly reported and believed to be kept or used as a common gaming-house or place, such Justice, by an order in writing, may authorize a Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter any such house, building, room, or place, with such Constables as he shall deem requisite to accompany him, and if necessary, to use force for the purpose of effecting such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to take into custody and search all persons found therein, and to seize all tables and instruments of gaming found in such house, building, room, or place, or on the persons of any of those found therein, and also to seize all moneys and securities for money found in any such house, building, room, or place; and the owner or keeper of the said gaming-house, or place, or other person having the care and management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three calendar months, and upon conviction of any such offender all such tables and instruments of unlawful games shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by order of the Justice before whom the conviction is had, and all the moneys and securities for moneys so found shall be forfeited to Government, and every person found on such premises, and who shall not be the owner or keeper, or other person having the care or management thereof, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Proof of playing for stakes unnecessary.

XXVIII. It shall not be necessary in support of any information for gaming in, or for suffering any games or gaming in, or for keeping or managing, or being concerned in the management or conduct of, any common gaming-house or place, under this Act, to prove that any person found playing at any game was playing for any money, wager, or stake.

What articles if found shall be evidence that the house is a gaming-house.

XXIX. Where any cards, dice, balls, counters, tables, or other instruments of gaming, used in playing any unlawful game, are found in any house, building, room, or place suspected to be used as a common gaming-house or place, and entered by an order issued under this Act, or about the person of any who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, building, room, or place, is used as a common gaming-house or place, and that the persons found in the house, building, room, or place, where such tables or instruments of gaming shall have been found were playing therein, although no play was actually going on in the presence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Inspector, or Constable entering the same as aforesaid.

Gambling in the Streets.

XXX. Every person who shall game for money or any other thing or reward whatsoever, or who shall join in, bet at, or abet, or be present for the purpose of joining, betting at, or abetting any such gaming, in any street or public thoroughfare in the said Town, shall be liable, on conviction thereof before a Justice, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or, in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one calendar month.

Using false or defective weights and measures.

XXXI. All persons who deal in any articles by retail by weight or measure, and who have in or about their shops or premises, or otherwise in their possession any false, or deficient weight, measure, beam or scale, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one calendar month; and every such false and defective weight, measure, beam or scale shall be forfeited, and the said Justice shall cause the same to be destroyed; and it shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate or Superintendent of Police from time to time to issue public notices at the Police Office and Thannas, and such places as to him appear suitable, of the exact weight and measure of just weights and measures, and to keep at the Police Office and Thannas standard weights and measures for the information of the public.

False weights and measures.

XXXII. Any Justice of the Peace or the Superintendent of Police may issue his warrant, directing any Deputy Superintendent or Inspector of Police to enter into any shop or other place where articles are bought and sold by retail, and to search for and to examine the weights and measures therein, and seize all such as he may suspect to be forfeited as false and deficient in weight.

Justice of the Peace may take cognizance of cases of desertion or unauthorized absence from their ship of Foreign and Asiatic seamen.

XXXIII. If any seaman, whether British or Foreign, shall, wilfully and without leave or lawful excuse, absent himself from his vessel, any Justice of the Peace, upon complaint upon oath, and at the instance of any of the officers of the said vessel, may issue his warrant to apprehend and detain the said seaman and convey him on board of his vessel; and whenever any seaman shall have been imprisoned, it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace, on the release of such seaman from imprisonment, to cause him to be conveyed on board of the vessel to which he may belong.

Arms carried by persons without due authority.

XXXIV. No person, not being a soldier or sailor in the service of the Queen or the East India Company, or a Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be entitled to carry any sword, spear, gun, or other offensive weapon in any street, thoroughfare, or public place, unless by leave of the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and any person offending against this enactment, shall be liable to be disarmed by any Constable or other person acting under such instructions as shall be from time to time given by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police; and the weapons so seized shall be taken before the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, and forfeited to the Government, if the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, in his discretion, shall think fit to declare them forfeited.

The regulation of carriages and persons at places of public resort.

XXXV. The Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, from time to time, and as occasion may require, may make regulations for keeping clear the public ghauts and landing-stairs, and for the route to be observed in the public streets and places by all carts, carriages, palanquins, hackeries, and other vehicles, and by all horses, cattle and persons, and as to the times during which they may take the said routes, and for preventing obstruction of the streets and thoroughfares within the Town on all times of public processions and native holidays, as also during the time of Divine Service, and also may give directions to the Constables and other Peace Officers for keeping order and for preventing any obstruction of the thoroughfares in the immediate neighbourhood of any place of public resort, and in any case when the ghauts, landing-stairs, streets, or thoroughfares may be thronged, or may be liable to be obstructed, and every person opposing or not obeying the orders so issued by the Chief Magistrate or other head of the Police, shall be liable to be arrested and detained by the Police, and, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Police Officers taking Bribes.

XXXVI. Any Police Officer or Constable who shall ask for or take any bribe or unauthorized reward in consideration of his doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees, or, at the discretion of the said Justice, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding three months.

As to manufacture or possession of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton.

XXXVII. The Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation passed by the Governor General in Council on the 8th April 1802, and Section II. Act XVIII. of 1841, are hereby repealed. Any person who shall, within the limits of the said Town, manufacture Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or who shall, without a licence for that purpose being first had and obtained from the Chief Magistrate, have in his possession, in any house, shop, warehouse, or other building, at any one time, a greater quantity of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for sale or otherwise than ten pounds, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of all such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton so manufactured or possessed, together with the vessel or receptacle in which it may be seized, and also to a fine not exceeding in amount the sum of rupees five hundred.

Chief Magistrate to grant licences for sale and deposit of Gun-powder, &c.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Magistrate to grant to any person (whom he shall deem fit and proper) a licence for the sale or keeping in deposit, within the limits of the said Town, any quantity of imported or Indian manufactured Gun-powder not exceeding fifty pounds, or any quantity of Gun-cotton not exceeding twenty pounds, on such conditions as shall be specified in the licence, and any person who shall be guilty of a breach of any of such conditions, shall, on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a forfeiture of his licence and of all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton so kept in deposit contrary thereto, and also to a fine not exceeding rupees two hundred.

Licences to be in force for one year, and to contain certain provisions.

XXXIX. Every such licence as is mentioned in the preceding Section shall be in force for a period of one year only and no longer, but shall be renewable by the said Chief Magistrate, at his discretion, on the same or any other terms and conditions, and such licence shall also provide for the transit and carrying of Gun-powder from one place to another within the limits of the said Town, in such manner and in such quantity as shall be deemed advisable for the safety of the inhabitants and of property within the said Town, and every person offending against such provisions shall be liable to a fine not exceeding rupees fifty.

As to Search for Gun-powder, &c.

XL. Any Justice of the Peace, on credible information laid before him on oath or solemn affirmation, that Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or mixed materials for making the same contrary to the provisions of this Act, are suspected to be stored, kept, or possessed by any person, may issue his warrant, authorizing any Police Officer to search in the day-time any house, shop, magazine, or other building or place in which he has reasonable ground to suspect any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton to be manufactured, sold, or kept, or any boat, carriage, cart, or other vehicle in which any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, may be suspected to be carried, or any person suspected of carrying the same contrary to such licence or to the provisions of this Act, and all Gun-powder, Gun-cotton, or materials for manufacturing the same, found on such search, shall, together with the vessels or receptacles in which they may be stored, be immediately seized and brought before a Justice of the Peace, with whom the same shall be kept till it shall be adjudged whether the same shall be forfeited.

Act not applicable to Government Powder, &c.

XLI. The four last preceding Sections shall not extend to any Government Magazine or store, or building for the making or deposit of Gun-powder or Gun-cotton under the authority or for the use of the Government, or to any Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for the use of Her Majesty's or the East India Company's Troops, or otherwise for the service of Government, or to any of Her Majesty's Vessels of War, or the Vessels of the Indian Navy, or of the East India Company's Marine, or to any other Vessel within the River Hooghly laden with Gun-powder for importation or exportation.

As to Vessels arriving in River with Powder on Board.

XLII. Commanders of merchant vessels entering the River Hooghly shall, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, deposit in the Magazine at that place all Gun-powder intended for the Ship's use from on board their respective vessels, exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, which quantity they shall be permitted to retain in their vessels for the purpose of firing salutes or signals in case of distress, and the Gun-powder so deposited shall be again delivered on board on the return of the respective vessels from Calcutta in prosecution of the outward voyage; and Commanders of merchant vessels in the River Hooghly having on board their vessels Gun-powder or Gun-cotton for importation (not being Gun-powder belonging to the Government) exceeding the quantity of fifty pounds, shall also deposit the same, on or before the arrival of their vessels off Moyapore, in the Magazine of that place, under charge of an Officer belonging to the Customs at that place, or such other person as the Governor of Bengal may appoint, and the proprietors or consignees of such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton, or their agents, whenever they shall desire to remove the same from the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for authority to do so, which application, when it be intended that such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton shall be lodged in any place, or be laden in any boat or other conveyance within the limits of the said Town, shall be accompanied by a written order of permission, signed by a Justice of the Peace to that effect, and when it be intended that such Gun-powder or Gun-cotton shall be exported by sea, the Commanders of vessels, or the proprietors or their agents, by whom it shall have been deposited in the Magazine, shall make application to the Collector of Sea Customs for permission so to export it, and the Collector of Sea Customs shall comply with such applications aforesaid, except where the exportation of ammunition shall require, under provisions of Act XVIII. of 1841, a licence from a public Officer other than the Collector of Sea Customs, in which case the Collector of Sea Customs shall not comply with the application unless it be accompanied by the licence of such public Officer; and on or before the removal of all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton from the Magazine, the Collector of Sea Customs shall and he is hereby authorized to levy a fee, the rate of which shall not exceed two annas per pound, for all Gun-powder or Gun-cotton that has been lodged therein, which fee shall be taken to cover all charges for the safe custody of the Gun-powder or Gun-cotton during the period it has remained or shall remain in the Magazine; provided also, that the Governor of Bengal shall be at liberty to authorize such arrangement to be made, by letting or otherwise contracting for the custody of the Magazine, and for the collection and appropriation of the fees which may be charged for Gun-powder or Gun-cotton stored therein, as he may think proper, subject however to all the restrictions and rules imposed by this Section in respect to the removal from the Magazine of Gun-powder therein stored.

Penalties.

XLIII. For every act done or omitted to be done contrary to the provisions of the last preceding Section by the Commander of any merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, the Commander aforesaid shall, on conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace, be liable to a penalty of two hundred rupees: and the Collector of Sea Customs is hereby empowered to search for any quantity of Gun-powder which he may have reason to believe to be on board a merchant vessel in the port of Calcutta, contrary to the provisions of this Act, and to seize and detain it as forfeited to Government, to be dealt with as the Governor of Bengal shall think right to direct.

Jurisdiction of Justices on the River Hooghly.

XLIV. The jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace acting within and for the said Town shall extend to all offences committed by any person in sea-going vessels in any part of the River Hooghly, and the said Justices shall have the same power and jurisdiction in respect of criminal offences committed in sea-going vessels, in any part of the said river, that they now have and exercise within the said Town.

Persons apprehended without warrant to be taken first to the Station-house, and if not admitted to bail, to the Police Office.

XLV. Every Officer belonging to the Calcutta Police is hereby authorized to arrest without warrant any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, and every person taken into custody without warrant by any Constable belonging to the Calcutta Police, shall be forthwith taken to the Station-house to which the Constable belongs, in order that such person may be detained, until he can be brought before a Justice of the Peace to be dealt with according to law, or in order that such person may give bail for his appearance before a Justice of the Peace, if the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector at the Station shall deem it prudent to take bail in the manner hereinafter mentioned, which he is hereby authorized to do.

Power to take recognizances at Station-houses or Police Lock-up on certain charges.

XLVI. Whenever any person is brought to the Station-house as aforesaid charged with misdemeanor, assault, or with having carelessly done any hurt or damage, or whenever any Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, or Inspector of Police, or Town Serjeant in charge of a Police Lock-up, shall deem it probable that any person so brought is falsely or maliciously charged with having committed a felony, and any such person as aforesaid shall be, without the warrant of a Magistrate, in the custody of any Constable of the Calcutta Police, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent or any Deputy Superintendent of Police, if he shall deem it prudent, to enlarge such person on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, conditioned as hereinafter mentioned.

Condition of recognizance.

XLVII. Every recognizance so taken shall be without fee or reward, and shall be conditioned for the appearance of the person thereby bound before a Justice of the Peace at his next sitting, and the time and place of appearance and the sum thereby acknowledged (not exceeding one thousand rupees) shall be specified in this said recognizance, or the condition thereof; and the Officer taking the recognizance shall enter into a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name, residence, and occupation of the party and his surety or sureties (if any) entering into such recognizance, together with the condition thereof, and the sum thereby acknowledged, and shall return every such recognizance to the Justice present at the time and place and when and where the party is bound to appear, and the said recognizance may be in either of the forms, as the case may be, in Schedule (A.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect.

Amends may be awarded for false or malicious charges.

XLVIII. In every case in which any person shall be given in charge to a Constable, or in which any information or complaint of any offence shall be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace, and it shall appear to the Justice by whom the case shall be heard that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Justice, at his discretion, to award such amends, not more than the sum of fifty rupees, to be paid by the informer to the party informed or complained against, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as to the Justice shall seem meet.

Offences how to be tried.

XLIX. Every Justice of the Peace shall be empowered summarily to hear and determine every complaint of an offence committed against this Act, and to convict any person charged with any such offence on the oath of one or more witnesses, or by his own confession, and to award the penalty or punishment herein provided for such offence.

Justices may proceed by summons, and if party does not appear may issue warrant.

L. Upon any information or complaint to be laid or made before any Justice of the Peace (which complaint need not be made upon oath) of any matter which such Justice is authorized to hear and determine, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, he may summon the party charged, and if such party shall not appear according to the tenor of the summons, the Justice, upon proof of the service of the summons, may proceed, in all cases which are not of a criminal nature, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the party, to hear and determine the case in the absence of the party, and in all criminal cases shall issue his warrant for apprehending and bringing such party before him or some other Justice, in order that the said information and complaint may be heard and determined.

How summons may be served.

LI. Every such summons may be served by delivering it or a copy thereof to the party, or to his wife, servant, or some inmate of his dwelling, or by delivering it at or affixing it to the door or wall of his usual place of abode.

Justices may issue warrant without summons.

LII. A Justice of the Peace may, without issuing any summons, forthwith issue his warraat for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, whenever good grounds for so doing shall be stated on oath before him.

May enforce attendance of witnesses.

LIII. Any Justice may summon any witness to appear and give evidence upon the matter of any offence cognizable before him, either under this or any other Act or Regulation, with which any person shall be charged before him, at a time and place appointed for hearing the information or complaint, and, by warrant under his hand and seal, may require any person to be brought before him who shall neglect or refuse to give evidence at the time and place appointed on such summons, proof upon oath being first given of personal service of the summons upon the person against whom such warrant shall be granted, and such Justice may commit any person coming or brought before him who shall refuse to give evidence, to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or until such person shall sooner submit himself to be examined, and in case of such submission the order of such Justice shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of such person.

Power to Magistrates to order prisoners to be brought up to the Police Office.

LIV. When any Justice of the Peace is desirous of examining any prisoner confined in the Great Gaol or House of Correction as a witness or defendant, with respect to any charge, case, or proceeding pending before him, it shall be lawful for such Justice to issue an order in the form contained in Schedule (B.) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, addressed to the Keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named to the Police Office, for examination, and the Keeper or Governor of the said Gaol or House of Correction, on the receipt of such order, shall act in accordance therewith, and shall take care for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from prison for the purpose aforesaid.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

LV. All penalties and forfeitures and other sums of money imposed, awarded, or ordered to be paid by any Justice of the Peace under the authority of this Act, and all sums of money which any person is bound to pay under any recognizance taken before a Justice of the Peace or an Officer of Police empowered to take recognizances by this Act, and afterwards forfeited, in case of non-payment thereof, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or person liable to pay the same, by warrant under the hand of any Justice of the Peace, and in case any such penalty or forfeiture or sum of money shall not be forthwith paid, any Justice may order the party to be detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such Justice for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and the Justice may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise; and if upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no such sufficient distress could be had whereon to levy the said penalty or forfeiture, or sum of money, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear, to the satisfaction of the Justice, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty, forfeiture, or sum of money could be levied if warrant of distress should be issued, the Justice, by warrant under his hand, may commit such party to the Common Gaol of Calcutta, there to remain for any time not exceeding two calendar months.

Convictions to be quashed on merits only. Form of conviction, &c.

LVI. No conviction, order, or judgment of any Justice of the Peace shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, the evidence on which it proceeds; but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment, in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions.

LVII. In the construction of this Act the following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the context or subject repugnant to such construction; that is to say,

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "Town" shall include the Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Justice" or "Justices of the Peace" shall mean the Justices of the Peace for the time being acting within and for the said Town of Calcutta and Settlement of Fort William.

The word "Oath" shall mean any oath or solemn affirmation in lieu of an oath.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 19th March 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 19th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT. No. XVIII. OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Pleaders in the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal.

Whereas the laws in force relating to pleaders, practising in the Courts of the East India Company, in the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal, require amendment, It is enacted as follows:

I. Clause 4, Section V. Regulation XXVI. of 1814, and Sections VI., VII., VIII., X., XI., XIII., XIV., XV., Clause 3, Section IX. and Clause 6, Section XX. of Regulation XXVII. of 1814, and Section XVIII., Regulation X. of 1829, of the Bengal Code, and Sections X. and XI. of Act I. of 1846, so far as regards the said Courts, and the Pleaders therein, are hereby repealed.

II. Any pleader practising in the said Courts shall be liable to dismissal on proof of his conviction by a competent Court of a criminal offence, or on proof of a declaration or finding by a competent Court, in a suit or proceeding to which such pleader was a party, that he has knowingly committed a breach of trust, or for fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty.

III. When a competent Court has convicted a pleader of a criminal offence, or has declared or found, in a suit or proceeding to which such pleader was a party, that he has knowingly committed a breach of trust, the Court competent to dismiss such pleader may make an order for his dismissal, on the production of an authenticated copy of the judgment or decision containing such conviction, declaration, or finding, and on proof, to the satisfaction of the Court, that such judgment or decision has not been set aside or reversed, and that the pleader is the party to whom such conviction or decision relates.

IV. When any pleader is charged with fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty, by any person or Court, the Court competent to make an order for his dismissal, shall serve, or cause to be served, upon such pleader a copy of the charge or charges brought against him, and also a notice of the day appointed by the said Court for the hearing of such charge or charges, and such copy and notice shall be served upon the said pleader at least twenty clear days before the day appointed for such hearing; and on the hearing of the said charge or charges the Court shall receive all such relevant evidence as shall be properly tendered by, or on behalf of the Court or party bringing the charge or charges, or by the said pleader, and shall proceed to adjudicate on the said charge or charges in a summary way, and shall record its decision, and the reasons on which the same is grounded. Provided always, that the Court which is competent to dismiss a pleader, shall also be competent to bring a charge or charges and proceed against him as aforesaid, and may also hear and adjudicate upon such charge or charges in manner hereinbefore mentioned. Provided also, that the evidence of witnesses on such hearing shall be taken and made upon oath, and every witness who shall give false evidence at such hearing shall be liable on conviction to punishment for perjury, in like manner as witnesses examined in civil or criminal trials.

V. The power of dismissing pleaders practising in the Sudder Court of the said Provinces is vested in the Judges of that Court; the power of dismissing pleaders practising in the Courts of the Zillah Judges, or in Courts subordinate to them, in the said Provinces, is vested in the Zillah Judges, respectively.

VI. An appeal from the order of any Zillah Judge, for the dismissal of a pleader, may be made to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, according to the Rules in force for the admission of appeals.

VII. It shall not be lawful for any of the said Courts of the Lower Provinces of the said Presidency to impose any fine on any pleader practising in the said Courts, except such fine as may be imposed under the provisions of Act XXX. of 1841.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 19th March 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 19th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

Act No. XIX. of 1852.

An Act for securing the Abkarry Revenue of Madras.

For better securing the Abkarry Revenue of the Town and Suburbs of Madras, It is enacted as follows:—

I. Regulation I. of 1813 of the Madras Code, and so much of Clause 159, of an Act of Parliament numbered Chapter LII. of the Statutes passed in the thirty-third year of King George the Third, as relates to the sale of Arrack or other spirituous liquors within the Town of Madras, and to the punishment of unlicensed traders in spirits or spirituous liquors within the said Town, are repealed.

II. The Collection of the Revenue arising from the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, shall be under the charge of the Collector of Madras, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control of the Board of Revenue.

III. The Collector may appoint Conicopolies, Pygusts, Jemadars, Peons and other Officers for collection of the said Revenue and prevention of smuggling; and the Officers so appointed, besides their ordinary respective designations, shall be styled "Abkarry Officers."

IV. Every person who shall sell by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors within the Town and Suburbs of Madras without a licence for that purpose, under the hand and seal of the Collector of Madras, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each sale, but this enactment shall not apply to wholesale dealers selling such small quantities of Beer, Wine, or Spirits, as may appear to the Collector to be intended only as samples.

V. A sale of European Spirits in a less quantity than two and half gallons old Wine measure, (i. e. one dozen quart bottles,) and of Arrack or Rum or any other Spirits manufactured to the Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope in a less quantity than one quart, and of English and Foreign Beer or Wine in a less quantity than six quart bottles, and of Toddy in a less quantity than one quart, shall be deemed a retail sale within the meaning of this Act.

VI. The Board of Revenue shall have authority at all times to regulate the form and provisions of licences to be granted under this Act, and to alter and add to the conditions thereof; and each licence shall distinctly specify the kind or kinds of liquor the holder is authorized to sell, the manner in which and source whence such liquor is to be supplied to him, the excise duty, not exceeding three rupees and eight annas per gallon, which he shall pay upon it, whether it be provided by the Officers of Government or otherwise, or should a fee upon the licence be substituted for the said excise duty, the amount of such fee. The licence shall further specify the district or place, street or road, and house or shop in which the sale is to be carried on.

VII. The sale of Arrack or Rum, or other country Spirits, or of Toddy, in quantities larger than those specified for each article in Section V. of this Act, is prohibited; and every person who shall act in breach of this prohibition, shall be liable to the fine prescribed in Section XV. for the illicit possession of these articles; but this prohibition does not apply to the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors imported into Madras under passes from the Collector, or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, and supplied by wholesale to licensed retail dealers, or to the sale of Rum under bond for exportation by sea, and covered by a certificate to that effect.

VIII. Every person taking out a licence for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs under this Act, shall execute a counterpart engagement in exact conformity with the tenor of such licence.

IX. The Collector may withhold or recall a licence, if any of the conditions upon which the licence is granted be not complied with, or, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, for any other cause, giving fifteen days' notice of such withdrawal; and any person selling by retail any spirituous or fermented liquor within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, whilst such licence is withheld, or after it is recalled, shall be subject to all the penalties provided by this Act for the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors.

X. No spirituous liquor manufactured Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, shall be removed from the Sea Custom House to any Warehouse, Shop, or private dwelling, or from one Warehouse, Shop, or private dwelling to another, without the Permit of the Collector of Madras, which Permit must accompany all liquors so removed, but persons having paid the Sea Custom Duty, shall be entitled to dispose of such liquor by wholesale for exportation beyond the limits of Madras and its Suburbs, such export to be made under permits to be granted by the Collector of Madras at his discretion, and on proof to his satisfaction that the spirits are intended to be exported.

XI. All spirituous liquor manufactured by the European method of distillation shall, when imported into the Town and Suburbs of Madras by land, be placed under the charge of the Collector of Sea Customs, who will have them gauged and tested. The said liquors may be either kept in the custody of the Importer on his furnishing security for its exportation or sale, under the provisions of Section II. Act XXXII. of 1845, or in the joint custody of the Collector of Sea Customs and the Importer, or it may be deposited in the Sea Custom Warehouse on payment of the usual Warehouse rent. When kept in such joint custody, or deposited in such Warehouse as aforesaid, no security for its exportation or sale shall be required, and the amount and nature of the security required to be furnished when such liquors are kept in the custody of the Importer, shall be fixed by the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, who shall also determine the time to be allowed for its exportation.

XII. It shall not be lawful for the Justices to grant a licence to open or establish, or keep open any Lodging House, Boarding House, Eating House, Punch House, Coffee Room, Tavern, Hotel, or any other House of Public Entertainment within their jurisdiction, in which any spirituous or fermented liquor may be sold, to any person who has not taken out a licence for the retail sale of such liquor, and any such licence granted by the Justices shall become void whenever the licence for the retail of such liquor granted to such person, shall be withheld or recalled by the Collector under this Act. Provided always that, on the representation of the Superintendent of Police to the Collector, that any such house of public entertainment as aforesaid is kept as a disorderly house, or that the keeper thereof is, for any reason, or in consequence of misconduct, (such reason or misconduct to be specially assigned by the Superintendent,) unfit to receive or retain any such licence, then and in such case the said Collector shall forthwith revoke any licence already granted by him to such keeper of any such house of public entertainment.

XIII. The Collector, after demand made in writing, may levy any arrears of tax, duty, or fee, due on account of any licence granted under this Act, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due; provided that no such arrears shall be recoverable after the end of two years next after the same shall have become due, or next after an acknowledgment of the same in writing shall have been given by the person by whom the same is payable.

XIV. A breach of any of the conditions of a licence granted under this Act, shall, besides forfeiture of the licence, be punishable by a fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees, and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer, notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant or other person in charge of the shop or place of sale.

XV. Any person, not being a licensed dealer, having in his possession, and any person carrying within the Town and Suburbs of Madras any greater quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors, (excepting English and Foreign Beer, Wine, and Spirits,) than the quantity specified for each article in Section V., and not being protected by a Pass or Permit from the Collector, or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XVI. Beside the penalties above specified for the illicit sale, possession, and carrying of spirituous or fermented liquors, all such liquors found in the possession of any offender against this Act, shall be seized and confiscated, together with the Vessels, Packages and Coverings in which such liquors are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them shall also be liable to seizure and confiscation.

XVII. Any Abkarry Officer above the rank of Peon, may enter, inspect, and search, at any time, by day or by night, for any of the purposes contemplated in this Act, the house or shop in which any licensed retail dealer shall carry on the sale of spirituous or fermented liquor under this Act.

XVIII. Every person, holding a licence for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, shall keep such licence at the house or shop specified in the licence, and shall show the licence on the demand of any Abkarry Officer who shall desire to see the same; and any licenced dealer, who shall refuse or be unable to produce his licence on the demand of any Abkarry Officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees.

XIX. Any Abkarry Officer may stop and detain any person having possession of or carrying in any Public Road, Street, Thoroughfare or place, or in any open shop, any spirituous or fermented liquors without a Pass, or otherwise liable to confiscation under this Act, and may seize the liquors, with the Vessels, Packages, and Coverings in which the liquors are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them.

XX. If the Collector has good reason to believe, either from information given by any Abkarry Officer, or other person, to be taken down in writing, or from his own knowledge, or from the proceedings in any other case, that any spirituous or fermented liquor liable to confiscation under this Act, is kept or concealed in any place, the Collector, by warrant under his hand, may empower any Abkarry Officer, above the rank of Jemadar of Peons, between sunrise and sunset, but always in the presence of a Constable or other Officer of the Peace, to enter into every such place where any such liquor is suspected to be kept or concealed, and to seize and carry away such liquor, and in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, search, seizure or removal, as aforesaid, and to arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in the unlawful keeping or concealing of such liquor whom he shall find on the premises. Provided that, where there is ground to suspect that such liquor is unlawfully concealed in any apartment of the women, in houses belonging to the classes whose women do not appear in public, the Officer charged with the execution of the Warrant, shall follow, as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of property so concealed, adopted by the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort St. George.

XXI. All Constables and other Ministerial Officers of the Peace, are required to aid the Abkarry Officers in the due execution of this Act, upon notice given, or request made by any such Abkarry Officer; and any Officer who, without lawful excuses, shall refuse or neglect to assist as aforesaid, on being required to do so, shall be liable to the penalty prescribed by Section XXIX. of this Act for Abkarry Officers conniving at the escape of a person arrested under this Act.

XXII. Whenever an Abkarry Officer, duly authorized under this Act, shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquor, or shall enter any house or shop for the purpose of searching for such illicit liquors, he shall carry the person arrested, with the illicit liquors seized, with all convenient despatch, to the Collector, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Collector of all the particulars. And the Collector, after such further inquiry as he may deem necessary, shall forthwith either release the person arrested, or send him in custody to the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies.

XXIII. Every person who shall maliciously give false information against any person, for being engaged in the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or for having in his possession or carrying, or in respect of there being in any house or shop, any spirituous or fermented liquors, in contravention of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, or to both.

XXIV. Every person who shall obstruct or molest any Abkarry Officer, or any person acting in aid of such Officer, in the due execution of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, and such person shall be further liable, if any affray or breach of the peace shall happen in consequence of his resistance, on conviction of the same before a competent tribunal, to such punishment as is prescribed by Law for cases of affray and breach of the peace, in addition to the penalty above prescribed for resistance of process.

XXV. Any Abkarry Officer, who shall delay carrying to the Collector any person arrested, or any illicit liquors seized under this Act, or who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees.

XXVI. Any Abkarry Officer, who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXVII. The provisions regarding Distilleries and Stills in Sections IV., V., VI. Regulation I. of 1820 of the Madras Code, and Act XXXII. of 1845, shall apply and be in force within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, except that the powers vested in the Criminal Judge by Section IV. Clause 5, and Section VI. Clause 9 Regulation I. of 1820, of the Madras Code, and in the Session Judge and Subordinate Judge of the Zillah, by Sections IV., V., Act XXXII. of 1845, shall be exercised within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court by the Superintendent of Police.

XXVIII. It shall be competent to the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, or to any Officer duly empowered by him in that behalf, to revise, from time to time, the forms of licences to be granted under Section IV. Regulation I. of 1820, of the Madras Code, for the establishment of Distilleries for manufacturing Rum, Arrack, or other Spirits by process of distillation similar to the European process, and to introduce into such forms of licences such provisions and stipulations as may seem to be advisable, anything in Section II. Act XXXII. of 1845, to the contrary notwithstanding.

XXIX. Any Officer employed in the Abkarry Department, who shall unlawfully release or connive at the escape of any person arrested under this Act, or connive at the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors without a licence, or by any licensed dealer contrary to the terms of such licence, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, for the purpose of enabling any person to do anything whereby any of the provisions of this Act may be evaded or broken, or the Abkarry Revenue be defrauded, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXX. Any Officer employed in the Abkarry Department, who shall ask or take any gratuity not authorized by any law or order of Government, or of the Board of Revenue, in consideration of doing or of omitting to do any act in his official capacity, and any person who shall offer a bribe to any such Officer, in order to induce such Officer to act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXXI. When any goods or chattels shall be seized by an Abkarry Officer, as liable to confiscation under this Act, such seizure shall, upon information exhibited by order of the Collector, be heard and determined in a summary manner, by the Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, who shall cause the persons to whom such goods and chattels belong, to be summoned to appear, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the cause of the seizure thereof and give judgment; and, if such judgment shall be for confiscation of the goods or chattels seized, shall issue his warrant to the Collector for the sale or disposal thereof, according to such orders as the Collector may receive from the Board of Revenue.

XXXII. Whenever any goods or chattels shall be seized as aforesaid, and within one calendar month no person shall appear before the Collector to claim the same, the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies, shall examine into the cause of the seizure, at a place and time, of which notice shall have been given by the Collector in the Fort St. George Gazette, and give judgment for the confiscation of such of the goods and chattels as, upon such examination, shall appear to him liable to forfeiture; and upon confiscation thereof, shall issue his warrant for the disposal of them, as if the owner had been summoned to attend before the said Superintendent or one of his Deputies.

XXXIII. All fines leviable under this Act shall be adjudged by the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies, any of whom, upon information exhibited before him by order of the Collector, shall, within three calendar months next after the act by which the fine was incurred and not afterwards, summon the parties accused, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the matter, and upon due proof made thereof, by the voluntary confession of the parties, or by the oath, or solemn affirmation, (in cases wherein a solemn affirmation is receivable by law instead of an oath,) of one or more credible witnesses, shall give judgment accordingly; and, in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be liable, by Warrant of the said Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, or until the fine be sooner paid.

XXXIV. Whenever any person shall be convicted of an offence against this Act, after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months, shall be incurred in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

XXXV. One-half of all fines levied from persons convicted of the illicit possession, carrying, or sale, of spirituous or fermented liquors, and of the proceeds from the sale of liquors, vessels, packages, conveyances, stills, and other things confiscated under this Act, shall, upon adjudication of the case, be awarded in such proportion as the Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, adjudicating as aforesaid, may think proper, to the Officer or Officers who apprehended the offender or seized the illicit liquors or other articles,—and the other half shall be given to the informer;

and if no fine be realized, the Board of Revenue may grant such reasonable reward, not exceeding the sum of Two Hundred Rupees, as may appear to them fit. Provided that the Board of Revenue may determine, by General Order, what class of Abkarry Officers shall receive rewards, and what classes shall have no title to share therein.

XXXVI. All fines levied under this Act, the disposal of which is not especially provided for, shall belong to Government; but the Officer adjudicating the case may grant any portion thereof not exceeding one-half, as rewards to informers, or as compensation to parties injured by any proceedings under this Act.

XXXVII. No writ of Certiorari shall be issued at the suit of any party out of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort St. Gorge, to supersede, stay, remove, or in anywise affect any information or judicial proceeding before the Superintendent of Police or any of his Deputies in pursuance of this Act; and no judgment thereupon shall be quashed, except for error of law apparent on the face of the judgment.

XXXVIII. All actions and prosecutions to be instituted against the Collector or any Abkarry Officer, or any person acting in aid of any such Officer, for anything done in pursuance of this Act, shall be tried and determined in the Civil Courts established by the East India Company in the Zillah of Chingleput, notwithstanding that the cause of action, in respect of which such action is brought, arose, or the defendant therein reside, within the limits of the Town of Madras, and every such action shall be brought within three calendar months after the fact committed and not afterwards, and notice in writing of such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant, one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action, and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into Court with costs, by or on behalf of the defendant.

XXXIX. The Collector, in respect of the duties to be performed by him under this Act, shall have power to punish any contempt committed in his presence in open cutcherry by the imposition of a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol for a period not exceeding one month. Provided that an appeal from any order passed under this Section shall lie to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board thereon shall be final.

XL. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, that is to say, words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular, and words importing the masculine gender only, shall include females. The words "Collector of Madras," shall mean the Officer who may at any time be charged with the superintendence and collection of the public revenue within the Town of Madras, although such Officer may not be officially designated "Collector of Madras." The words "Town and Suburbs of Madras," shall include the Town of Madras, the limits of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras as declared and described by the 12th Section o Regulation II. of 1802, of the Madras Code, and the district comprized within eight miles beyond any part of those limits.

Fort William, Civil Auditor's Office, the 16th March 1852.

NOTIFICATION.

To the Officers of the Judicial, Revenue, Customs, Salt, Opium and Abkaree and other branches of the Service.

The Civil Auditor requests that disbursing Officers will submit for audit, a detailed Pay Abstract of their Office Establishments respectively, for the month of April 1852, stating the names, dates of appointment, and the dates of orders of Government, &c., sanctioning the same, or any alteration in the salaries of Christian Assistants and Native Omlahs that may have been made agreeably to the Financial Rules of 8th December 1843. The Thannah Establishments, under the control of the Magistrates and Joint Magistrates, to be specified in detail, distinguishing the sums drawn under each particular head, and the total of the Police Force shewn at one view in the outer column in the above Abstract. The Orders notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th January 1849, page 11, should be strictly attended to with respect to vacant situations. At the foot of the Abstract, a Memorandum must be given, shewing the amount which may have been drawn purely as batta on account of salaries of old incumbents, also the reduction that may have been effected in consequence of vacancies, and subsequently carried to the credit of Government.

W. P. PALMER,
Civil Auditor.

Govt. Boat Office, the 26th March 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cookets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. BRACKEN,
Collector of Customs.

Calcutta, Collector's Office, Govt. Custom House, the 5th March 1852.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31, 1852.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 19th March 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 19th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT. No. XVIII. OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Pleaders in the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal.

Whereas the laws in force relating to pleaders, practising in the Courts of the East India Company, in the Lower Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal, require amendment, It is enacted as follows:

I. Clause 4, Section V. Regulation XXVI. of 1814, and Sections VI., VII., VIII., X., XI., XIII., XIV., XV., Clause 3, Section IX. and Clause 6, Section XX. of Regulation XXVII. of 1814, and Section XVIII., Regulation X. of 1829, of the Bengal Code, and Sections X. and XI. of Act I. of 1846, so far as regards the said Courts, and the Pleaders therein, are hereby repealed.

II. Any pleader practising in the said Courts shall be liable to dismissal on proof of his conviction by a competent Court of a criminal offence, or on proof of a declaration or finding by a competent Court, in a suit or proceeding to which such pleader was a party, that he has knowingly committed a breach of trust, or for fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty.

III. When a competent Court has convicted a pleader of a criminal offence, or has declared or found, in a suit or proceeding to which such pleader was a party, that he has knowingly committed a breach of trust, the Court competent to dismiss such pleader may make an order for his dismissal, on the production of an authenticated copy of the judgment or decision containing such conviction, declaration, or finding, and on proof, to the satisfaction of the Court, that such judgment or decision has not been set aside or reversed, and that the pleader is the party to whom such conviction or decision relates.

IV. When any pleader is charged with fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty, by any person or Court, the Court competent to make an order for his dismissal, shall serve, or cause to be served, upon such pleader a copy of the charge or charges brought against him, and also a notice of the day appointed by the said Court for the hearing of such charge or charges, and such copy and notice shall be served upon the said pleader at least twenty clear days before the day appointed for such hearing; and on the hearing of the said charge or charges the Court shall receive all such relevant evidence as shall be properly tendered by, or on behalf of the Court or party bringing the charge or charges, or by the said pleader, and shall proceed to adjudicate on the said charge or charges in a summary way, and shall record its decision, and the reasons on which the same is grounded. Provided always, that the Court which is competent to dismiss a pleader, shall also be competent to bring a charge or charges and proceed against him as aforesaid, and may also hear and adjudicate upon such charge or charges in manner hereinbefore mentioned. Provided also, that the evidence of witnesses on such hearing shall be taken and made upon oath, and every witness who shall give false evidence at such hearing shall be liable on conviction to punishment for perjury, in like manner as witnesses examined in civil or criminal trials.

V. The power of dismissing pleaders practising in the Sudder Court of the said Provinces is vested in the Judges of that Court; the power of dismissing pleaders practising in the Courts of the Zillah Judges, or in Courts subordinate to them, in the said Provinces, is vested in the Zillah Judges, respectively.

VI. An appeal from the order of any Zillah Judge, for the dismissal of a pleader, may be made to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, according to the Rules in force for the admission of appeals.

VII. It shall not be lawful for any of the said Courts of the Lower Provinces of the said Presidency to impose any fine on any pleader practising in the said Courts, except such fine as may be imposed under the provisions of Act XXX. of 1841.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 19th March 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 19th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT No. XIX. OF 1852.

An Act for securing the Abkarry Revenue of Madras.

For better securing the Abkarry Revenue of the Town and Suburbs of Madras, It is enacted as follows:—

I. Regulation I. of 1813 of the Madras Code, and so much of Clause 159, of an Act of Parliament numbered Chapter LII. of the Statutes passed in the thirty-third year of King George the Third, as relates to the sale of Arrack or other spirituous liquors within the Town of Madras, and to the punishment of unlicensed traders in spirits or spirituous liquors within the said Town, are repealed.

II. The Collection of the Revenue arising from the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, shall be under the charge of the Collector of Madras, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control of the Board of Revenue.

III. The Collector may appoint Conicopolies, Pygusts, Jemadars, Peons and other Officers for collection of the said Revenue and prevention of smuggling; and the Officers so appointed, besides their ordinary respective designations, shall be styled "Abkarry Officers."

IV. Every person who shall sell by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors within the Town and Suburbs of Madras without a licence for that purpose, under the hand and seal of the Collector of Madras, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each sale, but this enactment shall not apply to wholesale dealers selling such small quantities of Beer, Wine, or Spirits, as may appear to the Collector to be intended only as samples.

V. A sale of European Spirits in a less quantity than two and half gallons old Wine measure, (i. e. one dozen quart bottles,) and of Arrack or Rum or any other Spirits manufactured to the Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope in a less quantity than one quart, and of English and Foreign Beer or Wine in a less quantity than six quart bottles, and of Toddy in a less quantity than one quart, shall be deemed a retail sale within the meaning of this Act.

VI. The Board of Revenue shall have authority at all times to regulate the form and provisions of licences to be granted under this Act, and to alter and add to the conditions thereof; and each licence shall distinctly specify the kind or kinds of liquor the holder is authorized to sell, the manner in which and source whence such liquor is to be supplied to him, the excise duty, not exceeding three rupees and eight annas per gallon, which he shall pay upon it, whether it be provided by the Officers of Government or otherwise, or should a fee upon the licence be substituted for the said excise duty, the amount of such fee. The licence shall further specify the district or place, street or road, and house or shop in which the sale is to be carried on.

VII. The sale of Arrack or Rum, or other country Spirits, or of Toddy, in quantities larger than those specified for each article in Section V. of this Act, is prohibited; and every person who shall act in breach of this prohibition, shall be liable to the fine prescribed in Section XV. for the illicit possession of these articles; but this prohibition does not apply to the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors imported into Madras under passes from the Collector, or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, and supplied by wholesale to licensed retail dealers, or to the sale of Rum under bond for exportation by sea, and covered by a certificate to that effect.

VIII. Every person taking out a licence for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs under this Act, shall execute a counterpart engagement in exact conformity with the tenor of such licence.

IX. The Collector may withhold or recall a licence, if any of the conditions upon which the licence is granted be not complied with, or, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, for any other cause, giving fifteen days' notice of such withdrawal; and any person selling by retail any spirituous or fermented liquor within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, whilst such licence is withheld, or after it is recalled, shall be subject to all the penalties provided by this Act for the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors.

X. No spirituous liquor manufactured Eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, shall be removed from the Sea Custom House to any Warehouse, Shop, or private dwelling, or from one Warehouse, Shop, or private dwelling to another, without the Permit of the Collector of Madras, which Permit must accompany all liquors so removed, but persons having paid the Sea Custom Duty, shall be entitled to dispose of such liquor by wholesale for exportation beyond the limits of Madras and its Suburbs, such export to be made under permits to be granted by the Collector of Madras at his discretion, and on proof to his satisfaction that the spirits are intended to be exported.

XI. All spirituous liquors manufactured by the European method of distillation shall, when imported into the Town and Suburbs of Madras by land, be placed under the charge of the Collector of Sea Customs, who will have them gauged and tested. The said liquors may be either kept in the custody of the Importer on his furnishing security for their exportation or sale, under the provisions of Section II. Act XXXII. of 1845, or in the joint custody of the Collector of Sea Customs and the Importer, or they may be deposited in the Sea Custom Warehouse on payment of the usual Warehouse rent. When kept in such joint custody, or deposited in such Warehouse as aforesaid, no security for their exportation or sale shall be required, and the amount and nature of the security required to be furnished when such liquors are kept in the custody of the Importer, shall be fixed by the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, who shall also determine the time to be allowed for their exportation.

XII. It shall not be lawful for the Justices to grant a licence to open or establish, or keep open any Lodging House, Boarding House, Eating House, Punch House, Coffee Room, Tavern, Hotel, or any other House of Public Entertainment within their jurisdiction, in which any spirituous or fermented liquor may be sold, to any person who has not taken out a licence for the retail sale of such liquor, and any such licence granted by the Justices shall become void whenever the licence for the retail of such liquor granted to such person, shall be withheld or recalled by the Collector under this Act. Provided always that, on the representation of the Superintendent of Police to the Collector, that any such house of public entertainment as aforesaid is kept as a disorderly house, or that the keeper thereof is, for any reason, or in consequence of misconduct, (such reason or misconduct to be specially assigned by the Superintendent,) unfit to receive or retain any such licence, then and in such case the said Collector shall forthwith revoke any licence already granted by him to such keeper of any such house of public entertainment.

XIII. The Collector, after demand made in writing, may levy any arrears of tax, duty, or fee, due on account of any licence granted under this Act, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due; provided that no such arrears shall be recoverable after the end of two years next after the same shall have become due, or next after an acknowledgment of the same in writing shall have been given by the person by whom the same is payable.

XIV. A breach of any of the conditions of a licence granted under this Act, shall, besides forfeiture of the licence, be punishable by a fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees, and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer, notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant or other person in charge of the shop or place of sale.

XV. Any person, not being a licensed dealer, having in his possession, and any person carrying within the Town and Suburbs of Madras any greater quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors, (excepting English and Foreign Beer, Wine, and Spirits,) than the quantity specified for each article in Section V., and not being protected by a Pass or Permit from the Collector, or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XVI. Beside the penalties above specified for the illicit sale, possession, and carrying of spirituous or fermented liquors, all such liquors found in the possession of any offender against this Act, shall be seized and confiscated, together with the Vessels, Packages and Coverings in which such liquors are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them shall also be liable to seizure and confiscation.

XVII. Any Abkarry Officer above the rank of Peon, may enter, inspect, and search, at any time, by day or by night, for any of the purposes contemplated in this Act, the house or shop in which any licensed retail dealer shall carry on the sale of spirituous or fermented liquor under this Act.

XVIII. Every person, holding a licence for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, shall keep such licence at the house or shop specified in the licence, and shall show the licence on the demand of any Abkarry Officer who shall desire to see the same; and any licenced dealer, who shall refuse or be unable to produce his licence on the demand of any Abkarry Officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees.

XIX. Any Abkarry Officer may stop and detain any person having possession of or carrying in any Public Road, Street, Thoroughfare or place, or in any open shop, any spirituous or fermented liquors without a Pass, or otherwise liable to confiscation under this Act, and may seize the liquors, with the Vessels, Packages, and Coverings in which the liquors are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them.

XX. If the Collector has good reason to believe, either from information given by any Abkarry Officer, or other person, to be taken down in writing, or from his own knowledge, or from the proceedings in any other case, that any spirituous or fermented liquor liable to confiscation under this Act, is kept or concealed in any place, the Collector, by warrant under his hand, may empower any Abkarry Officer, above the rank of Jemadar of Peons, between sunrise and sunset, but always in the presence of a Constable or other Officer of the Peace, to enter into every such place where any such liquor is suspected to be kept or concealed, and to seize and carry away such liquor, and in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, search, seizure or removal, as aforesaid, and to arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in the unlawful keeping or concealing of such liquor whom he shall find on the premises. Provided that, where there is ground to suspect that such liquor is unlawfully concealed in any apartment of the women, in houses belonging to the classes whose women do not appear in public, the Officer charged with the execution of the Warrant, shall follow, as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of property so concealed, adopted by the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort St. George.

XXI. All Constables and other Ministerial Officers of the Peace, are required to aid the Abkarry Officers in the due execution of this Act, upon notice given, or request made by any such Abkarry Officer; and any Officer who, without lawful excuses, shall refuse or neglect to assist as aforesaid, on being required to do so, shall be liable to the penalty prescribed by Section XXIX. of this Act for Abkarry Officers conniving at the escape of a person arrested under this Act.

XXII. Whenever an Abkarry Officer, duly authorized under this Act, shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquor, or shall enter any house or shop for the purpose of searching for such illicit liquors, he shall carry the person arrested, with the illicit liquors seized, with all convenient despatch, to the Collector, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Collector of all the particulars. And the Collector, after such further inquiry as he may deem necessary, shall forthwith either release the person arrested, or send him in custody to the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies.

XXIII. Every person who shall maliciously give false information against any person, for being engaged in the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or for having in his possession or carrying, or in respect of there being in any house or shop, any spirituous or fermented liquors, in contravention of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, or to both.

XXIV. Every person who shall obstruct or molest any Abkarry Officer, or any person acting in aid of such Officer, in the due execution of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, and such person shall be further liable, if any affray or breach of the peace shall happen in consequence of his resistance, on conviction of the same before a competent tribunal, to such punishment as is prescribed by Law for cases of affray and breach of the peace, in addition to the penalty above prescribed for resistance of process.

XXV. Any Abkarry Officer, who shall delay carrying to the Collector any person arrested, or any illicit liquors seized under this Act, or who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees.

XXVI. Any Abkarry Officer, who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXVII. The provisions regarding Distilleries and Stills in Sections IV., V., VI. Regulation I. of 1820 of the Madras Code, and Act XXXII. of 1845, shall apply and be in force within the Town and Suburbs of Madras, except that the powers vested in the Criminal Judge by Section IV. Clause 5, and Section VI. Clause 9 Regulation I. of 1820, of the Madras Code, and in the Session Judge and Subordinate Judge of the Zillah, by Sections IV., V., Act XXXII. of 1845, shall be exercised within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court by the Superintendent of Police.

XXVIII. It shall be competent to the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, or to any Officer duly empowered by him in that behalf, to revise, from time to time, the forms of licences to be granted under Section IV. Regulation I. of 1820, of the Madras Code, for the establishment of Distilleries for manufacturing Rum, Arrack, or other Spirits by process of distillation similar to the European process, and to introduce into such forms of licences such provisions and stipulations as may seem to be advisable, anything in Section II. Act XXXII. of 1845, to the contrary notwithstanding.

XXIX. Any Officer employed in the Abkarry Department, who shall unlawfully release or connive at the escape of any person arrested under this Act, or connive at the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors without a licence, or by any licensed dealer contrary to the terms of such licence, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, for the purpose of enabling any person to do anything whereby any of the provisions of this Act may be evaded or broken, or the Abkarry Revenue be defrauded, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXX. Any Officer employed in the Abkarry Department, who shall ask or take any gratuity not authorized by any law or order of Government, or of the Board of Revenue, in consideration of doing or of omitting to do any act in his official capacity, and any person who shall offer a bribe to any such Officer, in order to induce such Officer to act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees.

XXXI. When any goods or chattels shall be seized by an Abkarry Officer, as liable to confiscation under this Act, such seizure shall, upon information exhibited by order of the Collector, be heard and determined in a summary manner, by the Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, who shall cause the persons to whom such goods and chattels belong, to be summoned to appear, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the cause of the seizure thereof and give judgment; and, if such judgment shall be for confiscation of the goods or chattels seized, shall issue his warrant to the Collector for the sale or disposal thereof, according to such orders as the Collector may receive from the Board of Revenue.

XXXII. Whenever any goods or chattels shall be seized as aforesaid, and within one calendar month no person shall appear before the Collector to claim the same, the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies, shall examine into the cause of the seizure, at a place and time, of which notice shall have been given by the Collector in the Fort St. George Gazette, and give judgment for the confiscation of such of the goods and chattels as, upon such examination, shall appear to him liable to forfeiture; and upon confiscation thereof, shall issue his warrant for the disposal of them, as if the owner had been summoned to attend before the said Superintendent or one of his Deputies.

XXXIII. All fines leviable under this Act shall be adjudged by the Superintendent of Police, or one of his Deputies, any of whom, upon information exhibited before him by order of the Collector, shall, within three calendar months next after the act by which the fine was incurred and not afterwards, summon the parties accused, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the matter, and upon due proof made thereof, by the voluntary confession of the parties, or by the oath, or solemn affirmation, (in cases wherein a solemn affirmation is receivable by law instead of an oath,) of one or more credible witnesses, shall give judgment accordingly; and, in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be liable, by Warrant of the said Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, or until the fine be sooner paid.

XXXIV. Whenever any person shall be convicted of an offence against this Act, after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol, for a period not exceeding six months, and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months, shall be incurred in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

XXXV. One-half of all fines levied from persons convicted of the illicit possession, carrying, or sale, of spirituous or fermented liquors, and of the proceeds from the sale of liquors, vessels, packages, conveyances, stills, and other things confiscated under this Act, shall, upon adjudication of the case, be awarded in such proportion as the Superintendent of Police or one of his Deputies, adjudicating as aforesaid, may think proper, to the Officer or Officers who apprehended the offender or seized the illicit liquors or other articles,—and the other half shall be given to the informer;

and if no fine be realized, the Board of Revenue may grant such reasonable reward, not exceeding the sum of Two Hundred Rupees, as may appear to them fit. Provided that the Board of Revenue may determine, by General Order, what class of Abkarry Officers shall receive rewards, and what classes shall have no title to share therein.

XXXVI. All fines levied under this Act, the disposal of which is not especially provided for, shall belong to Government; but the Officer adjudicating the case may grant any portion thereof not exceeding one-half, as rewards to informers, or as compensation to parties injured by any proceedings under this Act.

XXXVII. No writ of Certiorari shall be issued at the suit of any party out of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort St. Gorge, to supersede, stay, remove, or in anywise affect any information or judicial proceeding before the Superintendent of Police or any of his Deputies in pursuance of this Act; and no judgment thereupon shall be quashed, except for error of law apparent on the face of the judgment.

XXXVIII. All actions and prosecutions to be instituted against the Collector or any Abkarry Officer, or any person acting in aid of any such Officer, for anything done in pursuance of this Act, shall be tried and determined in the Civil Courts established by the East India Company in the Zillah of Chingleput, notwithstanding that the cause of action, in respect of which such action is brought, arose, or the defendant therein reside, within the limits of the Town of Madras, and every such action shall be brought within three calendar months after the fact committed and not afterwards, and notice in writing of such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant, one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action, and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into Court with costs, by or on behalf of the defendant.

XXXIX. The Collector, in respect of the duties to be performed by him under this Act, shall have power to punish any contempt committed in his presence in open cutcherry by the imposition of a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment in the Common Gaol for a period not exceeding one month. Provided that an appeal from any order passed under this Section shall lie to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board thereon shall be final.

XL. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, that is to say, words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular, and words importing the masculine gender only, shall include females. The words "Collector of Madras," shall mean the Officer who may at any time be charged with the superintendence and collection of the public revenue within the Town of Madras, although such Officer may not be officially designated "Collector of Madras." The words "Town and Suburbs of Madras," shall include the Town of Madras, the limits of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras as declared and described by the 12th Section of Regulation II. of 1802, of the Madras Code, and the district comprized within eight miles beyond any part of those limits.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT,

No. 29 of 1851.

Our Governor of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

1st. We have been informed, by direction of Her Majesty's Post Master General, under date the 18th instant, that "His Lordship has obtained the authority of the Treasury to despatch in future from the General Post Office in London the Mail for India vid Marseilles on the evening of the 8*th* of the month, instead of the 7th as hitherto, except on the occasions of the 8th falling on a Sunday, when the Mail will be despatched on the evening of the following day, and that this arrangement will come into operation with the Mail of the 8th proximo."

2nd. You will be careful, that the several Post Masters under your Presidency are duly advised of this alteration which we have by the present Mail notified to our Agents at Aden and in Egypt.

We are, &c.,

Fort William, Civil Auditor's Office, the 16th March 1852.

NOTIFICATION.

To the Officers of the Judicial, Revenue, Customs, Salt, Opium and Abkaree and other branches of the Service.

The Civil Auditor requests that disbursing Officers will submit for audit, a detailed Pay Abstract of their Office Establishments respectively, for the month of April 1852, stating the names, dates of appointment, and the dates of orders of Government, &c., sanctioning the same, or any alteration in the salaries of Christian Assistants and Native Omlahs that may have been made agreeably to the Financial Rules of 8th December 1843. The Thannah Establishments, under the control of the Magistrates and Joint Magistrates, to be specified in detail, distinguishing the sums drawn under each particular head, and the total of the Police Force shewn at one view in the outer column in the above Abstract. The Orders notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th January 1849, page 11, should be strictly attended to with respect to vacant situations. At the foot of the Abstract, a Memorandum must be given, shewing the amount which may have been drawn purely as batta on account of salaries of old incumbents, also the reduction that may have been effected in consequence of vacancies, and subsequently carried to the credit of Government.

W. P. PALMER,
Civil Auditor.

NOTICE.—The Provisions of Section XX., Act I. of 1852, not appearing to be generally known among the manufacturers and exporters of country spirits, that Section is, under orders from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, re-published for general information:

"XX. Spirits exported from any Port subject "to the Government of the East India Com- "pany, and imported at any other Port subor- "dinate to the Government of Bombay shall be "liable on importation to the same rate of duty "as may be fixed on spirit of country manufac- "ture by Schedule A. annexed to this Act, or "by any future enactment. Provided always "that if the said spirit be accompanied by a "document signed by competent authority, cer- "tifying that a duty, whether of customs or "otherwise, has been paid on the said spirit to "the East India Company, credit shall be allow- "ed for the sum so paid in settling the customs "at the Port of Import; and if such sum equal "or exceed the full amount of customs leviable "on spirits of country manufacture under Sche- "dule A. aforesaid, or any future enactment, "then the spirit on which such duty has been "paid shall be admitted to free entry."

J. W. H. CAMPBELL,
Offg. Collr. of Govt. Customs.

Calcutta, Govt. Custom House,
The 25th March 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. BRACKEN,
Collector of Customs.

Calcutta, Collector's Office,
Govt. Custom House, the 5th March 1852.

NOTIFICATION.—An examination will be held early in April 1852, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Military Class of the Medical College. All candidates will be expected to possess a knowledge of the Hindustani language, adequate to enable them to read and write it in the Persian or Devanagri character.

2nd. All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested, through the Military Departments, not to grant certificates of qualification to any candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years, and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expence and inconvenience have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with certificates, who were found, on examination, quite unqualified for admission: and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this that the above measure has been adopted.

3rd. Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper descriptive roll may be prepared for transmission to the examiners of the College of Fort William.

4th. The preference in selection, attainments being equal, will be given to those who have already been attached to, or served in Civil or Regimental Hospitals.

5th. No candidate will be allowed to present himself for examination, who cannot produce a written testimonial of his conduct and character, or afford satisfactory evidence as to who and what he is. A few individuals of decidedly bad character have, upon recent occasions, managed to obtain admittance, it is supposed, by producing false papers: the strictest care and scrutiny will therefore be exercised in examining the credentials of all future candidates, who will, in addition, require to be furnished with regular muster rolls, in order that they may be identified.

6th. All pupils must, as a condition of their appointment, reside within the College premises at all times, and never be absent from morning and evening muster without special leave.

7th. All students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

8th. No candidate will be admitted to the School, who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

(By Order)
FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D.,
Secretary, Council of Education.

Fort William,
The 30th January, 1852.

EDUCATION NOTICE.—The next Meeting of the Committee appointed for the examination of Candidates for promotion and employment in the Education Department, will be held in the Hindu College on Saturday, the 3rd of April 1852.

Detailed particulars of the nature and extent of the examination, the number of vacancies in the Department, &c. &c., will be afforded by the Secretary to the Council of Education to all Candidates on personal application.

(By order,)

No. 309.

Fort William, Home Department, the 2nd April 1852.

The Hon'ble the Court of Directors having appointed Barnes Peacock, Esquire, to be Fourth Ordinary Member of the Council of India, in succession to the late John Elliot Drinkwater Bethune, Esquire, and the said Barnes Peacock, Esquire, having arrived at the Presidency in the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Vessel "Oriental," he has accordingly this day taken the Oaths and his Seat as Fourth Ordinary Member of the Council of India under the usual salute from the ramparts of Fort William.

By order of the Most Noble the Governor General in Council,

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 27th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT No. XX. OF 1852.

An Act to facilitate the Acquisition of Land needed for public purposes in the Presidency of Fort St. George.

I. Whenever it shall appear to the Governor of Fort St. George in Council that any land is needed for a public purpose, he shall make a declaration to that effect in a Minute of Council, and such declaration shall be conclusive evidence that the purpose for which the land is needed is a public purpose.

II. When a declaration has been made by the Governor in Council that any land is needed for a public purpose, if there shall be any hinderance to the immediate acquisition of such land by purchase from the parties interested therein, it shall be competent to the Governor in Council to order the land to be taken possession of on the part of Government and applied to the purpose for which it is needed, leaving claims for compensation for the land to be determined as hereinafter provided.

III. When such order is passed by the Governor in Council it shall be sent to the Collector of the District in which the land lies, or to such other Officer as the Governor in Council shall think fit to appoint to carry it into execution; and the Collector or other Officer so appointed, shall cause the land ordered to be taken to be marked out and measured, and possession to be taken thereof on behalf of Government, and the land shall thenceforward be vested absolutely in the Government, free and clear of all other estates, rights, titles, remainders, reversions, limitations, trusts and interests, and also of all mortgages, liens, or incumbrances whatsoever, of and in the land so taken as aforesaid; and any suit which may be instituted to recover the land so taken by Government, in any Court of Judicature, shall be dismissed with costs. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the party who may receive the value of any land so taken by Government, without having a good title to the same.

IV. As soon as the land has been marked out, the Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, shall cause the order in Council to be affixed in some conspicuous place upon the land, and published by proclamation in the neighbouring bazars and villages, with a citation, calling on all parties interested in the land to appear before him in person, or by authorized agents, on a certain day, not less than fifteen days after the date of citation, and to state the nature of their interests in the land required, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for the same.

V. It shall be competent to the said Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, to admit any such claims that appear to him to be valid, and if he and all the parties interested in the land agree as to the compensation to be allowed to them respectively, to pass an award for the same.

VI. If the said Collector or Officer shall judge any of the claims preferred to be inadmissible, and the parties interested in the land or any of them shall nevertheless persist in such claims, or if the said Collector or Officer, admitting the interests claimed, shall object to the compensation demanded for the same as excessive, the points in dispute shall be referred to the determination of arbitrators, to be appointed in the manner hereinafter provided.

VII. Two persons shall be chosen to act as arbitrators on the part of Government, by the Collector or other Officer duly appointed as aforesaid, and the party or parties claiming to be interested in the land taken shall be called upon by the said Collector or Officer to elect, within fifteen days, two persons to act as arbitrators on his or their part. If there be several parties interested as aforesaid, and they cannot agree within the required period in the election of persons to act as arbitrators on their behalf, then and in that case each of them shall nominate one person whom he may desire to act on his behalf, and the said Collector or Officer shall choose by lot, out of the persons so nominated by the parties aforesaid, or by any of them, two persons to act as arbitrators on behalf of the parties interested in the land. If only two persons shall be so nominated by the parties interested in the land, they shall be the arbitrators on behalf of such parties, whether the whole of the parties interested as aforesaid may or may not have been concerned in their nomination. If only one person shall be so nominated, then only one of the persons selected to act as arbitrators on the part of Government, shall be employed on the duty. If the parties interested in the land shall refuse or neglect, or if, by reason of minority, lunacy or absence from the Presidency, they shall be unable, to make any nomination within the required period, then the said Collector or Officer shall and may select two impartial persons to arbitrate the matter between Government and the parties interested in the land.

VIII. Before the arbitrators proceed to arbitrate, they shall be required by the said Collector or Officer, to appoint an umpire for the decision of any points whereon they may differ in opinion, when the voices on each side shall be equal. If the arbitrators cannot agree in the selection of an umpire, the said Collector or Officer shall be authorized to choose some person to act as such.

IX. In cases wherein the arbitrators may differ in opinion, if the voices on each side shall be equal, the decision of the umpire on the point of difference shall be conclusive: in all other cases, the opinion of the majority of arbitrators shall determine the award.

X. The arbitrators shall hold their inquiry under the general superintendence of the Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, who shall be competent to exercise towards them such powers and authority, for the purpose of securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, as the Courts of Judicature may legally exercise towards persons summoned as witnesses before them, for the purpose of compelling such witnesses to attend and give evidence. It shall further be competent to the Officer presiding, in the event of any unnecessary delay on the part of arbitrators, in determining any question referred to them, to call upon them to make their award within a specified time, and in default thereof, to refer such question to the umpire for his decision.

XI. The said Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid shall, on the application of the arbitrators, summon any witnesses whom the arbitrators may call for, and whom the parties may not be able to produce before them without such process. He shall also cause the proper forms of affirmation to be executed by any witnesses whom the arbitrators may desire to examine upon affirmation, or he may empower the arbitrators to administer or cause the execution of such affirmation, if the witnesses cannot with convenience attend before him. Any witness who shall refuse or omit to appear when duly summoned by such Collector or Officer, or who shall appear but shall refuse to execute the affirmation to be administered as aforesaid, or who shall refuse to give evidence, shall be liable to the same punishment which would be incurred under the law by a witness refusing to appear or give evidence before a court of justice. Any person giving intentionally and deliberately a false deposition, under a solemn affirmation in any case referred to arbitration as above, and upon a point material to the issue thereof, shall be held to be guilty of perjury, and shall be liable to the penalties prescribed for that offence by law; and any person causing or procuring another person to commit the offence of perjury, as above described, shall be guilty of subornation of perjury and punishable according to law.

XII. It shall also be competent to the Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, to demand from the parties interested in the land so taken as aforesaid, the production of any accounts, title-deeds, or other documents which may be required by the arbitrators for the purposes of their inquiry, and in the event of such accounts, title-deeds, or documents being withheld, and the fact of their existence being proved by information given upon solemn affirmation, to order the seizure of such accounts, title-deeds, and documents wherever they may have been deposited, in the manner prescribed by Section IX. Regulation IX. of 1822 of the Madras Code, and to exercise for that purpose the powers thereby vested in Collectors.

XIII. The arbitrators shall take into consideration the statements of the parties interested in the said land, and the objections of the Collector or other Officer aforesaid on behalf of Government, and after examining the evidence offered on both sides, and making any further inquiry that may appear to them necessary, shall pass their award allowing or disallowing the interests claimed, and determining the total amount of compensation to be given for the interests allowed, the mode in which it is to be given, and if to be given to more than one party, the shares of the total compensation which each party shall be entitled to receive.

XIV. The award of the arbitrators, or of the umpire, if he shall be called upon to make an award, shall be binding and conclusive both upon the Government and the parties interested in the land, as respects the gross amount of the compensation to be paid by Government, unless the award shall be set aside by the Civil Court of the zillah upon a charge of corruption against the arbitrators or the umpire, as the case may be, brought by either party, and proved after due investigation, to the satisfaction of such Court; in which case the matter shall be referred for the determination of a second set of arbitrators, to be chosen in the same manner as the first, and their decision, whatever it may be, shall be final. No petition to set aside an award made under this Act shall be received by the Civil Court of the zillah, unless it be presented within thirty days from the date of the award complained of; and the said petition shall be presented on stampt paper of the value used for miscellaneous petitions, and shall be accompanied with a copy of the award objected to. The award of the arbitrators or umpire shall also be binding as respects the shares to be paid to the several parties interested in the land, unless upon a suit instituted within thirty days from the date of the award, in a competent Court, by any of the parties concerned, to alter the apportionment made by such award, an injunction shall be issued to suspend the payment until a decree is passed in the case.

XV. If any question arises as to the previous possession of or title to any land taken by Government under this Act, or if the parties or any of them interested in the land are minors, lunatics, or absent as aforesaid, and are not represented by their guardian, committee, attorney, or other person authorized in that behalf, or if there exist other grounds which, in the judgment of the arbitrators, render it improper to make immediate payment of the compensation awarded by them, or of any part thereof, to any of the parties interested in such land, the said arbitrators shall certify the same to the said Collector or Officer, under whose directions they may act, and in such case, or if for any such reason, or any such ground as aforesaid the said Collector or other Officer shall deem immediate payment improper, then the amount of compensation payable shall be held in deposit by Government, until the parties interested in the said land or some of them shall obtain an order of a competent Court for the payment of the same and interest (if any) to them. All sums held in deposit as aforesaid exceeding in amount the sum of five hundred Rupees, shall be invested in Government Securities.

XVI. On the close of the inquiry, the arbitrators or umpire shall deliver to the Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, a full and complete report and award upon the questions submitted to their arbitration, under their respective signatures, specifying the amount of compensation to be granted, and, (except where under Section XV. it may appear proper to suspend payment,) the parties to whom it is to be made, and the proportions to be paid to each respectively, with a solemn declaration subscribed thereto, that the award so given, is, to the best of their judgment, true and impartial, and according to the evidence adduced before them, and they shall at the same time deposit with the said Collector or Officer the whole of their proceedings.

XVII. All suits and proceedings instituted against Government to obtain compensation for land taken as aforesaid, other than such petitions to set aside awards as aforesaid, shall be dismissed with costs, but nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of any party to recover the value of any land taken by Government from any person who may have received the same without having any title thereto.

XVIII. In the case of land declared by a Minute of the Governor in Council to be needed for a public purpose being acquired by the Government by bargain with and purchase from the parties apparently interested therein, the Collector or Officer appointed by Government to receive possession of the same, shall cause proclamation to be made in the manner prescribed in the fourth Section of this Act, of the transfer of the land to Government, by the said parties, and requiring all other persons who may claim any right, title or interest in such land, to prefer their claims within one calendar month after such proclamation made; and any claims that may be preferred shall be dealt with under Section V. or under Section VI. and the following Sections of this Act. Provided always, that if no claim shall be made within one calendar month after such proclamation as aforesaid, the said land shall vest absolutely in the Government, free and clear of all other estates, rights, titles, remainders, reversions, limitations, trusts, interests, mortgages, liens or incumbrances whatsoever of and in the said land so purchased; and any suit to recover the land so purchased by Government, or to obtain from Government compensation for the loss thereof, which may be preferred in any Court of Judicature, shall be dismissed with costs. But nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the party who may receive the value of any land purchased by Government without having a good title to the same.

XIX. In cases referred to arbitration, under the provisions of this Act, any necessary expense which may attend the inquiry of the arbitration, whether for the diet of witnesses or otherwise, shall be paid by Government.

XX. The provisions of Act XLII. of 1850, shall be applicable and in force within the Madras Presidency; and the said Act shall be construed as if instead of the words and figures "Regulation I. of 1824 of the Bengal Code" or "the said Regulation" therein mentioned, the number and title of this Act had been therein inserted.

XXI. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, (that is to say,)

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "land" shall extend to tenements and hereditaments of any tenure, and all houses, buildings, walls, or appurtenants thereupon as well as land.

The expression "party or parties interested in the land" shall be understood to mean all parties interested in the land either for life or for years, or in remainder, reversion, or succession, and all trustees, cestui que trusts, mortgagees, incumbrancers, leaseholders or tenants, not being tenants by the month or at will of such land.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 27th March 1852, is published for general information:—

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 5th December 1851, and published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th December 1851, to facilitate the enforcement of judgments in places beyond the jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.

Resolution. The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following revised Draft on the subject be published for general information:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to facilitate the Enforcement of Judgments in Places beyond the Jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.

I. Every party who shall obtain a judgment in any Court of Her Majesty, or of the East India Company, in any Presidency or place, or in any Extra-Regulation Province or Territory, possessed by the East India Company before the 22nd day of April 1834, and cannot enforce or obtain execution of the same within the jurisdiction of such Court, and is desirous of enforcing, or obtaining execution of the same in any other Presidency or place, or in any other Province or Territory as aforesaid, shall apply to the Court which has pronounced such judgment for a duplicate thereof, and also for a certificate that the judgment or some part thereof remains unsatisfied, and if necessary, for a translation of the said judgment into the English language, and on the receipt of the said duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any), the party shall present the same to the Court within the jurisdiction of which he is desirous of enforcing or obtaining execution of such judgment, and the last-mentioned Court shall thereupon cause the said duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any) to be filed as of record, and from and after the filing thereof, the said judgment shall be of the same force and effect as a judgment of the last-mentioned Court, and shall be duly enforced or executed, according to the tenor thereof, by such last-mentioned Court.

II. Every such certificate and duplicate judgment and translation (if any) as aforesaid, shall be signed by a Judge of the Court which passed or pronounced such judgment, and shall also be sealed with the seal of such Court, if such Court has a seal.

III. When any of the said Courts shall enforce or execute the judgment of any other Court as aforesaid, the Court so enforcing or executing the same shall proceed so to do according to its own laws and mode of procedure in like cases, and the last-mentioned Court shall take cognizance of, and punish all wrongful acts or irregularities done or committed in enforcing and executing such judgment, and all persons disobeying or obstructing the enforcement or execution of any such judgment, shall be punishable by such last-mentioned Court, in the same manner as if the said judgment had been pronounced by such Court.

IV. Each of the said Courts shall recognize, enforce, and execute any judgment passed by any Court in any Extra-Regulation Province or Territory acquired by the East India Company, after the said 22nd day of April 1834, or by any Court established by authority of the Governor General of India in Council in the Territory of any foreign Prince or State, and shall, upon the receipt of any such duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any) as aforesaid, file the same as of record, and from and after the filing thereof, the said judgment shall be of the same force and effect as a judgment of the last-mentioned Court, and shall be duly enforced or executed by such last-mentioned Court, according to the tenor thereof, in such manner as in Section III. provided.

V. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction; that is to say, the word "judgment" shall include any final decree, order, or judgment in any Civil suit or proceeding, and the words "Extra-Regulation Province or Territory" shall include any Province or Territory to which the Regulations and Acts of the Supreme Government of India have not been extended.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of June next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th of March 1852:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to provide a permanent Sheriff for the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and to facilitate the Execution of the Process of the Supreme Courts of Judicature.

Whereas it is expedient to provide a permanent Sheriff for the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and, on the occasion of the first vacancy in the Office of Coroner in the said Towns respectively, to provide for the performance of the duties of that Office by the Sheriffs respectively appointed under this Act; And whereas it is expedient to vest in the said Sheriffs powers of superintendence and control over the Gaols and Houses of Correction in the said Towns respectively;

And whereas by the Charters of the Supreme Courts of Judicature, the process of the said Courts, except in certain cases, is required to be addressed to and executed by the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay respectively, which in the case of parties resident without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Courts is often attended with unnecessary expense and other inconvenience; And whereas it is desirable to make provision for the execution of the process of the said Supreme Courts without the local limits of their jurisdiction similar to that made for the execution of the process of the Courts of the East India Company within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Courts, It is hereby enacted as follows:

The Sheriffs now in Office to continue until new Sheriffs are appointed under this Act.

I. The persons who at the time of the passing of this Act shall be the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, shall be and continue the Sheriffs of such Towns respectively, until other persons shall be duly appointed and sworn into the said Offices respectively under the provisions of this Act.

Appointment of Sheriffs during good behaviour.

II. On the first day of December next after the passing of this Act, each of the Supreme Courts of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, shall respectively nominate in writing three persons as fit and proper to serve the office of Sheriff in the said Towns respectively, and shall transmit such nomination to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidencies or place in which such Courts are situate, who, with all convenient speed, shall respectively appoint one of the said three persons to serve the Office of Sheriff during good behaviour, from and after the 20th day of December next after such appointment. Provided always, that the persons to be nominated and appointed as aforesaid shall be respectively Barristers, or Solicitors, and also residents of the Town for which they are nominated or appointed as aforesaid, or the precincts thereof.

Sheriffs to take oaths and give security.

III. Every Sheriff, nominated and appointed as aforesaid, before he enters upon the said Office, shall take an oath faithfully to execute the duties thereof, and also the oath of allegiance, before the Governor or Governor in Council, or, in his absence, before any of the Secretaries to the Government, who are hereby respectively authorized to administer the said oaths; and shall also give security, by bond, to the East India Company, himself for Rupees Twenty-five thousand, with two or more sureties, jointly and severally, for another sum of Rupees Twenty-five thousand, for the due execution of his said Office.

Provision in case of death, resignation, removal, or departure of Sheriffs.

IV. In case of the death, resignation, removal from Office, or departure from the Presidency of any Sheriff, then the Supreme Court shall immediately appoint some Officer of the Court or other person to act for the time as Sheriff, until some other person shall be duly nominated, appointed, and sworn, in manner aforesaid, to such Office, and notwithstanding such temporary appointment, another person shall, as soon as conveniently may be after such death, resignation, removal, or departure, be, in manner aforesaid, nominated, appointed, and sworn in as Sheriff, and shall continue in the said Office during good behaviour.

The powers and duties of the Sheriffs appointed for one year to be exercised and performed by the Sheriffs appointed during good behaviour under this Act.

V. All the powers, rights, privileges and duties hitherto exercised, enjoyed, or performed by the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively nominated and appointed for the period of one year under the respective Letters Patent of His late Majesty King George the Third, bearing date the 26th of March 1774, and the 26th of December 1800, and of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, bearing date the 8th of December 1823, and all other powers, rights, and privileges to the said Sheriffs given and reserved, and all other the duties to be by them performed and done, shall be transferred to and vested in, and duly exercised, performed, and done by the Sheriffs respectively appointed for the time as aforesaid under the fourth Section, and by the Sheriffs holding Office during good behaviour, to be respectively appointed under this Act.

Sheriffs may be removed by Government for misconduct.

VI. Any Sheriff appointed under this Act may be removed from his said Office by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which he is resident for misconduct in the discharge of the duties of his Office, or in the discharge of any of the duties imposed on him by this Act.

Sheriffs not to appoint a Deputy except in case of illness, and not to engage in trade, &c.

VII. It shall not be lawful for any of the said Sheriffs to appoint a Deputy Sheriff, or to carry on or be engaged in any profession, trade, or business. Provided always, that in case of the illness of any such Sheriff, he may, with the consent of the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which he is resident, appoint a Deputy to act for him during such illness.

As to the keeping and investment of monies in the Sheriff's hands.

VIII. The monies from time to time in the hands of the said Sheriffs, shall be kept by them respectively in the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay respectively, or shall be otherwise kept and invested as the Governor or Governor in Council of each Presidency or place shall, from time to time, order; and the said order shall be published in the Government Gazette, and shall be full authority, protection, and indemnity, in all Courts whatsoever, for such keeping and investing.

Sheriffs to keep accounts, which are to be open for inspection.

IX. The said Sheriffs shall enter into books, to be kept by them respectively for that purpose, separate and distinct accounts of all such sums of money, securities for money, goods, effects and things as shall come to their hands as such Sheriffs respectively, or to the hands of any person by their order or for their use, and likewise of all payments made by them as such Sheriffs respectively, or by their order, or for their use, and specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; and the said books shall be kept in the offices of the said Sheriffs respectively, and shall be open at office-hours for the inspection of all practitioners in the said Supreme Courts respectively, as may have occasion to inspect the same, paying such fee as may be from time to time fixed therefore by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place.

Sheriffs once a year to present a Schedule of accounts and balances in their hands to the Supreme Courts, and such Schedule to be published in the Gazette.

X. The said Sheriffs shall respectively once in every year, that is to say, on the first day of February, or on the first day on which the said Supreme Courts respectively shall be sitting after that day, exhibit and deliver in open Court a true Schedule showing the gross amount of all sums of money received or paid by them as such Sheriffs respectively, and the balances during the preceding year, that is to say, during the period between the 1st day of January and the 31st day of December next before the day of delivering such Schedule, and a true list of all securities, goods, effects, and things as shall have come to their hands during the same period, and the said Schedules shall be filed of record in the said Courts, and shall, within fourteen days afterwards, be published by the said Sheriffs respectively in the Government Gazette, and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Government of the Presidency or place.

Auditors to be appointed by Government.

XI. The Governor or Governor in Council of such Presidency or place shall from time to time appoint an Auditor or Auditors to examine the accounts of the said Sheriffs, at the time of the delivery of the said Schedules, and also at any other time when the said Governor or Governor in Council shall think fit.

Auditors to examine Accounts, &c., and report thereon to Government.

XII. The Auditor or Auditors shall examine the Schedules and Accounts, and report to the said Governor or Governor in Council whether they contain a full and true account of everything which ought to be inserted therein, and whether the Books, by this Act directed to be kept by the said Sheriffs, are duly and regularly kept, and whether the moneys are duly kept and invested in such manner as is by law prescribed.

Powers of Auditors.

XIII. Every Auditor shall have power to summon as well the Sheriff as any other person or persons whose presence he may think necessary, to attend him from time to time; and to examine the said Sheriff or other party or parties if he shall think fit, on oath or solemn affirmation to be by him administered; and to call for all Books, Papers, and Documents which may appear to him to be necessary for the purposes of the said reference; and if the said Sheriff or other person or persons, when summoned, shall refuse, or without reasonable cause neglect to attend, or to produce any Books, Papers or Documents required, or shall attend and refuse to be sworn or make a solemn affirmation, when by law an affirmation may be substituted for an oath, or shall refuse to be examined, the Auditor or Auditors shall certify such neglect or refusal in writing to the Supreme Court of Judicature, and every person so refusing or neglecting shall thereupon be punishable, in like manner as if such refusal or neglect had been in contempt of the said Supreme Court.

Sheriff to pay costs of preparing and publishing Schedules.

XIV. The costs and expenses of preparing and publishing the said Schedules and copies thereof, shall be defrayed by the said Sheriffs respectively.

If Auditors dissatisfied with Accounts they shall report to Government, specifying their objections.

XV. If, upon any such reference and examination, the Auditor or Auditors shall see reason to believe that the said Schedules do not contain a true and correct account of the matters therein, or which ought to be therein contained, he or they shall report accordingly to the Governor or Governor in Council, specifying the substance of the objections thereto.

Power to Advocate General to proceed by petition for an account against Sheriff or his representatives, &c., and to exhibit interrogatories.

XVI. The Governor or Governor in Council of such Presidency or place shall refer every such report as last aforesaid to the consideration of the Advocate General of the East India Company at such Presidency or place, who shall thereupon, if he shall think fit, proceed summarily, by petition, for an account against the said Sheriff or against the late Sheriff after his removal from Office, or against his personal representatives in case of his death, in respect of all or any of the moneys then or formerly in his possession, or under his care, as the said Advocate General shall think fit; and shall have power to exhibit interrogatories to the said Sheriff, or other person or persons defendants, who shall be bound to answer the same as fully as if the same had been contained in a Bill filed for the like purpose, and the Supreme Court shall have power, on any such petition filed, to examine orally the parties before it and all witnesses, or to refer the accounts to be taken in the ordinary way, and shall make such order, as to the costs of such reference and examination, as to the said Court shall seem just.

Effect of orders on such petitions.

XVII. The said Courts shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a bill filed; and such orders shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner, as Decretal Orders.

East India Company and Governments not to be liable for Sheriff, except only to the extent of moneys actually recovered by them under the bond of the Sheriff and his sureties.

XVIII. Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to render the East India Company, or the Governor or Governor in Council of any Presidency or place, liable, or in any manner answerable or accountable, for any misconduct or breach of trust on the part of any such Sheriff, or for any moneys, securities, goods or effects which may have come to the hands of such Sheriff, or for the loss or misapplication thereof, or any part thereof, except only to the extent of any moneys which may be actually recovered by the said East India Company from any such Sheriff or his sureties, under any such security bonds as hereinbefore in Section III. mentioned.

Liability of Sheriff.

XIX. If any person taken in execution on any process shall escape out of the legal custody of the Sheriff, the Sheriff shall not be liable to an action of debt for such escape, but shall be liable only to an action upon the case for damages in consequence of such escape sustained by the person or persons at whose suit the prisoner was taken.

On the first vacancy in Office of Coroner, Sheriff to be appointed Coroner.

XX. On the occasion of the first vacancy in the Office of Coroner, in any of the said Towns, the Sheriff appointed under this Act for the said Town shall be appointed Coroner thereof, and shall exercise and perform all the powers and duties of the said Office, as well as the powers and duties of Sheriff, and the said Sheriff shall receive no salary for the performance of the duties of Coroner, but only such fees in respect of each inquest held by him as shall be in that behalf provided by the general rules and orders hereinafter mentioned.

Provision in case Sheriff is a party or interested in any action.

XXI. If any Sheriff acting as Coroner under the provisions of this Act shall be a party to or interested in any action or suit in the Supreme Court of the Town of which he is Sheriff, all writs issued by the said Court in such action or suit shall be directed to some Officer of the said Court for execution, who shall execute the same for and instead of the said Sheriff.

Power to Supreme Courts to make orders regulating Sheriff's fees; orders to be laid before the Governor General of India in Council.

XXII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively from time to time to make, rescind, and alter general rules and orders regulating and specifying the exact amount of fees and allowances to be received by the said Sheriffs respectively, for and in respect of all or any of the processes or duties to be executed or done by them respectively under the provisions aforesaid, and all such general rules and orders shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within two months after the making and issuing the same, and every such rule or order shall, from and after the time in that behalf to be appointed by the said Courts respectively, and if no time shall be so appointed, then from and after the making thereof, be binding and obligatory on the said Courts respectively, and be of like force and effect as if the provisions therein contained had been expressly enacted by the Governor General of India in Council. Provided always, that every such rule or order which shall not be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within the time limited by this Act for that purpose, shall, from and after the expiration of such time, be absolutely void and of no effect; and provided also, that if the Governor General of India in Council shall by any resolution, passed at any time within six months after such rules and orders shall have been laid before him, resolve that the whole or any part of such rules or orders ought not to continue in force, in such case the whole or such part thereof as shall be so included in such resolution shall, from and after such resolution, cease to be binding and obligatory on the said Courts.

XXIII. It shall be lawful for the said Sheriffs respectively, subject to such orders as they may from time to time receive from the Governor or Governor in Council, to superintend, order, and control the Gaols and Houses of Correction in the said Towns respectively, and the Keepers and Governors thereof and the discipline and arrangement to be observed, therein, and generally to carry out the orders of Government with respect to the said Gaols and Houses of Correction, and the management thereof, and the said Sheriffs respectively, some time in the month of January in every year, shall present a report to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which they are respectively resident, setting forth full particulars as to the number, accommodation, health, diet and discipline of the prisoners confined in the said Gaols and Houses of Correction during the previous year, and of the expenses and receipts incurred or received in the said Gaols and Houses of Correction, and of the rules orders and arrangements from time to time issued or made by them, or by the Keepers or Governors under them, with respect to the matters aforesaid, or any of them. Provided always, that it shall be lawful for any Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or place, and for any Justice of the Peace acting within and for any of the said Towns, to visit and inspect at all times the Gaols and Houses of Correction therein, and to report on the state and management thereof to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which such Gaol or House of Correction is situated.

Sheriffs to superintend Gaols and Houses of Correction, subject to orders of Government; power to Justices to visit and report thereon.

XXIV. It shall be lawful for the said Supreme Courts respectively, when any process of the said Courts is to be executed against any person subject to the jurisdiction thereof and not resident within the local limits thereof, or against any property without such limits, to issue any process which the said Courts are or may be empowered to issue, and to address the same to such Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace as the said Supreme Courts shall think fit, and to direct the execution thereof in the manner hereinafter provided, and the same shall be executed accordingly, and upon the same being executed and returned in the manner provided for by this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively to proceed thereupon in like manner as if the same had been executed according to the practice of the Courts before the passing of this Act.

Supreme Courts to issue process to certain persons, and direct execution thereof.

XXV. It shall be lawful for any of the said Supreme Courts, or for any Judge thereof, by a letter of request addressed to any Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace without the local limits of the said Supreme Courts, inclosing or accompanied by two duplicate originals of any such process as aforesaid, to request that such process may be executed within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace pursuant to the directions therein contained, and such letter and each of such duplicates shall be signed by one of the Judges of the said Supreme Courts, and sealed with the seal of the said Courts, and the production thereof purporting to be signed and sealed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the issuing of such process, and that the requisition thereof shall and may be performed by any person for the time being constituting such Court, or discharging the duties of such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace.

Supreme Courts to address letters of request to Mofussil authorities, with duplicates of the process.

XXVI. Upon the production of such letter of request, together with such duplicates as aforesaid, such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall by endorsement upon one of such duplicates respectively under his hand, direct the said process to be executed pursuant to such directions as aforesaid by such person as such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall appoint to execute the same, and shall deliver one of such duplicates to such person so appointed to execute the same, and the same shall be executed accordingly, and if the same shall require to be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed, then such duplicate may be executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction over the subject-matter of such process in like manner as the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed. Provided always that when such process shall be executed by any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom the letter of request aforesaid was not addressed, a Judge of such Court or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace so executing the same shall certify in writing under his hand the execution of such process, and shall forward such certificate to the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request was addressed, of which said certificate, purporting to be issued as aforesaid, the production alone shall be sufficient evidence.

Mofussil authorities to endorse one duplicate and deliver the other to some person for execution.

XXVII. When such process shall have been executed in manner aforesaid, any Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid to which or to whom such letter of request as aforesaid was addressed, shall, by indorsement upon the other of such duplicates under his hand, certify the execution thereof, and shall deliver such duplicate so indorsed to the party or parties by whom the same was originally produced, or his or their agents, and the production of such duplicate so indorsed, and appearing to be so signed as aforesaid, shall be sufficient evidence of the execution of such process.

Mofussil authorities to certify execution upon one of the duplicates, and deliver the same to the party.

XXVIII. Upon the delivery of such duplicates of any Civil process as aforesaid to such Court, Judge, or Magistrate as aforesaid, the said Court, Judge, or Magistrate shall cause the date of such delivery to be indorsed on such duplicates, and shall cause the said process to be executed in like manner or as near thereto as if the same had been issued from or by such Court, Judge, or Magistrate or Justice of the Peace at the time of the said delivery; and no distinction shall be made as to priority or otherwise between the execution of such process as aforesaid or any other process of or by the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace; but every process, whether original or otherwise, shall, as between each other, be subject to the same rules touching the mode and order of execution as are now or may be from time to time established in respect of process originally issued by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice.

Date of delivery of process to be endorsed and process to be executed in like manner as if issued by the Mofussil authority.

XXIX. Where any process of the said Supreme Courts against any lands out of such local limits shall be issued for the purpose of being enforced or executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace under the provisions of this Act, a copy of the judgment, decree, or order of the Supreme Court, by virtue of which such process issued, shall, if the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, shall so require, be recorded in the Court to which such process is forwarded to be executed, and a copy of such judgment, order or decree shall be forwarded, sealed with the seal of the said Supreme Court, for the purpose of such record. Provided always that such copy shall be signed by one of the Judges, and shall be under the seal of the said Supreme Court.

Order by virtue of which process issued may be registered in the Court to which the process is forwarded.

XXX. Persons wilfully neglecting to execute such process, or obstructing the execution thereof, shall be liable to be punished in like manner and by the like Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace, as if such process had been issued originally by such Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace. Provided that nothing herein contained shall deprive the said Supreme Courts respectively of their power to punish such persons for a contempt, in case they shall not be otherwise punished.

Persons wilfully neglecting to execute process, or obstructing the execution thereof, punishable.

XXXI. All persons and property seized or detained under any process executed by virtue of this Act shall be dealt with in like manner as if such persons or property had been seized or detained under the like process issued by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid; and all monies levied by virtue of any such process (after deducting therefrom all such fees, charges and expenses for executing the same, as shall be from time to time appointed in that behalf by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and sanctioned by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place), shall be paid or caused to be paid by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the Sheriff of the Court from which such process shall have issued.

Persons and property seized to be dealt with as if seized by the Mofussil authorities, and all monies levied after deducting expenses to be forwarded to the Sheriff.

XXXII. In the case of persons seized or detained by virtue of any process executed under authority of this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace to cause such persons to be imprisoned in the nearest convenient Gaol, and there detained until, by order of the Supreme Court or any Judge thereof, such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall be required to release the party from custody, or to deliver him to a Bailiff of the Sheriff for removal in custody to Her Majesty's Gaol of the Court from which such process shall have issued.

Parties arrested in the Mofussil may be imprisoned there.

XXXIII. No action or other proceeding shall be had or maintained against any person or persons constituting such Court, or any such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or any person or persons acting under his or their orders, for or in respect of any act, matter, or thing done or omitted to be done in the execution or service of any such process, and it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Courts respectively, upon application thereto, to stay any such action or proceeding commenced in the said Courts, and to order the party commencing or prosecuting the same to pay the costs thereof, as between solicitor and client. Provided always that nothing herein contained shall be construed to protect any person who shall wilfully act in excess of the authority reposed in him.

Indemnity to the Mofussil authorities executing process.

XXXIV. Any copy of any judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Courts respectively, which is by this Act required to be recorded, and any process of the said Courts to be executed by any other Court, or by any Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace under the provisions of this Act, and any proceeding by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace thereupon may be transmitted by such Supreme Courts to such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or by such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the said Supreme Courts, by dawk or by any private hand.

Processes to be forwarded by dawk or private hand.

XXXV. The said Supreme Courts respectively shall from time to time frame such forms of letters of request, and of any process of the said Courts, which is to be addressed and executed under the provisions of this Act, as may be necessary to give full effect to the provisions hereinbefore contained.

Supreme Courts to frame forms of letters of request and process.

XXXVI. The word "process" in this Act shall extend to and include all criminal and civil process of the said Supreme Courts, which require to be executed without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Courts, and any notice of any proceedings instituted or to be instituted in the said Courts, or of any step to be taken or application made in or in respect of such proceedings; and the word "lands" shall extend to and include any immoveable property; and any word denoting the singular number or masculine gender shall extend to and include more persons, matters, or things than one, and females as well as males.

Interpretation Clause.

Ordered that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 27th day of June next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th March 1852:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Mode of Procedure in Criminal Cases in the Courts of the East India Company.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the new trial of prisoners, when, by reason of the death, absence, or removal of the Judge, their trials remain unfinished; and whereas it is also expedient to enable Magistrates to summon accused parties before they proceed to take the evidence of the prosecutor and his witnesses, It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. When any criminal trial shall have been commenced and shall be pending and undecided before any Judge or Magistrate at the time of his death, removal, or departure from the station, it shall not be lawful for any other Judge or Magistrate to continue and carry on such trial, but the Judge or Magistrate competent to try the prisoner shall, as soon as conveniently may be, commence a new trial and re-examine all the witnesses.

II. When a Magistrate shall have examined any prosecutor respecting any charge brought by him against any person, and shall have summoned the witnesses on behalf of the prosecutor, he may also, in his discretion, summon the person or persons accused, or any one or more of them, in order that he or they may be confronted with the prosecutor and his witnesses, anything in Clause 6, Section II. Regulation III. of 1812, to the contrary notwithstanding.

III. Section V. Regulation VII. of 1811 is hereby repealed, and when any criminal charge has been preferred before a Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate against any person, and the prosecutor or informer shall fail to appear or shall abandon the charge against such person, or such person shall be acquitted, and it shall appear to the Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate to whom the complaint or information has been made, or by whom the case has been tried, that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate, at his discretion, to award such amends, not more than the sum of Rupees two hundred, to be paid by the prosecutor or informant to the party complained against for his loss of time, trouble, or expenses as to the Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate shall seem just, and in default of payment to sentence the prosecutor or informant to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding six calendar months, and every such order of amends or sentence of imprisonment pronounced by any Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate shall be final, and every order of amends or sentence of imprisonment pronounced by an Assistant Magistrate shall be subject to appeal to the Magistrate of the district only.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of June next.

ICE SHIPS.

NOTICE is hereby given, that twelve months after the date of this advertisement, the privilege now enjoyed by American Ships bringing Ice of exemption from Port dues to the extent of the Ice tonnage, will be withdrawn in conformity with the Orders of Government.

2nd. All American Ships arriving here with Ice, after the 11th March 1853, will be liable to the full amount of Port dues as other Ships are.

By order of the Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND,
Secretary.

Fort William,
the 11th March 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

By order of the Court,

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Special General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held on the 30th March 1852.

PRESENT:

Messrs. J. I. Harvey, E. Currie, R. Torrens, R. Trotter, E. Bentall, W. J. H. Money, G. Todd, G. Adams, J. S. Torrens, A. Forbes, G. G. Mackintosh, E. A. Samuells, C. Beadon, A. R. Young, H. M. Reid, W. Grey, J. W. Dalrymple, C. T. Buckland, H. Balfour, J. H. Mangles and J. M. Lowis.

J. I. HARVEY, ESQ., in the Chair.

Proposed by Mr. Currie, seconded by Mr. Dalrymple—That the revised Article 4. be adopted as follows:

"The Subscribers shall contribute from the 1st April "1852, at the following rates of per centage on their Salaries "and other authorized public emoluments, including furlough "allowance."

"Ordinary contribution from all Subscribers, 3 per Cent. "Additional contributions from married Subscribers, 2 per "cent."

"The subscriptions on this account being liable to increase "or decrease, according to the necessities of the Fund, as "ascertained by a quinquennial adjustment of its assets and "liabilities."

The following amendment was proposed by Mr. J. S. Torrens and seconded by Mr. Balfour—"That for the fifth and sixth lines of the proposed Article 4, the following be substituted: "'The contributions from married Subscribers "shall be 5 per Cent. and from unmarried, 2½ "per Cent.'"

The votes on the amendment were:

For, present 7, proxies 31, total 38.
Against „ 8, „ 12, „ 20.

The amendment was accordingly carried, and the original motion lost.

Proposed by Mr. Currie, seconded by Mr. Money—That the revised Article 5. be adopted as follows:

"Married and Widower Subscribers, with families, de"sirous of securing the benefits of the Fund for all or any "of their children, shall contribute further for such children, "from the same date, at the following rates:

"Married Subscribers—

"For each unmarried Daughter,..... ¼ per Cent.
"For each Son under the of 21 years, ... ¼ per Cent.

"Widower Subscribers—

"Double the above rates."

For present 16, proxies 42, total 58.
Against „ 0, „ 1, „ 1.

The Proposition was carried accordingly.

Proposed by Mr. Currie and seconded by Mr. Money—That the revised Article 8, Clause 1, be adopted as follows:

"Subscribers who may hereafter retire from the Service, "on Annuities of the Civil Service Annuity Fund, wishing to "secure to their Widows and Children the full benefits of "the Fund, must, on retirement, make up the amount of their "Subscriptions with interest, to Rupees 25,000; and must "also continue their contributions at the same rates on their "annuities as those levied from Subscribers in the Service "on their allowances, and under the same conditions in re"gard to minimum payments, and liability to increase or "decrease of rates; an option being allowed to each Subscri"ber of paying up, once for all, either at the time of resign"ing the Service, or at any subsequent period, the full value "of his contributions according to the tables of mortality "which, on the advice of an Actuary, may be adopted by the "Managers. This commutation will be calculated at 5 per "cent. in the following manner:—Ordinary subscriptions "on the life of the Subscriber alone; Additional subscrip"tions on the joint lives of Husband and Wife; and Extra "contributions for Children on the joint lives of Father and "Child. But such settlement will be open to re-adjust"ment, if the necessities of the Fund should be found to "require an enhanced rate of Subscription; and every retired "Subscriber will also be liable to pay in the same manner for "each Child afterwards born, and in case of subsequent "marriage, the additional premium as a married Subscriber."

This Proposition was carried unanimously by those present, with 39 proxies in favor of it, and none against it.

Proposed by Mr. Currie, seconded by Mr. Money—That the New Article 46, be adopted as follows:

"On and after the 1st May 1852, every Subscriber, "whether in the Service or after retirement on an Annuity, "marrying a Wife more than 5 years younger than himself "(counting from the last birth-day of each) shall pay to the "Fund, over and above all other payments required by the "rules, a fine according to the scale fixed for that purpose; "and his family shall not be entitled to the benefits of the "Fund until the fine, with interest calculated at 8 per cent. "from one calendar month after the date of marriage, is "paid."

Mr. Harvey having an amendment to propose, then vacated the Chair, which was occupied for the time by Mr. Currie. The following amendment was then proposed by Mr. Harvey, seconded by Mr. R. Torrens:

"That the proposition to levy a fine from each Subscriber, who after the 1st May 1852, whether in the Service or after retirement on an Annuity, shall marry a wife more than 5 years younger than himself, is not the best mode of providing for the exigencies of the Fund. That it is also of doubtful legality and opposed to the principles on which the Fund is established, by which the full advantages of the Fund are secured to all Subscribers, on equal terms. Further, that the proposition introduces a class distinction of payments of a nature necessarily productive of distasteful inquiries from Subscribers. That this Meeting resolve, therefore, to negative the proposed New Article 46."

The votes on the amendment, were:

For, present 7, proxies 31, total 38.
Against „ 9, „ 12, „ 21.

The amendment was accordingly carried, and the original Proposition, lost.

The provisions of Article 18 having been brought under the notice of the Meeting by the Chairman, it was proposed by Mr. Samuells, seconded by Mr. Beadon—"That the question whether the resolutions of this Meeting be referred to each Subscriber by separate letters, or by advertisement, be left to the decision of the Chairman."

This Proposition having been carried unanimously,

The Chairman stated his decision to be, that copy of the whole proceedings of the Meeting should be forwarded to each Subscriber by letter, and that the votes of each Subscriber should be requested for the adoption or rejection of the two original propositions which had been carried; and on the amendment proposed by Mr. Torrens on the revised Article 4, and which amendment had also been carried by this Meeting. The Chairman considered, that as this amendment had the effect of introducing a positive rule, altering the rates of contribution now existing, it must of necessity be referred for the votes of all the Subscribers.

With reference to his (Mr. Harvey's) amendment to the proposed New Article, (46,) which had also been carried by the Meeting, as it had the effect of a simple negative to the proposed New Rule, and introduced no change whatever, he (the Chairman) did not consider that an amendment of this nature could, under the Rules, be referred for the votes of the Service.

A letter (copy of which is annexed)* from Mr. St. G. Tucker to the address of the Secretary, dated 26th ultimo, was submitted to the Meeting by direction of the Managers.

Thanks were voted to the Chairman, and the Meeting separated.

J. I. HARVEY,
Chairman.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1852.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 27th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

Act No. XX. of 1852.

An Act to facilitate the Acquisition of Land needed for public purposes in the Presidency of Fort St. George.

I. Whenever it shall appear to the Governor of Fort St. George in Council that any land is needed for a public purpose, he shall make a declaration to that effect in a Minute of Council, and such declaration shall be conclusive evidence that the purpose for which the land is needed is a public purpose.

II. When a declaration has been made by the Governor in Council that any land is needed for a public purpose, if there shall be any hinderance to the immediate acquisition of such land by purchase from the parties interested therein, it shall be competent to the Governor in Council to order the land to be taken possession of on the part of Government and applied to the purpose for which it is needed, leaving claims for compensation for the land to be determined as hereinafter provided.

III. When such order is passed by the Governor in Council it shall be sent to the Collector of the District in which the land lies, or to such other Officer as the Governor in Council shall think fit to appoint to carry it into execution; and the Collector or other Officer so appointed, shall cause the land ordered to be taken to be marked out and measured, and possession to be taken thereof on behalf of Government, and the land shall thenceforward be vested absolutely in the Government, free and clear of all other estates, rights, titles, remainders, reversions, limitations, trusts and interests, and also of all mortgages, liens, or incumbrances whatsoever, of and in the land so taken as aforesaid; and any suit which may be instituted to recover the land so taken by Government, in any Court of Judicature, shall be dismissed with costs. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the party who may receive the value of any land so taken by Government, without having a good title to the same.

IV. As soon as the land has been marked out, the Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, shall cause the order in Council to be affixed in some conspicuous place upon the land, and published by proclamation in the neighbouring bazars and villages, with a citation, calling on all parties interested in the land to appear before him in person, or by authorized agents, on a certain day, not less than fifteen days after the date of citation, and to state the nature of their interests in the land required, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for the same.

V. It shall be competent to the said Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, to admit any such claims that appear to him to be valid, and if he and all the parties interested in the land agree as to the compensation to be allowed to them respectively, to pass an award for the same.

VI. If the said Collector or Officer shall judge any of the claims preferred to be inadmissible, and the parties interested in the land or any of them shall nevertheless persist in such claims, or if the said Collector or Officer, admitting the interests claimed, shall object to the compensation demanded for the same as excessive, the points in dispute shall be referred to the determination of arbitrators, to be appointed in the manner hereinafter provided.

VII. Two persons shall be chosen to act as arbitrators on the part of Government, by the Collector or other Officer duly appointed as aforesaid, and the party or parties claiming to be interested in the land taken shall be called upon by the said Collector or Officer to elect, within fifteen days, two persons to act as arbitrators on his or their part. If there be several parties interested as aforesaid, and they cannot agree within the required period in the election of persons to act as arbitrators on their behalf, then and in that case each of them shall nominate one person whom he may desire to act on his behalf, and the said Collector or Officer shall choose by lot, out of the persons so nominated by the parties aforesaid, or by any of them, two persons to act as arbitrators on behalf of the parties interested in the land. If only two persons shall be so nominated by the parties interested in the land, they shall be the arbitrators on behalf of such parties, whether the whole of the parties interested as aforesaid may or may not have been concerned in their nomination. If only one person shall be so nominated, then only one of the persons selected to act as arbitrators on the part of Government, shall be employed on the duty. If the parties interested in the land shall refuse or neglect, or if, by reason of minority, lunacy or absence from the Presidency, they shall be unable, to make any nomination within the required period, then the said Collector or Officer shall and may select two impartial persons to arbitrate the matter between Government and the parties interested in the land.

VIII. Before the arbitrators proceed to arbitrate, they shall be required by the said Collector or Officer, to appoint an umpire for the decision of any points whereon they may differ in opinion, when the voices on each side shall be equal. If the arbitrators cannot agree in the selection of an umpire, the said Collector or Officer shall be authorized to choose some person to act as such.

IX. In cases wherein the arbitrators may differ in opinion, if the voices on each side shall be equal, the decision of the umpire on the point of difference shall be conclusive: in all other cases, the opinion of the majority of arbitrators shall determine the award.

X. The arbitrators shall hold their inquiry under the general superintendence of the Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, who shall be competent to exercise towards them such powers and authority, for the purpose of securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, as the Courts of Judicature may legally exercise towards persons summoned as witnesses before them, for the purpose of compelling such witnesses to attend and give evidence. It shall further be competent to the Officer presiding, in the event of any unnecessary delay on the part of arbitrators, in determining any question referred to them, to call upon them to make their award within a specified time, and in default thereof, to refer such question to the umpire for his decision.

XI. The said Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid shall, on the application of the arbitrators, summon any witnesses whom the arbitrators may call for, and whom the parties may not be able to produce before them without such process. He shall also cause the proper forms of affirmation to be executed by any witnesses whom the arbitrators may desire to examine upon affirmation, or he may empower the arbitrators to administer or cause the execution of such affirmation, if the witnesses cannot with convenience attend before him. Any witness who shall refuse or omit to appear when duly summoned by such Collector or Officer, or who shall appear but shall refuse to execute the affirmation to be administered as aforesaid, or who shall refuse to give evidence, shall be liable to the same punishment which would be incurred under the law by a witness refusing to appear or give evidence before a court of justice. Any person giving intentionally and deliberately a false deposition, under a solemn affirmation in any case referred to arbitration as above, and upon a point material to the issue thereof, shall be held to be guilty of perjury, and shall be liable to the penalties prescribed for that offence by law; and any person causing or procuring another person to commit the offence of perjury, as above described, shall be guilty of subornation of perjury and punishable according to law.

XII. It shall also be competent to the Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, to demand from the parties interested in the land so taken as aforesaid, the production of any accounts, title-deeds, or other documents which may be required by the arbitrators for the purposes of their inquiry, and in the event of such accounts, title-deeds, or documents being withheld, and the fact of their existence being proved by information given upon solemn affirmation, to order the seizure of such accounts, title-deeds, and documents wherever they may have been deposited, in the manner prescribed by Section IX. Regulation IX. of 1822 of the Madras Code, and to exercise for that purpose the powers thereby vested in Collectors.

XIII. The arbitrators shall take into consideration the statements of the parties interested in the said land, and the objections of the Collector or other Officer aforesaid on behalf of Government, and after examining the evidence offered on both sides, and making any further inquiry that may appear to them necessary, shall pass their award allowing or disallowing the interests claimed, and determining the total amount of compensation to be given for the interests allowed, the mode in which it is to be given, and if to be given to more than one party, the shares of the total compensation which each party shall be entitled to receive.

XIV. The award of the arbitrators, or of the umpire, if he shall be called upon to make an award, shall be binding and conclusive both upon the Government and the parties interested in the land, as respects the gross amount of the compensation to be paid by Government, unless the award shall be set aside by the Civil Court of the zillah upon a charge of corruption against the arbitrators or the umpire, as the case may be, brought by either party, and proved after due investigation, to the satisfaction of such Court; in which case the matter shall be referred for the determination of a second set of arbitrators, to be chosen in the same manner as the first, and their decision, whatever it may be, shall be final. No petition to set aside an award made under this Act shall be received by the Civil Court of the zillah, unless it be presented within thirty days from the date of the award complained of; and the said petition shall be presented on stampt paper of the value used for miscellaneous petitions, and shall be accompanied with a copy of the award objected to. The award of the arbitrators or umpire shall also be binding as respects the shares to be paid to the several parties interested in the land, unless upon a suit instituted within thirty days from the date of the award, in a competent Court, by any of the parties concerned, to alter the apportionment made by such award, an injunction shall be issued to suspend the payment until a decree is passed in the case.

XV. If any question arises as to the previous possession of or title to any land taken by Government under this Act, or if the parties or any of them interested in the land are minors, lunatics, or absent as aforesaid, and are not represented by their guardian, committee, attorney, or other person authorized in that behalf, or if there exist other grounds which, in the judgment of the arbitrators, render it improper to make immediate payment of the compensation awarded by them, or of any part thereof, to any of the parties interested in such land, the said arbitrators shall certify the same to the said Collector or Officer, under whose directions they may act, and in such case, or if for any such reason, or any such ground as aforesaid the said Collector or other Officer shall deem immediate payment improper, then the amount of compensation payable shall be held in deposit by Government, until the parties interested in the said land or some of them shall obtain an order of a competent Court for the payment of the same and interest (if any) to them. All sums held in deposit as aforesaid exceeding in amount the sum of five hundred Rupees, shall be invested in Government Securities.

XVI. On the close of the inquiry, the arbitrators or umpire shall deliver to the Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, a full and complete report and award upon the questions submitted to their arbitration, under their respective signatures, specifying the amount of compensation to be granted, and, (except where under Section XV. it may appear proper to suspend payment,) the parties to whom it is to be made, and the proportions to be paid to each respectively, with a solemn declaration subscribed thereto, that the award so given, is, to the best of their judgment, true and impartial, and according to the evidence adduced before them, and they shall at the same time deposit with the said Collector or Officer the whole of their proceedings.

XVII. All suits and proceedings instituted against Government to obtain compensation for land taken as aforesaid, other than such petitions to set aside awards as aforesaid, shall be dismissed with costs, but nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of any party to recover the value of any land taken by Government from any person who may have received the same without having any title thereto.

XVIII. In the case of land declared by a Minute of the Governor in Council to be needed for a public purpose being acquired by the Government by bargain with and purchase from the parties apparently interested therein, the Collector or Officer appointed by Government to receive possession of the same, shall cause proclamation to be made in the manner prescribed in the fourth Section of this Act, of the transfer of the land to Government, by the said parties, and requiring all other persons who may claim any right, title or interest in such land, to prefer their claims within one calendar month after such proclamation made and any claims that may be preferred shall be dealt with under Section V. or under Section VI. and the following Sections of this Act: Provided always, that if no claim shall be made within one calendar month after such proclamation as aforesaid, the said land shall vest absolutely in the Government, free and clear of all other estates, rights, titles, remainders, reversions, limitations, trusts, interests, mortgages, liens or incumbrances whatsoever of and in the said land so purchased; and any suit to recover the land so purchased by Government, or to obtain from Government compensation for the loss thereof, which may be preferred in any Court of Judicature, shall be dismissed with costs. But nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the party who may receive the value of any land purchased by Government without having a good title to the same.

XIX. In cases referred to arbitration, under the provisions of this Act, any necessary expense which may attend the inquiry of the arbitration, whether for the diet of witnesses or otherwise, shall be paid by Government.

XX. The provisions of Act XLII. of 1850, shall be applicable and in force within the Madras Presidency; and the said Act shall be construed as if instead of the words and figures "Regulation I. of 1824 of the Bengal Code" or "the said Regulation" therein mentioned, the number and title of this Act had been therein inserted.

XXI. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, (that is to say,)

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "land" shall extend to tenements and hereditaments of any tenure, and all houses, buildings, walls, or appurtenants thereupon as well as land.

The expression "party or parties interested in the land" shall be understood to mean all parties interested in the land either for life or for years, or in remainder, reversion, or succession, and all trustees, cestui que trusts, mortgagees, incumbrancers, leaseholders or tenants, not being tenants by the month or at will of such land.

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 27th March 1852, is published for general information:—

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 5th December 1851, and published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th December 1851, to facilitate the enforcement of judgments in places beyond the jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.

Resolution. The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following revised Draft on the subject be published for general information:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to facilitate the Enforcement of Judgments in Places beyond the Jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.

I. Every party who shall obtain a judgment in any Court of Her Majesty, or of the East India Company, in any Presidency or place, or in any Extra-Regulation Province or Territory, possessed by the East India Company before the 22nd day of April 1834, and cannot enforce or obtain execution of the same within the jurisdiction of such Court, and is desirous of enforcing, or obtaining execution of the same in any other Presidency or place, or in any other Province or Territory as aforesaid, shall apply to the Court which has pronounced such judgment for a duplicate thereof, and also for a certificate that the judgment or some part thereof remains unsatisfied, and if necessary, for a translation of the said judgment into the English language, and on the receipt of the said duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any), the party shall present the same to the Court within the jurisdiction of which he is desirous of enforcing or obtaining execution of such judgment, and the last-mentioned Court shall thereupon cause the said duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any) to be filed as of record, and from and after the filing thereof, the said judgment shall be of the same force and effect as a judgment of the last-mentioned Court, and shall be duly enforced or executed, according to the tenor thereof, by such last-mentioned Court.

II. Every such certificate and duplicate judgment and translation (if any) as aforesaid, shall be signed by a Judge of the Court which passed or pronounced such judgment, and shall also be sealed with the seal of such Court, if such Court has a seal.

III. When any of the said Courts shall enforce or execute the judgment of any other Court as aforesaid, the Court so enforcing or executing the same shall proceed so to do according to its own laws and mode of procedure in like cases, and the last-mentioned Court shall take cognizance of, and punish all wrongful acts or irregularities done or committed in enforcing and executing such judgment, and all persons disobeying or obstructing the enforcement or execution of any such judgment, shall be punishable by such last-mentioned Court, in the same manner as if the said judgment had been pronounced by such Court.

IV. Each of the said Courts shall recognize, enforce, and execute any judgment passed by any Court in any Extra-Regulation Province or Territory acquired by the East India Company, after the said 22nd day of April 1834, or by any Court established by authority of the Governor General of India in Council in the Territory of any foreign Prince or State, and shall, upon the receipt of any such duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any) as aforesaid, file the same as of record, and from and after the filing thereof, the said judgment shall be of the same force and effect as a judgment of the last-mentioned Court, and shall be duly enforced or executed by such last-mentioned Court, according to the tenor thereof, in such manner as in Section III. provided.

V. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction; that is to say, the word "judgment" shall include any final decree, order, or judgment in any Civil suit or proceeding; and the words "Extra-Regulation Province or Territory" shall include any Province or Territory to which the Regulations and Acts of the Supreme Government of India have not been extended.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of June next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th of March 1852:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to provide a permanent Sheriff for the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and to facilitate the Execution of the Process of the Supreme Courts of Judicature.

Whereas it is expedient to provide a permanent Sheriff for the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and, on the occasion of the first vacancy in the Office of Coroner in the said Towns respectively, to provide for the performance of the duties of that Office by the Sheriffs respectively appointed under this Act; And whereas it is expedient to vest in the said Sheriffs powers of superintendence and control over the Gaols and Houses of Correction in the said Towns respectively;

And whereas by the Charters of the Supreme Courts of Judicature, the process of the said Courts, except in certain cases, is required to be addressed to and executed by the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay respectively, which in the case of parties resident without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Courts is often attended with unnecessary expense and other inconvenience; And whereas it is desirable to make provision for the execution of the process of the said Supreme Courts without the local limits of their jurisdiction similar to that made for the execution of the process of the Courts of the East India Company within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Courts, It is hereby enacted as follows:

The Sheriffs now in Office to continue until new Sheriffs are appointed under this Act.

I. The persons who at the time of the passing of this Act shall be the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, shall be and continue the Sheriffs of such Towns respectively, until other persons shall be duly appointed and sworn into the said Offices respectively under the provisions of this Act.

Appointment of Sheriffs during good behaviour.

II. On the first day of December next after the passing of this Act, each of the Supreme Courts of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, shall respectively nominate in writing three persons as fit and proper to serve the office of Sheriff in the said Towns respectively, and shall transmit such nomination to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidencies or place in which such Courts are situate, who, with all convenient speed, shall respectively appoint one of the said three persons to serve the Office of Sheriff during good behaviour, from and after the 20th day of December next after such appointment. Provided always, that the persons to be nominated and appointed as aforesaid shall be respectively Barristers, or Solicitors, and also residents of the Town for which they are nominated or appointed as aforesaid, or the precincts thereof.

Sheriffs to take oaths and give security.

III. Every Sheriff, nominated and appointed as aforesaid, before he enters upon the said Office, shall take an oath faithfully to execute the duties thereof, and also the oath of allegiance, before the Governor or Governor in Council, or, in his absence, before any of the Secretaries to the Government, who are hereby respectively authorized to administer the said oaths; and shall also give security, by bond, to the East India Company, himself for Rupees Twenty-five thousand, with two or more sureties, jointly and severally, for another sum of Rupees Twenty-five thousand, for the due execution of his said Office.

Provision in case of death, resignation, removal, or departure of Sheriffs.

IV. In case of the death, resignation, removal from Office, or departure from the Presidency of any Sheriff, then the Supreme Court shall immediately appoint some Officer of the Court or other person to act for the time as Sheriff, until some other person shall be duly nominated, appointed, and sworn, in manner aforesaid, to such Office, and notwithstanding such temporary appointment, another person shall, as soon as conveniently may be after such death, resignation, removal, or departure, be, in manner aforesaid, nominated, appointed, and sworn in as Sheriff, and shall continue in the said Office during good behaviour.

The powers and duties of the Sheriffs appointed for one year to be exercised and performed by the Sheriffs appointed during good behaviour under this Act.

V. All the powers, rights, privileges and duties hitherto exercised, enjoyed, or performed by the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively nominated and appointed for the period of one year under the respective Letters Patent of His late Majesty King George the Third, bearing date the 26th of March 1774, and the 26th of December 1800, and of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, bearing date the 8th of December 1823, and all other powers, rights, and privileges to the said Sheriffs given and reserved, and all other the duties to be by them performed and done, shall be transferred to and vested in, and duly exercised, performed, and done by the Sheriffs respectively appointed for the time as aforesaid under the fourth Section, and by the Sheriffs holding Office during good behaviour, to be respectively appointed under this Act.

Sheriffs may be removed by Government for misconduct.

VI. Any Sheriff appointed under this Act may be removed from his said Office by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which he is resident for misconduct in the discharge of the duties of his Office, or in the discharge of any of the duties imposed on him by this Act.

Sheriffs not to appoint a Deputy except in case of illness, and not to engage in trade, &c.

VII. It shall not be lawful for any of the said Sheriffs to appoint a Deputy Sheriff, or to carry on or be engaged in any profession, trade, or business. Provided always, that in case of the illness of any such Sheriff, he may, with the consent of the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which he is resident, appoint a Deputy to act for him during such illness.

As to the keeping and investment of monies in the Sheriff's hands.

VIII. The monies from time to time in the hands of the said Sheriffs, shall be kept by them respectively in the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay respectively, or shall be otherwise kept and invested as the Governor or Governor in Council of each Presidency or place shall, from time to time, order; and the said order shall be published in the Government Gazette, and shall be full authority, protection, and indemnity, in all Courts whatsoever, for such keeping and investing.

Sheriffs to keep accounts, which are to be open for inspection.

IX. The said Sheriffs shall enter into books, to be kept by them respectively for that purpose, separate and distinct accounts of all such sums of money, securities for money, goods, effects and things as shall come to their hands as such Sheriffs respectively, or to the hands of any person by their order or for their use, and likewise of all payments made by them as such Sheriffs respectively, or by their order, or for their use, and specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; and the said books shall be kept in the offices of the said Sheriffs respectively, and shall be open at office-hours for the inspection of all practitioners in the said Supreme Courts respectively, as may have occasion to inspect the same, paying such fee as may be from time to time fixed therefore by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place.

Sheriffs once a year to present a Schedule of accounts and balances in their hands to the Supreme Courts, and such Schedule to be published in the Gazette.

X. The said Sheriffs shall respectively once in every year, that is to say, on the first day of February, or on the first day on which the said Supreme Courts respectively shall be sitting after that day, exhibit and deliver in open Court a true Schedule showing the gross amount of all sums of money received or paid by them as such Sheriffs respectively, and the balances during the preceding year, that is to say, during the period between the 1st day of January and the 31st day of December next before the day of delivering such Schedule, and a true list of all securities, goods, effects, and things as shall have come to their hands during the same period, and the said Schedules shall be filed of record in the said Courts, and shall, within fourteen days afterwards, be published by the said Sheriffs respectively in the Government Gazette, and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Government of the Presidency or place.

Auditors to be appointed by Government.

XI. The Governor or Governor in Council of such Presidency or place shall from time to time appoint an Auditor or Auditors to examine the accounts of the said Sheriffs, at the time of the delivery of the said Schedules, and also at any other time when the said Governor or Governor in Council shall think fit.

Auditors to examine Accounts, &c., and report thereon to Government.

XII. The Auditor or Auditors shall examine the Schedules and Accounts, and report to the said Governor or Governor in Council whether they contain a full and true account of everything which ought to be inserted therein, and whether the Books, by this Act directed to be kept by the said Sheriffs, are duly and regularly kept, and whether the moneys are duly kept and invested in such manner as is by law prescribed.

Powers of Auditors.

XIII. Every Auditor shall have power to summon as well the Sheriff as any other person or persons whose presence he may think necessary, to attend him from time to time; and to examine the said Sheriff or other party or parties if he shall think fit, on oath or solemn affirmation to be by him administered; and to call for all Books, Papers, and Documents which may appear to him to be necessary for the purposes of the said reference; and if the said Sheriff or other person or persons, when summoned, shall refuse, or without reasonable cause neglect to attend, or to produce any Books, Papers or Documents required, or shall attend and refuse to be sworn or make a solemn affirmation, when by law an affirmation may be substituted for an oath, or shall refuse to be examined, the Auditor or Auditors shall certify such neglect or refusal in writing to the Supreme Court of Judicature, and every person so refusing or neglecting shall thereupon be punishable, in like manner as if such refusal or neglect had been in contempt of the said Supreme Court.

Sheriff to pay costs of preparing and publishing Schedules.

XIV. The costs and expenses of preparing and publishing the said Schedules and copies thereof, shall be defrayed by the said Sheriffs respectively.

XV. If, upon any such reference and examination, the Auditor or Auditors shall see reason to believe that the said Schedules do not contain a true and correct account of the matters therein, or which ought to be therein contained, he or they shall report accordingly to the Governor or Governor in Council, specifying the substance of the objections thereto.

If Auditors dissatisfied with Accounts they shall report to Government, specifying their objections.

XVI. The Governor or Governor in Council of such Presidency or place shall refer every such report as last aforesaid to the consideration of the Advocate General of the East India Company at such Presidency or place, who shall thereupon, if he shall think fit, proceed summarily, by petition, for an account against the said Sheriff or against the late Sheriff after his removal from Office, or against his personal representatives in case of his death, in respect of all or any of the moneys then or formerly in his possession, or under his care, as the said Advocate General shall think fit; and shall have power to exhibit interrogatories to the said Sheriff, or other person or persons defendants, who shall be bound to answer the same as fully as if the same had been contained in a Bill filed for the like purpose, and the Supreme Court shall have power, on any such petition filed, to examine orally the parties before it and all witnesses, or to refer the accounts to be taken in the ordinary way, and shall make such order, as to the costs of such reference and examination, as to the said Court shall seem just.

Power to Advocate General to proceed by petition for an account against Sheriff or his representatives, &c., and to exhibit interrogatories.

XVII. The said Courts shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a bill filed; and such orders shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner, as Decretal Orders.

Effect of orders on such petitions.

XVIII. Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to render the East India Company, or the Governor or Governor in Council of any Presidency or place, liable, or in any manner answerable or accountable, for any misconduct or breach of trust on the part of any such Sheriff, or for any moneys, securities, goods or effects which may have come to the hands of such Sheriff, or for the loss or misapplication thereof, or any part thereof, except only to the extent of any moneys which may be actually recovered by the said East India Company from any such Sheriff or his sureties, under any such security bonds as hereinbefore in Section III. mentioned.

East India Company and Governments not to be liable for Sheriff, except only to the extent of moneys actually recovered by them under the bond of the Sheriff and his sureties.

XIX. If any person taken in execution on any process shall escape out of the legal custody of the Sheriff, the Sheriff shall not be liable to an action of debt for such escape, but shall be liable only to an action upon the case for damages in consequence of such escape sustained by the person or persons at whose suit the prisoner was taken.

Liability of Sheriff.

XX. On the occasion of the first vacancy in the Office of Coroner, in any of the said Towns, the Sheriff appointed under this Act for the said Town shall be appointed Coroner thereof, and shall exercise and perform all the powers and duties of the said Office, as well as the powers and duties of Sheriff, and the said Sheriff shall receive no salary for the performance of the duties of Coroner, but only such fees in respect of each inquest held by him as shall be in that behalf provided by the general rules and orders hereinafter mentioned.

On the first vacancy in Office of Coroner, Sheriff to be appointed Coroner.

XXI. If any Sheriff acting as Coroner under the provisions of this Act shall be a party to or interested in any action or suit in the Supreme Court of the Town of which he is Sheriff, all writs issued by the said Court in such action or suit shall be directed to some Officer of the said Court for execution, who shall execute the same for and instead of the said Sheriff.

Provision in case Sheriff is a party or interested in any action.

XXII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively from time to time to make, rescind, and alter general rules and orders regulating and specifying the exact amount of fees and allowances to be received by the said Sheriffs respectively, for and in respect of all or any of the processes or duties to be executed or done by them respectively under the provisions aforesaid, and all such general rules and orders shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within two months after the making and issuing the same, and every such rule or order shall, from and after the time in that behalf to be appointed by the said Courts respectively, and if no time shall be so appointed, then from and after the making thereof, be binding and obligatory on the said Courts respectively, and be of like force and effect as if the provisions therein contained had been expressly enacted by the Governor General of India in Council. Provided always, that every such rule or order which shall not be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within the time limited by this Act for that purpose, shall, from and after the expiration of such time, be absolutely void and of no effect; and provided also, that if the Governor General of India in Council shall by any resolution, passed at any time within six months after such rules and orders shall have been laid before him, resolve that the whole or any part of such rules or orders ought not to continue in force, in such case the whole or such part thereof as shall be so included in such resolution shall, from and after such resolution, cease to be binding and obligatory on the said Courts.

Power to Supreme Courts to make orders regulating Sheriff's fees; orders to be laid before the Governor General of India in Council.

XXIII. It shall be lawful for the said Sheriffs respectively, subject to such orders as they may from time to time receive from the Governor or Governor in Council, to superintend, order, and control the Gaols and Houses of Correction in the said Towns respectively, and the Keepers and Governors thereof and the discipline and arrangement to be observed, therein, and generally to carry out the orders of Government with respect to the said Gaols and Houses of Correction, and the management thereof, and the said Sheriffs respectively, some time in the month of January in every year, shall present a report to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which they are respectively resident, setting forth full particulars as to the number, accommodation, health, diet and discipline of the prisoners confined in the said Gaols and Houses of Correction during the previous year, and of the expenses and receipts incurred or received in the said Gaols and Houses of Correction, and of the rules orders and arrangements from time to time issued or made by them, or by the Keepers or Governors under them, with respect to the matters aforesaid, or any of them. Provided always, that it shall be lawful for any Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or place, and for any Justice of the Peace acting within and for any of the said Towns, to visit and inspect at all times the Gaols and Houses of Correction therein, and to report on the state and management thereof to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which such Gaol or House of Correction is situated.

Sheriffs to superintend Gaols and Houses of Correction, subject to orders of Government; power to Justices to visit and report thereon.

Supreme Courts to issue process to certain persons, and direct execution thereof.

XXIV. It shall be lawful for the said Supreme Courts respectively, when any process of the said Courts is to be executed against any person subject to the jurisdiction thereof and not resident within the local limits thereof, or against any property without such limits, to issue any process which the said Courts are or may be empowered to issue, and to address the same to such Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace as the said Supreme Courts shall think fit, and to direct the execution thereof in the manner hereinafter provided, and the same shall be executed accordingly, and upon the same being executed and returned in the manner provided for by this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively to proceed thereupon in like manner as if the same had been executed according to the practice of the Courts before the passing of this Act.

Supreme Courts to address letters of request to Mofussil authorities, with duplicates of the process.

XXV. It shall be lawful for any of the said Supreme Courts, or for any Judge thereof, by a letter of request addressed to any Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace without the local limits of the said Supreme Courts, inclosing or accompanied by two duplicate originals of any such process as aforesaid, to request that such process may be executed within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace pursuant to the directions therein contained, and such letter and each of such duplicates shall be signed by one of the Judges of the said Supreme Courts, and sealed with the seal of the said Courts, and the production thereof purporting to be signed and sealed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the issuing of such process, and that the requisition thereof shall and may be performed by any person for the time being constituting such Court, or discharging the duties of such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace.

Mofussil authorities to endorse one duplicate and deliver the other to some person for execution.

XXVI. Upon the production of such letter of request, together with such duplicates as aforesaid, such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall by endorsement upon one of such duplicates respectively under his hand, direct the said process to be executed pursuant to such directions as aforesaid by such person as such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall appoint to execute the same, and shall deliver one of such duplicates to such person so appointed to execute the same, and the same shall be executed accordingly, and if the same shall require to be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed, then such duplicate may be executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction over the subject-matter of such process in like manner as the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed. Provided always that when such process shall be executed by any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom the letter of request aforesaid was not addressed, a Judge of such Court or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace so executing the same shall certify in writing under his hand the execution of such process, and shall forward such certificate to the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request was addressed, of which said certificate, purporting to be issued as aforesaid, the production alone shall be sufficient evidence.

Mofussil authorities to certify execution upon one of the duplicates, and deliver the same to the party.

XXVII. When such process shall have been executed in manner aforesaid, any Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid to which or to whom such letter of request as aforesaid was addressed, shall, by indorsement upon the other of such duplicates under his hand, certify the execution thereof, and shall deliver such duplicate so indorsed to the party or parties by whom the same was originally produced, or his or their agents, and the production of such duplicate so indorsed, and appearing to be so signed as aforesaid, shall be sufficient evidence of the execution of such process.

Date of delivery of process to be endorsed and process to be executed in like manner as if issued by the Mofussil authority.

XXVIII. Upon the delivery of such duplicates of any Civil process as aforesaid to such Court, Judge, or Magistrate as aforesaid, the said Court, Judge, or Magistrate shall cause the date of such delivery to be indorsed on such duplicates, and shall cause the said process to be executed in like manner or as near thereto as if the same had been issued from or by such Court, Judge, or Magistrate or Justice of the Peace at the time of the said delivery; and no distinction shall be made as to priority or otherwise between the execution of such process as aforesaid or any other process of or by the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace; but every process, whether original or otherwise, shall, as between each other, be subject to the same rules touching the mode and order of execution as are now or may be from time to time established in respect of process originally issued by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice.

Order by virtue of which process issued may be registered in the Court to which the process is forwarded.

XXIX. Where any process of the said Supreme Courts against any lands out of such local limits shall be issued for the purpose of being enforced or executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace under the provisions of this Act, a copy of the judgment, decree, or order of the Supreme Court, by virtue of which such process issued, shall, if the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, shall so require, be recorded in the Court to which such process is forwarded to be executed, and a copy of such judgment, order or decree shall be forwarded, sealed with the seal of the said Supreme Court, for the purpose of such record. Provided always that such copy shall be signed by one of the Judges, and shall be under the seal of the said Supreme Court.

XXX. Persons wilfully neglecting to execute such process, or obstructing the execution thereof, shall be liable to be punished in like manner and by the like Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace, as if such process had been issued originally by such Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace. Provided that nothing herein contained shall deprive the said Supreme Courts respectively of their power to punish such persons for a contempt, in case they shall not be otherwise punished.

Persons wilfully neglecting to execute process, or obstructing the execution thereof, punishable.

XXXI. All persons and property seized or detained under any process executed by virtue of this Act shall be dealt with in like manner as if such persons or property had been seized or detained under the like process issued by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid; and all monies levied by virtue of any such process (after deducting therefrom all such fees, charges and expenses for executing the same, as shall be from time to time appointed in that behalf by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and sanctioned by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place), shall be paid or caused to be paid by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the Sheriff of the Court from which such process shall have issued.

Persons and property seized to be dealt with as if seized by the Mofussil authorities, and all monies levied after deducting expenses to be forwarded to the Sheriff.

XXXII. In the case of persons seized or detained by virtue of any process executed under authority of this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace to cause such persons to be imprisoned in the nearest convenient Gaol, and there detained until, by order of the Supreme Court or any Judge thereof, such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall be required to release the party from custody, or to deliver him to a Bailiff of the Sheriff for removal in custody to Her Majesty's Gaol of the Court from which such process shall have issued.

Parties arrested in the Mofussil may be imprisoned there.

XXXIII. No action or other proceeding shall be had or maintained against any person or persons constituting such Court, or any such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or any person or persons acting under his or their orders, for or in respect of any act, matter, or thing done or omitted to be done in the execution or service of any such process, and it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Courts respectively, upon application thereto, to stay any such action or proceeding commenced in the said Courts, and to order the party commencing or prosecuting the same to pay the costs thereof, as between solicitor and client. Provided always that nothing herein contained shall be construed to protect any person who shall wilfully act in excess of the authority reposed in him.

Indemnity to the Mofussil authorities executing process.

XXXIV. Any copy of any judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Courts respectively, which is by this Act required to be recorded, and any process of the said Courts to be executed by any other Court, or by any Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace under the provisions of this Act, and any proceeding by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace thereupon may be transmitted by such Supreme Courts to such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or by such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the said Supreme Courts, by dawk or by any private hand.

Processes to be forwarded by dawk or private hand.

XXXV. The said Supreme Courts respectively shall from time to time frame such forms of letters of request, and of any process of the said Courts, which is to be addressed and executed under the provisions of this Act, as may be necessary to give full effect to the provisions hereinbefore contained.

Supreme Courts to frame forms of letters of request and process.

XXXVI. The word "process" in this Act shall extend to and include all criminal and civil process of the said Supreme Courts, which require to be executed without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Courts, and any notice of any proceedings instituted or to be instituted in the said Courts, or of any step to be taken or application made in or in respect of such proceedings; and the word "lands" shall extend to and include any immoveable property; and any word denoting the singular number or masculine gender shall extend to and include more persons, matters, or things than one, and females as well as males.

Interpretation Clause.

Ordered that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 27th day of June next.

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th March 1852:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Mode of Procedure in Criminal Cases in the Courts of the East India Company.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the new trial of prisoners, when, by reason of the death, absence, or removal of the Judge, their trials remain unfinished; and whereas it is also expedient to enable Magistrates to summon accused parties before they proceed to take the evidence of the prosecutor and his witnesses, It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. When any criminal trial shall have been commenced and shall be pending and undecided before any Judge or Magistrate at the time of his death, removal, or departure from the station, it shall not be lawful for any other Judge or Magistrate to continue and carry on such trial, but the Judge or Magistrate competent to try the prisoner shall, as soon as conveniently may be, commence a new trial and re-examine all the witnesses.

II. When a Magistrate shall have examined any prosecutor respecting any charge brought by him against any person, and shall have summoned the witnesses on behalf of the prosecutor, he may also, in his discretion, summon the person or persons accused, or any one or more of them, in order that he or they may be confronted with the prosecutor and his witnesses, anything in Clause 6, Section II. Regulation III. of 1812, to the contrary notwithstanding.

III. Section V. Regulation VII. of 1811 is hereby repealed, and when any criminal charge has been preferred before a Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate against any person, and the prosecutor or informer shall fail to appear or shall abandon the charge against such person, or such person shall be acquitted, and it shall appear to the Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate to whom the complaint or information has been made, or by whom the case has been tried, that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate, at his discretion, to award such amends, not more than the sum of Rupees two hundred, to be paid by the prosecutor or informant to the party complained against for his loss of time, trouble, or expenses as to the Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate shall seem just, and in default of payment to sentence the prosecutor or informant to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding six calendar months, and every such order of amends or sentence of imprisonment pronounced by any Magistrate shall be final, and every order of amends or sentence of imprisonment pronounced by an Assistant Magistrate shall be subject to appeal to the Magistrate of the district only.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of June next.

CECIL BEADON, Junior Secretary.

Board of Revenue, the 3rd April 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. Bracken,
Collector of Customs.

Calcutta, Collector's Office,
Govt. Custom Hou e, the 5th March 1852.

NOTICE.—The Provisions of Section XX., Act I. of 1852, not appearing to be generally known among the manufacturers and exporters of country spirits, that Section is, under orders from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, re-published for general information:

"XX. Spirits exported from any Port subject "to the Government of the East India Com- "pany, and imported at any other Port subor- "dinate to the Government of Bombay shall be "liable on importation to the same rate of duty "as may be fixed on spirit of country manufac- "ture by Schedule A. annexed to this Act, or "by any future enactment. Provided always "that if the said spirit be accompanied by a "document signed by competent authority, cer- "tifying that a duty, whether of customs or "otherwise, has been paid on the said spirit to "the East India Company, credit shall be allow- "ed for the sum so paid in settling the customs "at the Port of Import; and if such sum equal "or exceed the full amount of customs leviable "on spirits of country manufacture under Sche- "dule A. aforesaid, or any future enactment, "then the spirit on which such duty has been "paid shall be admitted to free entry."

J. W. H. Campbell,
Offg. Collr. of Govt. Customs.

Calcutta, Govt. Custom House,
The 25th March 1852.

EDUCATION NOTICE.—A special examination of candidates for admission to the Free and Stipendiary lists of the Medical College, will be held in that Institution, during the first week in June next.

2nd. There are several stipendiary vacancies of Eight Rupees per mensem each, tenable for five years. No candidate can be admitted under the full age of 16, or above that of 20 years, on any account whatever.

3rd. Every applicant for admission must bring a letter of recommendation from some respectable person, certifying that he is of good character, and worthy of admission to the privilege of studying in the Medical College.

4th. The candidates must present themselves before the Secretary to the College, at least three days prior to the date of examination, with a view to their being identified as the persons really desiring admission.

5th. All candidates will be expected to possess such knowledge of English, so as to be able to read, write, and speak it with ease and fluency. They must be able to analyze a passage in Milton's Paradise Lost, Robertson's Histories, or works of a similar classical standard,—be acquainted with the elements of Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Natural Philosophy,—and bring Certificates from the Head Masters of the Schools in which they have studied, expressly stating that they possess the information required, and are capable of undergoing the ordeal proposed. The preference in selection will always be given to those who possess the greatest amount of information in the abovementioned branches of Education.

6th. The course of instruction given in the Bengal Medical College is recognized by the University of London, the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London—the Degree, Diploma, and License of which bodies, respectively, can be obtained by any pupil who has studied in Calcutta, provided he passes through the particular course and extent of study required by each—of which every particular may be ascertained on personal application to the Secretary, Medical College.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March, 1852.

The following Act, passed by the Governor General of India in Council on the 27th March 1852, is hereby promulgated for general information.

ACT No. XX. OF 1852.

An Act to facilitate the Acquisition of Land needed for public purposes in the Presidency of Fort St. George.

I. Whenever it shall appear to the Governor of Fort St. George in Council that any land is needed for a public purpose, he shall make a declaration to that effect in a Minute of Council, and such declaration shall be conclusive evidence that the purpose for which the land is needed is a public purpose.

II. When a declaration has been made by the Governor in Council that any land is needed for a public purpose, if there shall be any hinderance to the immediate acquisition of such land by purchase from the parties interested therein, it shall be competent to the Governor in Council to order the land to be taken possession of on the part of Government and applied to the purpose for which it is needed, leaving claims for compensation for the land to be determined as hereinafter provided.

III. When such order is passed by the Governor in Council it shall be sent to the Collector of the District in which the land lies, or to such other Officer as the Governor in Council shall think fit to appoint to carry it into execution; and the Collector or other Officer so appointed, shall cause the land ordered to be taken to be marked out and measured, and possession to be taken thereof on behalf of Government, and the land shall thenceforward be vested absolutely in the Government, free and clear of all other estates, rights, titles, remainders, reversions, limitations, trusts and interests, and also of all mortgages, liens, or incumbrances whatsoever, of and in the land so taken as aforesaid; and any suit which may be instituted to recover the land so taken by Government, in any Court of Judicature, shall be dismissed with costs. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the party who may receive the value of any land so taken by Government, without having a good title to the same.

IV. As soon as the land has been marked out, the Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, shall cause the order in Council to be affixed in some conspicuous place upon the land, and published by proclamation in the neighbouring bazars and villages, with a citation, calling on all parties interested in the land to appear before him in person, or by authorized agents, on a certain day, not less than fifteen days after the date of citation, and to state the nature of their interests in the land required, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for the same.

V. It shall be competent to the said Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, to admit any such claims that appear to him to be valid, and if he and all the parties interested in the land agree as to the compensation to be allowed to them respectively, to pass an award for the same.

VI. If the said Collector or Officer shall judge any of the claims preferred to be inadmissible, and the parties interested in the land or any of them shall nevertheless persist in such claims, or if the said Collector or Officer, admitting the interests claimed, shall object to the compensation demanded for the same as excessive, the points in dispute shall be referred to the determination of arbitrators, to be appointed in the manner hereinafter provided.

VII. Two persons shall be chosen to act as arbitrators on the part of Government, by the Collector or other Officer duly appointed as aforesaid, and the party or parties claiming to be interested in the land taken shall be called upon by the said Collector or Officer to elect, within fifteen days, two persons to act as arbitrators on his or their part. If there be several parties interested as aforesaid, and they cannot agree within the required period in the election of persons to act as arbitrators on their behalf, then and in that case each of them shall nominate one person whom he may desire to act on his behalf, and the said Collector or Officer shall choose by lot, out of the persons so nominated by the parties aforesaid, or by any of them, two persons to act as arbitrators on behalf of the parties interested in the land. If only two persons shall be so nominated by the parties interested in the land, they shall be the arbitrators on behalf of such parties, whether the whole of the parties interested as aforesaid may or may not have been concerned in their nomination. If only one person shall be so nominated, then only one of the persons selected to act as arbitrators on the part of Government, shall be employed on the duty. If the parties interested in the land shall refuse or neglect, or if, by reason of minority, lunacy or absence from the Presidency, they shall be unable, to make any nomination within the required period, then the said Collector or Officer shall and may select two impartial persons to arbitrate the matter between Government and the parties interested in the land.

VIII. Before the arbitrators proceed to arbitrate, they shall be required by the said Collector or Officer, to appoint an umpire for the decision of any points whereon they may differ in opinion, when the voices on each side shall be equal. If the arbitrators cannot agree in the selection of an umpire, the said Collector or Officer shall be authorized to choose some person to act as such.

IX. In cases wherein the arbitrators may differ in opinion, if the voices on each side shall be equal, the decision of the umpire on the point of difference shall be conclusive: in all other cases, the opinion of the majority of arbitrators shall determine the award.

X. The arbitrators shall hold their inquiry under the general superintendence of the Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, who shall be competent to exercise towards them such powers and authority, for the purpose of securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, as the Courts of Judicature may legally exercise towards persons summoned as witnesses before them, for the purpose of compelling such witnesses to attend and give evidence. It shall further be competent to the Officer presiding, in the event of any unnecessary delay on the part of arbitrators, in determining any question referred to them, to call upon them to make their award within a specified time, and in default thereof, to refer such question to the umpire for his decision.

XI. The said Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid shall, on the application of the arbitrators, summon any witnesses whom the arbitrators may call for, and whom the parties may not be able to produce before them without such process. He shall also cause the proper forms of affirmation to be executed by any witnesses whom the arbitrators may desire to examine upon affirmation, or he may empower the arbitrators to administer or cause the execution of such affirmation, if the witnesses cannot with convenience attend before him. Any witness who shall refuse or omit to appear when duly summoned by such Collector or Officer, or who shall appear but shall refuse to execute the affirmation to be administered as aforesaid, or who shall refuse to give evidence, shall be liable to the same punishment which would be incurred under the law by a witness refusing to appear or give evidence before a court of justice. Any person giving intentionally and deliberately a false deposition, under a solemn affirmation in any case referred to arbitration as above, and upon a point material to the issue thereof, shall be held to be guilty of perjury, and shall be liable to the penalties prescribed for that offence by law; and any person causing or procuring another person to commit the offence of perjury, as above described, shall be guilty of subornation of perjury and punishable according to law.

XII. It shall also be competent to the Collector, or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, to demand from the parties interested in the land so taken as aforesaid, the production of any accounts, title-deeds, or other documents which may be required by the arbitrators for the purposes of their inquiry, and in the event of such accounts, title-deeds, or documents being withheld, and the fact of their existence being proved by information given upon solemn affirmation, to order the seizure of such accounts, title-deeds, and documents wherever they may have been deposited, in the manner prescribed by Section IX. Regulation IX. of 1822 of the Madras Code, and to exercise for that purpose the powers thereby vested in Collectors.

XIII. The arbitrators shall take into consideration the statements of the parties interested in the said land, and the objections of the Collector or other Officer aforesaid on behalf of Government, and after examining the evidence offered on both sides, and making any further inquiry that may appear to them necessary, shall pass their award allowing or disallowing the interests claimed, and determining the total amount of compensation to be given for the interests allowed, the mode in which it is to be given, and if to be given to more than one party, the shares of the total compensation which each party shall be entitled to receive.

XIV. The award of the arbitrators, or of the umpire, if he shall be called upon to make an award, shall be binding and conclusive both upon the Government and the parties interested in the land, as respects the gross amount of the compensation to be paid by Government, unless the award shall be set aside by the Civil Court of the zillah upon a charge of corruption against the arbitrators or the umpire, as the case may be, brought by either party, and proved after due investigation, to the satisfaction of such Court; in which case the matter shall be referred for the determination of a second set of arbitrators, to be chosen in the same manner as the first, and their decision, whatever it may be, shall be final. No petition to set aside an award made under this Act shall be received by the Civil Court of the zillah, unless it be presented within thirty days from the date of the award complained of; and the said petition shall be presented on stampt paper of the value used for miscellaneous petitions, and shall be accompanied with a copy of the award objected to. The award of the arbitrators or umpire shall also be binding as respects the shares to be paid to the several parties interested in the land, unless upon a suit instituted within thirty days from the date of the award, in a competent Court, by any of the parties concerned, to alter the apportionment made by such award, an injunction shall be issued to suspend the payment until a decree is passed in the case.

XV. If any question arises as to the previous possession of or title to any land taken by Government under this Act, or if the parties or any of them interested in the land are minors, lunatics, or absent as aforesaid, and are not represented by their guardian, committee, attorney, or other person authorized in that behalf, or if there exist other grounds which, in the judgment of the arbitrators, render it improper to make immediate payment of the compensation awarded by them, or of any part thereof, to any of the parties interested in such land, the said arbitrators shall certify the same to the said Collector or Officer, under whose directions they may act, and in such case, or if for any such reason, or any such ground as aforesaid the said Collector or other Officer shall deem immediate payment improper, then the amount of compensation payable shall be held in deposit by Government, until the parties interested in the said land or some of them shall obtain an order of a competent Court for the payment of the same and interest (if any) to them. All sums held in deposit as aforesaid exceeding in amount the sum of five hundred Rupees, shall be invested in Government Securities.

XVI. On the close of the inquiry, the arbitrators or umpire shall deliver to the Collector or other Officer appointed as aforesaid, a full and complete report and award upon the questions submitted to their arbitration, under their respective signatures, specifying the amount of compensation to be granted, and, (except where under Section XV. it may appear proper to suspend payment,) the parties to whom it is to be made, and the proportions to be paid to each respectively, with a solemn declaration subscribed thereto, that the award so given, is, to the best of their judgment, true and impartial, and according to the evidence adduced before them, and they shall at the same time deposit with the said Collector or Officer the whole of their proceedings.

XVII. All suits and proceedings instituted against Government to obtain compensation for land taken as aforesaid, other than such petitions to set aside awards as aforesaid, shall be dismissed with costs, but nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of any party to recover the value of any land taken by Government from any person who may have received the same without having any title thereto.

XVIII. In the case of land declared by a Minute of the Governor in Council to be needed for a public purpose being acquired by the Government by bargain with and purchase from the parties apparently interested therein, the Collector or Officer appointed by Government to receive possession of the same, shall cause proclamation to be made in the manner prescribed in the fourth Section of this Act, of the transfer of the land to Government, by the said parties, and requiring all other persons who may claim any right, title or interest in such land, to prefer their claims within one calendar month after such proclamation made; and any claims that may be preferred shall be dealt with under Section V. or under Section VI. and the following Sections of this Act. Provided always, that if no claim shall be made within one calendar month after such proclamation as aforesaid, the said land shall vest absolutely in the Government, free and clear of all other estates, rights, titles, remainders, reversions, limitations, trusts, interests, mortgages, liens or incumbrances whatsoever of and in the said land so purchased; and any suit to recover the land so purchased by Government, or to obtain from Government compensation for the loss thereof, which may be preferred in any Court of Judicature, shall be dismissed with costs. But nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the party who may receive the value of any land purchased by Government without having a good title to the same.

XIX. In cases referred to arbitration, under the provisions of this Act, any necessary expense which may attend the inquiry of the arbitration, whether for the diet of witnesses or otherwise, shall be paid by Government.

XX. The provisions of Act XLII. of 1850, shall be applicable and in force within the Madras Presidency; and the said Act shall be construed as if instead of the words and figures "Regulation I. of 1824 of the Bengal Code" or "the said Regulation" therein mentioned, the number and title of this Act had been therein inserted.

XXI. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, (that is to say,)

Words importing the singular number only shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number only shall include the singular.

Words importing the masculine gender only shall include females.

The word "land" shall extend to tenements and hereditaments of any tenure, and all houses, buildings, walls, or appurtenants thereupon as well as land.

The expression "party or parties interested in the land" shall be understood to mean all parties interested in the land either for life or for years, or in remainder, reversion, or succession, and all trustees, cestui que trusts, mortgagees, incumbrancers, leaseholders or tenants, not being tenants by the month or at will of such land.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY.
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Governor General of India in Council in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department, under date the 27th March 1852, is published for general information:—

Read a second time the Draft of a proposed Act, dated the 5th December 1851, and published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th December 1851, to facilitate the enforcement of judgments in places beyond the jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.

Resolution. The Governor General in Council resolves, that the following revised Draft on the subject be published for general information:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to facilitate the Enforcement of Judgments in Places beyond the Jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.

I. Every party who shall obtain a judgment in any Court of Her Majesty, or of the East India Company, in any Presidency or place, or in any Extra-Regulation Province or Territory, possessed by the East India Company before the 22nd day of April 1834, and cannot enforce or obtain execution of the same within the jurisdiction of such Court, and is desirous of enforcing, or obtaining execution of the same in any other Presidency or place, or in any other Province or Territory as aforesaid, shall apply to the Court which has pronounced such judgment for a duplicate thereof, and also for a certificate that the judgment or some part thereof remains unsatisfied, and if necessary, for a translation of the said judgment into the English language, and on the receipt of the said duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any), the party shall present the same to the Court within the jurisdiction of which he is desirous of enforcing or obtaining execution of such judgment, and the last-mentioned Court shall thereupon cause the said duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any) to be filed as of record, and from and after the filing thereof, the said judgment shall be of the same force and effect as a judgment of the last-mentioned Court, and shall be duly enforced or executed, according to the tenor thereof, by such last-mentioned Court.

II. Every such certificate and duplicate judgment and translation (if any) as aforesaid, shall be signed by a Judge of the Court which passed or pronounced such judgment, and shall also be sealed with the seal of such Court, if such Court has a seal.

III. When any of the said Courts shall enforce or execute the judgment of any other Court as aforesaid, the Court so enforcing or executing the same shall proceed so to do according to its own laws and mode of procedure in like cases, and the last-mentioned Court shall take cognizance of, and punish all wrongful acts or irregularities done or committed in enforcing and executing such judgment, and all persons disobeying or obstructing the enforcement or execution of any such judgment, shall be punishable by such last-mentioned Court, in the same manner as if the said judgment had been pronounced by such Court.

IV. Each of the said Courts shall recognize, enforce, and execute any judgment passed by any Court in any Extra-Regulation Province or Territory acquired by the East India Company, after the said 22nd day of April 1834, or by any Court established by authority of the Governor General of India in Council in the Territory of any foreign Prince or State, and shall, upon the receipt of any such duplicate judgment and certificate and translation (if any) as aforesaid, file the same as of record, and from and after the filing thereof, the said judgment shall be of the same force and effect as a judgment of the last-mentioned Court, and shall be duly enforced or executed by such last-mentioned Court, according to the tenor thereof, in such manner as in Section III. provided.

V. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something either in the subject or context repugnant to such construction; that is to say, the word "judgment" shall include any final decree, order, or judgment in any Civil suit or proceeding, and the words "Extra-Regulation Province or Territory" shall include any Province or Territory to which the Regulations and Acts of the Supreme Government of India have not been extended.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of June next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th of March 1852:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to provide a permanent Sheriff for the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and to facilitate the Execution of the Process of the Supreme Courts of Judicature.

Whereas it is expedient to provide a permanent Sheriff for the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and, on the occasion of the first vacancy in the Office of Coroner in the said Towns respectively, to provide for the performance of the duties of that Office by the Sheriffs respectively appointed under this Act; And whereas it is expedient to vest in the said Sheriffs powers of superintendence and control over the Gaols and Houses of Correction in the said Towns respectively;

And whereas by the Charters of the Supreme Courts of Judicature, the process of the said Courts, except in certain cases, is required to be addressed to and executed by the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay respectively, which in the case of parties resident without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Courts is often attended with unnecessary expense and other inconvenience; And whereas it is desirable to make provision for the execution of the process of the said Supreme Courts without the local limits of their jurisdiction similar to that made for the execution of the process of the Courts of the East India Company within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Courts, It is hereby enacted as follows:

The Sheriffs now in Office to continue until new Sheriffs are appointed under this Act.

I. The persons who at the time of the passing of this Act shall be the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, shall be and continue the Sheriffs of such Towns respectively, until other persons shall be duly appointed and sworn into the said Offices respectively under the provisions of this Act.

Appointment of Sheriffs during good behaviour.

II. On the first day of December next after the passing of this Act, each of the Supreme Courts of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, shall respectively nominate in writing three persons as fit and proper to serve the office of Sheriff in the said Towns respectively, and shall transmit such nomination to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidencies or place in which such Courts are situate, who, with all convenient speed, shall respectively appoint one of the said three persons to serve the Office of Sheriff during good behaviour, from and after the 20th day of December next after such appointment. Provided always, that the persons to be nominated and appointed as aforesaid shall be respectively Barristers, or Solicitors, and also residents of the Town for which they are nominated or appointed as aforesaid, or the precincts thereof.

Sheriffs to take oaths and give security.

III. Every Sheriff, nominated and appointed as aforesaid, before he enters upon the said Office, shall take an oath faithfully to execute the duties thereof, and also the oath of allegiance, before the Governor or Governor in Council, or, in his absence, before any of the Secretaries to the Government, who are hereby respectively authorized to administer the said oaths; and shall also give security, by bond, to the East India Company, himself for Rupees Twenty-five thousand, with two or more sureties, jointly and severally, for another sum of Rupees Twenty-five thousand, for the due execution of his said Office.

Provision in case of death, resignation, removal, or departure of Sheriffs.

IV. In case of the death, resignation, removal from Office, or departure from the Presidency of any Sheriff, then the Supreme Court shall immediately appoint some Officer of the Court or other person to act for the time as Sheriff, until some other person shall be duly nominated, appointed, and sworn, in manner aforesaid, to such Office, and notwithstanding such temporary appointment, another person shall, as soon as conveniently may be after such death, resignation, removal, or departure, be, in manner aforesaid, nominated, appointed, and sworn in as Sheriff, and shall continue in the said Office during good behaviour.

The powers and duties of the Sheriffs appointed for one year to be exercised and performed by the Sheriffs appointed during good behaviour under this Act.

V. All the powers, rights, privileges and duties hitherto exercised, enjoyed, or performed by the Sheriffs of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively nominated and appointed for the period of one year under the respective Letters Patent of His late Majesty King George the Third, bearing date the 26th of March 1774, and the 26th of December 1800, and of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, bearing date the 8th of December 1823, and all other powers, rights, and privileges to the said Sheriffs given and reserved, and all other the duties to be by them performed and done, shall be transferred to and vested in, and duly exercised, performed, and done by the Sheriffs respectively appointed for the time as aforesaid under the fourth Section, and by the Sheriffs holding Office during good behaviour, to be respectively appointed under this Act.

Sheriffs may be removed by Government for misconduct.

VI. Any Sheriff appointed under this Act may be removed from his said Office by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which he is resident for misconduct in the discharge of the duties of his Office, or in the discharge of any of the duties imposed on him by this Act.

Sheriffs not to appoint a Deputy except in case of illness, and not to engage in trade, &c.

VII. It shall not be lawful for any of the said Sheriffs to appoint a Deputy Sheriff, or to carry on or be engaged in any profession, trade, or business. Provided always, that in case of the illness of any such Sheriff, he may, with the consent of the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which he is resident, appoint a Deputy to act for him during such illness.

As to the keeping and investment of monies in the Sheriff's hands.

VIII. The monies from time to time in the hands of the said Sheriffs, shall be kept by them respectively in the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay respectively, or shall be otherwise kept and invested as the Governor or Governor in Council of each Presidency or place shall, from time to time, order; and the said order shall be published in the Government Gazette, and shall be full authority, protection, and indemnity, in all Courts whatsoever, for such keeping and investing.

Sheriffs to keep accounts, which are to be open for inspection.

IX. The said Sheriffs shall enter into books, to be kept by them respectively for that purpose, separate and distinct accounts of all such sums of money, securities for money, goods, effects and things as shall come to their hands as such Sheriffs respectively, or to the hands of any person by their order or for their use, and likewise of all payments made by them as such Sheriffs respectively, or by their order, or for their use, and specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; and the said books shall be kept in the offices of the said Sheriffs respectively, and shall be open at office-hours for the inspection of all practitioners in the said Supreme Courts respectively, as may have occasion to inspect the same, paying such fee as may be from time to time fixed therefore by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place.

Sheriffs once a year to present a Schedule of accounts and balances in their hands to the Supreme Courts, and such Schedule to be published in the Gazette.

X. The said Sheriffs shall respectively once in every year, that is to say, on the first day of February, or on the first day on which the said Supreme Courts respectively shall be sitting after that day, exhibit and deliver in open Court a true Schedule showing the gross amount of all sums of money received or paid by them as such Sheriffs respectively, and the balances during the preceding year, that is to say, during the period between the 1st day of January and the 31st day of December next before the day of delivering such Schedule, and a true list of all securities, goods, effects, and things as shall have come to their hands during the same period, and the said Schedules shall be filed of record in the said Courts, and shall, within fourteen days afterwards, be published by the said Sheriffs respectively in the Government Gazette, and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Government of the Presidency or place.

Auditors to be appointed by Government.

XI. The Governor or Governor in Council of such Presidency or place shall from time to time appoint an Auditor or Auditors to examine the accounts of the said Sheriffs, at the time of the delivery of the said Schedules, and also at any other time when the said Governor or Governor in Council shall think fit.

Auditors to examine Accounts, &c., and report thereon to Government.

XII. The Auditor or Auditors shall examine the Schedules and Accounts, and report to the said Governor or Governor in Council whether they contain a full and true account of everything which ought to be inserted therein, and whether the Books, by this Act directed to be kept by the said Sheriffs, are duly and regularly kept, and whether the moneys are duly kept and invested in such manner as is by law prescribed.

Powers of Auditors.

XIII. Every Auditor shall have power to summon as well the Sheriff as any other person or persons whose presence he may think necessary, to attend him from time to time; and to examine the said Sheriff or other party or parties if he shall think fit, on oath or solemn affirmation to be by him administered; and to call for all Books, Papers, and Documents which may appear to him to be necessary for the purposes of the said reference; and if the said Sheriff or other person or persons, when summoned, shall refuse, or without reasonable cause neglect to attend, or to produce any Books, Papers or Documents required, or shall attend and refuse to be sworn or make a solemn affirmation, when by law an affirmation may be substituted for an oath, or shall refuse to be examined, the Auditor or Auditors shall certify such neglect or refusal in writing to the Supreme Court of Judicature, and every person so refusing or neglecting shall thereupon be punishable, in like manner as if such refusal or neglect had been in contempt of the said Supreme Court.

Sheriff to pay costs of preparing and publishing Schedules.

XIV. The costs and expenses of preparing and publishing the said Schedules and copies thereof, shall be defrayed by the said Sheriffs respectively.

If Auditors dissatisfied with Accounts they shall report to Government, specifying their objections.

XV. If, upon any such reference and examination, the Auditor or Auditors shall see reason to believe that the said Schedules do not contain a true and correct account of the matters therein, or which ought to be therein contained, he or they shall report accordingly to the Governor or Governor in Council, specifying the substance of the objections thereto.

Power to Advocate General to proceed by petition for an account against Sheriff or his representatives, &c., and to exhibit interrogatories.

XVI. The Governor or Governor in Council of such Presidency or place shall refer every such report as last aforesaid to the consideration of the Advocate General of the East India Company at such Presidency or place, who shall thereupon, if he shall think fit, proceed summarily, by petition, for an account against the said Sheriff or against the late Sheriff after his removal from Office, or against his personal representatives in case of his death, in respect of all or any of the moneys then or formerly in his possession, or under his care, as the said Advocate General shall think fit; and shall have power to exhibit interrogatories to the said Sheriff, or other person or persons defendants, who shall be bound to answer the same as fully as if the same had been contained in a Bill filed for the like purpose, and the Supreme Court shall have power, on any such petition filed, to examine orally the parties before it and all witnesses, or to refer the accounts to be taken in the ordinary way, and shall make such order, as to the costs of such reference and examination, as to the said Court shall seem just.

Effect of orders on such petitions.

XVII. The said Courts shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a bill filed; and such orders shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner, as Decretal Orders.

East India Company and Governments not to be liable for Sheriff, except only to the extent of moneys actually recovered by them under the bond of the Sheriff and his sureties.

XVIII. Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to render the East India Company, or the Governor or Governor in Council of any Presidency or place, liable, or in any manner answerable or accountable, for any misconduct or breach of trust on the part of any such Sheriff, or for any moneys, securities, goods or effects which may have come to the hands of such Sheriff, or for the loss or misapplication thereof, or any part thereof, except only to the extent of any moneys which may be actually recovered by the said East India Company from any such Sheriff or his sureties, under any such security bonds as hereinbefore in Section III. mentioned.

Liability of Sheriff.

XIX. If any person taken in execution on any process shall escape out of the legal custody of the Sheriff, the Sheriff shall not be liable to an action of debt for such escape, but shall be liable only to an action upon the case for damages in consequence of such escape sustained by the person or persons at whose suit the prisoner was taken.

On the first vacancy in Office of Coroner, Sheriff to be appointed Coroner.

XX. On the occasion of the first vacancy in the Office of Coroner, in any of the said Towns, the Sheriff appointed under this Act for the said Town shall be appointed Coroner thereof, and shall exercise and perform all the powers and duties of the said Office, as well as the powers and duties of Sheriff, and the said Sheriff shall receive no salary for the performance of the duties of Coroner, but only such fees in respect of each inquest held by him as shall be in that behalf provided by the general rules and orders hereinafter mentioned.

Provision in case Sheriff is a party or interested in any action.

XXI. If any Sheriff acting as Coroner under the provisions of this Act shall be a party to or interested in any action or suit in the Supreme Court of the Town of which he is Sheriff, all writs issued by the said Court in such action or suit shall be directed to some Officer of the said Court for execution, who shall execute the same for and instead of the said Sheriff.

Power to Supreme Courts to make orders regulating Sheriff's fees; orders to be laid before the Governor General of India in Council.

XXII. It shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively from time to time to make, rescind, and alter general rules and orders regulating and specifying the exact amount of fees and allowances to be received by the said Sheriffs respectively, for and in respect of all or any of the processes or duties to be executed or done by them respectively under the provisions aforesaid, and all such general rules and orders shall be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within two months after the making and issuing the same, and every such rule or order shall, from and after the time in that behalf to be appointed by the said Courts respectively, and if no time shall be so appointed, then from and after the making thereof, be binding and obligatory on the said Courts respectively, and be of like force and effect as if the provisions therein contained had been expressly enacted by the Governor General of India in Council. Provided always, that every such rule or order which shall not be laid before the Governor General of India in Council within the time limited by this Act for that purpose, shall, from and after the expiration of such time, be absolutely void and of no effect; and provided also, that if the Governor General of India in Council shall by any resolution, passed at any time within six months after such rules and orders shall have been laid before him, resolve that the whole or any part of such rules or orders ought not to continue in force, in such case the whole or such part thereof as shall be so included in such resolution shall, from and after such resolution, cease to be binding and obligatory on the said Courts.

Sheriffs to superintend Gaols and Houses of Correction, subject to orders of Government; power to Justices to visit and report thereon.

XXIII. It shall be lawful for the said Sheriffs respectively, subject to such orders as they may from time to time receive from the Governor or Governor in Council, to superintend, order, and control the Gaols and Houses of Correction in the said Towns respectively, and the Keepers and Governors thereof and the discipline and arrangement to be observed, therein, and generally to carry out the orders of Government with respect to the said Gaols and Houses of Correction, and the management thereof, and the said Sheriffs respectively, some time in the month of January in every year, shall present a report to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which they are respectively resident, setting forth full particulars as to the number, accommodation, health, diet and discipline of the prisoners confined in the said Gaols and Houses of Correction during the previous year, and of the expenses and receipts incurred or received in the said Gaols and Houses of Correction, and of the rules orders and arrangements from time to time issued or made by them, or by the Keepers or Governors under them, with respect to the matters aforesaid, or any of them. Provided always, that it shall be lawful for any Secretary to the Government of the Presidency or place, and for any Justice of the Peace acting within and for any of the said Towns, to visit and inspect at all times the Gaols and Houses of Correction therein, and to report on the state and management thereof to the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place in which such Gaol or House of Correction is situated.

Supreme Courts to issue process to certain persons, and direct execution thereof.

XXIV. It shall be lawful for the said Supreme Courts respectively, when any process of the said Courts is to be executed against any person subject to the jurisdiction thereof and not resident within the local limits thereof, or against any property without such limits, to issue any process which the said Courts are or may be empowered to issue, and to address the same to such Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace as the said Supreme Courts shall think fit, and to direct the execution thereof in the manner hereinafter provided, and the same shall be executed accordingly, and upon the same being executed and returned in the manner provided for by this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Courts respectively to proceed thereupon in like manner as if the same had been executed according to the practice of the Courts before the passing of this Act.

Supreme Courts to address letters of request to Mofussil authorities, with duplicates of the process.

XXV. It shall be lawful for any of the said Supreme Courts, or for any Judge thereof, by a letter of request addressed to any Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace without the local limits of the said Supreme Courts, inclosing or accompanied by two duplicate originals of any such process as aforesaid, to request that such process may be executed within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate or Justice of the Peace pursuant to the directions therein contained, and such letter and each of such duplicates shall be signed by one of the Judges of the said Supreme Courts, and sealed with the seal of the said Courts, and the production thereof purporting to be signed and sealed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the issuing of such process, and that the requisition thereof shall and may be performed by any person for the time being constituting such Court, or discharging the duties of such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace.

Mofussil authorities to endorse one duplicate and deliver the other to some person for execution.

XXVI. Upon the production of such letter of request, together with such duplicates as aforesaid, such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall by endorsement upon one of such duplicates respectively under his hand, direct the said process to be executed pursuant to such directions as aforesaid by such person as such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall appoint to execute the same, and shall deliver one of such duplicates to such person so appointed to execute the same, and the same shall be executed accordingly, and if the same shall require to be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed, then such duplicate may be executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction over the subject-matter of such process in like manner as the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed. Provided always that when such process shall be executed by any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom the letter of request aforesaid was not addressed, a Judge of such Court or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace so executing the same shall certify in writing under his hand the execution of such process, and shall forward such certificate to the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request was addressed, of which said certificate, purporting to be issued as aforesaid, the production alone shall be sufficient evidence.

Mofussil authorities to certify execution upon one of the duplicates, and deliver the same to the party.

XXVII. When such process shall have been executed in manner aforesaid, any Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid to which or to whom such letter of request as aforesaid was addressed, shall, by indorsement upon the other of such duplicates under his hand, certify the execution thereof, and shall deliver such duplicate so indorsed to the party or parties by whom the same was originally produced, or his or their agents, and the production of such duplicate so indorsed, and appearing to be so signed as aforesaid, shall be sufficient evidence of the execution of such process.

Date of delivery of process to be endorsed and process to be executed in like manner as if issued by the Mofussil authority.

XXVIII. Upon the delivery of such duplicates of any Civil process as aforesaid to such Court, Judge, or Magistrate as aforesaid, the said Court, Judge, or Magistrate shall cause the date of such delivery to be indorsed on such duplicates, and shall cause the said process to be executed in like manner or as near thereto as if the same had been issued from or by such Court, Judge, or Magistrate or Justice of the Peace at the time of the said delivery; and no distinction shall be made as to priority or otherwise between the execution of such process as aforesaid or any other process of or by the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace: but every process, whether original or otherwise, shall, as between each other, be subject to the same rules touching the mode and order of execution as are now or may be from time to time established in respect of process originally issued by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice.

Order by virtue of which process issued may be registered in the Court to which the process is forwarded.

XXIX. Where any process of the said Supreme Courts against any lands out of such local limits shall be issued for the purpose of being enforced or executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace under the provisions of this Act, a copy of the judgment, decree, or order of the Supreme Court, by virtue of which such process issued, shall, if the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, shall so require, be recorded in the Court to which such process is forwarded to be executed, and a copy of such judgment, order or decree shall be forwarded, sealed with the seal of the said Supreme Court, for the purpose of such record. Provided always that such copy shall be signed by one of the Judges, and shall be under the seal of the said Supreme Court.

XXX. Persons wilfully neglecting to execute such process, or obstructing the execution thereof, shall be liable to be punished in like manner and by the like Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace, as if such process had been issued originally by such Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace. Provided that nothing herein contained shall deprive the said Supreme Courts respectively of their power to punish such persons for a contempt, in case they shall not be otherwise punished.

Persons wilfully neglecting to execute process, or obstructing the execution thereof, punishable.

XXXI. All persons and property seized or detained under any process executed by virtue of this Act shall be dealt with in like manner as if such persons or property had been seized or detained under the like process issued by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid; and all monies levied by virtue of any such process (after deducting therefrom all such fees, charges and expenses for executing the same, as shall be from time to time appointed in that behalf by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and sanctioned by the Governor or Governor in Council of the Presidency or place), shall be paid or caused to be paid by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the Sheriff of the Court from which such process shall have issued.

Persons and property seized to be dealt with as if seized by the Mofussil authorities, and all monies levied after deducting expenses to be forwarded to the Sheriff.

XXXII. In the case of persons seized or detained by virtue of any process executed under authority of this Act, it shall be lawful for the said Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace to cause such persons to be imprisoned in the nearest convenient Gaol, and there detained until, by order of the Supreme Court or any Judge thereof, such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall be required to release the party from custody, or to deliver him to a Bailiff of the Sheriff for removal in custody to Her Majesty's Gaol of the Court from which such process shall have issued.

Parties arrested in the Mofussil may be imprisoned there.

XXXIII. No action or other proceeding shall be had or maintained against any person or persons constituting such Court, or any such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or any person or persons acting under his or their orders, for or in respect of any act, matter, or thing done or omitted to be done in the execution or service of any such process, and it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Courts respectively, upon application thereto, to stay any such action or proceeding commenced in the said Courts, and to order the party commencing or prosecuting the same to pay the costs thereof, as between solicitor and client. Provided always that nothing herein contained shall be construed to protect any person who shall wilfully act in excess of the authority reposed in him.

Indemnity to the Mofussil authorities executing process.

XXXIV. Any copy of any judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Courts respectively, which is by this Act required to be recorded, and any process of the said Courts to be executed by any other Court, or by any Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace under the provisions of this Act, and any proceeding by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace thereupon may be transmitted by such Supreme Courts to such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or by such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the said Supreme Courts, by dawk or by any private hand.

Processes to be forwarded by dawk or private hand.

XXXV. The said Supreme Courts respectively shall from time to time frame such forms of letters of request, and of any process of the said Courts, which is to be addressed and executed under the provisions of this Act, as may be necessary to give full effect to the provisions hereinbefore contained.

Supreme Courts to frame forms of letters of request and process.

XXXVI. The word "process" in this Act shall extend to and include all criminal and civil process of the said Supreme Courts, which require to be executed without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Courts, and any notice of any proceedings instituted or to be instituted in the said Courts, or of any step to be taken or application made in or in respect of such proceedings; and the word "lands" shall extend to and include any immoveable property; and any word denoting the singular number or masculine gender shall extend to and include more persons, matters, or things than one, and females as well as males.

Interpretation Clause.

Ordered that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 27th day of June next.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th March 1852.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 27th March 1852:—

ACT No. —— OF 1852.

An Act to amend the Mode of Procedure in Criminal Cases in the Courts of the East India Company.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the new trial of prisoners, when, by reason of the death, absence, or removal of the Judge, their trials remain unfinished; and whereas it is also expedient to enable Magistrates to summon accused parties before they proceed to take the evidence of the prosecutor and his witnesses, It is hereby enacted as follows:

I. When any criminal trial shall have been commenced and shall be pending and undecided before any Judge or Magistrate at the time of his death, removal, or departure from the station, it shall not be lawful for any other Judge or Magistrate to continue and carry on such trial, but the Judge or Magistrate competent to try the prisoner shall, as soon as conveniently may be, commence a new trial and re-examine all the witnesses.

II. When a Magistrate shall have examined any prosecutor respecting any charge brought by him against any person, and shall have summoned the witnesses on behalf of the prosecutor, he may also, in his discretion, summon the person or persons accused, or any one or more of them, in order that he or they may be confronted with the prosecutor and his witnesses, anything in Clause 6, Section II. Regulation III. of 1812, to the contrary notwithstanding.

III. Section V. Regulation VII. of 1811 is hereby repealed, and when any criminal charge has been preferred before a Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate against any person, and the prosecutor or informer shall fail to appear or shall abandon the charge against such person, or such person shall be acquitted, and it shall appear to the Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate to whom the complaint or information has been made, or by whom the case has been tried, that there was no sufficient ground for making the charge, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate, at his discretion, to award such amends, not more than the sum of Rupees two hundred, to be paid by the prosecutor or informant to the party complained against for his loss of time, trouble. or expenses as to the Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate shall seem just, and in default of payment to sentence the prosecutor or informant to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding six calendar months, and every such order of amends or sentence of imprisonment pronounced by any Magistrate shall be final, and every order of amends or sentence of imprisonment pronounced by an Assistant Magistrate shall be subject to appeal to the Magistrate of the district only.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 27th day of June next.

No. 341.

NOTICE.—The Office of the Junior Secretary to the Board of Revenue will, from the 12th instant, re-occupy the Premises No. 2, Bankshall Street, the repairs of which have just been completed.

Customs, Salt, Opium, Stamps, Abkarry, Stationery.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Fort William, the 7th April 1852,

CECIL BEADON,
Junior Secretary.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. BRACKEN,
Collector of Customs.

Calcutta, Collector's Office,

Fort William,
the 6th April, 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the system of granting Temporary Passes for the protection of Sea-imported Salt, upon the deposit of duty, will be re-introduced from the 22nd, (Twenty-second,) instant.

2. The Passes will be obtainable, as they were before, at this office; but to be of any validity, they must be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Salt Chokeys. The Passes will be current for (48) Forty-eight hours, from the time at which delivery may be completed, as shown by the Certificate of the Preventive Officer, on the back of the document.

3. Preventive Officers will be instructed not to give delivery on any Pass, unless it be countersigned by the Superintendent of Calcutta Salt Chokeys, and to be careful in endorsing the Pass, to enter the full quantity delivered, and the precise time, (hour and minute,) at which the delivery is completed.

4. It is further notified, for general information, that Commanders of Salt-laden Vessels must invariably enter in the Import Manifest, the quantity of Salt actually shipped, as shown in the Cockets, Export Manifest, Port Clearance, or other document, of the Port of Export. If no such document exist, then the quantity shown by the Bill-of-Lading, that is, the quantity which at the time of shipment the Commander believed to be put on board, must be entered in the Import Manifest. In the event of no Bill-of-Lading, the Commander must specially state how the Salt was put on board; if in baskets, the number shipped, and the mode in which he has estimated the entered weight.

5. The Board have fixed rates of wastage, sufficient to cover deficiencies arising from ordinary causes. Should greater wastage be apprehended from any extraordinary cause, it must be noted at the foot of the Manifest, at the time of entry. Commanders will not be held responsible for a larger quantity of Salt than they have reason to believe they have brought into Port; but they must state the grounds of their belief, fully and accurately, and support them by such documentary evidence, as may be available.

By order of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

(Signed) W. BRACKEN,
Collector of Customs.
